The Bismarck Tribune.

CUT 'EM SHORTS.

Bismarck and the Rest of the World in Brief.

Get out your gloves.

Slap on your overcoats.

Throw away your old mosquito netting. For—

"The cold chilly winds of [September],
Steal my flowers, my companions from me."

The snow fences are completed to Shian River.

If you want a square meal go to Fosters Restaurant.

"What will you flop your lip over?" is the lastest out.

The track between Bismarck and the river is being ballasted.

"The hand that rocks the cradle
Is the hand that rocks the world."

Are the Sioux all Masons? Setting Bull's band have a thousand lodges.

Go to Foster's Restaurant for your Fresh Oysters. The only place in town.

The weather of the last few days makes business look up in the lumber yards.

If you fail to go to the caucus Saturday, don't growl about the ticket afterwards.

The TRIBUNE was tri-weekly last week. Two extras were issued beside the regular edition.

If the water don't stop falling the bed of the Missouri river will soon be in condition to plow.

Under the new time table it takes three days to go to St. Paul. People who are in a hurry walk.

We have found out the cause of the recent sold snap in this section. It was predicted by that venerable chap, "Old Probs."

Go to Foster's Restaurant, three doors west of the Capitol Hotel, and pay for what you get and you will be sure to get for what you pay for.

The latest thing out in the fashion line is the "Danbury News Man's Hat." We haven't heard whether the style is as laughable as his jokes.

If you don't care anything about how the county is governed the next two years, stay away from the caucus Saturday. That caucus may decide it.

A gentleman of capital from Yankton proposes purchasing a section of land in the vicinity of Bismarck, and next spring placing one-half of it under the plow.

The Springfield (D. T.) base ballist say that if the Bismarck nine mean business they can get up a game in their village. Let's hear from you, boys.

If "the boys" don't quit giving Camp Gronewald Indian scares they ought to be spificated. There are men in that camp who haven't slept a wink for over a month.

L. A. Stickney's horses, with an express wagon attachment, swung around the circle at a frightful pace yesterday with no driver aboard. A used up spring was the only damage.

We have received a growl from Fort Berthold in the matter of mail communication. We believe with the writer that two weeks is a long time to wait for mail, but just how it can at present be bettered we do not understand.

Foster's Restaurant and Oyster Depot, three doors west from the Capitol Hotel. Meals served at all hours. Fresh oysters in every style. Board by the day, week or meal. The best and most reasonable place in the city. Go and see him.

We haven't noticed any material decrease in dogs since our last issue. Perhaps the reason is because they haven't decreased. It's inconvenient having so many dogs around because it wears on your pocket to be obliged to always carry it full of rocks.

The round-house of the railroad company in this city is as neat and substantial a building as can be found on the line of the road. "This temporary structure" the Omaha Herald told its readers of cost the company $10,000. Give us more "temporary structures."

There was a most frightful head put on a man in this city Monday. It looked as though it might have been done by a cannon ball, or that at least a brigade of government mules had had a day's kicking at it. Being none of our affair, and as we know nothing of the merits of the case made by either party, we publish no names.

We have received the first number of the reissue of the Wells Atlas, published at Wells, Minnesota, by R. Calvert, the ownership resting in C. A. Lounsberry, of the TRIBUNE. It is a very creditable looking sheet on the outside, with patent "innards." We had thought better of the Colonel, and really hope it is only a temporary expedient. Let the Atlas take pattern by the TRIBUNE: not only print its issue entirely at home, but furnish its readers occasionally with a newsy supplement and a half dozen or less Extras each week and it will surely thrive. The people appreciate a live newspaper, and patronize it. For partculars see our books.

IMPERFECT PAGE

GUNPOWDER.

THE SHERIFF OF BURLEIGH COUNTY TRIES HIS HAND AT SHORT RANGE.

Wm. Smith Used as an Animated Target.

A CLOSE CALL, BUT NO DAMAGE DONE.

Will the Commissioners Give Us a New Sheriff?

