The importance of the Federal Occupation of Paducah, Kentucky.

The Philadelphia Bulletin gives the following facts concerning this matter:

"The town of Paducah, at the mouth of the Tennessee river, which has been a nursery and asylum for secessionists and traitors for a long time, has been occupied by Gen. Grant, with a portion of his command from Cairo. Paducah is only about 50 miles from the Tennessee border, along which the rebels have collected large numbers of troops, ready to march into Kentucky. It is a shorter distance from the towns of Columbus and Hickman, in Kentucky, which the rebels have occupied already. It is the most important town in western Kentucky, having steamboat communication with the interior and with western Tennessee, and being a sort of one-horse metropolis for the cluster of counties that fill up the space surrounded by the Tennessee, Ohio and Mississippi rivers, and the Tennessee line. These counties are all strongly infected with secessionism, and they are in the Congressional District of Henry C. Burnett, the only disunion representative from Kentucky.

"The occupation of Paducah is, therefore, a military necessity; for it is a sort of key to the region we have referred to. Besides, there is no lack of loyal Union people in Western Kentucky, who are entitled to protection from the Federal arms. If the town is fortified as it may be, it may be made a new base of operations by our Generals. An army moving from there, and co-operating with a force in boats on the Ohio and Mississippi, may hem in the Rebel forces that are in that region, and may cut off the railroad communications, by which troops and supplies have been thrown forward from Memphis and Jackson. It will be at once seen that the position is one of great consequence and if General Grant is supplied with an army large enough, not only to hold the town, but to undertake offensive operations, he may be able to strike a blow in Western Tennessee that will be as severely felt by the Rebels as the blow struck by Commodore Stringham at Hatteras."

From Gen. Rosecranz's Column.

The following extract of a letter from the New York Herald correspondent in Gen. Rosecranz's column, although not so late (Sept. 2) as telegraphic advices, conveys interesting intelligence concerning the operations of that commander

"The column is just turning in from the highway, after a weary march of twenty three miles in the dust, and the dusky hues of evening are darkening the valleys, while hundreds of busy soldiers are pitching their tents on the sod. Gen. Rosecranz has named the camp in honor of the proprietor of the land—farmer Imbsden—a Union-loving Pennsylvania Dutchman.

"We are traveling down Gauley Pike toward Sutton, and are now forty-six miles southwest of Clarksburg, having twenty-three miles before us to make Sutton—over a rugged, rutted and miry rising road.

"Rumors are as abundant as coal in Virginia hills, but I cannot command the slightest fraction of fact concerning the rebel army. Suffice it that our General is sweeping, with imposing forces, down gulches, and scaling acclivities in search of the enemy, and it is fair to presume he will not call a halt until he finds them.—General Benham moves with him to take command of a brigade which is not yet formed, and they will probably fight in conjunction if they should meet Loring, Floyd, Wise, or whoever may command the Rebels on or near the line of the James river or Kanawha pike. You will doubtless infer that our imposing force is well supported by cavalry and artillery, and I am happy to report that the army is much more efficient than that which won laurels at Rich Mountain.

"We are not yet in the enemy's country, but a day's march out of Sutton will carry us into wilds where the crack of hostile rifles is not an unusual salute to loyal troops."

President Lincoln to Gov. Magoffin.

WASHINGTON D. C., Saturday, Aug. 24, 1861

To His Excellency B. Magoffin, Governor of the State of Kentucky.

Sir: Your letter of the 19th inst., in which you "urge the removal from the limits of Kentucky of the military force now organized and in camp within that State," is received.

I may not possess full and precisely accurate knowledge upon this subject; but I believe it is true that there is a military force in camp within Kentucky, acting by authority of the United States, which force is not very large, and it is not now being augmented.

I also believe that some arms have been furnished to this force by the United States.

I also believe this force consists exclusively of Kentuckians, having their camp in the immediate vicinity of their own homes, and not assaulting or menacing any of the good people of Kentucky.

