THE PANIC.

There has been a gradual improvement during the week in financial circles, and the panic, in New York, is virtually at an end. The relief has been brought about partly through the government, which purchased a large amount of bonds, and partly through people from other parts of the country, who have flocked to New York with a supply of money with which to purchase stocks at a low figure.

The total shrinkage of stocks and bonds, held mostly in New York, from the highest price just before the panic to the lowest price during the panic, is estimated at $200,000,000. Of course there will not be this actual loss because the parties owning them will generally hold on until they come back to their former value, but parties who were compelled to sell at the lowest prices lost, in some cases, one half the value.

In consequence of the better feeling the Stock Exchange was reopened on Tuesday after being closed more than a week, and the interminable war between the bulls and bears began again. The dead were buried, the wounded were made as comfortable as possible and those who had passed through the fire unscathed renewed the contest with increased vigor.

It is with a feeling of relief on all sides that business is resumed in Wall street. All kinds of business was at a stand while the banks were practically suspended and the avenues of commerce clogged. Commercial interests, both great and small, have suffered more or less through there have not been many suspensions, and if matters improve rapidly there will be no serious break in the business world. If it ends now the great panic of 1873 will, perhaps, accomplish more good than evil. People will be more inclined to invest their money in legitimate business and not in rash speculations.

LIFE INSURANCE INCIDENTS.

BURLINGTON, Vt., 1873.

Mr. S—— was liberally educated, was called a good business man, inherited $100,000, managed it well for thirty years, and yet when he took a policy of $10,000 in the Equitable Life Assurance Society, many could not see the need of it in his case. Finally his business matters got into bad shape, his health failed, and he died at the age of fifty-five, leaving his family only $10,000, which was the policy in the Equitable. When I talked with Judge P—— about it, the Judge said, "I was classmate of his, and knew him well; I did not suppose his family would ever need money from a life policy."

O. L. G—— was a fine young man, had a good situation, a wife and one child, and when a policy was suggested to him, replied: "Yes, that's so; and and I intend to give my wife a present next Christmas of a $5,000 policy." The agent was his friend, and told him it was "not best to wait until that time, so far ahead." He replied that he had not the ready money to pay the premium, and did not like to incur the debt. The agent said, I will wait a few months on you for the sake of having you take a policy, and on those terms he took a policy of $2,000. He died before he paid the agent, and his widow repaid the premium out of the money received from the Equitable Life Assurance Society and that $2,000 was all she had left.

Mr. B—— was a hard working farmer, and owing $1,000 on his farm, concluded to take a policy for that amount so that in case of his death before the mortgage was taken up, his widow could pay it and be free from debt. The application was made, but owing to the need of some facts in regard to the family history, the business was postponed to the Saturday following. He went into the woods Saturday forenoon, and in felling a tree, was crushed to death. He left his widow not only to mourn his untimely loss, but to struggle with the debt left on the farm.

E. P—— was an industrious business man, supposed to be worth enough to support his family comfortable. He died from the effects of a sun-stroke, and when his estate was settled the widow and children had but $1,000, and that from a life policy.

H. R—— was the son of wealthy parents, and did not see his need of a life insurance, but was induced to take $5,000 for his wife, and in less than a year the Equitable Life Assurance Society paid the $5,000 and it was all the widow had. The rich parents were not available to the widow.

I asked a wealthy gentleman, for whom I wrote an application for $10,000 in the Equitable Life Assurance Society, why he wanted a life policy. His reply was: "So many men die in very fair circumstances, as far as property is concerned, but do not leave any ready money to settle their estates often forcing the sale of property at a great sacrifice, that I think it best to have $10,000 where my friends can find it when it will be most needed, and for that purpose I am willing to pay the small premium needed to keep a life insurance in force." That man is called a shrewd man in all his business matters.

W. H. S. W.

CORRESPONDENCE.

EAST DORSET, VT., Sept. 29, 1873.

Mr. Editor:

My first thought was to ask only space enough in your columns for my epitaph, but upon sober reflection concluded that in these my last moments I had best add a few facts to atone in part for the many glaring falsehoods which so excited the wonder of your star correspondent.

The fine production of the aforesaid star did not excite my wonder in the least; but it did bring, very forcibly to my mind, the following lines,

And still they gazed and still the wonder grew,
That one small head should carry all he knew.

It seems he considers my simple school boy effort "a tissue of falsehoods," but no such fine fabric as tissue once suggested itself to me while reading his ungentlemanly attacks upon a lady. No material is suggested there but shoddy, the weaving of which must have cost him many hours of hard labor and I already regret the Balaam-like cruelty which goaded him into an act so foreign to his nature. Am happily glad to learn that "we don't support our business men." I believe it is the general opinion that it's more than we do to support ourselves. As for the Messrs. Freedly, Kent, Cochran, Griffith, and others, I fancy they could fully express their feelings upon seeing their names thus displayed in the words of a renowned poet,

'Tis pleasant sure to see one's name in print;
A book's a book although there's nothing in't.

Doubtless my starry friend has the smiles of a grateful public for his masterly effort, but if the time spent in wielding the pen had been expended in experimenting with that "filthy stream" and a little sand, the public would have been fully as grateful. Your correspondent complains of his vision being affected by mud—very likely it is. His surroundings will not warrant him in seeing anything else.

My parting advice to my complimentary friend is this: If ever again your literary dish gets too full for comfort instead of letting it "slop over," boil it down."

X.

PERU, Sept. 30th, 1873.

Mr. Editor:

I see, by reading your paper, that some of the good people of East Dorset are somewhat stirred up in regard to road matters, and are not contented to call each other hard names but have the boldness and audacity to call into question the good name and character of the citizens of Peru. In short we are charged with selling "heart" shingles with the bark on and four foot wood cut by the yard." Now it is a well known fact that the Peruvians, as a class, are not cursed with an overabundance of this world's goods, we have very little that is valuable which the people of Dorset or anywhere else can steal, except our good name, and now they attempt to filch from us even that, which would leave us poor indeed.

It is true that we are compelled to "measure close" and, in our elevated situation, the bark of our spruces may, sometimes, grow rather close to the heart, but that any genuine son of Peru would be guilty of the meanness charged, we cannot for a moment believe. It is true that, not many years ago, we had a large immigration from Dorset. Several of these "settlers" are still residents of town, and it may be possible that they still cling to their old habits and customs. We have done our best to instruct them in Arithmetic and Moral Science, but it is barely possible that when they get back to Dorset, even for a day, they may be overcome by temptation, or led astray by bad example and go back to their old habits, and thus bring disgrace upon the town of their adoption. Shingles wood, bark and lumber are almost a legal tender, with us; even as iron was made legal tender by law, in ancient Sparta. As a consequence the people of Sparta were incorruptible and the most celebrated for virtue and patriotism of any people on the globe, and we, people of Peru, would like to follow in their footsteps, and any attempt to depreciate or break down our currency will be resisted to the death.

NEW YORK LETTER.

THE RUN ON SAVINGS BANKS, DEPOSITORS GROWING CALMER—OPINIONS OF BANKERS ON THE SITUATION—GOSSIP AND JOTTINGS

[From Our Special Correspondent.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 1st, 1873.

Mr. Editor:

The run which commenced last Monday on the savings banks of the city of New York, in Bleeker street, opposite Crosby, continues, but in a much less degree. The customary legal thirty day's notice is not required by the bank officers, who are paying all who make their appearance, without regard to the amount. The body of the banks are crowded with depositors, who are calmly awaiting their turn to be paid. Up to Wednesday $150,000 had been paid the depositors, who in these cases lose the interest they could otherwise have drawn on January next. No uneasiness is felt by the bank authorities, as they state they will be able to meet all demands which may be made against them.

THE MANHATTAN SAVINGS BANK.

The rush of depositors to the Manhattan Savings bank, corner of Bleeker and Broadway, has greatly decreased in numbers. On Tuesday only sixty depositors presented their drafts, which in the aggregate amounted to not more than $5,000. This bank is paying all depositors without availing themselves of the thirty days notice. The officers state that the run has subsided, and they infer that it will not recommence.

BANKERS OPINIONS ON THE PANIC.

Mr. Vail, the President of the Bank of Commerce, in an interview, said that confidence had been very greatly improved. He thought that the action of the government in buying five-twenties had been highly beneficial in loosening greenbacks. President Jordan, of the Third National bank, expressed similar opinions, saying that he saw no reason why all the banks should not now go along in a quiet and regular manner. A number of other prominent bankers and brokers who were questioned in regard to the the financial situation, were unanimous in the opinion that affairs wore a far brighter aspect in every respect, and that the crisis was entirely over. Some thought that the action of the bank presidents in issuing loan certificates should have been taken earlier but all said that this, with the purchase of bonds by the government, had aided greatly in restoring confidence, and that there was no ground for apprehending further disaster. One banker said that he thought the cash value of stock was the best indication of the improved state of feeling. New York Central stock having been actually sold and delivered this afternoon at 97 ex-dividend, while 103 was the highest quotation last week.

