Indian insurrection may come and go, but F. F. Trotter ever continues to keep the best and largest stock of staple and fancy groceries at his store that can be found anywhere in the southwest.

"As soon as completed," said Contractor W. W. Strong, "the Donahoe Hardware company, now doing business on Gold avenue, will have the nicest and lightest store room in the city, and again Hon. Neill B Field will have extra handsome law offices on the second floor." This item has reference to the new Armijo building, which Mr. Strong will complete in a short time at the corner of Railroad avenue and Third street. Attorney Field has splendid offices in the N. T. Armijo building but his new offices will prove metropolitan in every particular.

George Carson, who, with J. Edward Priest, has a contract for getting out railroad ties for the Arizona Lumber company, near Flagstaff, came in from the west to visit his family Tuesday night. He will return to Flagstaff tomorrow night.

ROSENWALD BROS.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

Personal and General Paragraphs Picked Up Here and There.

W. M. Weaver and G. W. Sampson returned to Gallup last night.

Joe Cohn, the St. Joseph, Mo., commercial tourist, is in the city.

L. J. Strauss, of Santa Fe, came in from the territorial capital last night.

Particular attention is called to the advertisement of Dr. Henry, of Denver, published in THE CITIZEN.

Mrs. J. D. Wiley left last Sunday for Lamy, where she expects to visit friends for three or four months.

W. L. Trimble expects to accompany J. L. Merrill, superintendent of the Albemarle mines, to Bland to-night.

Hon. W. E. Martin, the well-known territorial coal oil inspector, passed up the road for Las Vegas and Raton last night.

Jas. Lackey, the Winslow shootist, who was recently arrested in this city, was at one time the chief mainstay of the Needles base ball club.

"The Candy Kitchen," Mrs. L. T. Delany, proprietress, has been neatly arranged and painted. "The Candy Kitchen" is doing a good business, and it is deserved.

Hon. Sol. Luna, of Los Lunas, and Hon. Pedro Perea, of Bernalillo, are in the city to hear the latest news about the blowing up of the United States warship Maine. These two gentlemen are outspoken in behalf of Cuba, and hope that Uncle Sam will at once declare war.

H. E. Duncan and wife arrived from San Francisco on Tuesday night and are visiting with Mrs. Duncan's sister, Mrs. H. B. Ray, of this city. Mr. Duncan was the room-mate of Frank A. Gutierrez when the latter was a law student at Lawrence, Kansas, and he was naturally shocked to hear of the tragic death of his friend.

The St. Louis papers give the marriage of Miss Lena Robinson to Mr. Gale Thompson, which took place at St. Peter's Episcopal church of that city on Feb. 9, lengthy notices, and pronounced the marriage one of the most brilliant wedding affairs that ever took place in St. Louis. The presents received by the pretty bride, who is the daughter of D. B. Robinson and wife, amounted in round figures to about $35,000. Mr. Thompson is a young financier of the Chicago board of trade, and is quite well-known in financial circles. Miss Lena, with her popular parents, is well-known in this city, where she resided several years, and THE CITIZEN extends congratulations.

Leon Hertzog, the general merchant of Los Lunas, and lieutenant of the Valencia county militiamen, came in from the south last night to consult with Colonel Borrodaile and Captain Rogers about the Cuban war affairs. Hertzog states that he can raise 500 fighting men in Valencia county who would be willing to help free Cuba.

The Jaramillo property, on west Railroad avenue, and now occupied by the millinery store of Mrs. W. T. McCreight, was recently purchased by Andres Romero, the Gold avenue butcher. Mr. Romero will prove an excellent landlord, and will keep his newly acquired property hereafter in good condition.

Dr. J. P. Kaster, the chief surgeon of the Santa Fe railway, with headquarters at Topeka, has his name on the register at Sturges' European. He visited the local hospital this morning, and found it in good order.

C. E. Culberson, representing the San Francisco Examiner, has his name on the register at Sturges' European.

J. R. Helsey and wife, of Kingman, A. T., came in from the west and are at Sturges' European.

Chas. Riggs and wife, of the Rose Stillman company, have rooms at Sturges' European.

He Did There was a young man who lived in Albuquerque who is not using a pet expression of his to-day. He used it last night. He is always telling somebody, "Get a gait on you"—or he is telling how he "got a gait on himself," instead of using plain English and saying he "had to hustle" or "he got a move on him." He was trying to get started home about 11 o'clock last night, and he had got as far as the gate. About 11 minutes past 11 one of those warning voices that pass in the night came floating out of the door—"Mamie, Maimy, Mamy! Come right in the house, you've been out there long enough," and the hinges broke and the young man "got a gate on him." Sometimes it doesn't pay to "get a gait on you." It will to-day, though, because in a few days more they will all be gone and you will be left. Look at these prices:

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

The Misses Brown, ladies from Bernalillo, are at the Highland house.

Mrs. C. D. Boucher and son, of Las Vegas, who were on a visit to the metropolis, have returned home.

Montague Stevens returned to his ranch at Magdalena last night, after spending several days very pleasantly in this city.

C. E. Boyce, the general merchant at Williams, personally mentioned in this paper yesterday, returned to Williams last night.

Simon Stern, the Railroad avenue clothier, will leave to-morrow night for Chicago, and will be in the markets of that city bright and early Monday morning.

A. A. Grant, publisher of the Democrat and owner of several important corporations, came in from the west last night. He was at Prescott, and will try to secure a contract for the grading of the Big Bug railroad.

Dr. John A. Hamilton, of Boston, secretary of the National Educational association of the Congregational church, came in from the west with Missionary E. H. Ashmun Tuesday night, and continued north to Las Vegas last night.

Bernard Reinken, brother of Charles Reinken at Belen, has been transferred to another division, and in consequence C. Kircher will represent the Ely-Walker dry goods house of St. Louis in the southwest. Mr. Kircher is here to-day.

Donaciano Chavez, the well-known attorney of this city, went up to Santa Fe on the flyer this afternoon, where he will present a petition to the governor for the pardon of Gregorio Barela, who was sentenced to thirty years in the penitentiary for killing Porcarpio Martinez two years ago.

Charles Riggs, the well-known manager of the Columbia Opera company and Rose Stillman Stock company, and L. H. Pierson, of the same company, made us a pleasant call this morning. Manager Riggs promises us that the Stillman company will be equally as good as any attraction he has ever brought to Albuquerque.
