SUPPLEMENT.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1865.

CITY NEWS.

AMUSEMENTS.

TYROLESE WARBLERS.—Herr Fritz Becker, agent for the Tyrolese Warblers, arrived in this city, last night, and from him we learn that the "Warblers" will be here, and commence performing next Friday evening. As soon as a hall can be engaged, the performance will be announced. We have no doubt but that they will draw full houses.

LEGISLATURE.—Sixty-one voters of the House of Representatives were present, yesterday, including nine new members. This is five more than a quorum.

COVERED.—The sidewalk at the corner of Capitol Square, has been covered with new and substantial plank. The improvement was badly needed.

INAUGURATION.—The inauguration of the new city officers, will take place next Friday at eleven o'clock, a. m. The election of new policemen does not take place till January.

SAD ACCIDENT.—On Saturday evening last, a little boy named Dunn Hathaway, son of Mr. Hathaway, of this city, was thrown from his pony in suspension, a short distance beyond the pontoon bridge, which he had just crossed, receiving injuries which it is feared may prove fatal. He was picked up in an insensible condition, and removed to the residence of his uncle, Mr. Thomas, since which time he has been lying in a critical condition. He received a severe blow on the side of the head, and no doubt otherwise injured.

SUSPENSION BRIDGE.—Work on the suspension bridge, on the Nashville side of the river, is commenced. The bridge will be ready for the passage of travel by December.

MEDICAL.

Dr. John Bull's

COMPOUND

Cedron Bitters

OF THE

Nineteenth Century!!

Louisville, Kentucky.

His inimitable preparation of SARSAPARILLA has long stood at the head of the various compounds of that valuable drug.

His Compound of WILD CHERRY has become a household word throughout the West and South. His Worm Lozenges, in less than a year after their introduction, attained a reputation as wide spread as the continent of North America. But the crowning glory of his life remains to be attained in his discovery, or rather compilation, for he does not claim to have been the discoverer of CEDRON, which is the basis of the Bitters now offered to the public. That herb, or belongs to the native inhabitants of Central America, to whom its virtues have been known for more than two hundred years. Armed with it the Indian has defiance to the most deadly malaria, and handle, without fear, the most venomous serpents. It is a belief with them, that while there is life in the body, the Cedron is potent to cure, no matter what the disease may be.

While Dr. Bull is not prepared to endorse this extravagant pretension, he is nevertheless satisfied from a thorough examination of the evidence relating to its virtues, that as a remedy and preventive for all diseases arising from exposure, either to the weather or climate, or to miasmatic influences, it stands

Without a Rival.

And justly deserves the reputation it has so long enjoyed in Central America and the West Indies.

In Dyspepsia,

And its attendant train of symptoms, it acts more LIKE A CHARM than a medicine. There is nothing in the whole range of Materia Medica that can for a moment bear a comparison with it in this disease.

A full account of this wonderful plant may be found in the 19th edition of the U. S. Dispensatory, pages 1267 and 1268.

A series of experiments in which Dr. Bull has been for years engaged, few just been brought to a successful termination, now is now enabled to offer to the public a combination of CEDRON with other approved tonics, the whole preserved in the best quality of copper distilled Scotch Whisky, which he is confident has no equal in the world.

He might furnish a volume of certificates, but the public have long since learned to attach such things by their true value. The safest plan is for every one to test for himself the virtues of a new medicine.

While are called regular Physicians, may have graduated in either the old or new school College, and can boast of a one-sided education, but yet, in the treatment of the Eye and Ear, fail to cure a single obstinate case—for the treatment prescribed in their works will not effect a cure in a large majority of cases.

Dr. BROCKMAN is a graduate of the Missouri University—Diploma hangs in his office, and has unexcelled testimonials from persons cured, which may be seen by calling.

The Dr. guarantees cures, therefore no one need fear to employ him, for where a Doctor does business in this manner, "the good evidence that he understands the science he professes to teach."

No man's name is more intimately connected with the history of MATERIA MEDICA of the United States, or more favorably known as a pioneer in Medical Discovery, than that of

His Compound of SARSAPARILLA has long stood at the head of the various compounds, pounds of that valuable drug.

His Compound of WILD CHERRY has become a household word throughout the West and South. His Worm Lozenges, in less than a year after their introduction, attained a reputation as wide spread as the continent of North America. But the crowning glory of his life remains to be attained in his discovery, or rather compilation, for he does not claim to have been the discoverer of CEDRON, which is the basis of the Bitters now offered to the public. That herb, or belongs to the native inhabitants of Central America, to whom its virtues have been known for more than two hundred years. Armed with it the Indian has defiance to the most deadly malaria, and handle, without fear, the most venomous serpents. It is a belief with them, that while there is life in the body, the Cedron is potent to cure, no matter what the disease may be.

While Dr. Bull is not prepared to endorse this extravagant pretension, he is nevertheless satisfied from a thorough examination of the evidence relating to its virtues, that as a remedy and preventive for all diseases arising from exposure, either to the weather or climate, or to miasmatic influences, it stands

Without a Rival.

And justly deserves the reputation it has so long enjoyed in Central America and the West Indies.

In Dyspepsia,

And its attendant train of symptoms, it acts more LIKE A CHARM than a medicine. There is nothing in the whole range of Materia Medica that can for a moment bear a comparison with it in this disease.
