Colored Testimony.

The upper branch of the Tennessee Legislature, on Thursday last, took a step in advance of former Legislatures, brushed musty prejudice away, and passed a bill making persons of African or Indian descent competent witnesses in the Courts of this State.

When the bill came up an amendment was offered by Mr. Lassater confining the provisions of the act to persons of African or Indian descent when they are parties to the suit.

This amendment, on motion of Mr. Trimble, was laid on the table.

AYES—Messrs. Aldridge, Bosson, Cypert, Case, Carrigan, Frazier of Wilson, Frazier of Knox, Keith, Johnson, McElwee, Smith, Spence and Trimble.—14.

NOES—Messrs. Lassater, McKinney, Newberry, Senter and Speaker Frierson.—5.

The bill was then put upon its passage, with the following result:

AYES—Messrs Aldridge, Bosson, Bowen, Case, Cypert, Keith, McElwee, Smith, Spence, and Trimble.—10.

NOES—Messrs. Carrigan, Frazier, of Wilson, Frazier, of Knox, Johnson, Lassater, McKinney, Newberry, Senter, and Speaker Frierson.—9.

The following is a copy of the bill as passed:

A bill to do Justice, and render Persons of African and Indian descent competent Witnesses in the Courts of this State.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee, That persons of African or Indian descent, are hereby declared to be competent witnesses in all the courts of this State, in as full a manner as such persons are, by an act of Congress, competent witnesses in all the courts of the United States, and all laws and parts of laws of this State, excluding such persons from competency, are hereby repealed.

The bill was ably debated by its friends and opponents, and we take it for granted that the above action expresses the matured judgment of the Senate.

If the House of Representatives should respond favorably to the action of the Senate, we shall have one of the last remaining sources of agitation and trouble out of the way, and need have no apprehensions as to the past.

The Late Meeting at Gallatin.

GALLATIN, TENN., Oct. 11, 1865.

Editor of the Nashville Union:

DEAR SIR: In your paper of October 11th, 1865, I read the resolutions passed by the disloyal citizens of Sumner county, Tennessee. Those who styled themselves loyal, but who are the vilest traitors, I speak whose upon I speak knowingly of these things. If there was a meeting of loyal men, why did not the loyal men know something bout the meeting? Why were they not informed of it? Say they know they were not holding a loyal meeting and wanted nothing to do with those who were loyal—those who fought to sustain this glorious Government of ours, but who have since cursed the citizens loyal, and who are loyal men. They were not informed of such a meeting, and before I am done with this I will endeavor to show who are the loyal men and citizens of Sumner county, and especially of Gallatin. There was not one man present at the meeting who has drawn a loyal breath since 1861. Yet such men would like to get the control of the county, elect the county officers, and especially have the jill pedd out in Home Guard of which they speak. They would elect loyal men, General Bate, late of the rebel army, would be their choice, no doubt. I have heard as much intimated. They also speak well of the returned Confederate soldier. So would I speak better of them than of the cowardly sneaks who have staid at home because they thought they could help the Confederates as well there as in the field. But those who have been soldiers have got their Southern rights, but I am afraid the rebel citizens will not reap as much of a harvest as they should or they would reap a larger crop of hemp. I am not in the habit of writing for papers or arguing with parties through the columns of a newspaper, but the public have been imposed upon by rebels through the disguise of loyal men. The following is a list of all the Union or loyal men of the town of Gallatin. Not one of them were informed of a meeting. Where do they get the loyal men? Echo answers where!

A SOLDIER.

A Good Thing from Andy.

