Le Grand, Mo., Aug. 14.

Col. Guitar overtook Poindexter's guerillas again yesterday at Yellow Creek, Clinn County, and routed and scattered them in utter confusion, and took 60 prisoners.

It is believed that Poindexter's effective force is entirely destroyed. He and the remnant of his band are flying southward, but will doubtless be caught.

Chicago, Aug. 14.

It is reported 26 rebel prisoners were shot on Saturday, at Macon City, for breaking their parole. We also learn that 12 other paroled rebel prisoners will probably suffer death this morning.

SATURDAY.

Chicago, , 15.

The Times of this city has the following special dispatch.

Memphis, Tenn.

A battle commenced on the 7th inst. at Tazewell, seven miles from the Cumberland Gap, between the confederate forces under Gen. Stevenson numbering from 12 to 15,000 men and the Federals at that place numbering 3,000.

The movement was made in front by Gen. Stevenson, while Gen. Barton gained the rear of the federal forces by forced marches and completly surrounded the federals.

The federals were driven by superior numbers in front and when in full retreat were assaited by a flanking force of the rebels.

The rebels are thus in possession of East Tennessee again. Their next move will be on Gen. Buell with an overwhelming force.

Gen. Beauregard is at Chattanooga, cooperating with Gen. Bragg. Their combined force is not less than 70,000 men.

The rebel Gen. Caswell was killed near his residence at Knoxvill, on the 6th inst.

A schooner from Havana ran the blockade at Mobile on the 7th inst.—She had a cargo of salt, ammunition, and cavalry equipments.

A Vicksburg letter says that the streets of that city are beginning to assume their former lively appearance. Refugees are returning and opening places of business. All the damages to the city by the Federal shells will be repaired within a month.

Headquarters Army Va., Aug. 15.

Gen. Banks is rapidly recovering and will soon resume his command.

Jackson's force is upon Thoroughfare Mountain, south-west of Gordonsville.

Gen. Pope has issued an order to the effect, that General Order No. 5, respecting troops being subsisted on the country has been freely abused by many officers and soldiers.

It is to be distinctly understood that no officer has any right to enter houses, molest persons or destroy the property of any person. Whenever it is necessary or convenient, provisions, forage, and such articles required will be used, but every seizure must be by order of the commanding officer of troops there present. Any officer or soldier who enters the house or molests the property of any citizen will be severely punished.

MONDAY.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 15.

Capt. J. H. Terry, division quartermaster, has just arrived from Cumberland Gap, which he left on the 12th inst. He reports that Gen. DeCourcey's brigade was attacked by Stevenson's rebel division on the 7th inst. at Tazewall, and that Col. Cochran of the 14th Kentucky whipped four rebel regiments. Colonel Cochran held his fire until they were within one hundred and fifty yards and checked their advance.

The federal loss was 3 killed, 15 wounded and 57 of the 17th regiment taken prisoners. We took a rebel Lieut. Colonel, whom we exchanged for the 57 prisoners. The rebel officers admitted a loss of 250 killed and wounded. We took 213 wagon loads of forage and seventy horses.

We lost the knapsacks of two regiments.

There has been no fighting at Big Creek Gap, as reported, nor any other engagement in the vicinity of the Gap or Tazewell, than the foregoing. All reports of other engagements and of the cutting up Gen. Karter's and Col. Byard's forces by the rebels are utterly false.

Gen. Morgan has issued a special order thanking Gen. DeCourcey and Col. Cochron for their gallantry.

The papers of Knoxville give a list of 109 rebels killed at Tazewell.

Washington, Aug. 16.

Col. Corcoran, Col. Wilcox, Lieut. Col. Brown, and Major Rogers reached Ft. Monroe this afternoon, and are expected to start at once for Washington. 300 officers have been exchanged, among them, Lieut. Col. Kane.

A steamer will leave Fortress Monroe tomorrow for Aiken's Landing to bring away 130 officers that have been confined in Richmond.

Boston, Aug. 16.

A special dispatch in the Journal, says that Gen. Burnside with his army, has arrived at Culpepper.

Louisville, Aug. 17.

By an amicable arrangement, John F. Fiske has resigned the Speakership of the Senate, and Jas. F. Robinson, of Scott Co., elected in his stead.

Beriah Magoffin has resigned the Governorship. T. F. Robinson becomes Governor de facto for Mag fins unexpired term. Matt. Johnson, of Lexington, has been elected Secretary of State. John B. Temple, President of the Military Board, has resigned, and the duties of that office devolve on Robinson as acting Governor.—Robinson and Johnson are staunch and able Union men.

