MORMON EXCOMMUNICATED.

One of the Twelve Apostles Driven from the Church.

Nothing that has occurred in the career of the Mormon church during the years has created more of a sensation both in and out of this community than will fellow last evening's announcement that the quorum of apostles had excommunicated from the church one of their number, Albert Carrington, for the offenses "lewd and lascivious conduct and adultery." Our reporter was unsuccessful in learning what the offenses charged were committed upon years ago in England; rumor stated that they had also been committed since, but that they will not come under the notice of the church authorities until a recent date. It has been an open secret for some time, however, that Mr. Carrington had no active part in the administration of church affairs.

In church circles there will be almost universal sorrow and regret that an Indian because Elder Carrington has been "cutoff," but that he has been guilty of offenses demanding his expulsion. Very few men have stood higher in the church than he, and many have been regarded with more reverence and affection. During a generation he held the apostleship, he has stood close to the first presidency during the past and present administration, and being an educated and intelligent man has commanded respect and confidence. The man who, upon knowledge of the fact, had charged such grave offenses at the door of the elder would have found the believers in his face, and been regarded as a malicious scandal monger. Such supreme confidence had the people in the moral purity and faithfulness of church law of the gentleman. Hence the sensation that this excommunication is wickedly false and maliciously cruel and unjust. There is no religious sect on earth that professes to maintain a higher regard for marital vows than the Mormons, and sexual crimes are regarded by them as the most heinous of offenses both in religious theory and religious life. One who has lived among them, has heard their preaching, and is acquainted with their sentiments, ideas and beliefs, will not attempt to deny the truth of the above declaration. The Carrington expulsion from the church itself, as other cases have done, furnishes the strongest possible proof of the correctness of the assertion that the Mormons look with abhorrence on sexual offenses. The crime could not be overlooked and forgiven in him who stood so high in authority any more than in the common plodder whose name and fame is unknown beyond his own village.

In the eyes of some who understand the [illegible] force and meaning of an excommunication from the Mormon church, Elder Carrington's punishment will seem severe, yet its severity is no more terrible in the mind of the devout and faithful saint than the enormity of his sinning demands. Whatever may be the opinion regarding the offense, the apostles who have thus cut adrift one of their number whom they found to be unclean have shown themselves to be consistent with their religious professions, and faithful in their practice as in their belief. The action can not fail to command the approval and respect of fair and unprejudiced men outside the Mormon church, as it certainly will receive the indorsement of the masses in the church. It shows a degree of moral courage and faithfulness to principle under trying circumstances that would be heroism in the political world, but is integrity and uprightness in the religious. People other than Mormons who know Albert Carrington will regret his downfall and grieve over his disgrace.—[Salt Lake Herald.

CHARACTER AND STOCKINGS.

The True Philosophy Hidden in Hose.

If there is a bashful young man about to read this article he had better skip it. It may cause him infinite harm to know what I am about to write. If he once finds that the feminine stocking is an unerring index to the nature of the wearer, who knows to what extreme he may go in his wild search after truth? The trembling innocent of yesterday may be metamorphosed into a bold, bad man, who haunts the avenue every wet or windy day. Let him stop before he goes any deeper into the subject. Let him hesitate before he tastes of the forbidden fruit—this article, to-wit—which will throw before him, in vivid colors and in its true light, that mystery of woman's dress—the stocking! Let him pause and consider, I say, before he dares to read what I am about to make known. Let him pass his eye sternly on to the next column. Let him shun this screen as if it were a bookkeeper (Chesnutese for adder), and keep his mind free from the unholy knowledge. What! You won't? Then don't blame me for the consequences—that's all.