The Albany (N. Y.) Knickerbocker says: Sam. Tilden, the orator of democracy, has just returned to Washington, where he had an interview with President Johnson. A good story is told of Sam and the President. Everybody who knows Sam Tilden knows that he is an intolerable bore. President Johnson knows that very well, and is therefore was disposed to indulge him and let him run loose. Tilden commenced by complimenting the President upon returning to old democratic doctrines in his reconstruction policy, and bringing back the party to the Jeffersonian landmarks. He branched off, elaborating on his subject, and illustrating it as only Sam Tilden can. He reminded the President that this was a interesting world, and illustrated this point by calling his attention to the fact that while the peacock had a magnificent rainbow tail, the bird was good for nothing to eat—that the elephant was a colossal animal, but lacked the speed of the antelope. The President, all the time sat biting his lips, wondering what the d—l Tilden was driving at. Tilden continued: "There, too, Mr. President, is the poor, stupid oyster; what a sweet morsel to roll under your tongue, but what a repulsive object to look at." The President here interfered, and taking the spectacles from his nose, quaintly observed: "That there was one thing he said in favor of the oyster, and that was it knew when to shut up."

Tilden looked slightly confused at the President, letting it out, leaving him to digest the oyster. Tilden has now the same opinion of President Johnson that The World had of him last fall—he is a "horse-ish tailor," who knows more about "a goose" than an oyster.

The Germans in Texas.

The Chicago Republican makes mention of the fact that the Germans of Texas have again raised a cotton crop of superior quality, and says the reason of this success of the Germans is quite clear. The farmer who raises his own cotton, and the laborers whom he employs, have every possible inducement to produce a crop of the finest quality. At every stage it is accordingly tended with the utmost care, and this care brings out the greatest degree of skill.

The cotton crop, once opened to the competition of free labor, will now become the object of scientific study, as is the case with wheat, the grape, the strawberry, and other products of the soil. The result will be not only that new methods of cultivation will be discovered, but that labor saving machines will increase the production amazingly.

From Fisher's Island Bulletin, Sept. 26.

Polish Immigration for Texas.

We had the pleasure of a call from Dr. J. Dell'Orto, from wh m we are glad to learn that steps are being taken to introduce a colony of Polish immigrants into Texas. Col. Smolinski has bought large quantities of lands in the counties of Travelous and Anderson, for the above purpose. The Col. ned has gone to London to make arrangements for the first colonists, who ought to arrive here in December or January next. We will be pleased to see these colonists arrive, and hope and believe that they will establish profitable settlements. Dr. J. Dell'Orto is an agent, and now in this city, and will shortly start for Palestine to take possession of the lands which Col. Smolinski has bought for these immigrants. The terms offered the colonists are very well calculated to encourage them; the first 2000 acres are to be divided into tracts of fifty acres each, and the immigrants given the privilege of purchasing at two dollars an acre, at ten years' credit, paying $12 50 each year, with interest accrued, thus enabling a poor man by saving a little every year, to acquire a homestead. The amount necessary for a family to purchase a farm of fifty acres, will be $145, including interest.

We wish to see these and other immigrants offered encouragement by our citizens. They will do much towards developing the agricultural interests of the State. Texas has rich lands, fine timber, a good climate, and with the influx of immigrants it will start forward with increased prosperity.

We trust that our State authorities will offer all the inducements in their power to immigrants, for they will certainly increase the revenue of the State.

The farce of the "God of Day" was bid for a short time Thursday morning by "Lunar" insinuating itself between it and mother earth. The Almanac calculated the time of the eclipse exactly.

MEXICAN AFFAIRS.

A New Paper in Mexico—Immigrants from the Southern States—The Emperor's Colonization Scheme—Rumored Adoption of an Imperial Heir.

We have received several numbers of the Mexican Times, an English newspaper, recently established in the City of Mexico by a rebel refugee. Judging from the specimens before us, we think news must be a scarce article in Maximilian's capital. The first number of the Times opens with an article on "Home, Sweet Home," and this is followed by a sketch of Mexico in 1789. The first article of the second number is a critical discourse on that "tender and chaste song, 'Annie Laurie;'" number three opens with Mrs. Hemans' poem "Bring Flowers;" and also gives us a chapter from Oliver Twist. The most interesting column in the Times is the "Register of the names of emigrants from the United States of America." Among other familiar names in this list we find the following:

Sterling Price, Missouri, arrived Aug. 2, 1865.

J. B. Magruder, Virginia, arrived Aug. 2, 1865.

Johnson G. Harris, Tennessee, arrived Aug. 9, 1865.

