A Business Directory.

In conformity with a mode of advertising found advantageous, and indeed necessary in other cities, we have determined to commence a Business Directory in the Union, its wide and numerous circulation fitting it peculiarly for the purpose. The Directory will contain the names, address and business or profession, of those advertising in it, arranged under classified heads, as "Drugs," "Law," Dry Goods," etc. The subscriptions for cards to appear in the "Nashville Union Directory" will be $15 for one year, or $9 for six months, which is the shortest period for which a card will be taken.

The "Chamber of Commerce of Nashville" respectfully request the Merchants of Nashville, and all others interested in the commercial prosperity of the city, to meet them at the City Hall, at the upper end of the Market House this afternoon, at 4 o'clock, on a matter of great importance to the merchantile interest of the city.

THE TIMES AGAIN.—This paper continued its slanderous attack upon the Union yesterday. It endeavors to deny, that printing, given it by the Legislature, is done at the Press office—the opposition paper. That it is so is notorious—it is a certain fact. It endeavors to injure the Union through false assertions respecting the editors of the Bulletin in Memphis, which it asserts is concerned in an application for the printing. That gentleman is accused of overcharging a tax list $1576, because the account was not made out on advertising contract, when every person who has looked at a tax list, is aware that the list itself contains the printers charge, fixed by the court ordering the sale. The chairman of the printers committee in the Memphis council made the same statement, and for doing so was removed from the position. We dislike the sort of contest the Times has unscrupulously dragged us into, and have acted solely in self defence, never writing a line but to oppose the false accusations against us. We respectfully call attention to the fact, that, with all the malice exhibited, the Times has not been able to quote one disloyal sentence, one disrespectable word spoken of the government in our columns. We are candidates for the position of public printers—ours was the first loyal paper published in the city after its recess from the rebels—we have done good work for the good cause. Our circulation is far beyond that of any other paper in the city, while that of the Times may be judged of by the shabby appearance of that paper, and its abilities, to support even a local column. We have no wish to call attention to such disagreeable facts about a cotemporary—but if we are to be made targets for detraction, we must use the weapons of self-defence.

PETTIGREW'S ARRIVAL.—With the early dawn of yesterday was ushered a welcome guest. Fresh from paradise—bearing the pensive of ambrosial bloom—irridescent with all the hues of teeming Spring, came sweet and genial May. Though earth received her with a chill salute, smiting she came—ushered in with a cortege of flowers, the cheery songs of birds and ruddy hue of morning's modest beams. All blushing with vernal beauty; all ravishing with the music of soft songs of love, borne gently on the vernal winds, she floated to our gladdened hemisphere. Herself and beauteous train have found a nestling nook in every happy home; a lodging place by every vine clad cot on the green hills and emerald vales around. Maidens innocent, and youths rejoicing—all looking for the happy time when marriage rites will crown their longing hopes with joy—left the dull city, exchanged its dusty streets for May's own carpet, the green and springy turf, decked with a world of flowers that gave out sweetness to the passing pressure of nimble feet. Through the happy day they wandered by south hills, and threaded with many turn the wooded groves, plucking gay flowers and weaving them with curious art, until their varied tints and graceful forms, told in Flora's mystic alphabet, the tale of love and fond desire. The mystic rites the season claims, met with due observance. The Queen of May—the fairest impersonation of sweetness, love, and beauty, was crowned with a coronet whose hues no art can rival, whose rich perfume was heaven's delicious breath imprisoned in the compass of a flower. It is our pride to boast, that—chosen by the voice of ladies fair—we placed upon a wreath of sunny locks the coronet of spring, and crowned with loyal hand a beauteous Queen of May, who, blushing stood glowing in the proud modesty of unrivalled charms. That queen of hearts and cynosure of eyes, has no worshipper more true and leal, than he who lighted the glowing circlet on her graceful head. To her we breathe in song—

No ruder crown should ever deck thy brow,
Thou is the one which sits upon it now!