On Thursday last a rumor being current that a shooting fracas had occurred in the saloon of C. W. Freede, on Fourth street, a reporter of the TRIBUNE repaired to the spot to learn the facts in the case. He was cordially met by Mr. Freede, who, while not appearing desirous of making unnecessary talk over the matter, courteously answered all questions propounded, Our reporter, after making known his mission, inquired:

REPORTER.—About what time, Mr. Freede, did Sheriff Woods come into your place last night?

MR. FREEDE.—It should judge it was about 12 o'clock.

REP.—Was he alone?

MR. F.—No; he came in with Smith, the man with whom he afterwards quarreled.

REP.—Were they quarreling at the time?

MR. F.—Oh, no; on the contrary they appeared to be on excellent terms.

REP.—What finally commenced the quarrel?

MR. F.—After they had been in here a short time, and after some angry words, Woods suddenly drew a revolver and told Smith that he had misused his (Woods') boy when he was absent, and that he "had a notion to shoot him."

REP.—Did Woods shoot immediatdly after making the threat?

Mr. F.—Almost; he threw the revolver around carelessly and fired. The ball passed through the partition into the adjoining room, and within eight inches of a man's head who was sleeping there.

Rep.—Did Smith show any arms?

Mr. F.—No; he told Woods he had no arms, and could not defend himself. At the time Smith had one hand in his pocket. Woods told him to take it out, which he did and held it up. I then interfered, and told them I did not want any shooting in my house, and if they were bound to fight they must go out doors. I stepped to the door and opened it. Smith at that time was standing with his back at the counter, with one arm upon it. Woods stood two or three feet from him; and it was at this time he fired the second shot. Smith attempted to dodge as Woods raised the pistol, and the ball apparently passed just to the left.

Rep.—Then the ball did not touch his cheek as reported?

Mr. F.—No, I think not. The distance was so short at which the shot was made that the powder burned Smith's face badly; but I do not think the bullet touched him.

Rep.—How do you account for the mark near Smith's eye?

Mr. F.—As soon as Woods fired the second shot Smith clinched him, and I think the scratch was given in the scuffle which followed. Perhaps Woods struck him with the revolver.

Rep.—And what occurred after this?

Mr. F.—When they clinched they struggled toward the door and went out through it together. Smith then broke loose and ran away.

Rep.—Did you see either of the parties afterward that night?

Mr. F.—I immediately closed my saloon, and went out to find Smith, who I was afraid had been hit, and might need help. I did not find him but found Woods. I asked him if it wasn't blank cartridges that he fired. He said "Yes; I only did it to scare him." Woods then came back with me and got a drink, and then left. And this all that I know of the matter.

Whereupon our reporter, after thanking Mr. Freede for his courtesy, withdrew.

THE ARREST OF WOODS.

The day following the shooting, Smith appeared before Justice Van Etten and made a complaint, charging "William Woods with feloniously and unlawfully shooting at Wm. Smith with a pistol loaded with gunpowder and leaden balls with intent to kill and murder," etc. A warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Coroner Slaughter, and Woods was brought before the court. The case being called, the defendant entered a plea of "not guilty." Williams and Davis appeared for the prosecution. The defendant waived an examination, and was admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000. We understand that Messrs White and Mason became his sponsors.

We have but a few words to add to this affair. Mr. Woods is the Sheriff of this county, and as such his conduct is even more open to comment than it would otherwise be. Of his past history we know very little, further than that he served with distinction and credit during the war, and left the service wearing the straps of a Major. He has always been considerd a good man except when under the influence of liquor, and has many warm personal friends in this city and Territory. The original cause of the quarrel, as we understand it, grew out of an old feud caused by the rough treatment of Woods' boy (a well behaved lad of 14 years) by Smith, and in which perhaps the former had cause for anger.

But there is a duty in this connection devolving upon our County Commissioners. Mr. Woods still fills the responsible position of Sheriff of Burleigh county. Far be it from us to attempt to assume the duties of either judge or jury in the case; and it is one of fundamental principles of common justice that a man shall be deemed innocent until proven guilty; but at the same time we submit that it is not the thing that any man, resting even under the imputation of such a crime, should occupy a position that is naturally supposed to be above reproach. We therefore call upon the Board, which meets to-morrow, to take some decided action in the matter.

The only First-class Restaurant in town is Foster's, three doors west of the Capitol Hotel. Fresh Oysters, raw, stewed, fried, scalped or broiled. Try them.

