STOCK MARKET GIVES SIGNS OF SUBSTANTIAL STRENGTH.

MANY ISSUES LIFTED ONE OR TWO POINTS.

Notable Gains Are Made on Small Volume of Demand, Day's Business Being Small.

New York, May 24.—There was substantial strength in to-day's stock market, as was evidenced by the length of the list of stocks which were lifted between 1 and 2 points during the day's trading, and in a few exceptional instances more than that.

The trading offered a number of remarkable features. One was the small volume of the demand on which the very notable gains were effected. To-day's transactions fell below those of yesterday, or the day before. If the buying was for the account of uncovered shorts it was decidedly free from any sign of urgency, or such trepidation as the bear trader short of stocks usually manifests.

There was rather free selling during the first hour, owing to the wide advances at which prices opened. Prices have made so many false starts toward recovery that sentiment has become extremely suspicious of these sudden advances over night, which have melted away during the day in more than one instance lately.

The same suspicious attitude was maintained by the professional element to-day. At different stages of the advance the market sank into practical stagnation, but the ground included on such occasions was insignificant. There was no activity news to account for the movement, and in fact some of the day's developments might be regarded as additions to factors recently regarded as unfavorable.

The grain markets still had their crop damage reports. The Chicago strike situation seemed aggravated and in danger of spreading. The Secretary of War outlined fresh administration views for the regulation of corporations. But the consideration of these matters had apparently lost force.

The Northwestern railroad problem on the other hand showed a perennial freshness. The revival of rumors that an agreement had been reached amongst the railroad powers in that field to refrain from hostilities was the real effective force back of the day's market.

The special prominence of Union Pacific, St. Paul, Northern Pacific, Northwestern and Great Northern preferred were thus accounted for. The extreme ease of the money market on the eve of to-morrow's [illegible] requirement for the final installment of the Japanese loan subscription was a fostering influence on the strength of stocks. The reception of the Iron Age's weekly trade review was in marked contrast to the depression a week ago, although that authority's view of the trade has not altered in any material respect.

"Prices are weaker," says the review, "and buyers are holding off convinced that a somewhat lower level in pig iron will be reached."

The United States Steel stocks, however, moved upward with the rest of the market, and the rush amongst belated buyers made the closing tone very buoyant.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $2,315,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on call.