New York, Aug. 17.

Key West letters report the capture of the English steamer Columbia with a cargo of Armstrong guns, 40 in number, and several thousand Enfield rifles, arms blankets, &c., by the gunboat San Diego de Cuba. The Columbia is a new iron propeller of 400 tons, and her cargo cost $200,000.

The steamer Daniel Webster has arrived from Harrison's Landing, with 129 sick soldiers.

New York, Aug. 16.

The steamer Trade Wind, from New Orleans the 6th arrived to day. Her passengers state that the rebels under Breckinridge attacked Baton Rouge on the 5th, but were repulsed.

Gen. Williams had his head shot off by a cannon ball.

TUESDAY MORNING.

Fortress Monroe, Aug. 16.

The Union troops evacuated Harrison's Landing this morning, about 8 o'clock, and about the same hour Gen. McClellan's advance arrived at Williamsburg. The public property was all removed in safety, and all is quiet.

New York, Aug. 18.

The steamers North Star and Roanoke from New Orleans 10th have arrived, bringing particulars of the defeat of the rebels at Baton Rouge, and the destruction of the Arkansas.

A letter from Baton Rouge says Nims' battery twice repulsed the foe and did them great slaughter. Breckinridge lost his right arm by a cannon ball. The fight took place on the edge of the town, Gen. Williams being unwilling to expose helpless women and children. We captured a large number of prisoners, including Cap. Blunt. Breckinrige's aid. Gen. Williams behaved like a hero. Nim's men are entitled to imperishable glory. The loss of the enemy must have been severe, as our men charged and recharged upon them. We have taken three guns.

The enemy's forces were estimated at from 5,000 to 15,000. Our force engaged was less than 2,500.

The rebel ram Arkansas was grounded in an attempt to engage our fleet, and destroyed by the Essex.

Among the killed was Col. Roberts, 7th Vermont Regiment. The 7th is reported to have 15 wounded.

Memphis, Aug. 15.

Reports from White River state that Gen. Hovey's division had a fight on Monday near Clarendon, Arkansas.

The Federal force consisted of six regiments of infantry, and the rebel force of eight regiments of cavalry and a part of Gen. Hindman's brigade.

The battle raged fiercely for some time, with destructive effect on both sides, but resulted in the defeat of the rebels and capture of 700 prisoners.

WAR MEETING IN SUNDERLAND.—At a meeting in Sunderland, Aug. 18th, six men pledged to pay ten and two five dollars to each volunteer from Sunderland, and a sum sufficient to make the bounty one hundred dollars, was raised by smaller sums, and the men will be ready.

J. J. HILL, Secretary.

DR B. F. KETCHUM, of this village, has, we learn, received the appointment of Surgeon in one of the new regiments.

LIEUT. BURNHAM of Co, E, informs us in a private letter dated Aug. 6th, that John Merwarth died on board the steamer Louisiana July 31st. Harrison Cummings died in the Hospital at Baltimore Aug. 2. He says "Mandus Hill and Joseph Demars joined us yesterday; they were exchanged and came down from City Point. Demars says that William Whitman, Fouis Campau, Elbert Fisher, George Fleming, and Henry Willey died on the battle field."

All these were reported wounded and prisoners. The number of those whom are known to have been killed and who have died from the effects of their wounds, amounts to twenty-one—nearly one half of the whole number wounded.

Capt. Charles C. Ruggles, of Poultney, Co I, 7th Vermont Regiment, died in hospital at Carrolton, La., on the morning of the 24th of July, after a protracted illness. His body is expected by steamer from New Orleans

Official Report of Gen. Pope.

Details of the Great Battle.

Headquarters Army of Va.
Aug. 13.—5 P. M.

To Maj. Gen. Halleck:

On Thursday morning the enemy crossed the Rapidan at Barnette ford in heavy force, and advanced strong on the road to Culpepper and Madison Court House.

I established my whole force on the turnpike between Culpepper and Sperryville, ready to concentrate at any place as soon as the enemy's plans were developed.

Early on Friday it became apparent that the move on Madison Court House was merely a feint to detain the army corps of Gen. Sigel at Sperryville, and that the main attack of the enemy would be at Culpepper, to which place I had thrown forward part of Banks and McDowell's corps.

