Mining Notes.

Much dissatisfaction is being expressed, by business men of the town at the unsettled state of affairs, existing from the recent selection of a new governing board, on the stock exchange. It is to be hoped that the retiring members of the old board will not allow this feeling to be carried to such an extent, that it will, in any way interfere with the business of the exchange, or mar the confidence its patrons have so long shown it. At this time the combined effort of all its members means much toward the future of Utah's mining interests and we sincerely nope that narmony will be restored without delay.

Apropos of the squirming of the street car people under the just lash of an indignant public, nere is a little line that drift d clear across the country, which shows how the owner of the company feels toward the people who have to go up against the mismanaged system.

Mr. McCune was talking to a prominent capitalist of this city in New York several months ago, and asked how everything was in Salt Lake.

"Oh, things are getting along pretty well, but there's a heap of kicking over the street car sys-

"What?" replied the president, "what in hell do those people want for five cents?"
