LATER FROM THE BRAZOS.

The steamer Fanny arrived at New Orleans on the 26th from the Brazos, which place she left on the 20th of Jan.

A train of pack mules belonging to Dr. Wilkinson, eighty-six in number, followed in the rear of a government train, and on the 23d, when near Ceralvo, it was attacked by a Mexican band of forty men, and all the mules were driven off by the guerrillas.

The commander of the government train being informed of the loss, immediately started in pursuit with 86 Americans only.

He overtook the Mexicans, when a skirmish ensued, and they were beaten—one being killed and two wounded.

The mules were all recovered.

Capt. Louis of the Texas cavalry, was severely wounded in the late fight with the Comanche Indians.

The ships Matathias, from Boston, and the brig Deposit, have both arrived at New Orleans.—[Times—Telegraph.

☞ According to Gov. Whitcomb, of Indiana, the cause of the war is that Mexico did not pay the debt she owed Congress, and a honorable commercial creditor is furnished by the message itself. Shall Indiana have not paid the interest on her debt for five years?

CHEATING DEATH.—Gamble during the prevalence of an epidemic was in constant dread of a call from the grim messenger.—A wag hearing him at prayers one night, spoke to him in a sepulchral voice through a keyhole—"Gamble!" "Who dat?" said the affrighted darkey. "Death!" "What he want?" "Want Gamble." Blowing out his candle with a whew—"No such nigger here—dat nigger bin dead dis two or three weeks."

☞ A man down in Lynn, it is said made so many pairs of shoes in one day that it took him two days to count them! He was a smart one, but not quite equal to the one up in New Hampshire, who built so many miles of stone-wall in one day that it took him all that night and next day to get home again.—[Boston Bee.

LAUDABLE.—Parson Milton of Newburyport, an eccentric divine, was once called upon for a prayer at a Fourth of July dinner, and gave—"O Lord, deliver us from sham patriots—for Christ's sake, amen!"

ADVANTAGE OF LAW.—A young man who studied law in Conn., became acquainted with the following facts, which are very remarkable though not very singular. A farmer cut down a tree which stood so near the boundary line of his farm, that it was doubtful whether it belonged to him or his neighbor. The neighbor, however, claimed the tree, and prosecuted the man who cut it for damages. The case was continued from court to court—Time was wasted, temper soured, and temper lost, but the case was finally gained by the prosecutor. The last my friend knew of the transaction, was, the man who "gained the case" came to the lawyer's office to execute a deed of his whole farm, which he had been compelled to sell to pay his costs! Then houseless, and homeless, he could thrust his hands into his pocket and triumphantly exclaim—"I've beat him!"

☞ A large hair seal was shot on the Coronaut rocks, near Easton's beach, Newport, R. I. on Wednesday last, by Mr John C. Barker, of Middletown. It was of a grey color and weighed seventy four pounds.

Rutland, Feb. 2, 1848.

Thank you Sir.

'Come Charles, my son,' said Deacon Allsworthy, 'take one of these turkeys and carry it up to parson Moody for Thanksgiving.'

'No father, I don't do that again, I tell you.'

'What do I hear now Charles? These five-and-twenty years I have sent the parson a turkey, and Joe has carried them, and Tom, and Jerry and you—without ever refusing before. What's the matter now?'

'Why father, he never thanks me for bringing it to him; besides, he took me to task awhile ago, because I started out of meeting too soon.'

'Well son, you know it is the custom for the minister to go out before any of the congregation starts; this is done as a mark of respect.'

'Respect or not, he's nothing but a man and as for creeping for him, I won't do it.'

'Well let it all pass, and carry him the turkey, and if he don't thank you for it, I will.'

Charles shouldered the fowl, and in a short time was at the house of the minister who was seated in the parlor surrounded by a number of friends who had come to pass Thanksgiving with him. The lad entered without knocking, and bringing the turkey from his shoulder heavily upon the table, said, 'Mr Moody, there's a turkey for you; if you want it, you may have it; if you don't, I'll carry it back again.'

