Brighton Beach Association to Have a Free Field.

PROPHECY ON HIS HIGHNESS.

Hamilton's Heart-Troubling Feat on Reclare.

[From Last Night's Sporting Extra.]

The management of the Brighton Beach Association has decided to follow in the footsteps of the New York Jockey Club and establish a free field. This is something which the Brighton Beach people should have done long ago. The enormous crowds which visit Coney Island during July and August will no doubt take advantage of this free field and the coffers of the Club will be benefited vastly thereby. The free field at Morris Park was an unqualified success. At Brighton Beach it should prove more than successful.

Last Fall Jimmy Rowe prophesied that His Highness would prove the best two-year-old of this year. The colt was then in the Belmont Stable, and when that stable was sold at auction Dave Gideon purchased him. Yesterday His Highness won the Great Trial Stakes, with a trifle over $12,000, in a manner that stamps him as very high class, for he beat the best two-year-olds yet seen this year. Marty Bergen's magnificent riding, coupled with the gameness of the colt, made the race one of pleasing features. His Highness looked beaten at one time, and Dorotel, son of the famous Tremont, looked a sure winner. Bergen, however, worked desperately. He spurred and flogged and urged the colt in every possible way, and inch by inch he cut down Dagonet's lead, finely landing His Highness a winner by a neck. Dagonet also ran a grand race, and Twistert, though at a disadvantage in having a lightweight boy up, also deserves mention. Clayton rode the hardest race of his life on the last-named, whipping from start to finish. It was a grand race.

At a meeting of the Board of Control on Friday last the following persons were reported for license: Trainers, W. H. Moseby, C. C. Hall, M. Hogan, George Cousins, J. Henshall, George Webb; Jockeys, James Cahill, J. Clerico, James E. Woodhouse, William Kuntze, John Macauley, John Howland, John Cullen.

Hamilton on Reclare yesterday gave the backers of that mare a veritable shock. He got away last and stayed there, and at the far turn he was two lengths behind his field and apparently out of it. Then Hamilton called upon Reclare, and she went by the others like a flash and finally won in a canter. Hearts were beating fast at the far turn just the same.

Since Thursday last THE EVENING WORLD has given thirteen straight winners out of a possible twenty-four. Four straight winners were given on Tuesday, two on Saturday and three yesterday. Friday everything went wrong and only one winner was recorded. This record does not include place horses and selections made 1-2-3.

Jockey Willie Barton, a colored rider, who has been frequently seen in the saddle at the Winter tracks, was drowned while bathing in the Delaware River at Gloucester yesterday morning. Barton was riding at the Gloucester track.

Ward's riding of Fairy yesterday was very good and very bad. It was good for the reason that he saved the filly until the last minute, so as to utilize that burst of speed which she possesses, and thus won, but only by a neck. In the race he showed poor judgment, for though he got away in front he took the filly back and got so tangled up that he had to go around every other horse on the turn, thus making the filly travel further than there was any need for. Fairy is pounds better than her win yesterday shows her to be. She could have won by ten lengths.

* * *

Horses due to win and who will be worth watching are Kenwood (at best than a mile), Judge Post, San Juan, Fred Lee, Stockton, Vintage Time Lily and Hinda Dwyer.

* * *

Montana's race was a poor one yesterday, and if he was at his best he will not do for the Realization Stakes, which will be run to-morrow. Barnes worked Montana out a mile and five-eighths, the full Realization distance, but he did not do it well. At this writing, Potomac, Strathmeath and Hoodlum look the most likely of the entries for the big stakes.

* * *

Clayton won the last race with St. John yesterday by the exercise of a little tactics. St. John led into the stretch and John Cavanagh and Tammany ranged alongside of him. Clayton cutely edged St. John to the outside, carrying the other two with him and interfering with them just enough to tangle them up and rattle both Hamilton and Taral. Then he cut loose with St. John and barely won by a short head from Come to Taw, who came like a streak on the inside.