GOSSIP AND JOTTINGS.

The Scythe, the Grangers new paper recently started here, has some terrible hits in its second number on the panic and its causes. The Scythe takes the ground that there will be the greatest crash ever known before January, and shows why it is inevitable. The paper is a great success.

One of the most beautiful and perfect things to be seen in the musical line, is at the piano establishment of Horace Waters & Son, of 481 Broadway. It is styled the New Concerto Parlor Organ. The speciality of this instrument is its concerto stop, which is produced by an extra set of reeds, so toned as to resemble the human voice in a very striking manner.

SPECTATOR.

STATE ITEMS.

Joseph Benton, aged 18, a young miner, met a fearful death at Fitts shaft in Mineville Monday evening. He had just come up in a bucket, contrary to orders, and upon arriving at the top, instead of getting out upon the landing with the others, committed the fatal error, in the darkness, of leaping back into the pit, and was dashed in pieces on the rocks, 150 feet below.

Bellows Falls is likely not to get the alpaca works which H. M. Farr & Co, were going to establish there, because Holyoke "sees" their $50,000 subscription and "goes them" $50,000 better.

It is never too late to use Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar as a Cough cure, but it is best to have recourse to it in the early stages of pulmonary disease, so as to secure immediate and permanent relief and avoid danger. Crittenton's, 7 6th Avenue. Sold by all Druggists.

Pike's Toothache Drops cure in 1 minute.

PIMPLES, ERUPTIONS, ROUGH SKIN.

The system being put under the influence of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for a few weeks, the skin becomes smooth, clear, soft, and velvety, and being illuminated with the glow of perfect health from within, true beauty stands forth in all its glory. Nothing ever presented to the public as a beautifier of the complexion ever gave such satisfaction for this purpose as this Discovery. The effects of all medicines which operate upon the system through the medium of the blood are necessarily somewhat slow, no matter how good the remedy employed. While one to three bottles clear the skin of pimples, blotches, eruptions, yellow spots, commedones, or "grubs," a dozen may possibly be required to cure some cases where the system is rotten with scrofulous or virulent blood poisons. The cure of all these diseases, however, from the common pimple to the worst scrofula is, with the use of this most potent agent only a matter of time. Sold by all Druggists.

THE WHEELER & WILSON

AGAIN VICTORIOUS!!

The highest prizes awarded to it at the Worlds Fair in London, the highest prize at the Universelle Exposition at Paris, and at VIENNA, 1873, AWARDED THE GRAND MEDAL OF MERIT AND THE ONLY SEWING MACHINE CO. RECOMMENDED BY THE JURY FOR THE GRAND DIPLOMA OF HONOR.

At the public trial given at Meerwarth Hall, East Arlington, Vt., Sept. 5th, 1873, it again carried the day, coming out victorious. The judges were Mrs. Harmon Webb, Mrs. Anna Wiley, Messrs. Lewis Williams, L. E. White and Hugh Shepard. Read the following testimonials of four of them.

EAST ARLINGTON, September 6, 1873.

I hereby certify that I was one of the five Judges in the trial of Sewing Machines at East Arlington, on September 5th, 1873, at Meerwarth Hall, between the Wheeler & Wilson and Weed Machines, and rendered my decision in favor of the Wheeler & Wilson, it being the most Simple, Durable, Easiest Running, and far superior in construction of either of the two. I will further say my decision was given without any partiality whatever. L. WILLIAMS.

ARLINGTON, September 6, 1873.

I hereby certify that I was one of the Judges on the trial of Sewing Machines, between the Wheeler & Wilson and Weed, held in Meerwarth Hall, East Arlington, on Friday, September 5th, 1873, and rendered my decision in favor of the Wheeler & Wilson Machine, it being the most simple, durable and far superior in construction of either of the two, and consider it far the best, and would recommend it to all. I will further say my decision was without any partiality whatever. L. E. WHITE.

EAST ARLINGTON, September 6, 1873.

I hereby certify that I was one of the five Judges on the trial of Sewing Machines, between the Wheeler & Wilson and Weed, held in Meerwarth Hall, East Arlington, on Friday, September 5th, 1873, and rendered my decision in favor of the Wheeler & Wilson, it being the most simple, durable and easiest running Machine, and far superior to any I ever met, having used, personally, different ones for the past eight (8) years, and am now using and owning a "Singer," and have for the past two years yet with poor satisfaction. I owned an old style Wheeler & Wilson for six years, running it daily, doing tailoring, such as making heavy beaver overcoats, pants, vests, etc., and it never failed to give entire satisfaction, and during that time I never lay out one penny for repairs, and broke but three needles, earning from three to four hundred dollars a year on it in my business, (Tailoress,) constantly for the six years I owned it, and am not able to do it on a Shuttle Machine. My decision was without any partiality whatever.