'I shall be very glad of it,' said the minister; 'but I think you might learn a little manners. Charles can't you do an errand better?'

'How would you have me do it?' said Charles.

'Sit down in my chair,' said the parson, 'and I will show you.'

Charles took the chair, while the divine took the turkey and left the room. He soon returned—took off his hat—made a very low bow, and said, 'Mr Moody, here is a turkey which my father sent you, and wishes you to accept as a present.'

Charles rose from his seat and took the fowl, and said to the minister, 'It is a very fine one, and I feel very grateful to your father for it.' In this and numerous other instances he has contributed to my happiness. If you will just carry it into the kitchen and return again, I will send for Mrs. Moody to give you half a dollar.'

The parson walked out of the room—his friends laughed at the joke, and made up a purse for the lad, who ever afterwards received a reward for his services.

HUMAN BROTHERHOOD.—The race of mankind would perish, did they cease to aid each other. From the time that the mother binds the child's head, till the moment that some kind assistant wipes the death-damp from the brow of the dying, we cannot exist without mutual help. All, therefore that need aid, have a right to ask it from their fellow mortals; no one who holds the power of granting cannot refuse it without guilt.—Sir W. Scott.

TO MOTHERS.—This is a first rate prescription, and we charge nothing for giving it,—albeit it is worth more than a year's subscription to our paper to every mother who has young children.

CURE FOR ILL-TEMPER.—A sensible woman of the Doctor's acquaintance (the mother of a young family) entered so far into his views upon this important subject, that she had taught her children from the earliest childhood to consider ill-humor as a disorder which was to be cured by physic. Accordingly, she had always small doses ready and the little patients when it was thought needful, took rhubarb for the crossness.—No punishment was required. Peevishness or ill-temper and rhubarb were associated in their minds always as cause and effect.

[The Doctor.

'Indemnity and Security.' In the Senate, on Wednesday, Mr. Clayton said that he had found out the meaning of these words now so frequently used. 'Indemnity for the past' means one half of Mexico; and 'Security for the future' means the other half.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.—A beautiful young girl, the daughter of highly respectable parents from the North, was discovered, disguised as a boy, on board a vessel bound for Mexico, which had gone ashore on a reef near Key West, Florida. When asked to take her turn at the pumps she disclosed her sex and romantic adventure to the captain. She had learned that her lover, to whom she had set as a pearl in her heart, was wounded in the battle, and she had made up her mind to join and nurse him to convalescence. Measures were taken by some kind people in Key West to restore her to her friends. Another beautiful instance of pure and true feminine devotion.—[Savannah Republican.

ANECDOTE OF THE LATE JUDGE DUNCAN.—Not many months before the death of this great and good man on the occasion of a dinner party at his house, at which Mr Justice Story and other eminent jurists and lawyers were present, the conversation turned upon the comparative advantage of different periods of life. Some thought that the seasons of youth and manhood were fullest of enjoyment, and others gave the preference for solid satisfaction, to the period of age. Judge Duncan did not state his opinion until he was invited to do so, and then, in that calm and benign manner for which he was remarkable, he said: "In the warm season of the year it is my delight to be in the country and every pleasant evening while I am there, I love to sit at the window and look upon some beautiful trees which grow near my house. The murmuring of the wind through the branches the gentle play of the leaves, and the flickering of light upon them, when the moon is up fill me with an indescribable pleasure. As the autumn comes on, I feel very sad to see these leaves falling one by one; but when they are all gone, I find that they were only a screen before my eyes, for I experience a new and higher satisfaction as I gaze though the naked branches at the glorious stars beyond."

THE LATE COL. RANSOM

A CARD.