We hope the lovely Queen and fascinating Princesses of yesterday, clad in gauze and decked in shining gauds, rose fairy like this morning from their sleep, and dreamings of gorgeous bowers and happy love, feeling no languor from the rough chill the envious north dashed in the rosy face of May. Pure and fair, as the flowers they gathered from the emerald grass, and blossoms plucked from o'erhanging branches, may many coming Mays find them enjoying all the good that springs from virtue, and all the rich delights that crown reciprocated love.

COMPTROLLER OF THE STATE.

Candidate.

We are authorized to announce Mr. E. P. Cole of this city, as a candidate for Comptroller of the State.

We are authorized to announce James Waters, of the county of Hankins, as a candidate for Comptroller of the State.

We are obliged to W. C. Collier for the latest newspapers.

Messrs. A. Crocker & Co. have fitted up a neat little stand at their butter and ice depot, for the sale of soda water, fruits and confectionaries. They have an elegant fountain, and the most refreshing soda water, made trebly palatable with delicious syrups.

Spring brim hats. Something entirely new at Green & Green's, 43 College st.

The old Adams Express office will be fitted up by J. Dupree, Esq., for a Billiard Saloon. It will make a nice one.

PHRENOLOGY.—Prof. Ellis, a blind gentleman who has made phrenology his study, and has succeeded in making discoveries in that science, is in the city. He undertakes to picture out the dispositions, characteristics, and mental qualities of those who submit their organs to his experienced manipulations. He gave us a specimen of his powers last night, and certainly is well conversant with his art. He can be found or sent for at No. 75 Union street, opposite the New Theatre.

COBB & TUNNELL.—This firm has the very latest Louisville and Cincinnati papers, the New York Post, Harper's Weekly, Leslie's Illustrated and the Play Bill. The Louisville Journal of May 1st is received.

ADAMS EXPRESS.—This company, by the hand of our young friend Taylor, have sent us the latest Cincinnati and New York papers.

REMOVAL OF THE ADAMS EXPRESS OFFICE.—The Adams Express Company have just finished fitting up that commodious building standing on the northwest corner of the Public Square and Market street for an office. This noble structure, which has always been an ornament to our city, was formerly occupied by Douglas & Co., who conducted an immense wholesale dry goods business in it, but since the war it has been used for other purposes. Recently it was used by the Ordnance Department for the storing of arms, etc., and has just been vacated by orders from headquarters.

The Express Company have fitted it up tastefully and conveniently for conducting their business in a systematic way; the clerks of each department having a cosy place allotted to them, and reparated from the others. We think we risk nothing when we say that the Nashville office is not excelled by any in the country. We congratulate the whole Express fraternity on the occupation of their new office, and we are glad to know that the uniform courtesy and politeness that has always distinguished the agent, clerks and men, will be continued, because no important changes have been made in that respect.

We wish them an endless season of profitable and agreeable employment in their new and beautiful place of business.

RECORDER'S COURT.—The following cases were disposed of before this court yesterday: Disorderly conduct, five cases, among which was a triangular case of persecution between a "Brown browed daughter of Africa" named Lavina, Mrs. Brown, and Mrs. Wright, all of whom are depraved in their nature, and ply a nameless avocation for a livelihood. Upon investigation it was developed that imprecations and brick bats had been hurled at each other with harmless injury; the result was that Mrs. Wright was discharged, Lavina fined five dollars and Mrs. Brown ten. Drunk and indecent exposure, one case in which the defendant was fined five dollars and costs. Several cases of drunk and disorderly conduct were presented and fined.

Bob. Bird, a negroe, was charged with gaming and paid the costs.

Jane Nelson, charged with stealing a watch from C. E. Odell, was discharged and Odell taxed with the costs.

Frank Castello and wife were presented, charged with assault on Wm. Kelly, in which the defendants were dismissed and Corray the prosecutor in behalf of Kelly, neither of whom were in court, was taxed with the costs.

Dr. Smith a worthless old sinner, was up charged with being drunk, a thief, and also a vagrant; he promised to reform and do better if permitted to make the attempt and in consideration of his promise he was allowed to retire by paying eight dollars.

A colored soldier was up, charged with kicking and misusing a little white boy—case referred to the Provost Marshal.

A Mr. Rosenheim, who keeps a little fruit and cigar stand near the Square, on College st., was up for keeping his place of business open on Sunday, and was discharged.

