

Society.

It doesn't pay for the society men to trifle with the hearts of the society girls, for sooner or later these same fellows come to grief and find themselves without any girl. Don't you know and can't you realize that most girls are not capable of keeping secrets when they pertain to love? Don't you know that when men tell the same things to two girls, who are friends, that those two girls will get together, not at first, of course, for then they think that they are the one particular star, but after a while it's the most natural thing in the world for them to compare notes and talk the whole affair over? Then, what is left of that once idolized hero? Can't you imagine? asks the Chaperone, in the Examiner.

Don't you know that girls seldom keep pretty compliments all to themselves? They simply must tell, just one particular friend, who swears to the profoundest secrecy, but no one else is to share it. This particular friend confides to her best chum, and that's the way the sweet words that were once whispered carried back to the originals, somewhat, of course—but that's always understood.

Ah! but the clever man, the up-to-date society flirt is ever ready with his answers; he invariably makes excuses to one girl for having called on the other and vice versa. And they believe. Yes, they do. When he does that, be guarded, for he is having a good time flirting with both. It is mean of me to attempt to expose the methods of the society man, but it doesn't seem quite right for the gallant heroes to have their own way in this particular respect. I believe in giving the girls a chance and letting them have the right of way.

At the Country Club.

Mrs. George Y. Wallace and Mrs. L. C. Miller are the hostesses at the club today. There will be an approaching and putting contest at 4 o'clock.

Table d'hôte dinner at 6:30.

Wednesday at the club was visitors' day, and a large number of people went out. Mrs. Victor Clement and Mrs. McClure received, and the affair was one of the important events of the week socially. A number of dinners were given.

If you're engaged have your dinner served in the shade of the sweltering palms a short distance back of the club house. It is a recent innovation, and no one knows but the waiter. It is cool too, and the even mosquitoes seem superstitious about intruding.

Town Events.

The largest event of the week was the reception given at the beautiful Amelia Palace yesterday, by Mrs. Edwin F. Holmes. Over three hundred guests called during the afternoon.

The approaching wedding of Miss Edna Shearman and Mr. Alma D. Katz is awaited with great interest by society.

Miss Anna McCornick entertained about a dozen friends Tuesday evening at the bicycle races. Afterwards, a delightful supper was served at her home.

Mrs. Alma Katz and Mrs. Heber M. Wells give a Kensington today in honor of Miss Edna Shearman.

Miss Kirkpatrick entertained a party of friends at the Country club on Wednesday.

Miss Hale and Miss Sappington entertained at the former's home on Thursday.

Miss Abbie Wells entertained at a Kensington on Tuesday.

Miss Eloise Sadler entertained her young friends at a dancing party on Monday evening.

Mrs. Gue of Brooklyn is visiting her sisters, the Misses Shearman.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Bransford have gone East.

Dean Eddie has gone to Scotland to spend the summer.

Lieut. McConnell gives a picnic on Monday.

Miss Geddes has returned from the East.

Miss Katherine Kanters has gone East.

Mr. Jack Royle has returned.

Golf.

Long drives are becoming the rule rather than the exception these days. Where formerly a 200-yard drive would be regarded as phenomenal, it is now a common occurrence. Mr. Holman makes no secret of the fact that he recently drove 250 yards.

The advantage of having a first-class teacher like Leonard is shown in the improvement of the game of a number of the older players, as well as the beginners. Leonard is a master of the approach shot, which is always important, but on the local links is practically the deciding shot of the game.

Mr. A. W. Copp, winner of the championship last season, got decidedly the best of the match in Denver last Wednesday.

The tennis court at the club is now in first-class condition, the golf was side tracked for several hours during the recent tennis tournament. Mr. Thompson proved himself as handy with the inflated sphere as with the gutta percha, and carried off the honors for the gentlemen, while Miss Salisbury did the same for the ladies. The play of Mrs. Masters was exceptionally brilliant.

Most of the officers of Fort Douglas have become members of the Country club, and will doubtless prove a factor to be reckoned with by the crack players in the championship games later in the season. The powerful muscles for the long shots, and the well trained eye for the short ones, give the West Pointer a good equipment to work on.

Society Pleased.

It is no wonder that the bicycle races at the Salt Palace are so popular. The best talent in the entire west has been secured. The price of admission is reduced to 25 cents, which is an item with the majority. All reserved seats have been cushioned free of charge. Races Tuesday and Friday evenings at 8 p. m.

The Calamity.

All at once the street car sort o' hopped, And then, with a jolt and bump, it stopped, For another car was just ahead, As motionless as if 'twere dead; Another car was ahead of that, Two men inside, one lean, one fat; And ahead of that was another car, With one lone man of the G. A. R.; Another car was ahead of that, In which a sleeping copper sat; And another car ahead of that Was empty as a looted flat. Ahead of that was another car, And ahead of that another car, And ahead of that another car, And ahead of that another car; And another car ahead of that, And another car ahead of that, And another car ahead of that; And other cars ahead of those, And still more cars ahead of those, And ahead of those were others still, And something ahead were others still; While each was silent as the tomb, And a veritable cave of gloom; For a wagon filled with soft-coal slack Had broken on the railroad track.