The Hudson County Jockey Club will hold its Summer meeting at Guttenburg late in August. The opening day will be Friday, Aug. 21. The Brighton Beach people and the Guttenburg management have agreed not to interfere with each other's dates. Secretary Whitehead will probably succeed in inducing many good horses to the inclosed track with well arranged programmes.

SAY SHE WAS A DEAD SHOT.

Anyhow, Mrs. Forbes's Aim at Georgie Rehorn Was True.

Remanded to Await the Result of Her Air-Gun Bullet.

An undersized young woman with a very pale face and trembling with excitement stood before Justice Divver in the Harlem Police Court this morning in answer to the charge of shooting twelve-year-old George Rehorn, of 155 East One Hundred and Twenty-third street, with an air-gun.

Mary Forbes is the prisoner's name, and she is the wife of Edward Forbes, a bartender at Sixth Avenue and Thirty-first street.

Detectives Mott and Price, who had the young woman in charge, handed the Court a statement from Dr. W. L. Tuttle, of 165 East One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street, which said that Rehorn was in a dangerous condition, and it was impossible to tell the extent of his injuries. The prisoner was, therefore, remanded.

Mrs. Forbes told this story to an EVENING WORLD reporter:

"Georgie Rehorn and a lot of other boys were making a fearful noise in front of my house. They were in a tree, in the limbs, shouting and swearing right opposite my windows.

"I have the flat one flight front. The boys wouldn't stop their racket and I got the little air gun to scare them away. I told them to leave the tree, and they did all but Rehorn.

"He continued to holler and swear, and I aimed the gun at his hat or his shoes. I didn't mean to hit him and I am very sorry that it has happened this way."

Mrs. Forbes confesses to twenty-seven years of age and says she has lived in New York but a year. She added:

"I never thought the gun was dangerous, for I bought it for my little boy, who was only eight years old last Christmas."

"But your neighbors say you pride yourself on being a 'dead shot,' and they claim you were practicing at and killing sparrows and robbing birds all day Sunday," suggested the reporter.

"I'm not a dead shot and I never killed any birds Sunday. It is not true. I called to see how little Georgie was this morning and I think he'll get around all right. The doctor told me he was hurt pretty bad, though.

"When I heard the reporter saw the injured boy he was looking quite well and in no apparent danger of death. He said:

"I was up in the tree alone at the time Mrs. Forbes said she. Harry Johnson and Jimmy McManus were on the ground.

"I had a stick and I threw at them, and had struck both McManus and Johnson. Then I believed to hey: 'If you did that to me I'd fix you.'

"She took the gun up and held it at her breast, and fired right straight at me.

"I felt a burn in my left side, and I climbed down the tree. My sister Julia, I went around to Dr. Tuttle, and he took the bullet out. It was a small buckshot."

Georgie exposed his eye and showed where the bullet entered in the upper corner of the lid, just below the brow.

The doctor said he was afraid inflammation of the brain might ensue. The eye is sightless now, but this may be because of the shock to the optic nerve.

RAN AWAY FROM HOME.

Policeman Snyder, of the East Thirty-fifth street station, at 3 o'clock this morning found a young girl wandering aimlessly about Second avenue and Thirty-second street.

He took her to the station-house where she gave her name as Nellie Smith, seventeen years old. She said she had run away from home.

Her father is Oscar P. Smith, she said, and he lives at South Orange, N. J.

The girl was taken to Police Headquarters and placed in the care of Matron Tranero. Inspector Williams talked with her this forenoon, and she told him that her name was Kate Smith and that her father's name was Peter Smith. She left home three weeks ago, she said, and had work at Newark until yesterday, when she came to the city. She has no friends here and had no money.

She says she is a runaway for running away that her parents ill-treated her. Her father's address, she said, was Church street, South Orange. He has been telegraphed for.

SAID HE WOULD KILL HIMSELF.

Alexander Weisse Disappears, After Threatening Suicide.

Alexander Weisse, an advertising agent of the Deutsche Herold, is missing, and his friends fear that he has killed himself.

He lived at 67 East Third street, in a flat occupied by Leopold Basch and family. He was last seen Saturday afternoon, when he left the Cosmopolitan Hotel, South Beach, with a woman.

