Hidden Beauty

In Egypt the custom is for Princesses to hide their beauty by covering the lower part of the face with a veil. In America the beauty of many of our women is hidden because of the weakness and sickness peculiar to the sex. If the Egyptian custom prevailed in this country, many sufferers would be glad to cover their premature wrinkles, their sunkencheeks, their unhealthy complexion, from the eyes of the world with the veil of the Orient.

Bradfield's Female Regulator brings out a woman's true beauty. It makes her strong and well in those organs upon which her whole general health depends. It corrects all menstrual disorders. It stops the drains of Leucorrhœa. It restores the womb to its proper place. It removes the causes of headache, backache and nervousness. It takes the poor, debilitated, weak, haggard, fading woman and puts her on her feet again, making her face beautiful by making her body well.

Druggists sell it for $1 a bottle.

PROVISIONS AGAINST FIRE.

The Restrictions to Be Enforced by the French Authorities at the Paris Exposition.

Intending exhibitors and visitors from the United States to the Paris exposition in 1900 will be interested in knowing what arrangements and regulations will be made by the French authorities against fire. The Paris exposition administration has taken all the measures possible to afford security to exhibitors and visitors against fire at the exposition. The regulations are rather voluminous, containing 36 articles distributed in six chapters. These regulations take up the openings and exits and the stairways and doors of all palaces and buildings. They regulate the width of doors and steps. All exterior doors will open in and out. Doors opening only inward must remain open constantly. Emergency doors will bear an inscription stating their purpose, and in all hallways and corridors painted arrows will indicate the direction of the exit. An emergency lighting system for night use will consist of lamps of one-candle power, bearing the distinctive red color. All wood of the framework in the buildings will be covered with an insulating coat of non-inflammable material. All stairways will be of fireproof material, the floors of all buildings, palaces, theater halls, cafes, concert rooms, exhibition places and all railings and balustrades will also be of fireproof material and before accepted will be thoroughly tested at the expense of the contractors. All decorative canvas, awnings and canvas coverings must be fireproof. All electric installation of cables, lamps, wires and conductors in the interior of the buildings must be put up under the supervision of the director of exploitation. All motive power will be admitted only under rigid conditions. The use of celluloid in lamps, globes, balloons and other fancy apparatus for lighting decoration will be forbidden. The regulations for heating and lighting provide that it can only be done by gas and electricity. The use of hydrocarbures, oils and petroleum, acetylene gas and other gases than coal gas is positively forbidden, either for heating, lighting or motive power. The construction of meeting halls, cafes, concert halls and theaters must be of fireproof material, and the theater curtains must be of iron or asbestos cloth. The lighting of such places will be exclusively by electricity. A fire service as nearly perfect as possible will be established, with a water piping and pressure sufficient for firemen's service. The administration assumes the right to enforce any measures that may be deemed necessary to insure safety.—Iron Age.

CHINESE CLOTHING.

It Is by No Means Made of the Common Blue Cloth It Looks to Be.

To wear your grandfather's coat would not seem much of an honor, but to John Chinaman it is the greatest felicity. Not only is the common-looking, shapeless blue blouse of his ancestor prized because it is his ancestor's, but because of its intrinsic value. The clothing usually worn by the Chinese is of the purest silk, and costs anywhere from $100 to $250 a suit.

As a nation the Chinese object to wearing clothing of any other kind, and centuries of experiment have taught them how best to make up the costly caterpillar thread into the most durable form. On this account the Chinese dress, though of purer material, has none of the sheen usually associated with silk, a peculiarity which has resulted in the erroneous ideas as to their composition. All the garments are made in China, and are only exported for the personal use of celestials in foreign countries.

Owing to their cost, however, they are only purchased at long intervals, each garment being of so durable a character that they are handed down to the third and even the fourth generation. Wear appears to rather improve them than otherwise, with the result that the coat of the father or grandfather often has more intrinsic value than the newer and less worn articles. Another article peculiar to the Chinese is the felt slippers they invariably wear. These are of peculiar shape, and are also imported from the native country, where the method of treating felt until it almost rivals leather for wear is kept a close secret. — Cincinnati Enquirer.

Meteors Prefer Morning.

An interesting and significant fact is that the average hourly number of meteors is only half as great in the evening as in the morning and in the evening their velocity is lower. The reason is that at sunset we have before us the point in the heavens from which we are moving in our orbital journey around the sun, while the morning we face the point toward which we are advancing; in the evening we are in the rear of the earth, at sunrise in front. This increase in the numbers and speed of the morning meteors is just what ought to happen if they are bodies moving indiscriminately in all directions under the sun's attraction, and with the velocity (about 26 miles a second) which a body would acquire in falling toward the sun from a distance very great as compared with the size of our planetary orbits.—Prof. C. A. Young, in Lippincott.