Trusten Polk, Missouri, arrived Aug. 9, 1865.

M. F. Maury, Virginia, arrived June 1, 1865.

E. Kirby Smith, Florida, July 17, in Cuba.

The following late residents of the Southern States have been appointed agents of Maximilian's Colonization Society: Senor Sterling Price, late of Missouri; Senor Isham G. Harris, late of Tennessee; Senor Jno. Perkins, late of Louisiana; Senor W. T. Hardeman, late of Texas; Senor Roberts, late of Texas. These gentlemen are charged with the duty of examining the lands offered for colonization purposes, and making reports to the Imperial authorities.

The Emperor's proclamation organizing a colonization society for the purpose of filling up the sparsely settled territory of Mexico, is published in full. By the terms of this proclamation, all white emigrants are allowed certain privileges and immunities, such as exemption from taxation for one year and from military service for five years, but "persons of color" will be subjected to a system which differs very little from serfdom.

It is rumored that the grandson of Iturbide, two years old, born of an American mother, from Georgetown, D. C., has been adopted by their Majesties as the successor to the throne of the Mexican Empire.

Lieut. Maury, recently naturalized as a Mexican citizen, has, by a decree dated the 19th of September, been appointed an honorary Councillor of State.

Like the great Humboldt, his fame belongs to the world. Emperors and kings have sought his acquaintance, and have ever shown him that attention due to distinguished merit. We know that the good people of Mexico will welcome him as a brother in their midst. His great learning will contribute much to the improvement of practical science in this country. For information to his friends—and he has many in every portion of the civilized globe—we are happy to state that Signor Maury is in most excellent health, and is now actively engaged in the duties assigned him by his Majesty the Emperor. Although his misfortunes have been great, "enough to weigh a royal merchant down," still he seems cheerful and happy and contented with his lot. Born in Virginia, without wealth or titles, he has made for himself a name that will never die. Maury's "Wind and Current Charts," and his "Physical Geography of the Sea," will be studied by every navigator in every clime, so long as the winds blow and the waves of old ocean roll.

Know this, my lord, nobility of blood
Is but a glittering and idle idea good;
A Statesman is he, whose noble mind
Is in I of inborn worth, unborrowed of his kind.

Senors Price, Harris and Perkins left this city on the 19th inst., for Cordova and the region of country bordering on the "tierra caliente." Senors Hardeman and Roberts left on the 20th inst., for Tepic and the country bordering on the Pacific. Their duties are to examine the lands offered for colonization purposes, and to make their report to the proper authorities as soon as practicable. We look forward with the greatest interest to the report of these agents. They are men of the highest respectability. Their statements can be implicitly relied on. We beg our friends who have come to Mexico with the intention of seeking homes, to wait with patience for the result of the labors of these gentlemen. We assure them that the Government will act in the most liberal manner, and that in a very short time they will be amply repaid for the delays and privations to which many are at present subjected.

As Abraham said to Lot, the "whole land is before you where to choose," therefore, be not impatient—God in His Providence has so arranged it that you all will have good and comfortable homes in the dominions of the best of Emperors. In a few weeks the report of the Agents of Colonization will be received, and good lands in healthy districts will be appropriated to every one who wishes to become a citizen of Mexico.

Spits on the Platform.

The New York Tribune publishes an address of the General Committee of the Unionbund of New York, which has been sent for ratification to the German Union Leagues of the different Assembly districts of the city. The address indignantly repudiates the Syracuse Platform and ticket, and announces that the Unionbund will not participate in the November elections. The following are paragraphs from the address:

"Shall the President be allowed, by carrying out his pernicious plan, to open the gates of the Union for the reception of the rebel States with their oppressive aristocracy preserved, and with a disfranchised and landless laboring class? Shall the defeated South, as an exultant and malicious conqueror, enter the Union saved by the death of so many thousands of loyal men; shall those words, 'our Southern Rights,' thrown insultingly and unrebuked into the face of the President, become the device of new battle-flag of the South?

"The Unionbund faithful to its principles, as declared in its manifesto, spits with indignation the Syracuse platform, and declares openly and positively that it will not participate in the elections which will take place on this basis in the month of November.

