Boxers Who Will Compete in the Pastime Athletic Club Bouts.

Many Interesting Contests May Be Expected.

The Entry List Is Large and Contains Well-Known Names.

Pareps Hall, at Eighty-sixth street and Third avenue, will be the scene of some lively sparring to-night at the annual boxing tournament of the Pastime Athletic Club.

The entry list closed Thursday, with the entries of about fifty of the foremost amateur boxers of this vicinity.

The veteran, Harry Buermeyer, who officiates at the boxing championships of the Amateur Athletic Union, will act as referee.

F. F. TROLAN, M. A. C.

Gus Stoll and E. Stoll will keep time, Fred Burns will be the master of ceremonies and the judges will be Sam Cornell, of the Manhattan Athletic Club, and Dr. Ramon Guiteras, of the New York Athletic Club.

Following is a complete list of the entries received up to date:

Bantam Class, 105 lb.—J. H. Rose, New Jersey A. C.; D. Ryan and George Gracie, of the Lexington A. C.; H. Ward, T. Malvey, J. Jimbarto and J. J. Hibbitts, of the National A. C.; P. Murphy, J. Hagen, William Bush and F. Higgins, of the Pastime A. C.

Special Class, 120 lb.—H. McAllister, Arlington A. C.; James Farrell, New York City; J. J. Brown, West Side A. C.; W. Kenny, New Jersey A. C.; J. Hart, New York City; B. Mullin, New York City; D. McVeigh, Star A. C.; T. Cahill, New York City; F. Trolan, Manhattan A. C.; J. Young, National A. C.; P. McSelley, Bridge A. C.; Amos Sachs, West Side A. C.; M. Shields, F. Schneering and F. Cantwell, of the Pastime A. C.

Special Class, 135 lb.—James Mullin, West End A. C., Newark; J. Barnable, New York City; J. A. Mullin, Lexington A. C.; Thos. Prockett, New York City; J. Clarke, West Side A. C.; T. Walsh, Gamperil A. C.; T. Owens, West Side A. C.; Joseph Hannon, Bridge A. C.; Burt Sweet, National A. C.; M. J. Dinan, H. Dunn, J. Fisher, Owen Harney, H. Steenton, all of the Pastime A. C.

Middleweight Class, 158 lb.—J. J. Van Houten, West Side A. C.; Thomas Hallahan, National A. C.; J. J. McMahon, West Side A. C.; M. J. McAuliffe and N. Callen, of the Bridge A. C.

There is one name missed from the above list in the bantam-weight class which will cause disappointment if its owner does not reconsider his determination to stay out of this tournament, on account of an injury sustained at the Varuna Boat-Club competitions.

This is Danny O'Brien. It is possible he may enter at the last moment.

O'Brien, the amateur champion bantamweight, stands 5 feet 4 inches in height.

He has defeated W. Marley, three rounds; J. Reicks, three rounds; "Chappie" Moran, when the latter was an amateur, in four rounds; Matt Rice, three rounds; D. Benjamin, four rounds.

He was defeated by Matt Rice, in a return battle, in four rounds; defeated P. Oppenheimer in California in four rounds and was defeated by Fred Cook on the same night in six rounds; defeated E. Laeber, three rounds, and again met Matt Rice and defeated him and T. Murphy in three rounds, the last two battles being won at the Metropolitan Opera-House, Dec. 19, at the A. A. U. championship.

T. Murphy made his first appearance in the ring at the A. A. U. championship meeting, last December.

In the trials he met and defeated William, of the Hoboken A. C., and in the finals Schlieter, of A. C. of the Schuylkill Navy, but was defeated by O'Brien.

At the recent New York A. C. boxing championship Murphy defeated both Hazen, of the Pastimes, and O'Lay, of the Star A. C.

J. Hagen and W. Bush are both experienced in appearing before the public, while James Rose, of the New Jersey A. C., is one of the cleverest of bantams.

He gave G. F. Sloane, of the Bridge A. C., a very close contest at the Varuna Boat Club competitions in the Academy of Music in Brooklyn.

Excitement must necessarily run high in the contests in the 120-pound special class, which contains some fighters of the hurricane order.

Fred Schneering, who generally enters in the 125-pound class, will train down five pounds lighter than usual for this event. If he is strong at the weight, he should win first prize.

James Brown, of the West Side A. C., is also in this class.

A year ago Brown, although only weighing 115 pounds, entered the 125-pound class and won first prize over contestants ten pounds heavier than himself.

William Kenny, of the New Jersey Athletic Club, who got the decision over Brown at the Varuna tournament on a so-called foul, has also entered.

A contest between any two of this trio should be a memorable one.

