GRAY HAIR RESTORED TO ITS ORIGINAL Youthful Color, Baldness Prevented.

"London" "Hair Color Restorer." "London" "Hair Color Restorer." "London"—No Dye. "Hair Color Restorer." "London" "Hair Color Restorer." "London" "Hair Color Restorer."

It is the only known remedy of real merit and perfect hair dressing combined. Delicately perfumed.

Compounded in strict conformity with modern Vegetable Chemistry. It is not a dye, does not soil the skin, soil hat, hands, or the finest linen. It will restore gray hair to its original color, promote a luxuriant growth of new hair on bald heads, remove all dandruff, dirt, scurf, &c., from the scalp, rendering it perfectly healthy, keeps the hair soft, moist, gives it a glossy and beautiful appearance, highly perfumed, and as a dressing it has no superior.

STILL ANOTHER CERTIFICATE.

I hereby certify to the wonderful effects of the "London Hair Color Restorer and Dressing." My hair was very gray, and though its use it was soon restored to its natural color, and the hair, which was rather dry and harsh, and falling off, now became soft and glossy, ceasing falling; the dandruff disappeared, and the scalp lost all the disagreeable feeling. Accompanying me, and at the time I is fully restored to its original dark color, and I cheerfully commend its use to all who are desirous of having a beautiful head of hair.

TUESDAY, MAY 2, 1865.

Confiscation.

The Philadelphia North American says President Johnson affords us, in his own experience, an illustration of the way in which the rebel authorities treated leading and influential men at the South while they had the power. Every bit of property he had in the world was seized and confiscated to the purposes of the rebellion, and his family exiled or imprisoned for no other offence than that of loyalty to the republic. This experience corresponds with that of Governor Brownlow, the present chief magistrate of the State of Tennessee. Indeed it was the uniform treatment of every man at the south known to entertain similar sentiments. Even those who compromised with treason by professing neutrality, in order to save their property, were not spared. The oath of allegiance to the rebel government was strictly enforced as a test.

When Governor Brownlow advised his fellow sufferes by this infamous rule to avail themselves of the national laws to prosecute the parties who had so shamefully despoiled them, and seek to recover damages therefor, some weak-minded northern journals berated the Governor for the language he used, but had no word of approval for the doctrine. The question is now presented upon a broader basis. Shall we show the rebels a mercy which they did not show to the Union men of the South, and allow them to retain possession of their estates? Shall those at the South who have grown rich upon plunder retain their ill got wealth, which has been used in most cases for warlike ends? It would be a gross wrong to the loyal men of the South, who adhered so stubbornly to our cause even when things looked darkest, to allow them to do so. They who did not spare the property of such patriots as President Johnson and Governor Brownlow, do not deserve to have theirs spared now.

The Work Goes On.

Martin Luther once said, in his terse way: "God buries his workmen, but the work goes on." With mourning deep and universal, this nation follows its honored Chief to the grave; but the work goes on. The heavy hand of war crushes out the last trace of rebellion. The baffled traitors are flying before an avenging Nemesis. The freed people of the South are rising to new life and exalted destiny. Government, hardly jarred by the commotion which in any other land would have wrecked a throne, proceeds steadily to the accomplishment of its majestic task. Barbarism is disappearing before the advance of enlightenment. The slaves are to be emancipated. The States will be returned to their allegiance. The glorified banner of the Republic will float over a restored Union, consecrated by the illustrious valor and noble self-sacrifice of its people. And amid the splendid results toward which we hasten, the world will recognize the patent influence of the martyr-leader, who, "being dead, yet speaketh!"

Not a Mourner.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune, who travelled with the remains of Mr. Lincoln says "the train halted at Lancaster for Thaddeus Stevens, but he was too unwell to travel. Lancaster is the home of James Buchanan, and his house was visible as we approached the city. No flag, no emblem of mourning indicating patriotism and sorrow, could be detected on that house, nor, perhaps, was any expected. A thousand times better be Abraham Lincoln assassinated than this craven and depraved old man, who outlived his Presidency, and now outlives the respect of all good men. This thought occurred to all, and a shudder ran thro our frames as we thought this hoary-headed man, Booth's moral accomplice, once sat in the highest place of the Republic."

