ALL HELP IN THE RECOUNT.

Splendid Progress Made the First Day of the Police Census.

The census-taking by the police is progressing at an amazing pace, and with results far more satisfactory than had been anticipated. The policemen selected for the work are, almost to a man, thoroughly competent. The books in which the names, residences, ages and sex of citizens are inscribed present a most creditable appearance for the first day's work, and the captains of the several precincts say that the canvass in a third of the 947 election districts will be completed by to-morrow night, and by Thursday at noon fully half of the districts will have been counted.

The first day's work was very irregular in the matter of numbers, some enumerators securing as high as 600 names, while the slowest workers got from 200 to 240. Probably 400,000 people are enumerated, however, and of course the work will progress faster to-day with the gain of experience.

The enumerators experience little trouble, no one refusing information, while many of the more intelligent citizens have filled out statements of all the people in their families, thus saving much time.

The only difficulties encountered have been in tenement neighborhoods where recently arrived foreign-born residents have their abode. Interpreters have to be hunted up, and even then the process of gathering the requisite data is slow and tedious.

The forty bluecoats detailed to census work in Capt. Ryan's Twenty-first Precinct made a splendid showing. The precinct includes a colony of Bohemians, none of whom know anything of English; a colony of Italians, and a sprinkling of Poles; yet about 16,000 people were enumerated yesterday.

In Mott street two policemen enumerated Chinatown almost while one might say "Jack Robinson." They engaged Jim Baptiste as interpreter, and he procured from each Celestial his autograph and translated it for the enumerators.

On Murray Hill, and up and down the residence avenues—Lexington, Park, Madison and Fifth, and the streets between—the work was facilitated by the good-natured co-operation of the citizens.

The polyglot population of Essex street and its vicinity made more trouble than was experienced anywhere else. The people could not be made to understand the purport of the visits of the policemen, and between their fright and their instinctive opposition they made the lot of the enumerator anything but a happy one.

The same state of affairs, in a less degree, is encountered in Mulberry street and the new Little Italy in East Harlem and the Bohemian and Polish tenements in the East Eighty-sixth street precinct.

An Evening World reporter watched the work of one of Capt. Ryan's men this morning.

A meat dealer in a Second avenue block produced a series of sheets on which he tabulated the residents of the whole building, and it took three policemen about ten minutes to get the pedigree of forty-eight persons, and another ten minutes in knocking at the doors of the several families and contribute the accuracy of the butcher's tables, completed the work.

A German sausage-maker, who lived with his wife and seven children in the rear of his shore, wasted twenty-two minutes in well-intended jokes about the work, his "frau" and the "kinder."

"There is Sarah Jane, that's me; and John James, that's my husband; and Johnny, and Jane, and Annie and Mamie," rattled off a comely matron in one breath. "I'm—well put me down 32, my husband is 46, Johnny is 20, Jane, 14, Annie, 14, and Mamie is 12 years old, and bless you."

The Twenty-second Police Precinct contains more election districts than any other in the city, seventy-four enumerators being detailed from the West Forty-seventh street station.

Capt. Killilea was in good spirits this morning as he remarked to an Evening World reporter:

"Everything is going along swimmingly, and the men are making excellent progress. If any trouble was experienced in any precinct in the city it would be liable to be here; but I am glad to say that so far not a single person has objected to giving my men the information they desire.

"We haven't finished any districts yet, and probably won't for a day or two. The men are not hastily skimming over their districts—they're taking their time and making a careful, honest count."

The reporter followed an enumerating officer on Ninth avenue for some time this morning, but failed to discover any instance where information was withheld. Indeed, there was a general inclination to do everything to aid the enumerator instead of discouraging him.

And yet the officer wasn't satisfied. This was his grievance:

"I don't mind this work; in fact, I like it; but as soon as we get our supper at night we have to go back to the station-house and delay on reserve all night. That's where the rub comes in, and the men who are taking the census are beginning to realize that they haven't such a big snap after all."

The first census book was turned in at Headquarters at 10.30 o'clock to-day.

It is the record of the Fourteenth Election District of the Tenth Assembly District, in the Fourteenth Precinct.