An eminent literary light and a shrewd observer of humanity (why should I conceal his identity? It was the author of that thrilling Hatchet serial, "A Queer Case,") once remarked in my hearing that he could tell the character of any female whose stocking he might see. I have been since then wonderfully amazed at the justice of this man's assertion. Not the face, nor the eyes, nor the frock gives half as clear an insight into the feminine nature as the stocking! Many years of laborious study have I given to the subject, and they only go to prove the truthfulness of his remark. The outcome of my studies may be given to the public in the following brief statement:

Striped stockings. Young man, beware of the owner of striped stockings! The gaudier the stripes, the more she should be shunned. She is a lion, seeking whom she may devour. She is the ice cream girl, the soda water girl, the fried oyster girl. She is the girl who wants you to take her to the theater, to the skating rink, to the National Rifles' fair. And if you won't go with her, she will give you the g. b., and go with somebody else. Ah, my young friend, the sirens should be painted with striped stockings, and I am surprised that Ulysses never said a word about it in his narrative.

Blue stockings—As a newspaper man I ought not to say much against the bas bleu. The blues have very little beauty as a rule, but they make up for it in their wit. If you have a good level head and are not very slow in repartee, you may go with impunity with the blues. Otherwise you had better stay away. You might lose your heart to them twenty times over and they would only laugh at you. You may not find the fact mentioned in Anthon, but it is my private belief that Minerva wore stockings of a beautiful azure.

Black stockings—Just wait until you see Nesmith. At present you are supposed to know nothing of the ballet or choron girls.

Brown stockings—About black or brown stockings I have little to say. These Westerns are good and modest, pure and refined women. If heaven sends you a black or brown-stocking angel in the matrimonial lottery, you ought to make the rest of your life an uninterrupted Thanksgiving day.

Red stockings—No matter how nice your Dulcina may be, if she be partial to red stockings, she is as much to be dreaded as the girl with red hair. If you, with the characteristic blindness of young men, heed not this warning, remember it when in due course of time you kick against a new spring bonnet. In the tribulation that follows, and in the subsequent calm, when you collect your receipts together, remember this warning and what it would have saved you. As Anserean put too, too true says in his little "Song of the Broken Head:"

Of stockings red and auburn hair,
I tell thee, Phoeris, be aware.

White stockings—a white-stockinged woman is either an old maid or one who wants not for the esteem of men. She who wears white stockings has no poetry in her soul. For her the soaring flood of music from the quivering bird is as the chattering of a crow; the glorious hose of a crowded garden, interlined to her the beauties of a gaudy bit of calico. The swirling rush of fleecy clouds over the gaunt, appealing, naked form of the moaning, shivering trees and a sign of a windy day. The white stocking woman is soulless.—[Washington Hatchet.

A Horrible Bore Ailment.

A great big sweat brown tough [illegible] yesterday in a saloon. [illegible] was surprised," and he asserted that he was [illegible] he said that [illegible] before he [illegible] at least three [illegible] keeps. [illegible] down and [illegible] look up at the big [illegible] a cherry nose [illegible]

"Set 'em up! [illegible] up for all hands!"

An old farmer who had [illegible] licking his skinny lips up and smacked out. He said he didn't propose to go back home to Marie a cripple for life. He was followed by a lanky youth with brick-colored hair, who observed that the doctor had forbidden him to fight for the next three weeks.

"Are you going to set 'em up?" howled the tough, as he pounded some more.

"No," was the quiet reply.

"Then the consequences be upon your own head!"

With this he peeled his coat, and the two remaining men bolted for the door. One excused himself on the ground that he didn't want to hurt anybody, and the other said he had just licked two men up the street, and was waiting for his second wind. As they went out the tough upset a table, and he was about to overturn the stove when the little barkeeper shut up his book with a sigh, came from behind the bar and exhibited signs of life. He took the tough by the ear and said:

"Two dollars."

"What for?"

"Damages."

Two silver dollars were handed over and then he led the big fellow out doors and marched him up and down the walk three or four times to show him off. By and by he stood him on the gutter, gave him a tremendous kick and observed:

"You go home."

The big fellow waded through the mud to the opposite side and stood and looked back.

One of the spectators approached him and said:

"You didn't make much of a fight?"

"I didn't, eh? Well, now, I want you to understand that I showed more clear grit in this little fracas than ever before in my life."

"Then you aren't much of a fighter."