Of course, James Buchanan does not mourn the death of Abraham Lincoln. Why should he? Were not the last four years of Mr. Lincoln's life devoted to saving the nation from the ruin which Buchanan had prepared for it?

Mr. and Mrs. Kean have returned to the American Stage. They appeared at the Broadway Theatre, N. Y., on the night of the 26th ult—Mr. Kean as Cardinal Wolsey, and Mrs. Kean as Queen Catherine. The Evening Post says:

The first two acts of the play dragged along rather heavily, but soon the fine elocution and impassioned pathos of Mrs. Kean awoke the latent enthusiasm. In the court scene the lady's acting—to which a sweet yet singularly audible voice gave a peculiar effect—won the heartiest applause.

Mr. Kean in the latter acts dispelled the first feeling of disappointment in regard to his abilities. His scenes with Cromwell and the gibing courtiers was remarkable as a display of facial expression, as well as of careful, and, in some respects, original acting. Many of his points were warmly applauded, and after the tragedy he, with his wife, was called out, and made a graceful and pathetic acknowledgment of his kindly reception.

Several passages in the play were deemed by the audience as specially appropriate to recent events. Such for instance, as these, words spoken by Wolsey:

This is the state of man: To-day he puts forth
The tender leaves of hope, to-morrow blossoms,
And bears his blushing honors thick upon him.
The third day, comes a frost, a killing frost,
And—nipped in the blossom, all our hopes and ambitions
Like a little frost in a morning,—this the truth
And this the fate.

And again in Wolsey's parting advice to Cromwell:

Be just, and fear not.
Let all the ends thou aimest at, be thy country's,
Thy God's and truth's; then if thou fall'st, O Cromwell,
Thou fall'st a blessed martyr.

Previous Knowledge of the Proposed Assassination.

Miss Hannah M. Gillespie, of Huntingville, Canada, seven miles from Sherbrooke, writes to her sister in this city as follows:—"A copperhead, a species of humanity, came here the other day. He said there was a plot laid to put Abraham Lincoln out of the way. I immediately told it to a Union man. His reply was that he had heard of the plot and had no doubt they would put it in execution if they could. I proposed having the fact sent to Washington, but ere our conversation ended the dispatch came, and, like an electric shock, told us that the plot had been consummated." — Manchester Mirror, April 24.

Public Meeting at Huntsville, Ala.

Pursuant to previous notice a meeting of the citizens of Huntsville, and Madison county, Ala., was held in the Court house, at 12 o'clock, m., on the 18th inst., which was very largely attended.

On motion of Hon. Nich. Davis, Hon. D. C. Humphreys was called to the Chair. He explained the object of the meeting to give expression to the sentiments of the community and the citizens generally, in regard to the death of the President of the United States, by the hands of the assassin. His remarks evinced deep feeling, and were forcible and judicious.

On motion of Hon. D. P. Lewis, W. B. Figures was requested to act as Secretary of the meeting.

Judge P. M. Dox then moved that a committee of fifteen be appointed by the Chair to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the assembly, which was carried. The Chair appointed the following gentlemen as said committee, viz: P. M. Dox, Chairman, D. P. Lewis, F. A. Saunders, Smith Adams, Nich. Davis, Joseph Ward, Britten Franks, B. M. Lowe, jr., Thos Bibb, A. J. Johnson, E. E. Douglas, S. M. Weaver, Thos U. Green, J. M. Venable and Theo. Lacy.

The committee retired for a short while, and then reported the following preamble and resolutions, which were read and unanimously adopted, viz:

WHEREAS, Official information has been received in this community that Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States of America, has been killed by the hand of an assassin; and that an attempt by assassination has been made on the life of Wm. H. Seward, Secretary of State; and, whereas, civilization and christianity alike, the laws of God and the laws of man regard such acts with unmixed horror and execration, the citizens of Huntsville, in primary meeting assembled, and without distinction of parties, do Resolve, That they can view the acts of the assassination of President Lincoln, and the attempt to assassinate Mr. Wm Seward, Secretary of State, only with emotions of unmixed grief and detestation; and that the assassins are the enemies of civilization and humanity.

Resolved, That the acts and the actors can find parallel alone in the calendar of the most flagitious crimes, and the most fiendish criminals; they can only be classed in infamy with the savage and the cannibal, the guerrillas of Spain, the carbonari of Italy, and the thugs of India.

Resolved, That copies of the proceedings of this meeting be laid before Brig. Gen. R. S. Granger, commanding the District of North Alabama. That copies of the same be sent to Andrew Johnson, President of the United States of America, to Mrs. Lincoln, relict of Abraham Lincoln, late President of the United States of America, and to Hon. Wm. H. Seward, Secretary of the United States of America.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be signed by the President and Secretary, and that the same be forwarded to the newspapers in the cities of Nashville and Washington, D. C., with the request that they publish the same.

On motion of Judge Lewis a committee of three was appointed by the Chair, consisting of Messrs. D. P. Lewis, Wm. B. Figures and J. W. Scruggs, to carry out the wishes of the meeting as expressed in the resolutions.

In response to loud calls from the multitude, feeling, appropriate and eloquent remarks were made by Judge Dox, Hon. Nick Davis, Judge Lewis, and the chairman of the meeting, which were received with hearty applause.

On motion, the meeting then adjourned.

D. C. HUMPHREYS, Ch'm.
W. B. FIGURES, Sec'y.

A Word from General Cass.

General Cass not being able to attend the funeral obsequies of the late President at Detroit, sent a letter of excuse from which we take the following:

"The departed patriot entered upon his new field of duty with unwavering confidence in the justice of our cause and its final triumphant issue, and this confidence accompanied him during all the trials to which he was exposed, and invigorated the policy he felt called to adopt; and, as in the progress of events, he became better understood by the course of his administration, he became better appreciated by his countrymen. Though differences of opinion as to the measures adopted were inseparable from such a contest, involving many issues of weal and woe, still his noble qualities inspired general confidence and commanded general respect, and his successful administration will be evinced in a I time to come of his worth and the wisdom of his measures."

Important Movement.

The telegraph brings us news that the Grand Jury of Franklin county, Pa., is about to present bills of indictment against General McCausland and Harry Gilmor, for arson and murder during the time when Chambersburg was destroyed by the rebels, and that under these indictments Governor Curtin will make a formal demand for the surrender of these men as fugitives from justice. Harry Gilmor is a refugee from Maryland, and if the loyal Governor of that State can only lay hands on him, he will be glad enough to deliver him up to justice. If found in Virginia we entertain no doubt that Governor Pierpont or General Halleck will give him up, as well as McCausland, who is a Virginian. We are pleased to hear that it is the determination of Governor Curtin to make an effort to bring these wretches to punishment.—Phila. American.

Rumors have reached St. Louis, that Jeff. Thompson, at the head of six or eight thousand men, is near Pocahontas, Ark., with the design of invading Missouri. A stampede from the Southern counties has taken place. Troops have been sent to check the apprehended inroad, though it is believed the reports are much exaggerated.

Expense in Producing Petroleum.

The expense attending the production of petroleum is so trifling that the nation profits by it more than from any mining or railway operations. The income of $75,000,000 will not cost over $2,000,000 in expenses. Gold, silver and coal mining costs about sixty to seventy per cent for working expenses. The petroleum product of the United States promises to rival in amount the whole cotton crop of the South.

The N. O. Picayune says: "Immediately after the occupation of the city by Gen. Granger, he sent a note to Madame Lavert, politely tendering that lady a guard for the protection of her person and property, should she desire it." And, we presume, the Madame gravely condescended to accept the offered protection!

NEW YORK, May 1.—In view of the fact that the rebel ram Stonewall is afloat, and supposed to be making her way to this coast, the Government has iron clads in all our harbors. The Roanoke and other iron clads, besides a Torpedo boat, are in readiness in this harbor.

The Herald's Washington special says, Gen. Grant will, on his return to Washington, set about making an arrangement for the contemplated heavy decrease of our military force, and consequent reduction of Government expenses. It is thought the army will be reduced 400,000 men.

The Herald's correspondent says, the Second Army Corps has exclusive charge of affairs in the vicinity of Burksville Junction, protecting the inhabitants from marauding by Lee's discharged men. The inhabitants are so poorly off that our commissaries have to feed them. Upwards of 100 families, averaging eight adults, each, are kept from starving.

The Tribune's Washington special says Harrold has made a voluminous confession.

It has been ascertained that Jeff. Davis and his party have not more than $300,000 in specie with them.

Gen. Grant is reported to have said that when he informed Gen. Sherman of the disapproval of the terms he had forwarded to Washington, the latter frankly admitted that he had made a mistake in not having it put in writing that slavery was dead, but that was the understanding between them. As to permitting the rebel Legislatures to assemble, he agreed to that, because he had just learned the Virginia Legislature was permitted to assemble by the authority of the President, and in the absence of official instructions he interpreted the President's desire to be that the rebel civil Government should be retained for the preservation of order and avoid maintaining a military force in these States, as well as to do away with the irritation likely to grow out of military government.

As to the amnesty it was only to cover officers and soldiers. When his attention was called to the wording, he replied with much spirit: That doesn't express the understanding between us.

Herald's Washington special says Gen. Grant has returned in most excellent spirits. He expresses much gratification at the prompt execution of the orders between Gen. Sherman and Johnston. Gen. Sherman met the General 20 miles from the front. He read the order of disapproval with most commendable good grace. There was no hesitation, no murmuring, nor any expression of dissatisfaction at the disapproval of the terms entered into between him and the rebel general, but without any delay or argument in defense of the course previously pursued.

Gen. Sherman and his Generals with true soldierly spirit set to work with alacrity to carry out the views of the Government as commanded by Gen. Grant. Within five minutes a dispatch was sent to Johnston terminating the armistice. Upon the receipt of the notification by the rebel pickets orders were given for our troops in the rear to move up to the front. In a few hours Gen. Frank Blair with his troops was in motion. Sherman had informed Johnston that the Government would not sanction the terms proposed and that he should immediately resume hostilities. Immediately upon receipt of this notice Johnston sent back a flag of truce asking an interview with Sherman to arrange other terms of surrender, which was promptly made upon the basis of the terms given to Gen. Lee.

World's special says Johnston has pledged himself to exercise his authority and vigilance to prevent guerrilla bushwhacking, or any kind of illegal warfare.

Herald's Richmond correspondence says Gen. Halleck since assuming command in Richmond has established in that city a bureau of public archives, in which are to be deposited and preserved, all documents found within his department bearing on the history of the rebellion.

A sub district to be known as the District of the Peninsula, has been created in the Department of Virginia. It consists of the territory embraced within the boundaries of the York and Pamunkey rivers, on the north by the Chesapeake Bay, on the east by the James River, on the south by the Fredericksburg Railroad, on the west with headquarters at Williamsburg.

It is believed our Government contemplates the arrest of Judge Campbell, who has, since Lee's surrender, been very busy endeavoring to obtain terms favorable to the traitors.

Gov. Wm. Aiken left Charleston on the 28th with orders to report at Washington.

Simon Draper was announced to address a public meeting in Charleston on the 28th.

NEW YORK, May 1.—A Philadelphia dispatch this morning, says that Boston Corbett, who shot Booth, had been shot at the Relay House, near Baltimore, and killed. A subsequent dispatch to the Philadelphia Bulletin, contradicted the report and says Corbett was alive and well this a. m.

NEW YORK, May 1.—The Tribune's Richmond correspondent prints letters which show that one Stinson made a contract with the rebel Government in 1862 to destroy United States vessels, navy yards, etc., on the western waters and in the Atlantic States, by incendiarism, for which he was to receive as pay a per centage on the value of the property destroyed. A letter is given containing a report of the destruction of steamer J. H. Russell, on the Mississippi in 1864, by an incendiary employed by Stinson, named Isaac T. Absekine. The vessel and cargo is valued at $167,2600, and the per centage claimed to be $16,720.