Yesterday several friends of Weisse received letters from the latter stating his intention to quit this life.

BATTERY PARK AND THE "L."

Aldermen Vote that the Structure Should Be Removed.

Alderman Dooling to-day signed the report in favor of allowing the Manhattan Elevated Railway structure to remain in Battery Park.

His action made the report of the Railroad Committee, signed by Aldermen Harris, Terrell and Hart, a majority report, and that and the minority report were then presented to the Board.

The majority report recommended the adoption of a resolution declaring that, as the railroad only occupies about ⅞ per cent. of the area of Battery Park, and such railroad being the only means of connection of the west side of the city with the south ferry and the public commerce in the transportation of passengers, renders such structure essential, while the use of the public park for railroad purposes can only be justified by an overwhelming public necessity.

While deploring what they think the necessity for using the Battery Park by the Elevated Railroad, the resolution of the majority of the committee goes on to declare that the public interest would not be furthered by the removal of the Elevated road's structure.

The other report, signed by Aldermen Morgan, Murphy, and Brown, was in favor of the passage of the resolution of Aldermen John Morris, declaring that public parks are placed in resort for amusement, health and recreation, and that no portion of them should be used for railroad purposes.

Alderman Morgan moved to substitute the minority for the majority report and its adoption.

Alderman John Morris seconded the motion.

Alderman Flynn spoke against the adoption of the majority report.

Alderman Hairvie made a long speech in support of his report, followed by Alderman Bailey, of Harlem, also in favor of the majority report.

Alderman Brown declared that the resolution should instruct the Park Commissioners to allow the permit under which the Elevated Railway occupies the Park.

Alderman Morgan, in supporting his motion to adopt the minority report, said that the only purpose of the resolution was the declaration of a principal which should be established.

Alderman Bailey moved to amend by substituting the majority report.

This motion was lost by a vote of 8 to 10.

The affirmative votes were cast by Aldermen Bailey, Dooling, Harris, Hart, Lynch, Meehan, George R. Morris and Terrell. The negative votes were cast by President Arnold, Vice-President Noonan and Aldermen Brown, Clancy, Duffy, Fitzgerbbon, Flynn, Hammann, Meade, John Morris, Morgan, O'Beirne, Rogers, Ryder, Smith and Tait.

The minority report was then adopted by a vote of 18 to 2, Aldermen Dooling divided exactly as on the previous vote.

In explaining his vote, President Arnold said that in his opinion no person or body had a right to grant the use of park lands for railroad or any other than park purposes.

A certified copy of the adopted resolution will be sent to the Park Department and the Corporation Counsel, who will be expected to take steps looking to the removal of the L road structure from the Battery.

The Park Board has the title for revoking, on six months' notice, the permit, which was granted in 1870.

DUCKED A BOY TO DEATH.

Joe Costello Held at Stoops Ferry for a Brutal Crime.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PITTSBURGH, PA., June 30.—Joe Costello is under arrest for the peculiarly inhuman drowning of an Italian boy named Constantino Damaro, at Stoops Ferry, on the Ohio River, yesterday.

The boy was in swimming with some Americans, who began ducking the little fellow, who could not swim. Another man on the bank yelled to "drown the blanked Italian."

This man, who proved to be Costello, then entered the water and helped the boys hold the Italian under longer than before.

"One of the boys shouted: 'If you don't let him up he will be drowned.' Costello then let go, and the Italian sank to the bottom of the river."

Those who committed the crime made good their escape. The news of the drowning was soon circulated, and great crowds of people collected on the banks to aid in searching for the body.

The Italians in the neighborhood were very much excited, and it was with great difficulty that they could be kept from raising a mob to avenge the crime.

Costello was identified later by an eye-witness of the inhuman act and was locked up.

DELGRADO WANTS DIVORCE.

Mrs. Delgrado Charges That Witnesses Have Been Bought.

Perjury was alleged against some of the witnesses who testified this morning in a suit for absolute divorce by Joseph E. Delgrado, a wealthy commercial traveller, against his wife, Annie E. Delgrado, filed before Judge Cullen in the Brooklyn Supreme Court.

George Dixon, Delgrado's coachman and gardener, swore that on July 13, 1890, at 8.30 or 9 o'clock in the evening, he peeped through a window and saw Mrs. Delgrado and John Canda, alias "John the Bartender," together.

For the defense two servants said that Delgrado had paid $60 to each witness for their testimony against his wife.

Connie and Mrs. Delgrado went on the stand and denied the charges.

CITY AND STATE POLITICS.

District Schisms that Keep Tammany Leaders Awake Nights.

Rumors of Inharmonious Feelings in the Dock Board.

Though Tammany Hall's Committee of Twenty-four has declared that it is the most harmonious political body in existence, its leaders will, politicians say, find it difficult to "get together" the warring factions in the several districts.

Anti-Tammanyites say that in the First District they had not a faithful follower at the machine throughout north because the only good place given to the district recently was that of deputy sheriff, and that was given by Leader Fitzgerald to a republican county Democrat, ex-Assemblyman Daniel E. Finn.

The bitterness is intensified, because it is claimed that Finn has been promised the Assembly nomination.

In the Second District "Boy Dolan" sulks and is known to have appealed to the leadership and Police Justice Divver is not liable to forgive him.

Tim it is said, may become an independent candidate, and possibly will receive assistance from ex-Alderman William P. Kirk, who since the indictment against him was dismissed, proposes to reassert himself as a political power.

In the Third District ex-Assemblyman Monahan resents having been thrown over by Judge O'Reilly for Percival Farquhar, and is expected to have his revenge, assisted by his old county Democratic friends and the old Tammanyites who have been getting nothing since an exclusively Democrat became leader.

An upheaval is also predicted in the Fourth District if John E. Ahern receives the Tammany nomination for Sheriff.

Assemblyman Dunn will revolt, and much cannot be expected from Leader Fitzpatrick as he understands that there is a movement on foot to supersede him as leader by applicating Police Justice Hogan to its chair.

Ryan would be leader to name, but ex-Alderman Thomas Cooke, of the "Bottle Board," would be the leader for his opponents in purposes.

The Fifth District has an Assemblyman who has declared himself stronger than his leader, and who may cause trouble there if he isn't nominated for Sheriff.

Leader Lawler, ex-Alderman Patrick Farley has declared an intention to select his candidate for Assembly.

Hi-Ti Jimmy Cassidy was last night appointed Clerk of Jefferson Market Police Court, at a salary of $4,000. This place is said to be satisfactory with him, and it will be enough disappointment, it is said, to change the choice of the Tammany candidates.

The district names mentioned among those in which Tammany is in danger of losing the Wigwam's supervisory is threatened by the local fights which have developed in the district organizations.

Disonance in the Dock Board.

If rumor is correct it is not altogether a happy family which abides on that portion of Pier A set apart for the use of the Dock Board.

It seems that while James J. Phelan was the choice of Mayor Grant for Dock Commissioner, he was not the selection of Commissioner Cram, who is said to have expected to be the President of the Department, which is a section of the Tammany committee, not Commissioner Cram was not the choice of Commissioner Phelan for President, and the result is that the anti-Tammany members of the Board holds over as presiding officer.

The officers of the organization are: Chairman, John T. McCall; Vice-chairman, Samuel Nathan; Secretary, J. Holahan, and Treasurer, Thomas O'Reilly.

DOCTORS CALLED TO ACCOUNT.

The Board of Health Tired of the Delay in Reporting Births.

For some time the Board of Health has been threatened by doctors and midwives delaying to report births. The law requires that this shall be done within ten days.

At the meeting of the Board of Health to-day a resolution was passed directing the names of the physicians and midwives failing to comply with the statute be referred to the attorney of the Board with orders that action be taken.

In pursuance of this resolution a list of twenty-one doctors and sixteen midwives has been handed out, and they will be called to account.

While the neglect to report births is not a serious offence it has caused considerable inconvenience in the clerks in the Health Board, and it is deemed wise to take summary action.