"Say," replied the man as he dropped his voice to a whisper, "you are dead right. I go in all right, but the minute I'm tackled my sand gives out. I believe it's hereditary, and I'm going to a doctor to be examined."

"You go home!" shouted the barkeeper.

"Yes—I'm going—good day."

And he went off without once turning to look behind him.—[Free Press.

WARD'S WOES.

His Desperate Struggle and How it Ended.

One of our neighbors, Mr. Ward, is surrounded with such peculiarly interesting circumstances that we think it our duty to lay the case before the public.

The person spoken of has been suffering with a dreadful case of active blood poisoning (or syphilis) for 12 or 14 years, during which time he had tried all known remedies, which served only to patch him up and keep life in him. He finally came to be one of the most loathsome objects of humanity imaginable, and his appearance was actually a sickening sight. He chanced to see an advertisement of B. B. B., and sent us $1, asking us to order one bottle, which we did (the medicine was not kept here then). He soon requested us to order more of it for him, saying that it was doing him more good than any remedy he had tried. He continued the use of it for some time, and improving very rapidly all the time, until every sore had healed, and he seemed entirely cured.

Very respectfully,
W. C. BICHMORE & CO.
General Merchants.

Maxeys, Ga., June 25, 1885.

W. H. Howell & Bros., druggists, wish to make an assertion, which they can back with a positive guarantee. It is all about Acker's Blood Elixir. They claim for it superior merits over all other remedies of its kind, and guarantee for it a positive and sure cure for rheumatism, syphilis, and all blood disorders. It frees the skin from spots and disease, and leaves the complexion clear. Ask them about it.

There are scores of persons who are suffering from some form of blood disorder or skin disease, such as scrofula, boils, etc., etc. After a practical test W. H. Howell & Bros., druggists, assert that Acker's Blood Elixir will certainly cure all such diseases, including syphilis and rheumatism. It is not a patent nostrum, but a scientific preparation. They guarantee it.

Musical Instruction

The Great Southern Remedy.

Kennedy's cures scrofula, rheumatism, white swelling, gout, goitre, consumption, bronchitis, nervous debility, malaria and all the diseases of a kindred nature arising from an impure condition of the blood. After physicians have failed to cure, a single bottle of Rosadalis seems to effect such a marked change as to give new hope and life. Read this letter:

I have been a great sufferer with inflammatory rheumatism for the last 12 months. I was induced to try your preparation, Rosadalis, and I have been greatly benefited. My hands and feet are still enlarged, but I feel so much better that I want to continue taking the Rosadalis.

Cure for the Piles.

Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose that he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture, like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a common attendant. Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the Tumors, allaying the intense itching, and affecting a permanent cure. Price, 50 cents. Address, the Dr. Bosanko Medicine Company, Plano, Ohio. Sold by all druggists.

Ladies should reflect well before using any preparation that is applied to so delicate a surface as the skin. Any one can will at first impart a fair flying effect and not apparently injure the skin, but in a few short days blotches and discolorations appear on the face which conclusively show the poisonous drugs in their composition. It can be safely said that more than two-thirds of the face powders contain these injurious ingredients. Lorenzo's medicated complexion powder is not only absolutely free from all deleterious matter, but its principal ingredient is an active curative for all diseases of the skin. It has stood the test of years. Sold by all druggists.

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Illinois, says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at 50 cents a bottle and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25 cents per box by W. H. Howell & Bro.

Hard Times.

While money is close, wages and prices low, expenses should be cut down in every household. Economy the watch word for Mothers. Head off Doctors bills by always keeping in the house a bottle of Dr. Bosanko's Cough and Lung Syrup. Stops a Cough instantly, relieves Consumption, cures Croup and pain in the Chest in one night. It is just the remedy for hard times. Price 50 cents, and $1. Samples free. Sold by all druggists.

A Case Not Beyond Help.

Dr. M. H. Hinsdale, Kenawee, Ill., advises us of a remarkable cure of consumption. He says: "A neighbor's wife was attacked with violent lung disease, and pronounced beyond help from quick consumption. As a last resort the family was persuaded to try Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the lungs. To the astonishment of all, by the time she had used one-half dozen bottles she was about the house doing her own work. I saw her at her worst, and had no idea she could recover."

