—Rum made a great row at a dance in Woodford the other night. Strange this article must always be introduced just when and where it ought not to be—though it might be difficult to find a time and place exactly appropriate.

He succeeded in getting out, and on arriving home, his outside garments were frozen so stiff upon him, that it was only by the influence of a hot fire that he was enabled to disrobe himself.

—On Tuesday last the tannery of C. D. Keeler, of Vergennes, was discovered to be on fire, and for a time the loss of $100,000 in property seemed inevitable; but through the agency of the Holley Water Works, which have just been so far completed as to develop only a part of their capacity, the fire was promptly subdued, with a loss of only $6,000 to $8,000. JOHN MINOR BOTTS, whose death we announced on Saturday, was for many years one of the most prominent politicians whom Virginia gave to the service of the whig party. He acquired his chief distinction in Congress and at home in advocating the measures of that party, and in defending its interests even after it ceased to be a power in the land. His personal influence and aptness for public affairs appeared to wane with the disappearance of his political idols, and for several years past he has not been particularly fortunate in his connection with public matters. It should be said of him, however, that during the long struggle of fierce and wicked men to hasten the inevitable conflict, by the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, by legalizing the invasion of Kansas, by plunging his State into rebellion, he was faithful among the faithless, and with such a light as a Virginia politician could have, remained so to the last. His age was sixty-years.

TWO MORE PARDONS NEEDED.—The Chicago Post, commenting on Andrew Johnson's last batch of rebel pardons, thinks that two more pardons are needed to make Andy's record perfect. "Let us suggest," it says, "that he pardon, first, the men who nominated him for Vice-President, and second, those who voted for him. These are the men who feel themselves to be not only the greatest sinners of the age, but also the most bitterly repentant. Of all men, however, these are the last whom Johnson will pardon. The back seats which he promised to the rebels, he has reserved for the friends who elevated him to office."

—A daughter of Thomas Benton is now a teacher in a school in Providence. Her husband died a short time ago, leaving her and her child penniless. He was formerly a Washington clerk, and finally a dissipated secessionist. The widow was once the reigning belle of Washington.

One hunter employs about thirty men to hunt during the season, and sends the products of their guns and skill to market. Thus far he has sent upward of five hundred carcasses to New York and other cities. The price of deer meat by the carcass is from twelve to fifteen cents per pound.

—Uncle—"I dare say when I take you home again, Charlie, your mamma will have a nice present for you. What would you like best, my boy—a little brother or a little sister?" Charlie (after some consideration)—"Well, if it makes no difference to ma, I'd rather have a little pony."

WORTHY OF NOTE.—An exchange says, there is scarcely a day passes that we do not hear, either from persons coming into our office or in some other way, of the success of "Johnson's Anodyne Liniment" in the cure of coughs and colds, so prevalent about town, just now. 4t

If we can benefit the readers of the Watchman & Journal any by recommending "Parsons' Purgative Pills" to be the best anti-bilious medicine in the country, we are willing to do so. We have had about as good a chance to know as any one. 4t

THE MAMMOTH CAVE.

Extract from a Private Letter.

"We groped about for many hours in this wonderful place. I never saw anything like it. The freaks of nature displayed here are very strange, and strike the beholder with awe. But the air in some parts of the cave is close and stifling, and when we came out I found myself saddled with a terrible fever, which entirely prostrated me. The physician had never seen a case like it before, and no remedy he prescribed seemed to do the least good. My life was despaired of. Mrs. Wilson, with whom I was residing, had in the house a bottle of PLANTATION BITTERS, and she insisted I should try it, for she said she knew it to be a certain cure in all cases of fever, debility, ague, dyspepsia, &c. I had but little faith, but finally consented to try it as a last resort. In less than three hours after the first dose my fever left me; in two days I was sitting up, and before Saturday night I was as well as ever. I tell you all this that you may know how to act in any case of fever, or any similar disease. I firmly believe the PLANTATION BITTERS saved my life. * * * * * In my next I will tell you about the Cave in detail. A. J. P.

Special Notices.

CRISTADORO'S FAME

Is the Offspring of a Great Fact.

No one can think of denying that his

EXCELSIOR HAIR DYE

Brings out a finer BROWN or BLACK than any other, in a shorter time, and without injury to the hair. This is a truth as apparent as that the sun lights the earth.

Cristadoro's Hair Preservative

AND BEAUTIFIER.—The toilet, without this article, lacks its most useful attribute. Nothing is so common in this country as the falling out of the hair. The preservative prevents it. The fibres can no more loosen and drop off if this article is regularly applied night and morning, than if each were fixed in a vice. The testimony on this point is overwhelming, while the beautifying and invigorating properties of the fluid are equally well established.

Sold by Druggists, and applied by all Hair Dressers.—Manufactory No. 68 Maiden Lane. Principal Depot No. 6 Astor House. 10-19-dew

12 years afflicted with Asthma and Bronchitis—Doctors and Medicine fail to cure me—Allen's Lung Balsam cures after all others fail.

Painesville, O., Dec. 1, 1864.

Messrs. J. N. Harris & Co.

SIRS:—In taking up one of your Almanacs I read the wonderful cures by the use of Allen's Lung Balsam. I was suffering much at the time with Asthma and Bronchitis. I thought I would try a bottle of it. I did so, and was relieved in a few days so that I could sit up. I think it will cure me altogether. I am sixty-five years of age; it is now twenty-four years since I have been so afflicted, and I have been doctored by many different physicians; and I have never taken anything that has done me so much good as Allen's Balsam. As soon as I took the Balsam it relieved me and I have been getting better ever since. With much gratitude,

MRS. AMY KENNEDY.

Later from the same Lady.

Painesville, O., Jan. 6, 1865.

Gentlemen:—I cannot express the gratitude I feel. I have not felt as well for many years. I am so much better that I wanted you to know it, and I thank you many times for the benefit your medicine has been to me.

Yours with much respect,

MRS. AMY KENNEDY. 4Sow