F. F. Trolan, of the Manhattan A. C., is also in this class. He has improved vastly within the last year.

His show of skill at the Varuna boxing exhibition, where he won first prize, gave his friends much pleasure.

T. Cantwell is another good man in this class who ought to render a good account of himself. He spars effectively in practice.

In the special 135-pound class are some excellent handlers of the mitts. James Mullen is one of the dark horses for this event. Many think he will win, while others pick J. A. Mullin, of the Lexington A. C., as the winner.

He won the prize at the Varuna competition and came in second in the New York Athletic Club's recent tournament.

Owen Harney and M. J. Dinan, of the Pastime Athletic Club, have had considerable experience in the ring. Harney is talked of very favorably. He has trained hard for this tournament.

The middle-weight class, 158 pounds limit, is exciting a good deal of interest.

J. J. Van Houten is a genuine bulldog in the way he holds on in a contest. He has had much experience and is well versed in all the tactics of the ring.

J. M. McAuliffe, of the Bridge Athletic Club, is regarded by some as the future amateur champion. He was very unfortunate at the recent A. A. U. championships in being disqualified in his bout with Stuckey.

Had the bout been finished it is the opinion of most judges of boxing that he would have won.

Stuckey, the man he was boxing with, who was adjudged the winner of this event, has not so far entered in this tournament.

But there are Thomas Hallahan, J. J. McMahon and N. Callen, all of whom have distinguished themselves with the gloves.

James Meehan has not yet sent in his entry, but says he may appear. He had the misfortune to wrench his leg while working, and he may not compete on this account.

He is a very strong man, with plenty of science and grit.

On account of the unusually large number of entries it may be necessary to postpone the final tournament until Tuesday evening and make the contests to-night the preliminaries.

No More Hope for D. Lowber Smith.

Mr. D. Lowber Smith will find interesting reading to-day in the unanimous decision of the General Term that his term of office as Commissioner of Public Works expired May 1, 1889, and indorsing Judge Barrett's order to turn the books over to Commissioner Gilroy.

No Fear of Grippe

Need be felt by those who keep the blood pure and vigorous with Ayer's Sarsaparilla—it makes the weak strong. Prostration is the most characteristic and serious symptom of the prevailing disease. It is during this debilitated condition of the body that bronchitis, pneumonia, typhoid and malaria fasten upon the patient. Be careful and not allow the system to run down. Prevention is better than cure.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla is just the thing for patients recovering from the grippe."—J. J. & M. Wilkinson, Druggists, Kerbonkee, N. Y.

The Fall of the Christians:

An Historical Romance of Japan in the 17th Century; From Ancient Manuscripts Discovered by the Author.

By Prof. W. C. Kitchin, Ph. D., of Cambridge.

"The Fall of the Christians" is a history of the desperate struggle of Christianity against Paganism in Japan over two hundred and fifty years ago. There were many thousands of Christians in Japan, and the attempt to exterminate them led to one of the most sanguinary struggles recorded in history. The heroism of the Christians, both men and women, and their fortitude under the most appalling dangers, as portrayed by Professor Kitchin, will enlist the sympathies of the civilized world.

"The Fall of the Christians" begins in the New York Ledger dated and issued January 25th.

HERR MOST IN THE TOMBS.

The Fiery Anarchist Rearrested by Central Office Detectives.

A short, stout man, wearing a slouch hat, a great big beard, and good clothes, sauntered out of a boarding-house at 67 Seventh street, about 8.30 this morning. He was puffing a big cigar and seemed at peace with himself and all the world.

For a minute he stood in the sunlight at the end of the steps, as if hesitating in which direction to go.

Meantime, two well-dressed men were standing in the shade on the opposite side of the street, watching every movement of the little man.

The latter emitted a cloud of smoke from his nose and mouth, and finally turned his steps in the direction of Third avenue.

The two men walked across the street and ranged alongside of him, one either side.

"You are under arrest, Herr Most," said one of them, Detective-Sergt. Frink, and the little man with the big beard dropped his cigar and demanded angrily: "Where did you come from? What do you want? Go way from me!"

Johann Most, the editor of Der Freiheit, at 167 William street, and one of the most famous Anarchists in the world, grew very indignant as Detectives Frink and Murphy laughed at his outburst, and proceeded arm in arm to Police Headquarters.

He demanded their authority for arresting him, and they showed him the bench warrant, issued yesterday in the Court of General Sessions, the General Term having confirmed the sentence of one year in the Penitentiary, imposed by Judge Cowing on Dec. 9.

Even the sight of the warrant did not satisfy the fiery Anarchist.

"You should have seen my bondsman first," he declared in wrath. "I want a chance to get bail."

But the nonchalant detectives only hurried him one faster. His arrival at Police Headquarters created a stir, and soon a small crowd gathered outside.

To an EVENING WORLD reporter Most proclaimed his second arrest an outrage, and said: "My counsel, Howe & Hummel, will endeavor to obtain a stay of execution today pending an appeal to the Court of Appeals."

Then, as he lit another cigar, he declared in anger again: "I think they should have allowed me an opportunity to see my bondsman and have my bail renewed."

He was not locked up in a cell, but was permitted to sit in the museum until the detectives were ready to take him to the District-Attorney's office.

Frink and Murphy, the detective-sergeants who arrested him, remained outside of Most's boarding-house all last night, as they had reason to believe he was hidden there. They were two of several Hawkshaws whom Inspector Byrnes sent out with orders not to return until they had found Most.

One of these detectives spent the night around the Freiheit office, and bright and early this morning rushed into the editorial rooms, but, of course, could not find his man, as the latter was just about that time being put under arrest uptown.

Most was taken down to the District-Attorney's office at 11 o'clock this morning and from there taken to the Tombs.

Most was indicted Nov. 17, 1887, as an evil disposed and pernicious person. He was arrested for a particularly strong speech which he delivered in Kramer's saloon, 134 Seventh avenue on Nov. 12, 1887.

He was confined in the Tombs, and after a long trial before Judge Cowing was found guilty and sentenced on Dec. 9, 1887, to one year's imprisonment and to pay a fine of $100, or stand committed one day for each dollar until the fine was liquidated.

Pending an appeal he was released next day in $5,000 bail, his surety being Mrs. Ida Hoffman, wife of Dr. Hoffman, of 62 Seventh street.

Neither Dr. Hoffman nor Mrs. Hoffman were at home when an EVENING WORLD reporter called there this morning. They will probably go bail for Most again in case it should be accepted.

There was a crowd of frowsy Anarchists in Schawb's saloon at 50 First street when the reporter called there this morning, and they condemned Most's arrest in no measured terms.

Most should go to the island he will be no stranger, as he spent six months there once before for expressing his sentiments.

Just before noon Joe Moses, representing Howe & Hummel, Most's counsel, made application to Judge Morgan J. O'Brien for a writ of habeas corpus requiring the Warden of the Tombs to produce Most in the Supreme Court on Monday morning.

The application was based on the ground that there was a reasonable doubt as to whether the conviction would stand, and that application for bail would be made to secure Most's release pending the result of an appeal which would be taken to the Court of Appeals.

Judge O'Brien granted the writ and made it returnable at 10.30 o'clock Monday morning.

TO FETCH FORGER LOWENHERZ.

Detective Heidelberg Will Start for Germany on Tuesday.

Detective Heidelberg will sail for Germany on Tuesday to bring back to New York Sigmond Lowenherz, who with his partner, Landsberg, forged the name of A. W. Warner & Co., dealers in piano covers of 40 Lispenard street, to promissory notes, sold the notes and then escaped.

The partners were jobbers and importers in Walker street. Landsberg died before legal steps could be taken against him.

Lowenherz stands indicted for forgery. He sold what purported to be a note for $1,228.70 for $1,107.75. The note and a guarantee of payment were both forgeries.

Lowenherz was arrested in Germany, and the authorities learned of it through the Berlin Legation, which reported the arrest to the State Department in Washington.

IN NO HURRY TO PASS IT.

Petty Objections Delay the World's Fair Bill's Passage.

Contrary to all expectations, and to the dismay of every New Yorker who has the interests of the World's Fair at heart, the bill providing for an appropriation of $10,000,000 to acquire site property, erect buildings and for other expenses incidental to the great Exposition of 1892, has met with delay in the Legislature.

Notwithstanding the fact that the bill was drawn up with the utmost regard to constitutionality under the supervision of such lawyers as Chauncey M. Depew, William M. Evarts, and Elihu Root, several members took refuge in the assertion that they were not familiar with the amended clauses, and demanded that the third reading of the bill be deferred until next week.

The singular part of the affair is that all the objecting members of the Senate and Assembly were Republicans, with the exception of Col. Brown, who is a Democrat.

After long haranguing in both houses, the bill was ordered to a second hearing in the Assembly on Monday night, with the prospect of an immediate third reading and ultimate passage, while the Senate ordered a hearing of the merits of the bill on Tuesday, and the third reading on Wednesday.

One of the amendments in the bill is a clause authorizing the Board of Commissioners to inclose such portions of any streets or avenues as may be bounded by lands acquired either in fee of or for a term of years.

Should the Board of Commissioners determine that any portion of the land should be permanently taken for Exposition purposes such land shall be indicated upon maps, and upon the consent of the Board of Street Opening and Improvement all the title in the property shall be acquired and such land shall be closed.

Several property-owners in the vicinity of the proposed site object to this clause, and have presented a petition to the Committee on Legislation, saying that while they would cheerfully give the temporary use of their land, they object to running the risk of having their property fee taken from them.

They claim that the clause is unconstitutional, and as they will oppose it in the Legislature or will carry it to the courts.

The objectors are Miss Mary G. Pinkney, owner of 210 lots, valued at $2,000,000; John E. Parsons, Dwight Olmsted, ex-Senator Bixby and Henry A. Cram.

COMMODORE BRAIN ARRESTED.

A Distinguished Confederate Officer Charged with Fraud.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 25.—Commodore Brain, formerly of the Confederate Navy, representative of an English syndicate in negotiating the purchase of Kentucky distilleries, has been arrested at Paris, charged with felony.

The charge is that of fraudulent representation, and with executing a draft for $200 that was subsequently dishonored.

Commodore Brain commanded the Chesapeake, Roanoke and St. Mary in the battle of Bermuda Hundreds, near Richmond, in 1864, and was wounded five times in that engagement.

He indignantly denies the charge against him and says he can't understand why his draft was dishonored.

He is a fine-looking old man, and belongs at Mobile, Ala., where he has a wife and several daughters.

Al. Daggett Again Testifies.

Al. Daggett was again put on the stand to-day in the hearing before Referee Raegener, respecting the bill of $11,500, which Tallmadge & Martin claim is due them for printing Republican League circulars. His testimony was unimportant, and he was excused on the understanding that he would reappear when wanted.

The Increased Demand for Cotton.

(BUNLAP CABLE NEWS SPECIAL.)

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 25.—Ellison's Cotton Circular asserts that a crop of 7,300,000 bales will be needed in order to meet the demand caused by the improvement in trade.

NATURE IN CONVULSION

Is terrific. Volcanic eruptions, cyclones, earthquakes are awfully and tremendously picturesque, but scarcely desirable to emulate in action and effect by the administration of remedies which produce convulsion and agony in the abnormal portion of the human frame. Such is the effect of the old-fashioned violent purgatives happily falling more and more into disuse, and of which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the wholesome, pleasant and far more effective succedaneum. They weakened the intestines—the Bitters invigorates them. They left the bowels inactive, because incapacitated by ensuing feebleness. The Bitters, on the contrary, and because it enables, not forces them to act—a rare and fortunate difference—perpetuates their activity and regularity. The liver is beneficially stimulated, as the kidneys also are, by this medicine, which easily conquers also malaria, nervousness and rheumatism.

THE INFLUENZA MICROBE DISCOVERED.

VIENNA, Jan. 21st.—Prof. Weichselbaum, of the University of Vienna, has discovered the bacillus of influenza. He finds in it some similarity to the pneumonia bacillus, but is sure that it is a distinctly different microbe.

The William Radam Microbe Killer Company of the city claim that all diseases are caused by Microbes, and have published an interesting book on the subject, which is given to all who inquire or write for it. From 3 to 6 and 7.30 to 10 P. M. this week, at their office, 1301 Broadway, they give free microscopical exhibitions of the genus of Microbes of Grippe and other diseases. They claim to prove to the most sceptical the truth of their theory. Commencing Monday, Jan. 27, the microscopic exhibition will be continued at their Brooklyn office, 662 Fulton st., for one week.

Lingered Between Life and Death.

Mrs. Geo. P. Smoote, a highly cultivated and estimable lady, of Prescott, Ark., writes under date of April 22, 1889: "During the Summer of 1887 my eyes became inflamed and my stomach and liver almost hopelessly disordered. Nothing I ate agreed with me. I took chronic diarrhœa, and for some time my life was despaired of by my family. The leading physicians of the country were consulted, and the medicines administered by them never did any good, and I lingered between life and death, the latter being preferable to the agonies I was enduring. In May, 1888, I began treating myself with physicians and their medicines. I dropped them all, and depended solely on Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), a few bottles of which made me permanently well—well from then until now."

Made His Life a Burden.

I have had scrofula until it made my life a burden. I was inexpressibly miserable, sick, weak, sleepless and unhappy; desiring that the short time which seemed to have been allotted to me on this earth would hasten to an end. I tried doctor's treatment and medicine, advice and travel, but none of these did any good, for the scrofula gradually grew worse. One physician, whom I travelled far to see, and to whom I paid $150, gave me no relief whatever. I then gave up all other medicines and took only Swift's Specific (S. S. S.). Four bottles of that medicine cured me, and for the past four years I have had an excellent health and I am as free from disease as anybody living. F. E. Nelson, Fremont, Neb.