The Board of Trade.

One of the neatest, nobbiest and coolest resorts in the city is the elegant saloon of Messrs. Purdy & Randall, on the northeast corner of Main and Austin streets. The purest brands of whiskies, wines, brandies, etc., and the choicest lots of imported and domestic cigars are only kept. The chop counter is always supplied with the freshest and choicest delicacies of the season. The billiard tables are the finest in the city. tf

Prickly Ash Bitters is an unfailing specific for all complaints arising from a derangement of the functions of the liver. It purifies the blood and infuses new life into the invalid. Pains in the side, general uneasiness, loss of appetite, headache, bilious attacks, etc., etc., are sure indications that a corrective is needed. Prickly Ash Bitters is especially adapted for these complaints. It arouses a torpid liver to action and restores it to a healthy condition.

W. H. Howell & Bros., druggists, wish to state that they have at last found an article they can sell on its merits. It is with pleasure they guarantee to the public Acker's English Remedy as a sure and never-failing cure for asthma, coughs, whooping cough, croup, and all lung troubles. It is the standard remedy for consumption. They have never found its equal.

Over 1,000,000 boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past 12 months, purely upon their merits. SCALL-HEAD

Milk Crust, Dandruff, Eczema and All Scalp Humors Cured by Cuticura.

LAST NOVEMBER my little boy, aged three years, fell against the stove while he was running and cut his head, and right after that he broke out all over his head, face and left ear. I had a good doctor, Dr. —, to attend him, but he got worse, and the doctor could not cure him. His whole head, face and left ear were in a fearful state, and he suffered terribly. I caught the disease from him and it spread all over my face and neck and even got into my eyes. Nobody thought we would ever get better. I felt sure we were disfigured for life. I heard of the Cuticura Remedies, and procured a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, a box of Cuticura, and a cake of Cuticura Soap, and used them constantly day and night. After using two bottles of Resolvent, four boxes of Cuticura and four cakes of Soap, we are perfectly cured without a scar. My boy's skin is now like satin.

CAMELLINE

FOR PRESERVING AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION

Originally a California discovery, CAMELLINE has, wherever known, speedily superceded the "Creams," "Balms," "Blooms," and Powders for the reason that in place of the unnatural hue thus obtained, it imparts to the complexion that youthful and glowing appearance so much sought and admired, and, unlike them, when properly used, the closest inspection fails to reveal any application; yet all traces of sunburns and other cutaneous defects are removed, and the skin regains that softness and purity of color so rarely possessed by adults, but so valued by every lady, and so quickly noised by observers of sterner mind. It is as evidence of the increasing intelligence of the times that the popularity of CAMELLINE is not due—easy to its cause and efficacy, but in part to the fact that it is the only preparation for the complexion which is harmless, and commands scientific approval from physicians. It is now generally known that cosmetics usually contain lead, mercury and other poisons, which in time RUIN THE COMPLEXION, and, being absorbed through the skin, frequently produce paralysis, etc., while the medical journals report many serious and several fatal cases of poisoning from these sources. No lady, therefore, can safely continue the use of any cosmetic without the sanction of the medical profession; we, therefore, publish the following certificate from a large number of prominent physicians:

"The undersigned physicians of San Francisco are familiar with the composition of the principle articles used for the complexion, and certify that CAMELLINE is harmless and free from all injurious or poisonous substances:

"H. H. Toland, M. D., Dean Toland, Medical College; George F. Cooper, M. D., Medical Director U. S. A.; J. C. Shorb, M. D., Member Board of Health; Isaac S. Titus, M. Office of GALE & BLOCKI, Druggists, Chicago.

It being our policy to be always watchful for any improvement which may be of value to our patrons, we now take pleasure in adding our testimony to the merits of CAMELLINE for Preserving and Beautifying the complexion. CAMELLINE, as prepared by WAKELEE & CO, the principal Chemists of San Francisco, was observed by our senior partner while recently in California. It is the only liquid for the complexion, having the sanction of the medical profession as harmless while it is surprisingly effective for the purpose intended. Faithfully yours, GALE & BLOCKI.