Patagonia's Future.

Dr. Moreno, the director of the La Plata museum, during a recent visit to London, gave a lecture on Patagonia, in which he declared that that country does not deserve its bad reputation. Although its present population is small and scattered, it has, he avers, a healthy soil capable of supporting a large population, and it presents a vast field for human industry. In Dr. Moreno's opinion Patagonia is a remnant of an ancient antarctic continent.—Youth's Companion.

WISCONSIN LAWMAKER.

O. A. Risum, of Pulsifer, Wis., Interviewed Regarding Dodd's Kidney Pills.

A Member of the G. A. R. and the Mystic Legion—A Man of Weight in His State—Thoroughly Endorses Dodd's Kidney Pills.

PULSIFER, Wis., Jan. 25.—Few men in this state carry more influence and respect than does Honorable O. A. Risum, ex-representative of this district in the senate assembly. Though born in Christiana, Norway, in 1835, Mr. Risum has lived in the United States for the last forty years, and is as thoroughly American as if he was American born.

Mr. Risum has seen fit to publicly endorse Dodd's Kidney Pills, and as this is more than a usually significant testimonial; emanating as it does from a man of such prominence; Mr. Risum was asked by a correspondent for particulars about his experience with this popular remedy.

"It is said that you have given your hearty indorsement to Dodd's Kidney Pills. Is that so?"

"It is," said Mr. Risum emphatically.

"That you have allowed your name to be freely used in backing up claims for the medicine."

"And why not," asked Mr. Risum. "Dodd's Kidney Pills have reached my case when all other means failed—why should I refrain from giving the public the benefit of my experience."

"There is no reason whatever," said the correspondent.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney disease," continued Representative Risum. "Nothing else would, for I tried everything that was recommended."

"You wrote the Dodd's medicine company a letter to that effect, did you not?"

"Yes," was the reply.

"Is it true that you gave permission for its publication as an advertisement for Dodd's Kidney Pills?"

"Perfectly true, and further I wrote them a second letter endorsing Dodd's Kidney Pills after having used them in my family."

Your correspondent secured a copy of this second letter which follows herewith:

WISCONSIN LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY CHAMBERS.

Dodd's Medicine Co., Buffalo. N. Y.

Gentleman—It gives me pleasure to state that I have used Dodd's Kidney Pills in my family with the greatest success and can recommend the use of them to those afflicted with kidney complaint.

Yours very truly,

O. A. RISUM.

The Way to Go to California

is in a tourist sleeper, personally conducted, via the Burlington Route. You make fast time. You see the finest scenery on the globe.

Your car is not so expensively furnished as a palace sleeper, but it is just as clean, just as comfortable, just as good to ride in—and nearly $20.00 cheaper. It has wide vestibules; Pintsch gas; high backed seats; a uniformed pullman porter; clean bedding; spacious toilet rooms; tables and a heating range. Being strongly and heavily built, it rides smoothly; is warm in winter and cool in summer.

In charge of each excursion party is an experienced excursion conductor who accompanies it right through to Los Angeles.

Cars leave Omaha, St. Joseph, Lincoln and Hastings every Thursday, arriving San Francisco following Sunday, Los Angeles Monday. Only three days from the Missouri river to the Pacific coast, including a stop-over of 1½ hours at Denver and 2½ hours at Salt Lake City—two of the most interesting cities on the continent. Do You Want a Calendar.

The biggest—and best—calendar ever issued by any American railroad is now being distributed by the Burlington Route.

It has twelve sheets, one for each month of the year. On each sheet is a striking illustration of some feature of the Burlington's service or of the territory reached by its lines—the government fast mail running at full speed; a tourist car on its way to California; engine 1591, the largest passenger engine in the world; a library car; a compartment sleeper; the Burlington station at Omaha; a dining car; a monster freight train: Estes Park, Colorado, the plunge bath at Hot Springs, South Dakota, Yellowstone Falls, etc.

The drawings from which the pictures were made are by Louis Braunhold, of Chicago, and cost several hundred dollars.

The size of the calendar is 22x28.

The dates are in big type which can be read at a distance of 50 feet. For business offices the Burlington calendar is simply invaluable.

Purchased in large quantities, the calendar costs the Burlington Route 27 cents apiece. With postage packing, etc., they represent an investment of about 35 cents. Our price is 25 cents —10 cents less than cost. Write for one; stamps will do. If it is not satisfactory, send it back and your money will be promptly refunded.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.