The book was that belonging to Policeman Daniel J. Mallon. It was sent to the Mayor's office, where it was opened and found to contain 670 names.

The actual cost to the city of taking the present enumeration will be only about $500. This is for stationery and printing, and in addition to the salary of the police and clerks, which would go on just the same if no enumeration were had.

Supervisor Kenny, of the City Record, said this morning that, with so little expense incurred, it would be greatly to the interest of the city to have an annual enumeration to determine the yearly increase in population and prevent the taking of any more incomplete Federal censuses.

Another book was returned at 1 o'clock filled by Policeman George Collom, of the Fourth Precinct, who was assigned to the Third Election District of the First Assembly District. He found 700 persons resident therein.

HONORED THE DEAD ZOUAVE.

Array of Distinguished Soldiers at Gen. Duryee's Funeral.

Services at Harlem's Trinity Church and Military Burial at Greenwood.

At the church of the Holy Trinity, Lenox avenue and One Hundred and Twenty-second street, funeral services were held this forenoon over the body of Gen. Abram Duryee, the famous Zouave and ex-Colonel of the Seventh Regiment, who died Saturday of paralysis at his home on One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street at the age of seventy-six.

The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Vandewater, of St. Andrew's Church, assisted by Rev. Dr. Briggs, of St. Mark's Church, a son-in-law of Gen. Duryee, and Rev. Frank Stander, of Trinity.

The pall-bearers were Gen. H. T. Tremain, Gen. Hiram Duryee, Gen. Philip F. Viele, Col. Daniel Appleton, Col. Floyd Clarkson, Col. E. M. Crawford, Col. W. H. Ripley, Col. L. W. Winchester, Major John W. McSwayne and Edwin Brooks.

There were present, to honor the memory of the gallant zouave, Col. A. Marvin, Major Andrew Coats, Capt. Arthur F. Atkins, Capt. H. H. Whitley and Lieut. Hamilton, of the old Fifth Regiment; Gen. Geo. F. Schermerhorn, Gen. Philip Horton, Gen. Geo. A. Little, Gen. Jas. B. Fisk, Maj. H. A. Bostwick, Major Peter Brainsted, Capt. Henry Steece, Gen. F. C. Earle, of Gov. Hill's staff; Gen. Emmons Clark, Capt. Gould Clark, Lieut. Schermerhorn, Major-Gen. Fitz John Porter and Gen. Alexander Shaler, besides many other distinguished military men and many civil officials.

After the services the coffin was followed by a long procession to Greenwood Cemetery, where interment took place.

By order of Col. Daniel Appleton, officers and members of the Zouave Association were summoned to attend the funeral in citizens' dress, while Company D was ordered to report in full uniform at Greenwood Cemetery as a military escort to the coffin of the lamented soldier, and to act as a firing party to render military honors over his grave.

There were also present delegations from the Seventh Regiment Veteran Association, the Fifth Regiment Veteran Association, the Old Guard, the Association of the Army of the Potomac, the Grand Army of the Republic, the Masonic Lodges of Perfection, Joe Cook, Princes and Consistory, and the New York Historical Society, of all of which the brave old soldier was a member.

HURLED IN AIR A CORPSE.

Remarkable Tragedy at the Paterson Level Crossing.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

PATERSON, N. J., Sept. 30.—A man, believed to be George S. Appleton, of Lebanon, Pa., was struck and instantly killed by a passenger train at the dangerous Straight street crossing on the Erie road this morning.

The gates were down for a freight train when the flagman noticed a man come along Straight street and crawl under the gates. He started to go towards the rolling mill keeping his eye on the passing freight but did not notice the westbound passenger train which was fast bearing down on him.

Before he could cross the track the engine struck him throwing him ten feet into the air and over the gates and against a post bearing the sign "Look out for the locomotive."

He was killed instantly, both his legs being broken and also one of his arms.

In his pocket was found an envelope with the name George S. Appleton, and also a letter bearing the same name.

CABLE NEWS OF THE DAY.

Details of the Attempt on the Servian King's Life.

