THE AMERICAN LAND COMPANY AND AGENCY,

No. 57 Broadway, New York.

Offers its Agency to owners of land of every description, especially in the Southern States, and to North ern and European capitalists, emigration societies and conductors of emigration, and to individual farmers, mechanics and others, desirous of transferring their labor and skill to the south.

It designs to aid, through the means offered by a central office in New York, and its branches elsewhere, the great work of the social and economical reorganization of the south, by bringing together the owners of plantations and farms, seeking purchasers, and industrial development on the one hand, with those who command the capital and labor and skill on the other hand. It will devote itself to the work of accumulating and the dissemination of information and statistics, useful for those who may be grounds of pecuniary profit, of business enterprise, or patriotic or philanthropic desire to contribute through the reorganization of industry, to the material prosperity of the South, and be restored its people of every condition made prosperous men and good citizens, and its communities brought to give their support to maintaining the welfare of the whole country.

The company proposes to unite the enterprise and money of the country in the opening of the south, and for their useful and profitable employment, at a time by the broad lands of the South now open for the first time to free labor, but whose owners and occupants are suffering from the waste of war.

It invites the attention of the public and especially to enter immediately on the transaction of business.

JOHN A. ANDREW, President.
FRANK E. HOWE, Vice President and General Agent North.

THE
N. Y. WEEKLY TRIBUNE

Is printed on a large double medium sheet, making eight pages of six columns each. It contains all the important Editorials published in the Daily Tribune, except those of merely local interest; also Literary and Scientific Intelligence; Reviews of the most interesting and important New Books; the Letters from our large corps of correspondents; the latest news by Telegraph from Washington and all other parts of the country; a Summary of all important intelligence; this City and Country; Congress, when in session; Exclusive Reports of the proceedings of the Farmers' Club of the American Institute; Talks about Fruit, and other Horticultural and Agricultural information essential to country residents; Stock, Financial Cattle, Dry Goods, and General Market Reports, making it the cheapest and most complete, altogether the most valuable, interesting, and instructive Weekly Newspaper published in the world.

The Full Reports of the American Institute Farmers' Club, and the various Agricultural Reports, in each number, are richly worth a year's subscription. And what a set writes in St. Louis says:

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 18, 1865.
The Editor of the Tribune.
DEAR SIR: I have had it in contemplation for some time to write and tell you the pleasure I get from the weekly perusal of the proceedings of the Farmers' Club; first I will tell you how recently I became a subscriber.

I noticed an advertisement, and a sample of the Prairie Farmer series, and immediately subscribed for The Weekly Tribune, in which I found the proceedings of your Club. I have read them constantly since they have become to me a necessity, and I look for Monday as the better day in my calendar, and would be pleased if some agricultural paper would offer anything I have yet seen.

Another subscriber writes:

I neglected (forgot) to renew my subscription to the Tribune, until I state that I missed the first duplicate. Can you help me to it? Portions of the Farmers' Club reports in that number, particularly, I wish to preserve. In fact, that feature of the paper is instrumental of the main reasons why I take it. And I have no doubt that it receives a good value of its patronage from persons who wish it well, but would not otherwise bring their orders to the subscribing point.

Yours truly, O. A. ALEXANDER.

DR. J. HURD'S
Catarrh and Sick Headache
REMEDY

Surpasses anything of the kind ever before offered to the public. It never fails to cure the most aggravated case of Catarrh of the most obstinate character, and the diseases produced by CATARRH, such as DEAFNESS, DIZZINESS IN THE HEAD; also BRONCHIAL AFFECTIONS. It also arrests that fatal disease,

CONSUMPTION,

in its incipient approach. This remedy is most useful in its effect upon those who are suffering from that terrible malady giving INSTANT RELIEF, and producing a PERMANENT CURE. Read the following:

SICK HEADACHE,

No. 1 Bainbridge Street, Roxbury, Mass.,
September 24, 1864.

DR. J. HURD—DEAR SIR: I was a great sufferer for more than nine years with the worst form of Chronic Catarrh, and suffered intense pain through and over my eyeballs, but of late years with a dry burning sensation in my nostrils, and I might add, sleep for the constant dropping of the mucous in my throat. I felt sick heartsick nearly every day, with a breath so disagreeable that I was fearful of becoming a living pestilence. I consulted my cousin very desperate and miserable. A friend advised me to try Hurd's Remedy. I had tried many remedies, and all had failed, why should I try this? I was soon persuaded, and got one bottle. I must gratefully confess that the relief was almost miraculous. After using one bottle I called myself well. My breath became sweet and natural, the dizziness and pain left my head, the mucous flowed naturally, and I have not had a sick headache for more than six months.

Dr. Hurd's remedy is a sure and speedy relief, and I call it prosperity.

Yours truly and sincerely,
CARRIE C. THAYER.

P. S.—You may publish this if you will, but I would like to see it in the Banner, as it has excelled a medicine.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 16, 1865.

DR. J. HURD—DEAR SIR: I was one of the first to try your remedy. I was bedridden with Catarrh, and could not breathe in a room, and was in constant danger of suffocation, so the doctor said. My friends thought I was dying, and was so nearly worn out, that I could not sit up in the morning. Dr. Hurd, your remedy was the only one that gave me relief. I continued to use it, and in a few weeks was well. I have not been bedridden since. I shall always speak your praises.

Truly yours, E. SCHEIDER.
