Vern Davis, the 15-years-old son of Mr. Charles Davis of the Third ward, met with a serious accident Thursday evening. He had gone to Provo Bench after a load of strawberries, and left his team to feed, hitched to the wagon, but with bridles off, while he was loading the berries. While he was trying to change the position of the horses in order to let another team pass, they became frightened and threw young Davis to the ground, stepping on him and bruising him very badly. The most dangerous wound was inflicted in the forehead. The skull was crushed, and Drs. Allan and Taylor, who attended him, removed a piece of bone about the size of a silver quarter. Hopes are entertained of his recovery.

The county commissioners inspected the road to the Grass Creek coal mines yesterday. An appropriation will doubtless be made to make necessary repairs on that highway.

A telephone line now connects Henefer with Ogden. The line is being extended to Coalville and a force of twenty-five men is continuing the line up Echo canyon on its way to Denver. The telephone poles are of Oregon cedar and the cost of construction per mile is $300.

ACADEMY DISCONTINUED FOR A YEAR.

At a Priesthood meeting held a few days ago it was decided to discontinue the Summit Stake Academy for a period of one year.

Harry Wade, an employe of the Bell Telephone Co., was arrested today on a charge of assault and battery. He struck H. J. Mulford on the head with a shovel, inflicting a severe scalp wound. The defendant was tried before Justice Smith and fined $11.25.

PECULIAR DAMAGE SUIT.

James E. Buzzo of Salt Lake City, has presented to the board of county commissioners a bill for $1,630.10. The gentleman operates a stone quarry in Summit county, and several men in his employ were attacked with the smallpox. The county physician quarantined them on Buzzo's premises for a few hours until a conveyance could be procured to take them to the pest house. Buzzo claims that because of this detention he was unable to secure men to quarry rock, hence he was prevented from filling his contracts. His attorneys are Truman and Williams, and they are modest enough to confess in their communication to the commissioners that "these damages may seem rather large to you." The claim was referred to County Attorney Callis.