A mixed case of jealousy, disordered finances, and fornication, between a trio of darkies was called up. Henderson and his wife, and an "artist" named Haywood, who had been employed to whitewash a room by Mrs. Henderson, Esq. The Court discharched Haywood and fined the victim of the "green-eyed monster" ten dollars for disturbing a quiet neighborhood, by slapping his wife and threatening to annihilate the supposed destroyer of his peace.

THE desirable farm, 101 acres, one and a miles from Nashville, the former residence of Hon. E. H. Foster and Andrew Ewing, is now offered for sale or rent by H. G. Scovel, Real Estate Agent.

Special attention devoted to the treatment of diseases of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs, Stomach, Heart, Liver, &c., by Dr. Ahern, at the Commercial Hotel. may2-1t

To the Hon. Jos. H. Randolph and others:

GENTLEMEN: The very polite card addressed to the several candidates for the United States Senate has been considered in the spirit in which it was addressed to us.

We would most respectfully say that, whilst we deem it prudent to decline your invitation, we would be pleased to answer any interrogatories that may be addressed to us, or either of us, relative to the great questions now before the country. None of us desire to withhold from the people of the State, and especially the members of the Legislature, any sentiments or views we may entertain.

Respectfully,

A. A. KYLE,
DAVID T. PATTERSON,
HORACE MAYNARD,
JOS. S. FOWLER,
WM. H. WISHAR.

While I do not perceive the impropriety of making the addresses requested, yet as the other gentlemen who are candidates decline speaking, an address could not reasonably be expected from me.

HAND ON ISHAM.—If what is said behind a man's back, can make his orbits twinkle, the two gimblet eyes of Isham G. Harris must have been at work yesterday on steam power principles, as will easily be imagined by those who read the account of the debate in the House, in our report. The disposition to present him with a cravat of Kentucky make, is powerful.

THE GOOD TIME COMING.—Mr. Parmele learned yesterday that the President is about to issue a Proclamation, opening Tennessee to free trade, except in articles contraband of war. The telegraph this morning confirms the news. Merchants in the city yesterday were disagreeably surprised by the proposition in the Senate to tax articles of merchandise two per cent. This will be little less onerous than the three per cent. Government tax about to be abolished.

ELECTIONS.—Three officials are to be elected at the Capitol to-day—a Comptroller, a Public Printer, and a Register and Entry taker.

TOILET.—See the advertisement of Branke's patent writing and toilet case, for soldiers and travelers it is invaluable, and it has won expressive commendations. It can be used on horseback, and is impermeable to rain.

THE OLD THEATRE. At this theatre the drama loving public will have a rich treat this evening. Miss Laura Keene, the ravishing actress, will make her appearance as the Widow Cheerly in the play of the Soldier's Daughter. She will be supported by her troupe of New York artists. Mr. Harvey Hank will play the part of Timothy Quaint. The concluding piece is the Quiet Family.

NEW THEATRE. All the splendid resources of scenery, stage machinery and unsurpassed properties, will be brought into play to-night in the drama of Captain Kyd, the Wizard of the Sea. Grand Tableau, Sinking Ship, and other incidents make this an unsurpassed piece.

It will be seen by reference to another column, that Mr. E. P. Cole, of this city is a candidate for Comptroller. Mr. Cole is a gentleman of energy, and fine business qualifications, and if elected, would no doubt discharge the duties of that high position satisfactorily.

Yesterday evening about five o'clock an altercation took place between the ferryman at "Hyde's Ferry" and a man whose name is George G. Jones, in which Mr. Mayberry, was shot three times. His wounds are considered dangerous, but he was still alive at ten o'clock last evening.

About nine o'clock last night a conflagration broke out in Edgefield, it made a great light for a while but soon went out. We did not learn any particulars except that it was a small grocery.

The steamer Nightingale arrived last night from Cincinnati—permits and manifest will be found at Boyd & Peebles.

A Rebel Ram on the Mississippi River.

MEMPHIS, April 28, via CAIRO, April 29.

