MEETING THE INVESTOR'S REQUIREMENTS

In purchasing bonds the investor should have the advantage of choosing from a broad and carefully selected list. Only thus can individual requirements as to tax exemption, maturity, marketability, and income return be fully satisfied.

The knowledge of conditions which we derive from our wide connections in this country and abroad is utilized in extensive purchases of new issues of bonds from governments, municipalities, and corporations. Investors desiring to take advantage of our purchases of these securities may do so by calling in person at the Bond Department at any of our offices, or through correspondence.

Our monthly Investment Letter, containing a brief resume of financial conditions and descriptions of a selected list of the issues which we have purchased, will be forwarded upon application.

DECLINE IN COTTON MEETS RESISTANCE

Heavy Selling Is Well Absorbed After Prices Go to New Highs.

The cotton market showed resistance against heavy selling yesterday for long account and by speculative bears, and at no time in the session were prices off more than 17 to 24 points on the active positions. The close found futures only 11 to 19 points lower.

There was sufficient buying by Liverpool, the trade and Wall Street in the first hour to send the list up 4 to 18 points to new highs after a narrowly irregular opening. Cables were steady, even a few points lower than due at the outset, but the bright feature in Liverpool was the resumption of active spot business, about 10,000 bales of the actual changing hands.

Considerable evening up was in evidence during the early dealings, but the majority of the bigger operators did little, because of the nearness of the Government ginning report. A private report placed cotton ginned to October 18 at 7,000,000 bales, pointing to a crop of around 10,500,000 bales, and probably promoted scattered realizing from uneasy longs.

Spot and textile advices continued bullish. The trade look for another week of heavy sales in both the local market and in the Fall River primary print cloth market. Manchester reported a firmer tendency to both yarns and cloths.

The local spot market was quoted 20 points net lower at 23.75 cents for middling. Delivery on local contract was 3,100 bales. The New Orleans market was up 12 points at 23.12 cents. Its sales totaled 3,734 bales.