The Committee of Arrangements appointed to receive and deposite in the grave the remains of Major General Truman B. Ransom, late Colonel of the Ninth Regiment U. S. A. who fell at the Battle of Chapultepec are enabled to announce to his numerous friends and the public, that the 22nd inst. is designated as the day when those remains will be received at Norwich, in this state, where his funeral will take place. They have present to all officers both of the army and militia and other friends of of the deceased, an invitation to be present and unite with them in this demonstration of their kind regards, estimation and affection for a gallant officer and an esteemed citizen.

Officers are requested to appear in uniform.

MILITARY BRAVERY.—The officer of the day at Fort Mason, in making his report after the girl had been discovered in sailors clothes, says of her—"Bill Newcomb can't serve, because he is a girl."

Sore throat, coughs, consumption, pains in various parts of the body, and other unpleasant symptoms, are the effect of catching cold.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are a delightful medicine for carrying off a cold, because they purge from the body all morbid and corrupt humors in so natural and easy a manner, that the body is relieved of every kind of suffering as if by magic. From three to six of said Indian Vegetable Pills, taken every night on going to bed, will in a short time make a perfect cure of the most obstinate cold—at the same time the blood and other blood and other fluids will be thoroughly purified, and the constitution so completely invigorated, that the body will be restored to even sounder health than before.

Beware of counterfeits of all kinds! Some are coated with sugar, others are made to resemble in outward appearance the original medicine. The safest course is to purchase from the regular agents only, one or more of whom may be found in every village and town in the state.

Gundson & Clark, of Bellevue, Ohio, Nov. 23, 1846, sent a letter to Dr G. C. Vaughn the proprietor of the celebrated Lithontriptic Mixture, the Great American Remedy, with a statement, that in the vicinity of Ohio where they do business, the article has had unprecedented sales. Nothing like it has ever appeared. People resort to it for all complaints, and its effect is always good, old cases which have baffled the skill of the medical men have yielded to it, and the faculty are using it in their practice. A large number of medical men are agents for its sale, a strong proof of the great virtues of the article. Call on agents in our paper whose names are to be found under Great American Remedy and get a pamphlet.

A Lady in Troy, N. Y., who had been given up by her physicians, sends us the following:

TROY, MAY 15, 1846.

Mr. Fowle—In October last, I took a violent cold, which settled on my lungs and produced a hacking cough, accompanied with night sweats, which reduced me very low. A few days after I was taken, I employed one of our best physicians, but received no help. I tried another but with no better success, and finally a third, still growing worse all the while. At this stage of the disease I was reduced so low as to be unable to turn myself in bed, or sit up while my bed was made. My physician finally gave me up, and said I had the consumption, and that there was no help for me. My friends advised me to try Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, but the doctor objected, said that it would only hurry me out of the world. I finally procured a bottle, and by using 3 bottles I was restored to perfect health.

Brown's Sarsaparilla and Tomato Bitters. The extensive sale of the popular bitters is the best evidence of their excellence. No other medicine approved by the faculty has had so successful a run within so short a time. They are entirely composed of vegetables, and are the most innocent and efficacious of any corrective yet offered to the afflicted. In our opinion these bitters are one of the best compounds yet offered for the cure of dyspepsia, and the long train of nervous diseases. For sale by Frederick Brown, corner of Washington and State st.

The above is only printed as a proof of the high estimation in which BROWN'S Bitters are held by every one that has seen or experienced their wonderful virtues.

There is one thing that should always be thought of that is, be sure and get the genuine. Always ask for Brown's, as that is the only original article of Sarsaparilla and Tomato.

OLD ROUGH & READY

Is yet in Town!!!

THE subscriber would inform those who do not know it, that he is still located in the Masonic Hall, opposite the store of Barrett & Son, in readiness to wait on those who choose to give him a call. He has just returned from the city with the most approved styles of Scott's American and Perry's London fashions for 1847-8, fro to which those wishing to reflect a pattern can now have an opportunity. He is very grateful to his old customers and friends for their apparent readiness to carry out the principle of "living and let live." After his long experience in the business with one of the most noted of the crooks in the country, he is confident that he can fit a man and all for boys, so as give satisfaction to his whole family and all his neighbors.