"At the present moment, when the destinies of the Republic will be decided, it is the sacred duty of every citizen to listen to the commands of his conscience and not to give on account of party considerations, a vote in favor of a policy condemned by his convictions.

"A protest against the deviation from the glorious spirit of the nation so gloriously manifested immediately after the death of our Martyr President—a protest against the cunning politicians who have chilled that spirit into apathy—a protest against the demoralization of political life by the taking of a banner which is that of the adversary.

"The President, instead of being the executor of the national will, will be master and ruler in the State—a monarch as absolute as any crowned head of Europe.

"Let us, therefore, protest against the danger prepared for the Republic—let us not participate in the elections which will take place under a banner betraying our principles.

The Central Committee.
DR. H. GUICK, C. SCHURZ, } Secretaries.
FR. SCHUEIE, President.

New York, Oct. 6, 1865.

What will be the effect of this movement we cannot say at present. If all the German Union Leagues participate in it, the result may seriously jeopardize the success of the Syracuse ticket; but, as yet, we have seen no indications as to the probable course of the Leagues.

The Unionbund is overwise. There is no aristocracy in the rebel States to be preserved by the President's plan, and not many years hence, when the South has made large accessions to her population from the immigration from Germany, and prosperity resumes her reign, the Unionbund, now so hostile, will rise up and bless the President for contributing to the happy change.

MR. BOOTH'S MARRIAGE CONTRADICTED.—The statement which during the past week appeared in several of our cotemporaries that Mr. Edwin Booth was married, is wholly without foundation, and can only have been made with the object of giving pain to most worthy and unoffending persons. All announcements of Mr. Booth's marriage for the present are unauthorized and premature.—N. Y. Tribune, 17th.

We are gratified to find it announced by telegraph from Jackson, that Hon. W. L. Sharkey has been elected to represent the State of Mississippi in the United States Senate. He is chosen to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Jefferson Davis. This at once nails the letter writer lie that he stood no chance on account of his views relative to negro testimony.

The Albany Journal says the rumor that Secretary Seward informed the English Government of the proceedings of the Fenians is false in its length and breadth; that Mr. Seward had not furnished the British Government such information as represented; that no correspondence has passed in which a claim has been made for such intelligence, and that the whole story is as false as it is foolish.

GIN HOUSE BURNED.—The Gin house of Mr. Bradley, about nineteen miles below—in Russell county, Alabama—was burned on Sunday morning, about 3½ o'clock. The fire is believed to be the work of an incendiary. The house contained one hundred and fifty bales of cotton, 50 bushels rye, 75 bushels peas, 1,000 bushels cotton seed, two gins, etc. Loss between $40,000 and $50,000. One hundred bales of the cotton were insured.—Columbus (Ga.) Sun, 17th.

TENNESSEE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

OCTOBER 20, 1865.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock, A. M.—Prayer by Rev. Mr. Gee.

Mr. Frazier, of Wilson, presented a memorial from Duff Green, in reference to Senate Bill No. 136, to incorporate the American Industrial Agency. Referred to Committee on Banks.

Mr. Bowen offered Senate Resolution No. 12, That the Committee on Banks be and they are hereby instructed and directed to require of any banks in this State, which has been permitted to surrender its charter by an act of the Legislature, and exempted from taxation during the time allowed for its liquidation, upon the understanding that it will redeem its outstanding circulation, has been doing so, or neglecting the same, so that its circulation remains depreciated in the market, and if said circulation is not redeemed, to asc rtain the cause, and report the result of their investigation to the Senate. Adopted.

House Bill No. 50, in regard to the Recorder of Columbia giving him concurrent jurisdiction of the Justice of the Peace in all cases of violation of the criminal laws of the State and all laws and ordinances of the Mayor and Aldermen within the limits of that city. Passed third reading.

Mr. Bosson offered Senate resolution, That the Committee on Finances and Ways and Means inquire into a report on the policy of funding the principal and interest now due on bonds and other securities issued by the State of Tennessee. Adopted.