Widespread Trouble in Scotland's Iron and Steel Industries.

BERLIN, Sept. 30.—Vossische Zeitung prints a special from Belgrade, giving details of the attempt on the lives of the boy-King of Servia and his father.

Although the officials are making every effort to suppress the facts, it is ascertained that the incident occurred as the royal party were returning from a drive on Sunday afternoon.

There were two carriages, the first being occupied by the young monarch, the second by ex-King Milan. The bomb exploded under the latter vehicle, badly wrecking and tearing away the rear section.

Whether the explosive was intended for Alexander or his father seems to be a matter of doubt; but as to its being thrown, the intense excitement which it has created among the populace, and the efforts of the authorities to minimize the incident, there is none whatever.

Although no one was injured, the King's tutor, Dr. Dokitsch, who was riding in the damaged vehicle, was evidently badly frightened, as he has since resigned, saying that his life is worth more to him than his position.

Trouble in the Iron and Steel Industries in Scotland.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The Scotch iron trade is at a complete standstill, as the manufacturers have given notice to their men that they will be lockked out on the 4th prox., unless pending differences are meanwhile arranged.

The fires in a number of furnaces are already out.

Should the lockout be declared, which now seems most probable, 100,000 men will be thrown out of employment, and the consequent suffering will be intense and widespread; while shopkeepers and trade generally will be injuriously affected.

In the west of Scotland the steel foundries will also be compelled to shut down in consequence of the recent heavy advance in wages in the iron and coal industries.

It is the general opinion that these cannot be maintained, and that the decline in the price of iron and the probable drop in the quotation for coal will result disastrously for all parties.

Barn-Burning for Revenge—A German Servant Girl's Crimes.

BERLIN, Sept. 30.—An extraordinary series of incendiary fires that occurred last week in the village of Marienwerden near here has at last been accounted for.

Six of the largest farm buildings of the neighborhood having been burned, the citizens appointed vigilance committees and discovered that the incendiary was a seventeen-year-old servant named Gretchen Schultze.

Gretchen, having been found out, had appealed to the courts in vain to release her from her contract, which had become irksome to her; but not obtaining the relief sought, she took this mode of revenge.

On Sunday night she was seen coming out of the seventh barn she had ignited, with her headdress on fire.

German Artillerists Shoot Each Other Dead for Mysterious Cause.

BERLIN, Sept. 30.—At Charlottenburg, the pleasant Summer resort for Berliners, on the Spree yesterday, Albert Siegmanowski and Sergt. Bruckner, of the sixth Artillery, shot and killed each other without witnesses.

They left letters darkly hinting at some fearful crime in which each had some time said participated.

A Mining Engineer Thrown Into a Furnace by Angry Miners.

BRESLAU, Sept. 30.—Some miners at the Wolfschaft Moewke Iron Works, near Neurode, forty-six miles from here, in a spirit of revenge threw Engineer Samen into the furnace.

His charred body has been raked out, but the murderers have not yet been identified.

A German Female Spy Arrested While Sketching French Forts.

PARIS, Sept. 30.—A German female spy, dressed in male attire, has been arrested here while in the act of making drawings of the defenses of the capital.

Several plans of the principal forts around Paris were found concealed on her person.

A Prince of Roumania, Perhaps, Betrothed to a Princess of Wales.

ON THE COUNTIES' MANDAMUS.

Hearing To-day Regarding Appointment of Election Inspectors.

Mandamus proceedings, to compel the Police Commissioners to appoint County Democracy election inspectors, were returnable before Judge Lawrence, in Supreme Court Chambers, at 10.30 o'clock this morning.

Lawyer Roger Foster, who instituted the proceedings on behalf of the organization, and Joseph E. Newburger, were present to represent Police Justice Power's faction. Counsellor James D. McClelland was present to look after the interests of the Voorhis Democracy, which expects to get the inspectorships, and Assistant Corporation Counsel D. J. Dean appeared for the Police Commissioners.

At Mr. Dean's request the argument was postponed until this afternoon.

The Police Commissioners have until midnight to night to make the appointments, and it is expected that Judge Lawrence will refuse to take action.
