BUSY DAY IN CENTRAL PARK.

Runaways, Collisions, Sudden Illness and Pickpockets.

There are several people in this city who are congratulating themselves that to-day they are suffering from no more serious injury than perhaps a bruise or two and a general shaking up due to the friskiness of their several horses.

It was a perfect day for driving yesterday and Central Park was crowded with vehicles of every description, while saddle horses filed in a continuous parade.

Collisions and runaways were frequent, and the following are a portion of them:

The carriage containing Mrs. Rothschild, of 31 West Fifty-seventh street, collided with a light wagon driven by J. Pachetean, of 114 Bleecker street. An axle of the wagon was broken, but beyond a sharp jolting no one was injured.

W. G. Green, of 228 West Fifty-eighth street, was thrown from his light wagon on the West Drive, but was not injured. The horse was caught by a Park officer.

Mounted Policeman Doyle caught a runaway horse, attached to a light buggy, driven by S. B. Smith, of the Tribune Building, on the West Drive and Seventy-eighth street.

The saddle horse ridden by Charles Wilson of 25 East Forty-fifth street, ran away with him on the West Drive and was caught after a lively chase by Mounted Officer McGlynn at Fifty-ninth street and Eighth avenue.

Charles Hoseeler, of 313 West Thirty-ninth street, was overcome by the heat and taken home in a cab.

Mrs. John Subbert, of 101 South Fifth avenue, was taken to the Presbyterian Hospital suffering from convulsions.

Two pickpockets were caught in the crowd and hustled to the lockup.

NO SIGNS OF DEMPSEY.

District-Attorney Fellows said at noon today that he had as yet no knowledge of Boodle Alderman Dempsey's whereabouts, and that no one had been to see him about arranging bail for the exile.

There were scores of inquiries for the ex-Alderman at Col. Fellows's office to-day, and there seems to be little doubt that he has returned and is in hiding somewhere near this city, and that his appearance at the District-Attorney's office may be looked for at any moment.