RIVER NEWS.

ARRIVALS.

Sept. 19.—Steamer May Lowry.

DEPARTURES.

Sept. 22.—Steamer May Lowry.

The Josephine is looked for every day.

It has been quiet at the levee this week.

The river is on the decline, there being about three feet of water.

There is no freight at this point awaiting shipment.

The Peninah is laid up, for the present, at the levee.

The Peninah, May Lowry and Ida Stockdale will winter here.

We learn that the Josephine found very low water in the Yellowstone and had much trouble going up.

The Ida Stockdale has again been turned over to the railroad company and is laid up at the levee.

The steamer Silver Lake was to leave Sioux City on last Saturday for Standing Rock Agency with a cargo of Indian freight for that point.

The May Lowry will be engaged in transfering between this point and Lincoln until the close of navigation. She makes three trips a week.

We learn from Mr. Cummings, Agent for the Coulson Line at this point, that the Esperanza is being lengthened thirty-five feet and refitted in the marine dock at St. Louis. She will ply on the upper Missouri next season.

We learn from Mr. Greenough, Clerk of the Peninah, that the E. H. Durfee, Western and Key West are laid up at Yankton with their crews discharged. The Key West will probably be the first boat up the river. She will bring a cargo of vegetables for posts above here.

Commodore Kountz has been in the city for several days, looking after his interest here. The finishing touches have been given to the preparations for the promised line of steamers from this point to run both above and below the coming season. In this connection the important announcement is made that the Northern Pacific has effected an arrangement with the famous McClay Diamond R. freight line to run in connection with a line of steamers from the mouth of the Muscelshell to Helena, Montana. This contract also covers the handling of mails.

Personal.

Jim. Greenough, Clerk on the Peninah, arrived from Yankton on Sunday in the extra.

Lieut. P. H. Trudell, of Brainerd, has been in town for the past few days. He returned by this morning's train.

Col. Brownson returned from his trip East on Sunday, and will roam no more; Mrs. Brownson returned with him.

Gen. Dandy, commandant at Fort Lincoln, and Col. Wilson, also of Fort Lincoln, passed through town Wednesday of last week on the way to St. Paul.

Col. Dudley, who has been engaged in surveying the government reservation at Rice, arrived at Fort Lincoln on Monday with an escort of twenty men.

The citizens of this town are well pleased at seeing Fred. Strauss once more upon our streets. After an absence of several weeks, and after passing through a serious sickness, he returns once more with improved health to resume his business.

O. C. Green, Superintendent of the N. W. Telegraph Company's line on the North Pacific, visited the Crossing on Sunday and Monday, on business. He reports Bismarck as the heaviest station on the road, except Duluth. Another season and Duluth, too, must look to its laurels.

Capt. Maratta, of the May Lowry, returned last evening. Our readers will remember that the Captain was called away suddenly by a telegram announcing serious sickness in his family, and will be pleased now to learn that he found them improving and left them convalescent.

Commodore Kountz and the two Misses Kountz arrived Sunday evening, by special train. The former will accept our thanks for late papers and other favors, and the latter for the greater favor of brightening our office by their presence for a few moments. May their trip be one round of pleasure.

John Douglas, Esq., of Winona, accompanied by Judge Lewis, of the same city, paid a visit to Bismarck since our last. Mr. Douglas has visited the line of the North Pacific before, and knew what we were made of; but the Judge informs us that on this, his first visit, he was doomed great disappointment—all in our favor. There is not a waste foot of land, he says, from the Red River to the Missouri. Mr. Douglas is the father of the senior member of Douglas & Co., of this city.

Chief Justice P. L. Shannon, of the Supreme Court of Dakota, was in the city Saturday and Sunday. He was accompanied by J. H. Burdick, U. S. Marshal for the Territory. These gentlemen were returning from a professional trip to Pembina, and took the opportunity to make the Coming City a visit. They repeated the story now become old to us, of the wonderful surprise they met in the beautiful country along the road, and favored the TRIBUNE with a handsome compliment, for which please accept our thanks.

vailed. It is not thought that any other firms of prominence will succumb. Men regarded as among the safest and most judicious on the street, gave it as their opinion that the great danger is passed.

PROBABILITIES.

Robinson & Co. expect to resume in a few days.

Mr. Schell is not prepared to make any statement in regard to his liabilities. His suspension was occasioned by the decline in Vanderbilt stocks, in which he was a large dealer.

The liabilities of Jay Cooke & Co. cannot be ascertained. It will take some time to make a statement of affairs of the house. The creditors are mostly banks and bankers, there being but few individual depositors in the list.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC

The suspension will greatly interfere with the operation of the Syndicate, and probably suspend the negotiations of the five per cent, bonds of the Northern Pacific Railway, which have been of slow sale recently. The failure of Kenyon, Cox & Co., of New York, and of the Oswego & Midland Railway, operated disastrously against the further negotiations of these bonds.

THE RAILROAD WAR.

The Express says the war upon the railroads has produced part of the panic, creating as it has a want of confidence among large capitalists and small investors, and injured both the credit and progress of railroad injured both the credit and progress of railroad enterprises. When confidence goes, credit falls with it, and panic takes the place of both. The suspension of houses like Jay Cooke & Co., and Kenyon, Cox & Co., are public calamities, and are events wholly unlike the failure of those who do business on borrowed capital, or often on no capital. The sympathy of the public is with the unfortunate, who try to do a legitimate business, and who fall while in the prosecution of it, as in the building of railways and and other public works designed to enlarge the business of the country. The duty of all is, while omitting no case necessarry to exposure, or a proper regard for the present or future, to pour oil upon the troubled waters and restore health and confidence to the money market, and to all honest persons engaged in money transactions.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The worst of the storm is thought to be over, and a better feeling is apparent everywhere. The directors of the Northern Pacific have been in consultation all day, and confidently expect to maintain the credit and standing of that company. The failure of Jay Cooke naturally embarrasses them somewhat, but there is no disposition manifest to let the enterprise fail. The liabilities of the company are small, and will, it is said, be provided for, and the work pushed forward.

SUSPENSIONS.

The following suspensions were announced to day: Fitch, Hatch & Co.; Hay & Warner; Day & Morse; A. M. Kidder; Geo. B. Allen; Greenleaf & Norris; W. H. Norris; W. H. Warren; Thos. Reed & Co.; T. J. Jackson; ——— Bidwell; Morris & Walch; Randolph & Co.; Wm. E. Connor, Whittemore & Allison; Smith & Seaver.

Also the following in Philadelphia: E. W. Clark & Co., a house intimately connected with Jay Cooke Cooke & Co.; H. H. Douglas, C. L. Bayard; J. H. Yerkit; John Lloyd; Gilbergh, Bond & Co.; De Haven & Bro's.

The house of Randolph & Co., whose suspension is noticed, was Tom. Scott's New York house. Mr. Randolph is a son-in-law of the great railroad king. The reason for the failure, as stated by the head of the firm, is from the absolute impossibility of obtaining moneys due them from other parties.

J. Nicholls vs. Jos. Miller; suit in replevin; judgment for plaintiff. Williams & Davis attorneys for plaintiff; J. S. Carvell for defendant.

Important Decision.

Chief Justice Shannon last week decided, in a test case at Pembina, that in all new counties of the Territory where the Legislative Assembly had neglected, purposely or intentionally, to provide Circuit or District Courts, all cases not properly under the jurisdiction of Justice Courts, or appeals therefrom, must come directly before Supreme or other Territorial courts. This decision is an important one for Bismarck, as we have been heretofore absolutely without courts other than Justice Courts. This decision needs the assenting opinion of but one other member of the Supreme Bench before becoming an absolute law.

Religious.

Preaching on next Sabbath by the Rev. I. O. Sloan, at half past 10 o'clock in the morning, and at half past 7 o'clock in the evening. Bible class and Sabbath School at 3 P. M.

Services will be held in the express office Sunday, Sept. 28th, by the Rev. H. C. Hamilton Dudley, of the Episcopal church.

H. S. Back, Land Agent at Fargo, D. T., has been successful in beating out the Puget Sound Land Company on scrip lands near Fargo. There was several thousand acres of valuable lands. Mr. Back makes a speciality of contested cases.