In all I have done in the premises I have acted upon the urgent solicitation of many Kentuckians, and in accordance with what I believed, and still believe, to be the wish of a majority of all the Union-loving people of Kentucky.

While I have conversed on this subject with many eminent men of Kentucky, including a large majority of her members of Congress, I do not remember that any one of them, or any other person, except your Excellency and the bearers of your Excellency's letter, has urged me to remove the military force from Kentucky or to disband it. One other very worthy citizen of Kentucky did solicit me to have the augmenting of the forces suspended for a time.

Taking all the means within my reach to form a judgment, I do not believe it is the popular wish of Kentucky that this force should be removed beyond her limits; and with this impression, I must respectfully decline to so remove it.

I most cordially sympathize with your Excellency in the wish to preserve the peace of my own native State, Kentucky; but it is with regret I search, and cannot find, in your not very short letter, any declaration or intimation that you entertain any desire for the preservation of the Federal Union.

Your ob't servant, A. LINCOLN.

MEDICAL FACULTY OF VERMONT.

The old established House of

A. M. BININGER & CO.

of 19 Broad street, New York,

ESTABLISHED IN 1778,

would call the attention of all interested in the use of PURE LIQUORS as medicine, to their unequalled stock of

PURE WINES AND LIQUORS.

We are permitted to publish the following notices and recommendations of the articles we offer,—which, in all cases will be warranted to open as represented:

BOSTON, Dec. 19, 1860.

Messrs. A. M. BININGER & Co.

Gentlemen:—I purchased, as you requested, a bottle of your "OLD LONDON DOCK GIN," as sold in the stores of this city, and have made chemical analysis of this sample. It contains 42 per cent. of absolute alcohol, with odor and flavor of Juniper berries only.

On evaporation to entire dryness, this Gin is found to contain 1 42-100 ounces of saccharine matter per gallon, and this residual matter contained nothing else.

There is no adulterating ingredients or injurious matter of any kind in this Gin, and it contains the intrinsic merits of a pure article.

Respectfully, your obedient servant,
CHAS. T. JACKSON, M. D.,
State Assayer.

BOSTON, July 29th, 1860.

Messrs. A. M. BININGER & Co., 19 Broad st., N. Y.

Gentlemen:—We have repeatedly heard our customers express a good opinion of your popular bottled liquors, and can say that we have rarely met with articles for which a steady demand has so rapidly sprung up, as they are now standard goods with druggists throughout the east.

Yours truly,
GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO.,
Druggists, Nos. 11 & 12 Marshall st., Boston.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Aug. 20, 1860.

In my opinion, the Liquors sold by A. M. BININGER & Co., No. 19, Broad street, New York, are unsurpassed in purity and reliability. I have no hesitation in recommending them in all cases where alcoholic stimulants are required.

N. H. BALLOU, M. D.

From P. O. Orvis' Drug Reporter, N. Y.

A FINE ARTICLE.—BININGER'S OLD LONDON DOCK GIN.—This Gin I find to be superior to any other bottle Gin in the market, and am rapidly introducing it in my trade.

P. D. ORVIS.

MIDDLEBURY, Vt., March 24, 1861.

A. M. BININGER & Co., New York.

Gentlemen:—I have had occasion in my practice, to use your Wheat Tonic, and have discovered that it would cure Diarrhea, even if it had assumed a chronic form.

If the intelligence is worth anything to you, I am sure it will be worth more to the public, for no family should be without it, especially in warm weather.

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D.

The House of A. M. BININGER & CO., 19 Broad Street, New York, have furnished quite a large proportion of the Liquors and Wines sold by the Town Agents in this County for the past year, and the Liquors and Wines so furnished have been pure and unadulterated and have given good satisfaction. In accordance with the laws in relation thereto, I would recommend and House to all who desire a pure article for Medicinal, Mechanical, or Chemical purposes.

HORATIO NEEDHAM,
Commissioner for Addison Co., Vt.

April 24, 1861.

From the Home Journal.