The Vicksburg Herald extra of the 25th has a dispatch dated off the mouth of the Red river, the 23d, which states that at nine o'clock this evening the famous rebel ram Webb ran out of Red river, passing all the gunboats here, and descended the Mississippi river with lightning speed. When first discovered she had no lights, emitted no smoke, and appeared like a huge mass. She was fired upon from the monitor Manhattan, when she showed signs of life, and shot past the Manhattan, who signalled the fleet. The Lafayette started in pursuit. The officers of the Manhattan estimate her speed at twenty-five miles an hour when passing them.

The steamer Saratoga, from New Orleans, met the Webb at Tunica Bend a quarter of ten o'clock. She then tried to run down the Saratoga, but was unsuccessful. It is believed she intends to destroy our commerce on the Mississippi, and probably make an attempt to escape to the Gulf. Some assert that Jeff Davis is very probably on board, trying to make his escape to Havana or some other foreign port.

If nothing happens to the Webb she can reach New Orleans by day-light to-morrow, and the mouth of the Mississippi by noon.

The Webb is a very fast steamer. She was captured from us on Red river in 1862, by the rebels. She will hardly by allowed to get away.

Abolition.

A letter from Richmond contains the following:

I was privileged to listen this morning to a discussion, in front of the Spottswood House, which illustrated in a striking manner the "march of opinion." Four years ago it would have been unsafe to preach abolition doctrine right in the heart of Richmond, but that was the doctrine I heard proclaimed to-day in presence of a delighted audience. It came in this way: A civilian visitor, getting into conversation with a young Southerner, returned some remark in favor of the negro. It was resented by the stripling, who carried a nimble tongue, whereupon the other declared with emphasis that the loyal blacks were "better men than white traitors, any day." The youth, flushing up, said he wouldn't submit to such language; it was ungenerous to insult men who acknowledged themselves beaten. "But I tell you," said the other, "you shall submit to it; I've come down here for the express purpose of saying in Richmond what I have always been free to say in New York. You are worse than your slaves; you are even worse than the savages of middle Africa, and I'll prove it. These savages are fond of making trinkets from the bones of their victims. So are you. Didn't you roast the flesh from the bones of our dead soldiers at Bull Run to make finger rings and parlor ornaments for your rebel Jezebels? The savages of Africa have a fondness for drinking from the skulls of those they have slain in battle, or slaughtered for their feasts. Haven't you done the same thing? In Central Africa the negroes divide themselves into small tribes, each warring against the other, and each boasting an absolute sovereignty. Haven't you been trying to cut up the Union into petty sovereignities, each State striving for an exclusive dominion? Don't you claim, just as the savages of Africa do, to put the weak under the feet of the strong; don't you oppose the defenceless; haven't you starved our prisoners and murdered incold blood women and children, for no other crime than loyalty? Cannibals of Ethiopia are shrouded in ignorance, but you have sinned in the face of light and knowledge; you have known better, but refused to the human, just because slavery, your nursing mother, was born in the lap of the devil, and fed is her children on hellbroth." That was strong talk for Richmond, but it was listened to by a sidewalk audience of two or three hundred persons—soldiers and others—and was actually applauded. The young southron stamped, raved and swore, but it was of no use; his tormentor was pitiless, and when the crowd opened to let the victim pass, he shot away as if a forty-pound ball was at his back! It will take some time for this dose, administered by a northern "fanatic," to accomplish a perfect digestion.

FOR SALE.—One of the most desirable stocks of dry goods, boots, shoes, and hats, in this city. This is in the very bestlocality in Nashville and the house which will be rented to the purchaser is old and well known to all the city and county people. For further particulars call immediately at this office. 2w

Dry Goods in New York.

The business of the week has been much curtailed by the mournful scenes passing around. Since our last report, only two days of active business have happened, viz., on Friday and Saturday last, until yesterday. But on these days the demand has improved, the late period of the season impelling purchases, and with the reduced stock of goods, enabling more firmness in prices to rule throughout the market. Cotton prints have advanced a little and have sold freely. Stocks are being cleared out of first hands. Printing Cloths are scarce. An active demand has prevailed for lawns, which are firm. Shirtings and sheetings are higher, with a better inquiry. In woolen goods, there is a revival of demand. Delains are very steady, with an active consumption. Fancy casimeres are in better request, though prices are unsettled, except for the most desirable styles. In foreign fabrics, there has risen a lively movement. Desirable styles of British and Continental goods are in active demand at good prices. The market is bare of the most desirable kinds.—French silks are very active, both black and colored. Silk ribbons now command improved prices. Woolens are not so active as ladies' dress goods, but are, nevertheless, steady and improving, both in price and activity. Auction sales of Ribbons realize good prices, with a demand that absorbed duplicates and samples. The remainder of the spring season bids fair to show a great improvement on its commencement. The backwardness of dealers has only led to a postponement of consumption. Prices have assumed steadiness and consistency, and with no longer expectation of a further fall in prices, dealers and consumers will come forward and supply all actual wants. Speculative purchases for stock are out of the question, seeing that Gold must recede during the summer months to a much lower point.

Extract of a letter from L. L. & Co., one of the largest jobbing houses in New York, dated April 27th, 1865, to a mercantile house in Nashville:

"All cotton goods advanced within the last few days 25 per cent. Merrimac prints 30; Sprague's 27½; Americans 25; Richmonds 25; Dunnell's 24. And all makes of bleached Muslins in proportion, and scarcely a case in order to be had in the city. If you have any cotton goods on hand, stand firm on them."

A correspondent on behalf of the counties of Wayne and Hardin, takes issue with the statement of "Bedford," that his county was the only one in Middle Tennessee, that stood up for the Union. Wayne and Hardin did quite as well as Bedford, he says.

A SURE REMEDY.—We can conscientiously recommend to those suffering from a distressing cough, Dr. Strickland's Mellifluous Cough Balsam. It gives relief almost instantaneously, and is withal not disagreeable to the taste. There is no doubt but the Mellifluous Cough Balsam is one of the best preparations in use, and is all that its proprietor claims for it. We have tried it during the past week, and found relief from a most distressing cough. It is prepared by Dr. Strickland, No. 6 East Fourth street, Cincinnati, Ohio, and for sale by Druggists, at 50 cents per bottle.

No. 64 NORTH CHERRY Street.

FOR SPECIAL DISEASES

GRATEFUL FOR THE LIBERAL PATRONAGE HE HAS RECEIVED Dr. COLEMAN respectfully informs the citizens and soldiers that he may still be found at his old location, 64 NORTH CHERRY STREET, where the afflicted may always find him engaged with the same zeal, assiduity, secrecy and attention to their maladies, which has so successfully distinguished him as a Physician in his special department of professional practice.

Dr. COLEMAN graduated in the University of Penn., Philadelphia, in 1838. Since that time he has given his entire and undivided attention to his profession. All Chronic and Acute Diseases, Scrofula, Spinal Affections, Gravel, Dyspepsia, Dropsical and Nervous Affections, Paralysis, Stricture, Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, and Prostate Gland, Abnormal Affections, Eruptions of the Face, Camp Itch, and all diseases of the skin, &c., treated with no hindrance to his regular

PRIVATE OR VENEREAL DISEASES

Of all forms and stages speedily cured and effectually eradicated from the system. Recent cases cured in a few days.

It would appear needless here to add the importance of "nipping the evil in its bud," but, a hint to the wise may be sufficient, not only to save themselves from misery but to shield their offspring from shame and ruin.

How often is it the case we has confidence thrown upon them by a shameless mountebank. After much loss in pocket and health they are finally forced to applying to a regular physician to be cured, for alone can these diseases be cured properly and effectually when the humor and constitutional idiosyncrasies are taken to the doctor who prescribes. Otherwise it is a long chance indeed to expect a permanent cure.

Dr. C's office is well arranged, and persons attended with these diseases can have the desired privacy.

Send For a Circular Post Office Box 502.

Persons at a distance can address him by letter, describing the most prominent symptoms, but in all difficult cases, a personal examination will be necessary.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

One of the most successful practitioners in Nashville is Dr. Coleman, whose office is on Cherry street, between Deaderick and Cedar. The foundation of his success is his extensive allopathic, the experience, and the practical good sense which enables him to turn advantage of his acquirements for the benefit of his patients. And, withal, he is an affable and agreeable gentleman.—Union.

WASHINGTON, May, 1.—Acting Master, Fitzpatrick, Commanding U. S. steamer, Tyrene, reports under date of April 22d, off Randolph—that on the 19th an expedition, under command of Brig. Gen. Osbond, started for Brownsville, in three columns, one from Randolph, one via Hatchie river, and one from Fulton Tenn. They returned on the 22d, having been successful in capturing of several officers and men. Gen. Shelby's Adjutant was killed. One of the men captured, was the fellow who has been passing for Luxion. He confesses having burned the Saint Paul, and killing one man on board of her. Gen. Osbond hung him to a cotton wood at Sandoval. His proper name was Wilcox.

The steamers Annie and Guelph were not burned by guerrillas—they came out of Hatchie river safe.

NEW YORK, May 1.—The Post's special says President Johnson and Cabinet are considering measures for the restoration of order throughout the South. Another proclamation will be issued in a few days for the purpose of encouraging trade and commerce. Preparations for a retrenchment are going on.

Sherman's army is preparing to march homeward. Part of Sherman's staff arrived here to-day. The troops will return by land.

The authorities of Prince George county, Maryland, offer two thousand dollars reward for the arrest of any accomplice of Booth's within the limits of that county.

The Commercial's Washington correspondent says Sheridan's troopers are in that city dismounted. They say they are on route for Texas and mustime are inving a jolly time.

BOSTON, May 1.—A large building on Chudberry street, known as the Mint block is burned.

ST. LOUIS, May 1.—Hon. John Covide, of the War Committee furnishes the following information relating to the Sultana, which was destroyed:

No troops of States east of the Ohio were lost, all Eastern troops were sent to Annapolis. He says the boat was overloaded and was registered, her capacity being 376 passengers. There were other Government boats at Vicksburg at the same time, but the authorities would not let them have one. The prisoners think there is criminality in the matter. About 2000 paroled prisoners were at Vicksburg when the Sultana left. When the Sultana left 3000 were left at Andersonville, in consequence the railroad being destroyed between Andersonville and Jackson; they go to Annapolis via sea. The Sultana's agent writes there were 1700 persons lost by the disaster.

Thos. J. Sharp, guerrilla, was hung to-day.

NEW ORLEANS, April 24, via CAIRO, May 1.—On the 20th Secretary Mallory, of the Confederate Navy Department, surrendered himself to Capt. Gibson, United States Navy, at Pensacola.

The rebel ram Webb, Capt. Reed of Tacony notoriety, commanding, ran past the city at one p. m., when midway lowered the stars and stripes and hailed the rebel flag, was fired on, one 25 pound ball going through her bow. The gunboats started for her. When 24 miles below the city she was fired by her crew, and at 4:30 blew up. The crew, numbering sixty, including eight officers, took to the woods on the left side of the river, the greater part afterwards surrendering. Her decks, boilers, etc., and two hundred bales of cottons were destroyed by burning. Reed on coming down the Mississippi had telegraph wire attached to his vessel thus tearing down many miles of wire.

The steamship Western Metropolis arrived to-day. No sales of cotton. Superfine flour $75.

NEW YORK, May 1.—Cotton dull and heavy, and decidedly lower—42a43 for middling.

Gold lower, opening at 145, declining to 142½, and closing at 143.

All persons afflicted with private diseases would do well to call on Dr. A. Richard Jones, No. 23 Deaderick street, up stairs. Dr. J. may be found in his office at all hours. apr6

To Strangers and Citizens.

WE do not profess to be the only Physician in the city, "who may be found at his office at all hours, day or night;" nor do we, in offering our services to the invalid, desire to recommend ourself in preference to other equally well established and experienced physicians; nor do we pretend to be infallible, or the only man capable of curing the various diseases mentioned in our general advertisement. We do not claim the possession of any wonderful secret remedies, or extraordinary agreeable treatment or palliatives; as all sensible men must know, that success in the practice of medicine, does not depend so much upon the discovery of new remedies, or new modes of treatment, as upon the skillful use of those agencies necessary to a perfect cure—and this can be acquired only by experience and patient application. We respectfully refer the public to our general advertisement, in another part of the paper.

Office hours from 8 to the morning till 9 at night.