Messrs. Carrigan and Smith were granted a leave of absence for a few days.

The Senate then adjourned to 10 a. m. Monday morning.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

OCTOBER 19, 1865.

The House was called to order at 10 o'clock.

NEW BILLS.

By Mr. Steele, from the Joint Committee on Relief: Prescribing the remedy for the collection of debts and the relief of the people. Passed and 300 copies ordered printed.

By Mr. Gant: To provide for the defense of suits against the Bank of Tennessee. Passed and referred to the Committee of Ways and Means.

By the same: To amend the attachment laws of the State and for other purposes. Passed and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

By Mr. Elliott: To amend section 2450 of the Code. Providing that women under certain circumstances should not be required to live two years in the State before paying for a writ of divorce. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

By Mr. Simmons: To amend an act increasing the compensation of Judges. This provides that judges of the Supreme Court shall receive $4,000 per annum, and other Judges and Chancellors, except county Judges and Judges of Special Courts, receive $3,000 per annum. Referred to Finance Committee.

By Mr. Richards: To incorporate the Memphis Water Company. Referred to the Committee on Corporations.

By Mr. Brandon: To incorporate the Northwestern Mining and Petroleum Company. Referred to the Committee on Corporations.

By Mr. Freeman: To restrict the navigation of Big Hatchie river. Referred to the Committee on Internal Improvements.

JOINT RESOLUTION—SUE PROB.

By Mr. Murphy: That as it is impossible that the whites and blacks should ever live in harmony in Tennessee, and that the residence of the blacks among us would be highly injurious to the best interests of Tennessee, Be it

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this body that the General Government should purchase, as soon as possible, a territory in South America, Africa, or some other country, wherein to colonize the negroes.

And further, that we instruct our Senators and Representatives in Congress to carry out the policy above set forth. Laid over under the rules.

CONTROLLER'S AND OTHER REPORTS.

Mr. Arnell offered that 1,000 copies each of the Comptroller's report, the report of the commission to examine the archives of the State, and the report of the Treasurer, be printed for the use of the House. Adopted.

THE CASE OF MR. CAMERON.

It being, yesterday, decided to reconsider the vote non-concurring with the report of the committee who reported in favor of Mr. Cameron's eligibility to a seat on the floor, the question of concurring or non-concurring was taken up.

Mr. Wines moved for a non concurrence with the report of the committee. He made some remarks stating why he would vote different from yesterday, he then having voted to concur with the committee's report. Before any action was taken,

On motion, the House adjourned until 2 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The entire afternoon was consumed in discussing the eligibility of Mr. Cameron to a seat; but before coming to a vote, the House adjourned till to-morrow morning at nine o'clock.

THE FENIANS—ARRIVAL OF EMINENT DETECTIVES.—The New York Express says: Among the passengers of the late steamer China, from Liverpool to Boston, were a number of English detectives, who were sent out here to ascertain information of the movements of the Fenians, in order to implicate those in Ireland who have been arrested on a charge of being connected with the organization. These British spies have been sent to Chicago Philadelphia, Boston, and this city. It is stated that they will make an attempt to join the Fenians, in order to discover their intentions. Should the true character of these officers be found out, it is expected they will have a very inhospitable reception. The names of the officers, however, are known to the Fenian circles here, who were advised by friends in London of their intended departure and their mission, and thus anticipated their presence before they arrived.

About 200 vessels and large numbers of open boats have been employed off the coast of Maine in the prosecution of herring fisheries the present season—lasting from the latter part of August to the first or middle of October—and it is estimated that 50,000 barrels have been taken. One establishment alone has packed from 12,000 to 15,000 barrels. The market price of the fish is $7 per barrel.

MARRIED:

On the 19th inst., at the residence of the bride's father (Wm. Wise, Esq.) by Rev. Dr. Goodlet, Mr. Geo. C. Richards to Miss Martha A. Wise.

For those fair lives, let pleasure scatter flowers,
Love's fairest garland's crown their early hours,
And prosperous breezes wafts them gently over
Life's tree that no sea to heaven's unclouded shore.