New York. CASWELL, MASSEY & Co., Chemists and Druggists. Newport, R. I. 1117 Broadway, 578 Fifth Avenue. 167 Thames street, Bellevue Avenue.

It is well known that many who consider the liquid preparations for the complexion to be more suitable than the powders, are deterred from using the former by the fear that all contain lead, mercury, or some other poison.

CAMELLINE, for the complexion, prepared by Messrs Wakelee & Co., the leading Chemists of San Francisco, is the only article for the complexion which is at once efficacious, and is certified by high medical and chemical authority to be harmless and free from poison. We therefore take pleasure in stating that we now keep the CAMELLINE in stock, convinced that it merits the favor it has obtained wherever known.

CASWELL, MASSEY & Co.

While we consider this high scientific testimony to be of the first importance, yet did space permit, we would add the names of many distinguished ladies in the dramatic profession who testify to the superiority of CAMELLINE.

Emma Nevada,	Etelka Gerster,	Adelina Patti
Mary Anderson,	Mrs. Scott Siddons,	Clara Louise KeMogg.
Fanny Janaushek,	Alice Oates,	Sarah Jewett,
Fanny Davenport,	Jessie Yokes,	And Others.

PALACE HOTEL, San Francisco, March 7, 1884.

MESSRS. WAKELEE & Co.—Gentlemen: Madame Patti desires to transmit her warmest thanks for your present of CAMELLINE, of which she had heard from many lady friends. She will now have to repeat the praise of your CAMELLINE heard from all sides. Madame Patti also desires to send you her best compliments.
ADELINA PATTI.

We have, in addition, in our possession, many letters from well known society ladies, all of whom agree in testifying to the Merits of CAMELLINE; but these may well be omitted, as a single letter is only necessary to convince.]

DIRECTIONS:

FOR THE COMPLEXION.—Select either the flesh colored or white Camelline, as preferred, and after well shaking the bottle, apply it uniformly to the skin with a soft piece of linen or a small sponge, gently rubbing it till dry.

FOR SUNBURN.—Apply twice a day until relieved.

W. N. HALDEMAN

President of the great Louisville Courier-Journal Co., tells what he knows of Wintersmith's Chill Cure.

OFFICE OF THE COURIER-JOURNAL, Louisville, Ky.

Dr. Wintersmith, Sir: I waive a rule I have observed for many years, the value of your remedy prompting me to say, in reply to your request what I know of your Chill Cure. The private assurance of its efficacy I had, and the good results of its effects I had observed on Mr. R. W. Meredith, who for more than fifteen years had been foreman of my office, induced me to test it in my family. The results have been entirely satisfactory. The first case was two years' standing, in which I believe every known remedy had been tried with temporary relief—the chills returning periodically and with seemingly increased severity. Your cure broke them at once, and there has been no recurrence of them for more than six months. The other case was of a milder form, and yielded more readily to other remedies, but the chills would return at intervals, until your medicine was used, since which time, now several months, they have entirely disappeared. From the opportunity I have had to judge, I do not hesitate to express my belief that your Chill Cure is a valuable specific and performs all you promise for it.

Respectfully, W. N. HALDEMAN.

Richardson's New Method

FOR THE PIANOFORTE!

The success of this celebrated instruction book has been phenomenal.

After more than a quarter of a century of trial, amid a multitude of competitors,

RICHARDSON

Continues to bring, yearly, great credit to its publishers, and to the widow of the compiler a large and comfortable income.

More than half a million pupils have learned from its pages.

It is published with American, and also with foreign fingering.

Richardson's New Method for the Pianoforte is the most correct of instructors, having been very carefully revised, and every error eliminated.

Valuable additions have, from time to time, been made. Teachers accustomed to use Richardson need no urging to continue to do so. Young teachers in search of a reliable Instruction Book, are perfectly safe in adopting this