MRS. HARMON WEBB.

EAST ARLINGTON, September 8, 1873.

I hereby certify that I was one of the five (5) Judges on the trial of Sewing Machines between the Wheeler & Wilson and Weed Machines, held in Meerwarth Hall, at East Arlington, on Friday, September 5th, 1873, and my decision was given in favor of the Wheeler & Wilson Machine, it being, in my judgement, the most simple, durable and easiest running Machine, and far superior in construction of either of the two. I will further say my decision was given without any partiality whatever. HUGH SHEPARD.

The machine is well known for its durability, simplicity of construction, ease of management and beauty of work. It has been well known during the past twenty-three years as the leading Sewing Machine, having now in actual use, over 1,000,000.

The Qualities which Recommend them.

1. Beauty and excellence of stitch alike on both sides of the fabric sewed.
2. Strength, firmness, and durability of seam, that will not rip or ravel.
3. Economy of thread.
4. Attachments and wide range of application to purposes and materials.
5. Compactness and elegance of model and finish.
6. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction.
7. Speed, ease of operation and management, and quietness of movement.

It makes the lock stitch, doing away with the great trouble of threading a shuttle, with but one tension and has but 72 pieces, while other machines have 200 and upwards.

WHAT THIS MACHINE WILL DO.

It will seam, hem, fell, braid, bind, tuck, gather, gather and sew on band, Quilt, cord, and perform other species of sewing, making a beautiful and perfect stitch, alike on both sides of the article sewed.

There are more attachments to this Machine than any other. The following attachments given with each Machine are

1. Hemmer.	12. Needle Wrench.
2. 1 Doz. Needles.	13. Emery Wheel.
3. Quilting Guage.	14. Black Wrench.
4. Tucking Guage.	15. Oil Can with Oil.
5. Ordinary Glass.	16. Screw Driver.

PETITION FOR DIVORCE.

State of Vermont, Bennington County, ss.

ANNA H. WILTSIE vs DAVID C. WILTSIE. | Petition for Divorce, Bennington County Court December Term, 1873.

Whereas, Anna H. Wiltsie of Bennington in the County of Bennington, having filed her petition with the Clerk of said Court for a divorce from the bonds of matrimony with David C. Wiltsie, alleging that on the 2nd day of July, A. D., 1864, she was lawfully married to David C. Wiltsie, by one J. Hilliard, a minister of the Gospel. That she lived with said David C. Wiltsie until the 1st day of September, A. D., 1865, when said David C. Wiltsey, without any just cause, wilfully deserted the petitioner, and has continued his desertion ever since. And further alleging that said David C. Wiltsie has been guilty of intolerable severity towards the petitioner, and has been guilty of the crime of adultery with certain persons to the petitioner unknown. That she has resided in Bennington aforesaid for seven years last past. And praying that the bonds of matrimony between her and the said David C. Wiltsie may be dissolved and a bill of divorce granted to her; and the custody of Edward D. Wiltsie, a boy of eight years of age and the offspring of said marriage, may be decreed to her during his minority. And,

Whereas, it appearing that said David C. Wiltsie is without this state, so that process cannot be served upon him, it is ordered that said David C. Wiltsie be notified to appear before the County Court next to be holden at Bennington on the first Tuesday of December, A. D., 1873, and make answer to said petition, three weeks successively in the Manchester JOURNAL, printed at Manchester, in said County, the last of which publications to be at least six weeks previous to the said first Tuesday of December.

Given under my hand this 22nd day of September, A. D., 1873.

JOHN V. HALL, Clerk.

AARON SHELDON'S ESTAT.

State of Vermont, Manchester District, ss.

At a Probate Court held at Manchester, within and for said District of Manchester, on the 25th day of August A. D., 1873.

Present, Hon. E. B. Burton, Judge.

An instrument in writing purporting to be the last will and testament of Aaron Sheldon late of Rupert, in said district, deceased, was presented for Probate.

Whereupon it was ordered that said instrument be proven at a Probate Court to be held on the 26th day of Sept., A. D., 1873, that notice thereof be given to all persons interested, by publishing a certified copy of the record of said order three weeks successively in the Manchester JOURNAL, a newspaper printed at said Manchester, previous to said time of hearing.