It is worthy of remark, that this venerable House have made a specialty of supplying the wants of Druggists, Physicians, and Town agents with their pure and wholesome liquors, and the fact that their list of customers embraces over four thousand Druggists, is conclusive evidence of their popularity with that respectable class of traders.

If this popular House was of recent date, and it was deemed expedient to extend its reputation by any display of public recommendation, it would be no difficult task to arrange in the most imposing forms, thousands of testimonials as to the excellence and variety of their merchandize.

From the point of its first existence, more than eighty years ago, down to the present day, this establishment has maintained its well-earned reputation, the integrity of its financial obligations remain yet untarnished, and the fidelity and promptitude with which its numerous supporters have been served, furnish the best evidence that it has suffered no diminution, and that the quality of its stamp articles have in no way been permitted to degenerate. If these considerations can be resolved into undeniable facts by that public which they have so long served, it will furnish for them sufficient encouragement to adopt as the future "coat of arms" be emblem of their native state—"Excelsior!"—"still higher."

A CANADIAN REMEDY

For Costiveness, Irregularity and Derangement of the Digestive Organs, Inducing Headache, Lassitude, Nervousness, General Prostration of the Mind and Body, Paralysis, &c.

A moment's reflection ought to convince a sensible man of the folly and danger of constantly dosing with Cathartic Medicines. The practice is pernicious and suicidal. An experience of forty years has taught me that the constantly increasing evils of indigestion are fearfully aggravated by the too free use of Cathartics. The American people are fast becoming a nation of dyspeptics by their artificial modes of life. Drastic Cathartics increase the irritability, and prostrate the strength of the digestive organs.

The Pills now offered are especially designed to allay this irritability, and at the same time to invigorate and strengthen all the functions of digestion, while they are gently laxative. They are anodyne, tonic and laxative. They are so mild and invigorating that one is not reminded by any disagreeable effects that he has taken medicine.

Business Men, Students, Professional Men, Females, and all persons leading a confined or sedentary life, should try them.

The undersigned Physicians, cheerfully certify to the high professional standing of Dr. Colby of Stanstead, one of the oldest and best Physicians, and to the excellent qualities of his "Anti-Costive and Tonic Pills," which we have used in our practice, and highly approve.

PROF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE COMPOUND OR BLOOD RENOVATOR

is precisely what its name indicates. For While pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilarating and strengthening the vital powers. It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly safe as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence soothe the weakest stomach and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects and yet it is never followed by assitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetable and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science and also by all who have suffered from debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example as the following: Consumption, Bronchitis, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Faintness, Nervous Irritability, Neuralgia, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Hypocondria, Night Sweats, Languor, Tiredness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called Female Weaknesses and Irregularities. Also, Liver Derangements or Torpidity, and Liver Complaints, Diseases of the Kidneys, Scalding or Incontinence of the Urine, or any general derangement of the Urinary Organs, Pain in the Back, Side, and between the Shoulders, predisposition to Slight Colds, Hacking and Continued Coughing, Emaciation, Difficulty of Breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say, it will not only cure the debility following Chills and Fever, but prevent all attacks arising from miasmatic influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts directly and persistently upon the biliary system, arousing the Liver to action, promoting, in fact, all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travelers should have a bottle with them, and all should take a tablespoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits, students, ministers, literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then again, the Cordial is a perfect Mother's Relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it, this Cordial is all we claim for it. Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters before it be too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often goes down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are so often mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilent, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's destorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should be always on hand in time of need. O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 market street, St. Louis, Mo. and sold by all good Druggists. Price One Dollar per Bottle.

American & Foreign Patents

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1836.)

78 State street, opposite Kilby st., Boston.

HAVING an extensive practice of upward of twenty years continues to secure Patents in the United States—also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign Works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages in securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, not possessed by, if not immeasurably superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given, prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and no SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reasons to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for unsuccessful services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legislation, mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of suiting their applications, and of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, February 8, 1859.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges
