MANCHESTER.

—The melancholy days have come.

—Persons in want of apples will read G. W. Bradley's advertisement.

—Judge Miller and wife of Rochester has been stopping at Vanderlip's Hotel.

—C. F. Orvis, Esq., proprietor of the Elm House, has returned from a two weeks tour to the Adirondacks.

—Rev. Mr. Cushman very eloquently and touchingly referred to the Chicago fire in his sermon last Sabbath morning.

—There will be a public debate at Burr & Burton Seminary on Thursday evening Oct. 26th at 7 1-4 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

—The Equinox B. B. C. will play the Ethan Allens of Sunderland on the old Ondawa ground at Factory Point on Thursday afternoon at one o'clock.

—Bradley & Blackmer are out again with a new advertisement. A man must get up very early to get ahead of their time. They have a splendid lot of goods.

—C. F. Swett is anxious that every one should be as comfortable as possible the coming winter and has therefore laid in a nice stock of stoves. Read his advertisement.

—We should like to procure a copy of the JOURNAL for Jan. 10th, two copies of Jan. 17th, two copies of Feb. 7th and two copies of Feb. 14th 1871. A liberal price will be paid for the above.

—We learn that E. I. Purdy, formerly of this town and recently the general agent of the Singer Sewing Machine at Troy, has sold his business there and is coming back to town to reside.

—The annual meeting of the Bennington County Sabbath School Union will be held at the church in this place on Wednesday the 25th inst. It is hoped there will be a good attendance.

—Wm. Walker, of East Greenwich, N. Y., has purchased the large tract of timber land lying near Lye Brook in this town and Sunderland, which was formerly owned by Rogers, Hollister & Co.

—A good assortment of fall and winter millinery goods have just been received at the Ladies Fancy Goods store of French & Barrows. They are now prepared to fill any orders or do any work in that line.

—Superintendent White has given notice that the Harlem Extension railroad will transport all provisions and supplies for the Chicago sufferers free of charge. Most of the roads in the country show the same liberality.

—When the new church clock was unpacked, it was found that some of the parts were not constructed to fit the place for which it was designed, which will cause a short delay. They will be replaced as soon as possible.

—When he first heard of the Chicago fire, H. K. Fowler, Esq., was disposed to hide the big sign of the Andes Insurance Co. behind his office but the company lost very little in that fire, and now he says he wishes the sign was bigger.

—Cone & Burton have been getting a supply of fall and winter goods. Their stock is large and attractive and has been selected with great care and will meet the wants of their numerous customers. Look out for a new advertisement next week.

—Owing to an error in the date of last weeks notice the Installation of the new officers of Adoniram Chapter Royal Arch Masons, will not take place until Wednesday, Oct. 25th. All the members are expected to be present on that occasion.

—In the game of base ball between the Ethan Allens and Rip Van Winkles on Saturday the "Rips" got sadly demoralized and were beaten by a score of 43 to 8. They got their courage up, however, on the last four innings and there was some pretty sharp playing.

—The Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York with its characteristic liberality anticipated the payment of the $2500, for which the late David Briggs, of Factory Point was insured. W. H. S. Whitcomb (of the firm of Roberts & Whitcomb, Burlington, Vt., General Agents for New Hampshire, Vermont and Northern New York) is in town for a few days and will call on such of our citizens as his time will allow.

—A fine monument has been erected in Dellwood Cemetery to the memory of Dr. Geo. L. Ames formerly of this town and who died in Niles, Michigan. The monument is in the form of a cross, wrought out of a solid block of marble. It is the work of the Field Marble Co. of East Dorset.

—The farmers in this vicinity who have sent milk to New York are, generally, well pleased thus far with the result. When they get accustomed to the business and have everything properly arranged for it they will like it still better. We hear of several more farmers who are soon to commence sending.

—At the meeting of the Congregational Society on Saturday the Committee was instructed to purchase an organ for the new church, to cost $1500. One third of this sum has been contributed by Judge Isham of New York. It is to be a pipe organ and to correspond in trimmings to the interior of the church. It will probably be completed in the course of two or three months.

—The astounding calamity that has befallen Chicago is hardly more remarkable than the spontaneous liberality which is visible all over the land. An incident has been brought to notice which illustrates the manner in which even little children can realize, to some extent, the calamity that has overtaken them. A friend of ours has a bright little boy just beginning to talk, who, on hearing mention made of the multitudes of families deprived of home and all earthly possessions, inquired if the little children had lost all their playthings. He was answered in the affirmative and after reflecting awhile he went to his large stock of playthings and selected those he prized most and brought them to his father and begged that they might be sent to the little boys whose playthings were burned in the fire at Chicago. We had the pleasure of seeing the collection of articles so freely tendered and we doubt if the gift of $50,000 by A. T. Stewart involved a greater sacrifice.

FACTORY POINT.

—The Vermont Valley Farmers Association will meet at Adams Hall Thursday Oct. 19th.

—O. C. Waterhouse & Co. are building an addition to their mill for the manufacture of knit goods. The addition will increase the capacity of the mill which we understand, has been driven with work.

—E. L. Wyman has nearly completed his house which will be one of the most attractive residences in town. A fine new marble walk in front and also in front of his father's house which is adjacent, does not injure the good appearance of both.

DORSET.

—E. K. Holley has just returned from market with a stock of goods he is not ashamed to call people's attention to by advertising in the JOURNAL. We advise all our subscribers in that vicinity to give him a call and examine his new purchases.

EAST DORSET.

—The grocery of W. H. McNamara, Jr., on Dorset Hill has been broken into several times, and the owner wishes to give fair warning that the guilty parties will not come off as well next time. The thing has continued so long there is a sameness about it that is unendurable.

—A little "onpleasantness" recently occurred at the Friedly quarry. A portion of the hands who were employed in uncovering a new spot just above the old quarry, have not been very well suited with their overseer, and on Sunday the drilling machine was overturned, damaging it considerably. It is supposed that this was done by some of those hands thinking that they could get their overseer discharged by the means. It did not have the intended effect, however, for on Monday morning Mr. Friedly told these hands he had no further use for them, and they must vacate the tenements which they occupied. We have since learned that matters have been arranged, and the men have gone to work again.

DANBY.

(We give place to the following, in relation to the Church matter, in order that both sides may have a hearing, but do not think a protracted discussion in this matter would be interesting or profitable to the mass of our readers.—ED.

—Some of the Danby people feel that P. B. P's. representations in the JOURNAL of September 28th should be briefly noticed, as for instance:

1. His statement that the Church at Danby Borough is not a Union House. Does he not know that it has always been regarded as a Union House? Built by a Union Society, made up of different denominations, and designed to be occupied by different orders, what should it be called if not a Union House?

2. P. B. P. says that the congregationalist claim to have acquired a majority of the shares in the house etc. Does he mean to intimate that they are not the real owners of what he says they claim to have acquired?

3. His statement that the house has been occupied ever since 1858 according to the constitution of which he gives garbled extracts, is not true. Can it be that P. B. P. does not very well know, that the house has been at times occupied by almost every order, irrespective of denomination. Does he not know that not the Methodists, Baptists and Quakers alone have occupied it; but also Universalists Spiritualists, and recently the Shakers even, and many years ago the Congregationalists occupied it for a time, no man forbidding them?

4. P. B. P. represents that the house was dedicated to the Methodists, and the Baptists and Friends, etc. Now really, previous to this we had supposed that Christians were accustomed to dedicate their houses of worship to God, and not to different religious sects. Besides, does not P. B. P. know that the dedicatory services were performed by a Congregational Minister? And does he suppose that such a man as Rev. Mr. Martindale would so far deviate from custom and from duty, as to dedicate a house of worship, not to God, but to men?

5. P. B. P's representation that the Congregationalists hold that, a majority of the stock-holders can exclude the minority, and so deprive them of their right to use the house, is also wrong. The Congregationalists, though the majority do not claim the right, nor do they desire to exclude the Methodists or any other religious denomination from the use of the house; albeit, the so called Methodists have thought to exclude the Congregationalists, though the majority by virtue of the old constitution, of which P. B. P. says so much.

6. P. B. P. should not represent that the Congregationalists have ever closed the doors of the church against the Methodists. In doing so he gives a false impression. It is true that the Trustees of the Union Meeting House Society, in attempting to act in accordance with a vote of the Society, at its last annual meeting, not to allow the house to be used for other than religious purposes, have on certain occasions, when required, refused to open the house, as they were not assured that it was wanted for a religious use. And it is, also true, that certain persons, some of them called Methodists, have so far disregarded the authority of the Trustees as to force an entrance into the house, with how much propriety, or with what right, let the people judge.

RUPERT.

—Dr. J. H. Guild filled an order last week for $60, worth of Asthma Cure, for Staffordshire England.

