THE CALEDONIAN.

The Execution at Andersonville.

We have received from Rev. J. M. Clark, one of the delegates of the Christian Commission, the following particulars of the execution of the prisoners at Sumpter Prison who were tried and condemned by their fellow prisoners for robbery and murder. The statement is made by Leroy L. Key, who acted as chief of the police, and under whose direction the execution took place. He says:

When I arrived there were some 4000 prisoners, but the number increased till in September there were from 32,000 to 35,000. In August and September the deaths were from 75 to 125 per day.—For a time the prisoners treated each other decently, but there were some bad fellows among them. These bad men increased in number, and began a series of atrocious wrongs against their fellow prisoners.

They would decoy men into their tents with the promise of a blanket or an extra ration, or something desirable, and then rob and plunder them, and all resistance was in vain, as they had the victim fully in their power, in their own tent.

2. They would go out in a body, and meeting a man in the street, would demand of him his money, or whatever he had. If he would not give it up it was forced from him. If he resisted they would beat him so that he would die of his injuries. The surgeon declared that not less than 75 men died from this cause alone.

3. Spotting a tent in the day-time, they would go out at night five or six in number, enter the tent, and, with a knife or razor threaten the victim till he "shelled out." Some men were thus severely wounded before they would "shell out."

4. Many men traded to make a little money to get an extra ration. These "raiders," going to these petty traders, inquired of them how they got along in their business, and then demanded of them a tax, saying, "in two hours you must pay us $10, or more." If the man refused they beat him.

These things run on and became worse and worse, until we could bear it no longer. "Raiders" numbered about the 20th of June 150 or 200, and it became absolutely necessary for the other prisoners to take some measures for defense; for the raiders swore that by the 4th of July they would have every cent in camp or kill the reasers. Up to this time the Confederate authorities kept no order or discipline within the lines. I spoke to a few of my friends to organize a band of protectors against these raiders. We began to organize, and had proceeded to the formation of thirteen companies, with thirty men and a captain in each. Before the organization was complete, I was one day walking on the north side of the camp, when I saw ahead of me the chief of the raiders, and in pursuit of me five men on the "double quick," with knives in their hands. The chief slapped me on the shoulder and turned me round, saying to me: "I understand you are getting up a band to clean out the Irish." I replied: "The report is false and you are mistaken." "Well, you are getting up a band for some purpose: what is it for, if not to clean out the Irish?" Meanwhile the five men closed around us, forming a ring around Curtis and myself.

He again demanded to know the object of the band. Said I to him, boldly, "We are organizing a band to clean out the 'raiders,' and if you are one of them we intend to clean you out." They did not proceed to violence, but the leader put his knife into his left hand and with his right offered to shake hands with me. They then let me go. That night much raiding was done in camp, and we heard in various quarters the cries of men, "help, murder!" The cookhouse was on the outside of the camp, on the stream above, and men were detailed from the prisoners on parole of honor to do the cooking.—All rations were drawn into the lines of the stockade in wagons—rations of cornbread, a small piece of pork or beef; sometimes a pint of cooked beans to a man not amounting in all to enough for one meal a day. Soup was probably allowed once a week, but we did not get it oftener than once in three weeks or a month, and then it was nothing but a little grease on a chip.

The condition of the prisoners was relieved by the arrival of some men captured at Plymouth, who had just been paid off, and who brought into camp thousands of dollars. By trading and bartering round, most of the men got some of this money. I regard it as an act of a merciful Providence that those men were captured and sent to Sumpter Prison, for otherwise many more men must have died from starvation.

The day after Curtis stopped me in the street word came that no more rations would be sent into camp until we delivered up the raiders into the hands of the rebel authorities; for they had raided upon the wagons, and had stolen the rations belonging to a detachment on the south side of the camp. We then perfected the organization of our band, and commenced seeking for and arresting the raiders. We laid hold of 150 or 200 men, who were known to be engaged in raiding, and turned them over. Out of this number, the worst cases, twenty in all, were retained outside the camp under guard, and the rest returned within the stockade. The arrests within were continued, until the number of bad cases sent out was about 100. Capt. Werz selected twenty-four Sergeants from those that knew most of the matters in dispute, and out of this number appointed twelve jurymen and a judge advocate. The attorneys on both sides were appointed by the Judge Advocate, whose name was Peter McCullar, of the 8th Missouri.

The accused had a fair and just trial, and eleven men were proved guilty, but the chief criminality laid upon six men, of whom Curtis was the leader. These men were sentenced to be hung, and Gen. Winder approved of the sentence, and ordered me to erect a scaffold and superintend the execution. I procured the lumber where I was directed, and with a detail of men erected the scaffold and made all ready. The time fixed for the execution was Monday, 1 o'clock P. M., July 11, 1864. When the men were brought in and turned over to us, Capt. Werz took his guards outside and left the prisoners, the convicted criminals, in our charge. My guards were armed with a stout club, fastened to the right wrist by a cord.—Six men were appointed executioners, and each took his stand upon the stage behind the criminal.

Most of the criminals were Roman Catholics, and a Priest came in to attend them. He requested us to have mercy upon the men, and earnestly plead for them: and after he got through Curtis asked me to spare him as he had never done me any harm. I told him it was not for me to pardon him. I was appointed to see that the men were hung: but if he had anything to say, I would hear his confession on the scaffold. Then he said he would not stand it, and made a break for the lines, and ran about the camp until he was recaptured. He was brought back perfectly exhausted.

While Curtis was absent, the other criminals were taken on to the scaffold, and the ropes placed around their necks, the executioners standing behind them. Immediately after Curtis was brought back, he was delivered to his executioner, and taken on to the scaffold likewise. No confessions were made, but the men disposed of their property, and Curtis gave his watch to the priest, Father Whalen.

A vast number of the 33,000 prisoners of war were assembled around the scaffold. At length the order was given to pull the trigger, when five of them swung off and met their death. One rope broke and the prisoner was injured by the fall. He was brought up again, the rope adjusted, and as the drop was disarranged he was pushed off and met his death.

This terrible example put an end to raiding, and the prisoners were no more troubled with the assaults and depredations of the high-handed scoundrels.—There was, however, a large number of men who disapproved of the trial and execution, from whom trouble was anticipated, and it was feared that at execution a crowd would arise and attempt to rescue the criminals. A stillness as of death pervaded, and it seemed as if the influence of a breath of wind would have let loose the sympathizers with the raiders, and prevented the execution. But the deed of terrible justice was triumphantly completed. The chief of police and executioners were immediately removed beyond the lines, and a new chief of police appointed.

Border Excitement.

Our citizens were again considerably excited by reports that a son of Mr. J. P. Wilson, residing on St. Albans Point, was fired at twice, about eight o'clock this morning. The young man went out about 8 or 9 A. M., to examine some mink traps on the edge of an extensive marsh, about a mile from home. While thus engaged he was startled by the report of a gun, a bullet at the same instant cutting his clothes across the breast. Turning he saw the smoke of the charge issuing from an old building, formerly used as a potatoe storehouse, and supposing his brother was playing a trick on him, to frighten him, called out, "to be careful." At the same instant came another ball, which striking the limb of a tree, lodged in his cap.—This was getting beyond a joke, and the lad ran home. His brother and others immediately returned, and examined the place, but could find no one, though there were strong indications that some one had passed the night in the building whence the shots were fired. From what was afterwards discovered, it is thought there were at least six persons in the building.

If the wooden-legs assassins were rebel commissaries, the only probable reason for thus disclosing themselves may be found in the fact that the young man wore a sergeant's coat, and they might have supposed that the "boys in blue" were after them.—Messenger, 28th.

DR. WISTAR'S

BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY,

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR

and acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be by far the most Reliable Preparation ever introduced for the RELIEF and CURE of all

LUNG COMPLAINTS.

This well known remedy is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years, and when resorted to in season, seldom fails to effect a speedy cure of Coughs, Colds Croup, Bronchitis, Influenza, Whooping-Cough, Hoarseness, Pthisis, or Soreness in the Chest and Side Bleeding at the Lungs, Liver Complaints, &c.

Its complete success in many cases of Confirmed Consumption has reversed the opinion so long entertained, that this much dreaded disease is incurable.

To those who have already made use of this Remedy, no appeal is necessary. To those who have not, we have only to refer them to the written testimonials of many of our most distinguished citizens, who have been restored to health when the expectation of being cured was indeed a "forlorn hope." We have space only for the following Reliable Testimony.

FAIRFIELD, ME., April 28, 1861.

Messrs. SETH W. FOWLE & Co,

Gentlemen—Seeing numerous certificates in the Maine Farmer endorsing the merits of that great Lung Remedy, Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, I am induced and I take great pleasure in giving publicity to the great cure it has accomplished in my family. My son, Henry A. Archer, now Postmaster at Fairfield, Somerset County, Me., was attacked with spitting of blood, cough, weakness of lungs, and general debility, so much so that our family physician declared him to have a "Seated Consumption." He was under medical treatment for a number of months, but received no benefit from it. At length I was induced to purchase one bottle of Wistar's Balsam, which benefited him so much I obtained another, which in a short time restored him to his usual state of health. I think I can safely recommend this remedy to others in like condition, for it is, I think, all it purports to be,—the Great Lung Remedy for the times.

The above statement, gentlemen, is my voluntary offering to you in favor of your Balsam, and is at your disposal.

As ever, Yours,

ANDREW ARCHER.

Clergymen, Lawyers, Singers,

and all those whose occupation requires an unusual exercise of the vocal organs, will find this the Only Remedy which will effectually and instantaneously relieve their difficulties. This remedy, unlike most others, is not only not nauseous, but is extremely PLEASANT TO TASTE.

A small quantity allowed to pass over the irritated part at once removes the difficulty.

$500 WILL BE FORFEITED

By Dr. L. Dix if failing to cure in less time than any other physician, more effectually and permanently, without restraint from occupation or fear of exposure to all weather, with safe and pleasant medicines.

SELF-ABUSE AND SOLITARY HABITS,

Their effects and consequences; special ailments and situations, incident to Married and Single Ladies; secret and delicate disorders; Mercurial affections; Eruptions and Diseases of the Skin; Ulcers of the Nose, Throat and Body; Pimples on the Face; Swellings of the Joints; Nervous ness; Constitutional and other Weaknesses in Youth, and the more advanced, at all ages, of both sexes, single or married.

DR. L. DIX'S Private Medical Office, 21 Endicott Street, Boston, Mass., is so arranged that patients never see or hear each other. Recollect that the only entrance to his office is No 21, having no connection with his residence, consequently no family interruption so that on no account can any person hesitate applying at his office.

Dr. Dix boldly asserts (and it cannot be contradicted, except by Quacks, who will say or do anything, even perjure themselves, to impose upon patients) that he is the only regular graduate physician advertising in Boston, sixteen years engaged in treatment of Special Diseases, a fact so well known to many Citizens, Hotel Proprietors, &c., that he is much recommended especially to strangers and travelers to avoid, and escape imposition of foreign and native Quacks more numerous in Boston than other large cities. Dr. L. Dix proudly refers to Professors and respectable Physicians—many of whom consult him in critical cases, because of his acknowledged skill and reputation attained through so long experience, practice and observation.

Afflicted and unfortunate be not robbed and add to your sufferings in being deceived by the lying boasts and representations false promises and pretentioned Foreign and Native Quacks who know little of the character and nature of Special diseases, and less as to their cure. Some exhibit forged diplomas of Institutions or Colleges which never existed in any part of the world; others exhibit diplomas of the dead, how obtained, unknown; not only assuming and advertising in names of those inserted in the diplomas, but to further their imposition assume names of other most celebrated physicians long since dead.—Neither be deceived by Quack Nostrum Makers, through false certificates and references, and recommendations of their medicine by the dead who cannot expose or contradict them; or who, besides, to further their imposition, copy from medical books much that is written of the qualities and effects of different herbs and plants, and ascribe all the same to their Pills, Extracts, Specifics, &c., most of which if not all, contain Mercury, because of the ancient belief of its "curing everything," but now known to "kill more than is cured," and those not killed, constitutionally injured for life.

Ignorance of Quack Doctors and Nostrum Makers,—through the ignorance of the Quack Doctor, knowing no other remedy, he relies upon mercury, and gives it to all his patients in pills, drops, &c., so the nostrum maker, equally ignorant, adds to his so-called extracts, specifics, antidotes, &c., both relying upon its effects in curing a few in a hundred, it is disseminated in various ways throughout the land; but, alas! nothing is said of the balance; some of whom die, others grow worse and are left to linger and suffer for months or years, until relieved or cured, if possible, by competent physicians.

But all Quacks are not ignorant. Notwithstanding the foregoing facts are known to some Quack Doctors and Nostrum makers, yet, regardless of the life and health of others, there are those among them who will even perjure themselves, contradicting giving mercury to their patients or that it is contained in their Nostrums, so that the "usual fee" may be obtained for professional curing, or "the dollar" or "fraction of it" may be obtained for the Nostrum. It is this that many are deceived also, and uselessly spend large amounts for experiments with quackery.

DR. L. DIX'S charges are very moderate. Communications sacredly confidential, and all may rely on him with the strictest secrecy and confidence, whatever may be the disease, condition or situation of any one, married or single.

Models made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and opinion of their advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting $1. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, of ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by any other agency, especially superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials herewith given, prove that none is more successful at the Patent Office than the subscriber; and as success is the best test of all advantages and ability, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe that such proves. That at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full records of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to secure superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure patents, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

A LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN.

☞ Just Published in a Sealed Envelope. Price 6 cts. ☜

A lecture on the Nature, Treatment and Radical cure of Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Emissions, Sexual Debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally. Nervousness, Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, resulting from Self-Abuse, &c. By Rob't J. Culverwell, M. D., Author of the "Green Book," &c

The world renowned author, in this admirable lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of self-abuse may be effectually removed without medicine, and without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings, or cordials, pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically. This lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.

Sent under seal, to any address, in a plain sealed envelope, on the receipt of 6 cents, or two postage stamps, by addressing

CANCER AND CANKER

SYRUP,

Surpasses in efficacy, and is destined to supercede all other known remedies in the treatment of those Diseases for which it is recommended.

It has cured CANCERS after the patients have been given up as incurable by many physicians.

It has cured CANKER in its worst forms, in hundreds of cases.

It has always cured SALT RHEUM when a trial has been given it, a disease that every one knows is exceedingly troublesome, and difficult to cure.

ERYSIPELAS always yields to its power, as many who have experienced its benefits do testify.

It has cured SCROFULA in hundreds of cases, many of them of the most aggravated character.

It cures KING'S EVIL.

It has cured many cases of SCALD HEAD.

TUMORS have been removed by it in repeated instances in which the removal has been pronounced impossible except by a surgical operation.

ULCERS of the most malignant type have been healed by its use.

It has cured many cases of NURSING SORE MOUTH when all other remedies have failed to benefit.

FEVER SORES of the worst kind have been cured by it.

SCURVY has been cured by it in every case in which it has been used, and they are many.

It removes WHITE SWELLING with a certainty no other medicine has.

It speedily removes from the face all BLOTCHES, PIMPLES, &c., which though not very painful, are exceedingly unpleasant to have.

It has been used in EVERY KIND OF HUMOR, and never fails to benefit the patient.

NEURALGIA, in its most distressing forms, has been cured by it when no other remedy could be found to meet the case.

It has cured JANUDICE in many severe cases.

It has proved very efficious in the treatment of PILES, an extremely painful disease.

DYSPEPSIA, which is often caused by humor, has been cured by it in numerous instances.

In FEMALE WEAKNESSES, IRREGULARITIES and diseases peculiar to that sex, it has been found a most potent remedy.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, from whatever cause, the syrup can be relied upon as a most efficient aid.

It is a most certain cure for RICKETS, a disease common to children.

Its efficacy in all diseases originating in a depraved state of the blood or other fluids of the body is unsurpassed.

Its effects upon the system are truly astonishing and almost beyond belief to one who has not witnessed them.

This Syrup will as certainly cure the diseases for which it is recommended as a trial is given it, and the cure will be permanent, as it, by its wonderfully searching power, entirely eradicates the disease from the system.

The afflicted have only to try it to become convinced of what we say in regard to it, and to find relief from their sufferings.