Brig. Gen. Bayard, with part of the rear of McDowell's corps, who was in the advance near the Rapidan, slowly fell back, delaying and embarrassing the enemy's advance as far as possible and captured some of his men.

The forces of Banks and Sigel, and one of the divisions of McDowell's corps were rapidly concentrated at Culpepper during Friday and Friday night, Bank's corps having pushed forward five miles south of Culpepper, with Rickett's division of McDowell's corps three miles in his rear. The corps of Gen. Sigel which had marched all night, was halted in Culpepper to rest for a few hours.

On Saturday the enemy advanced rapidly to Cedar Mountain, the sides of which they occupied in heavy force.

Gen. Banks was instructed to take up his position at the position occupied by Crawford's brigade of his command, which had been thrown out the day previous to observe the movements of the enemy. He was directed not to advance beyond that point, and if attacked by the enemy to defend his position and send back timely notice.

It was my desire to have time to give the corps of Gen. Sigel all the rest possible after their forced marches, and to bring forward all the forces at my disposal.

The artillery of the enemy was opened early in the afternoon, but he made no advance until nearly five o'clock, at which time a few skirmishers were thrown forward on each side, under cover of the heavy wood in which his force was concealed.

The enemy pushed forward a strong force in the rear of his skirmishers, and Gen. Banks advanced to the attack.

The engagement did not fairly open till after six o'clock, but for an hour and a half after that was furious and increasing.

Throughout the cannonading, which at first was desultory and mainly against the cavalry, I had continued to receive reports from Gen. Banks that no attack was apprehended and that no considerable infantry force of the enemy had come forward. Yet toward evening the increase in the artillery firings having satisfied me that an engagement might be at hand, I ordered Gen. McDowell to advance Rickett's division to support Gen. Banks and directed Gen. Sigel to bring his men upon the ground as soon as possible. I arrived personally on the field at seven and found the action raging furiously. The infantry fire was incessant and severe.

I found Gen. Banks holding the position he took up in the morning. His losses were heavy.

Rickett's division was immediately pushed forward and occupied the right of General Banks, the brigades of Crawford and Gordon being detailed to change their position from the right and mass themselves in the centre.—

Before this change could be effected it was quite dark, though the artillery fire continued at short range without intermission. The artillery fire at night by the 2d and 5th Maine batteries in Ricketts division of Gen. McDowell's corps was most destructive, as was readily observable the next morning by the dead men and horses and broken gun carriages of the enemy's batteries which had been advanced against it.

Our troops rested on their arms during the night in line of battle. The heavy shelling being kept up on both sides until midnight. At daylight the enemy fell back two miles from our forces and still higher up the mountain. Our pickets at once advanced and occupied the ground.

The fatigue of our troops from long marches and excessive heat made it impossible for either side to resume the action on the same day. The men were therefore allowed to rest and recruit the whole day.

One only active operation being of cavalry on the enemy's flank and rear.

Monday was spent in burying the dead and in getting off the wounded. The slaughter was severe on both sides, most of the fighting being had to hand. The dead bodies of both armies were found mingled together in masses all over the whole ground of the contest. The burying the dead was not completed until dark on Monday, the heat being so terrible that severe work was not possible.

On Monday night the enemy fled from the field, leaving many of his wounded on the ground and along the road to Orange Court House, will be seen from Gen. Buford's dispatch.

A cavalry and artillery force under Gen. Buford was immediately thrown forward in pursuit and followed the enemy to the Rapindan, over which he passed with his rear guard by ten o'clock in the morning.

Gens. Banks, Williams, Auger, Gordon, Crawford, Prince, Green and Geary, behaved with great gallantry. Augur and Geary were severely wounded—and Prince, by losing his way in the dark, while passing from one flank to another, fell into the hands of the enemy.

I desire publicly to express my approbation of the prompt and skillful manner in which Gens. McDowell and Sigel brought forward their respective commands and established them on the field, and of their cheerful and hearty co-operation with me from beginning to end.

Brig. Gen. Roberts, chief of this army, was with the advance of our forces on Friday and Saturday and was conspicuous for his gallantry, and for the valuable aid which he rendered to Gen. Banks and Crawford.

Our loss was about fifteen hundred killed, wounded and missing, of whom two hundred and ninety were taken prisoners. As might have been expected from the character of the engagement, a very large proportion of these were killed.

The enemy's loss in killed, wounded and prisoners we are now satisfied is much in excess of our own.

A full list of causualties will be published as soon as possible, together with a detailed report in which I shall endeavor to do justice to all.