—The JOURNAL has a larger list of subscribers at this office than any other periodical. Foreign Bowels don't take here.

—Mr. Eli Loomis has been engaged to teach the winter school, in the 4th District. We trust he will dedicate the new school house satisfactorily to all parties.

J. E. Austin, Station Agent, has opened an agency for coal and is prepared to supply all orders for the article.

—The rejuvinated Congregational Church will be open for service next Sabbath. Rev. Joseph Garland, the old Pastor is expected to stay another year.

—The following statistics of the post office at Rupert may be of interest to our readers:

Value of stamps cancelled during the last quarter.	$716,81
Value of money orders issued for the last two months.	$650,34
Value of money orders paid during the last 2 months,	$486,20

Registered packages received for the quarter, 406. Registered letters received for the quarter, 713.

EAST RUPERT.

—The Mettawee cheese factory made a sale the last of September of two hundred and seventy-five boxes of cheese, at 12 cts. per pound. It is one of the best establishments in this part of the state. And Mr. George Robinson considers himself second to no one in the art of cheese making.

—Mr. Wm. B. Denio is about erecting a cheese factory near his residence in Rupert Hollow. William is a live man and generally accomplishes what he undertakes, so you may expect cheese made in that locality another year.

—The great panther excitement has about died out.

—The Pawlet correspondent says it was all a hoax. Well, supposing it wrs. Frank got scratched, Reeds dog was killed and the women and children badly scared, and the JOURNAL was furnished a local in consequence. H.

PAWLET.

—I noticed a remark in the JOURNAL from a correspondent in Pawlet, in which he speaks of the No. 6 potato, as a beautiful potato, and a great yielder, but he fears they will be spongy and unfit for table use. Let me inform that gentleman that no man ever saw a large spongy potato. A large potato may be watery but never spongy, and of the No. 6, I can say I never saw a watery or hollow potato. As to their becoming a marketable potato, I can only give the statement of Barton Birtch of West Pawlet; he says they are the most perfect potato he ever saw, and they must take the place of Jacksons. The Hon. Fayette Blakley says: they are nearer the Peach-blow than any variety he has ever seen. C. G. Leach of Rupert says: they are the best potato he has ever used. Like the Early Rose, they grow large and yield wonderfully. Recently I dug 87 bushels on quarter of an acre of ground, with only one eye in a hill for seed; the land was unmanured. They will yield nearly double any variety I have ever seen. W.

BONDVILLE.

—James Williams recently injured his spine by lifting, so that he is now confined to bed and under the doctor's care.

—Rev. Mr. Dingman and wife are absent on a visit to relations in New York.

—Miss Sheldon and also Miss Graham finished up their terms of summer school with a picnic, both of which were pleasant gatherings, and very entertaining to the little folks.

—Frank Graham, a graduate of Burr and Burton Seminary and Middlebury College, is teaching ancient languages in the Academy at Fort Plains, N. Y.

—James Kendall is finishing up his house near McIntyre's mill in good style. It is rumored that he intends occupying it for a hotel or boarding house.

—Eugene Johnson is constructing a large building near Graham's chair factory, a portion of which is to be used as a store, the remainder as a blacksmith's shop.

—A. P. Graham has recently added a stave machine to the large amount of machinery already in his chair factory. He has also been finishing up the building formerly used as a blacksmith shop, into a neat tenement house.

—Mrs. M. Johnson has been repairing her dwelling house inside and out. Mrs. Johnson has earned the distinction of being a good farmer by raising the best crop of potatoes in town.

—A woman from Grafton who claims to be a Spiritualist, lectured here a week ago. Among other things she denounced christianity as calculated to do more harm than good, and if she had the power, she would crush it out of the world. Satan has been trying that game with poor success for eighteen hundred years.

SOUTH LONDONDERRY.

—N. E. Hart advertises a farm for sale and also a new stock of goods. He keeps an assortment of nearly everything that a man can ask for.

CHESTER.

—Mrs. Ellen J. C. Noble, Prof. of elocution at the St. Lawrence University gave select readings at the Congregational church on the evening of the 5th inst. Mrs. Noble ranks deservedly high as an elocutionist, which with her fine platform address, her admirable judgement in selections, make up a most attractive entertainment.

—The literaries connected with the Academy are unusually well attended the present term, and the exercises are spirited beyond precedent. The papers, edited by the ladies, are decidedly spicy. Last Friday evening, immediately after the exercises, the scholars held one of those inquery meetings called levees. The hall was packed to its utmost capacity, which with some well warmed greetings, which we saw, made it seem a little close for even an old man.

—About six quarts of second-quality measles have been scattered about in our public schools, which caused a suspension in the primary departments. These measles go so lightly that affectionate mothers have been known to send their children out to catch them under pain of the slipper should the child let 'em alone.

—Mr. A. K. Davenport, proprietor of the well known Eagle Hotel, received a dispatch last evening from Fitchburg saying: "Your brother has been killed. Funeral Sunday." Mr. D. and wife left for Fitchburg early train this morning.

—We notice the Ingraham House is neither allowed to grow musty outwardly or inwardly. Cole is constantly improvproving and embellishing his house.

—The Baptist society is about to replace the present dangerous steps to the church with something more pleasing to the eye and safe to limbs.

—Ordinary winter apples readily command $5 per barrel.

BRATTLEBORO.

—On Wednesday evening last, about 10 o'clock an alarm of fire was given. The engines soon arrested the fire, which was started in a barn on Elliott St., belonging to H. P. Green. Hardly was quiet restored, engines back in their places when another alarm was given, and a fire found just started, in the store formerly occupied by J. W. Frost & Co. The building is empty and stands back of the new blocks on Main St. If the fires had gotten any headway the whole square would have been endangered, and this was probably the design of the incendiaries. The wind was blowing furiously at the time.

—One of the cords of the river bridge broke a week ago, with a loud report, repairs are going on now.

—Mark Twain lectures here Oct. 30th.

—Dr. Gale's family escaped a serious injury, by the gas going out and leaving the burner open, during the night of Friday of last week. Only plenty of ventilation saved them.

—Messrs. B. D. & F. W. Harris have taken the contract to for the extension of the Buffalo, New York and Philadelphia R. R. from Olean, N. Y., to the State line of Pennsylvania.

—Take all in all the Engine Company that went to Fitchburg to the muster, did not have a very good time. They did not take the prize, but had to spend the night out of doors at Grouts' Corners, because the connection at that place with Brattleboro cars was not made. The company didn't feel cross "nor nothing."

SUNDERLAND.

—There will be an opening ball at the old Kelley stand on the mountain road, on Friday evening Oct. 20th.

—M. Reaulo has purchased the premises of Peter Green. Mr. Green goes to East Arlington.

—J. Stockwell has bought the blacksmith shop of Bacon & King, it being the intention of Mr. Stockwell to engage in the blacksmith business. Success to you "Josh." A good wagon maker would be liberaly patronized here.

—L. G. King has commenced cutting and drawing 400 cords of wood to the railroad. Sixty bushels of potatoes of the Garnet variety were dug from one fourth acre of ground without extra cultivation, by L. G. King.

—We witnessed the return game of base ball between the Ethan Allens of this place, and the Rip Van Winkles of Manchester, Saturday 14th inst., on the grounds of the former. This was one of the most pleasant games it has been our pleasure to witness. The day was fine, and fine playing was done on both sides; although the score ran largely against the Rips, their general good humor and gentlemanly deportment under adverse circumstances, won for them the respect of all present. We hope to witness another contest between the two clubs at no distant day, trusting that the affair will result as interestingly as the last one. L.

ARLINGTON.

—Slaters are now at work on the large new building lately erected by the car company and it will probably be completed the present week. This building is 62x100, with self supporting roof, giving the entire interior of the building for business purposes in one room. This will be used for setting up and finishing off cars, containing room for seven at a time each stall door connecting with a track along side of the buingidl running to the main switch track. Business will now, soon be commenced in this department of the Co.s works. We also notice that the Company have lately painted their buildings, adding greatly to the looks of the establishment and value of the property.

—West's steam mill has again started up, and business is moving more briskly in the neighborhood of the depot.

—The coal folks are also hurrying at their business and send off about three cars each week from their sheds. This all goes to Millerton, on the Harlem railroad, to one firm.

—Potatoes still come in for shipment to Boston. For some days past prices have been looking up.

WEST ARLINGTON.

—Dr. Pierson advertises a house and lot and other property for sale. It is a favorable location for a physician.

—The match game between the Green Mountain base ball club, of Shaftsbury, and the Stars of this place, took place on the grounds of the latter on Saturday the 14th inst. The Stars were victors by a score of 28 to 6.

—The return game with the Olympic base ball club, of Shoreham, and the Stars, on the afternoon of the 14th inst. ended on the 7th inning with score standing, Stars 65, Olympics 9. The Stars play a strong nine, Hamilton leading at the bat with heavy long flies to the center with Hoyt but little in the rear. Coolin on first did finely, as he always does. Horton in his new position as pitcher filled it to perfection. A good crowd was in attendance, many ladies being present. The club tender their thanks for the same, "thankful for the past and solicitous in the future."

EAST ARLINGTON.

—I desire to express, through the columns of your paper, my thanks to Mr. Geo. Utley, and Mr. Hollister, for their kindness to myself and wife at the time of the accident we met with a short time since. Yours Respectfully,

S. C. WARNER.

East Arlington, Oct. 16th, 1871.

BENNINGTON.

—The stockholders of the proposed Walloomsac railroad from the State line to Bennington, to connect that place with Troy, met Friday and elected the following directors: A. B. Gardner, Olin Scott, L. R. Graves, Henry Patchin, Charles Sanford, A. Aldrich and B. R. Sears. Mr. Gardner was chosen president of the company, Mr. Scott secretary and Mr. Graves treasurer. D. M. Greene of Troy was made chief engineer of the road and will at once undertake the survey of the route.

—Lannier's Dramatic Company drew good houses to each of their entertainments, last week at Library Hall, and gave good satisfaction. They played four nights.

—The Chicago fire caused much excitement in this village during Monday and Tuesday of last week. Large crowds of persons surrounded the telegraph and news offices, eager to learn if their friends had suffered or perished in the dire calamity. Many of our citizens sent off clothing, blankets, etc., to those that are suffering last week, and all seem desirous to add what they can to the stream of charity that is flowing in to the sorrow stricken city. Large collections were taken up in the churches on Sunday.

—Messrs A. G. and Lyman Patchen are each building large additions to their residences at the head of Main street.

—John Sibley, Esq., dug fifty-one bushels of potatoes, and put them in the cellar, in two days last week; and he is upwards of seventy-six years of age. What does young America say to that?

—Frank Bradford, elocutionist, has received a communication from Mark Twain that the subject of his lecture, in our course, will be, "Reminiscences of some Uncommon Place Characters he has chanced to meet." Can't tell how it will take.

—A dancing school has been opened in this village this week by J. H. Wells, of Rutland. Evidently he will give satisfaction.

—A grand ball is to be held in Free Library Hall on the evening of Oct. 20th by the Irish Confederation Club, No. 1. A very interesting occasion is anticipated.

HARTWELLVILLE.

—Silas Mason has just completed his new mill, and will immediately fill the same with machinery for the manufacture of Grecian chairs. The building is 60 by 40 feet and two stories high.

WOODFORD.

—Apple blossoms, and half grown raspberries, are the latest novelty here which are actually existing at the present time. Would be glad to have any of the JOURNAL readers report, if they ever witnessed this unusual freak of nature, at this season.

—Lewis G. Bolles, Esq., has raised 100 bushels of excellent English flat turnips, on the mountain side, during the past summer, and also, a fine variety of squashes, one of which is worthy of note it measuring two feet four inches in length—a Hubbard.

—Mike Bailey says he can chop more wood, than any other man in town, he having cut fifteen cords during the past week, and only worked five and one half days. Judging from Mike's general appearance, we believe he must have piled his wood rather lose, or else not piled it at all, but guessed what it would be likely to measure!

—Lumbermen are all preparing for winter. They contemplate doing a rushing business.

—The Debating Society will soon be reorganized.

SEARSBURG.

—Rev. Farnam Sprague has erected a new dwelling house. It looks very neat and pleasant.

CHATHAM.

—Albert Ranford dug four beets in his garden which weighed 8 pounds each.

—Thomas C. Rider of this place is the owner of the horses that took the second premium at the New York State Fair. These horses were raised by Mr. Rider. They are a very fine pair, and are admired by horsemen all over the State. He also took the first premium at the County Fair.

—A village Camp Meeting will be held next week at North Chatham.

WEST LEBANON.

—There are no changes, of importance, a few in the way of repairs, but there is a slight political spirit being aroused in view of the coming election. The weather is very fine, instead of the dreary Equinoctial storm, we have had glorious sunny days, though they be "melancholy" and the "saddest" of the year. The forests in gorgeous array form a mosaic ne'er equalled by the artists' pencil, and the village looks very picturesque in its autumnal dress. F.
