The World

Published by the Press Publishing Company.

TUESDAY EVENING, JAN. 26.

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE EVENING WORLD
(Including Postage):

PER MONTH.....30c.
PER YEAR.....$3.50

Vol. 32.....No. 11,116

Entered at the Post-Office at New York as second-class matter.

BRANCH OFFICES:
WORLD UPTOWN OFFICE—1257 BROADWAY between 31st and 32d Sts., New York.
BROOKLYN—399 WASHINGTON ST. HARLEM—News Department, 149 East 125th St. Advertisements at 257 East 125th St.
PHILADELPHIA, PA.—LEDGER BUILDING, 112 SOUTH 6TH ST. WASHINGTON—610 14TH ST.
LONDON OFFICE—32 CORNHILL, TRAVELLERS' HEADQUARTERS SQUARE.

The Evening World Prints Associated Press News.

THE WORLD will not, under any circumstances, hold itself responsible for the return or safe-keeping of any rejected manuscripts or pictures, of whatever character or value. No exceptions will be made to this rule with regard to letters or inclosures. Nor will the editor enter into correspondence concerning unavailable manuscripts.

THE CHILIAN TROUBLE.

To-day has brought to waiting Americans the best news that it could bring of the Chilian trouble. It has brought the tidings that Chili acceded to the demands of the United States as regards the Matta letter, and that it agreed, in the fairest terms, to submit to arbitration the matter of the attack on the Baltimore's sailors.

Yesterday the complications with Chili had reached a point at which relations between that Republic and our own seemed strained to the utmost tension. The Executive Department had taken its furthest step in President HARRISON'S message and Secretary BLAINE'S ultimatum. The whole affair had been turned over to Congress, and with that body was to rest, subsequently, the decision between peace and war.

Even these extreme steps did not mean that there must be war. There was still left a chance for the magnanimity and forbearance of a great nation to manifest itself. And it was still the national duty to let those qualities be uppermost—to go on and on, and utterly exhaust all peaceful resources before resorting to such a use of force as would furnish even a shadow of support to a charge of bullying conduct.

To-day's news of Chili's decision to accede to the requests of the United States more than justifies the words in which moderation and patience have been urged upon those under this great Government who exhibited any leaning towards war. Yet, truth to tell, those words never needed any further justification than was afforded by the facts in the case. There has not been for a moment the time when the situation was hopeless, or when it called for a departure from methods conducive to continued peace.

The nation has waited long on Chili, it is true. But it could wait much longer, so that any prospect for a fair, peaceful adjustment were to be found, without loss either of its self-respect or its respect of other powers.

The murder committed by Annie Mitchell, who cut the throat of her former girl friend in Memphis yesterday in a public street, is one of the most singular yet put upon record. From the facts related the crime seems to have arisen purely by emotional contagion. The statement of the murderess is that she and her victim had a compact that if they were separated they should kill each other, instantaneously and then the murder. It is a shocking case indeed to the community, but a rare one to the student of strange criminal impulses.

Jesse Coy, Indiana, is dead in San Antonio. His death recall from yesterday what may be regarded as an episode in his life. On all previous occasions he had got the drop on the other man. This time it was Pardee Bolivar's turn. The dead man leaves behind him a tolerable record of bloodshed and the name of having been "roughly disposed when sober, terrible when drunk." His decease has cast no perceptible gloom over the community.

In Williamsburg Sunday night a rejected lover, out for revenge on the girl who filled him, knocked down with a slingshot a young woman who proved to be the wrong one. "It was a mistake," we will be sorry when we get." The evident duty of the court is little later will be to thoroughly convince the fellow that his mistakes begin when he established the slingshot business at all.

Dr. Brown gave the police reporters a little Chilian war talk at their annual dinner last night, right on the eve of hoodlum hot on the subject. Perhaps Congress would do the world good to decide the country's passage from an era of peacefulness and the terms of Blaine's ultimatum.

Secretary Tracy thinks he could whip Chili in thirty days. But if it were decided that the war in which we did this would have been absolutely without loss of self-respect, it would be not less a national lifetime of reparation for the bloodshed without a single battle.

A brave girl—a young Polish office seeker for employer's money from two bold robbers yesterday. It was the unexampled case of a single coward robbing two of brave.

The framers of the new Excise law can afford to make no mistake. Fettered on unjust discrimination or disregard of the just rights and customs of any portion of the public.

A word to the prudent dockkeepers: The EVENING WORLD searchlight is still in operating order.

HER WILL AND WAY.

The American Wife's Method of Enjoying Both.

By Love and Tact She Manages Her Husband.

Bright Letters from Bright Women on an Everlasting Topic.

[illegible]

Scolding or Fretting Won't Do It.

[illegible]

A Contented Woman.

[illegible]

If This Be So—

[illegible]

Tell Him Your Mistakes Yourself.

[illegible]

THE WAYS OF WOMAN FAIR.

Face, Fancies and Fashions That Delight the Gentler Sex.

[illegible]

Six Weeks

[illegible]

Hood's Pills cure Liver Ills.

CHANGES AT THE THEATRES.

"Aunt Bridget's Baby" and "A Straight Tip" Back in Town.

McKenna's Filibuster at the Columbus for Harlemites.

[illegible]

FREEZING IN A GALE.

Mercury in the City Drops to Nine Degrees.

A Gale of Sixty Miles an Hour at Sandy Hook.

Prospect that To-Morrow Will Be the Coldest of the Season.

[illegible]

Zero Weather Up the Hudson.

[illegible]

BIGGEST BALL OF THE YEAR.

Liquor Dealers Preparing for Their Annual Affair.

[illegible]

FOREIGN NEWS OF THE DAY.

Priest Robbed and Murdered by Starving Russians.

Egyptian Troops Take the Oath of Allegiance to the New Khedive.

[illegible]

Egyptian Officers Swear Allegiance to the New Khedive.

[illegible]

Option Appeals to the Farmerites for Tenant Relief Funds.

DUBLIN, Jan. 26.—Mr. Dillon has written a letter against the attempts made by the Parnellites to prevent subscriptions being made to the Fund for the benefit of evicted tenants.

There are, Mr. Dillon says, 1,000 persons who receive grants, requiring the sum of £10,000 annually. Owing to the Irish banks, however, no such sum is now on hand.

He opposes the Parnellites to start a separate fund and to enter into friendly rivalry with the Nevertheless in relieving the tenants who have been evicted.

Death of Dowager Louisa, Widow of Duke Maximilian.

MUNICH, Jan. 26.—Dowager Duchess Louisa, widow of Duke Maximilian and mother of Duke Charles Theodore, head of the ducal house of Wittelsbach, died today in this city from influenza.

Death in Rome of a Well-Known Boston Divine.

ROME, Jan. 26.—Rev. Edward B. Hayward, of Boston, Secretary of the American Peace Association, who was a delegate to the International Peace Congress recently sitting in this city, died here yesterday.

A Royal Victim of the Influenza on the Road to Recovery.

BERLIN, Jan. 26.—Prince Henry, brother of Emperor William, who has been suffering from influenza, is now convalescent, and is able to be out of doors. He is on the road to recovery.

Frankfort Bankers' Failure Affects the Berlin Bourse.

BERLIN, Jan. 26.—The Berlin Bourse was the hell over the failure of the Messrs. M. Hecht, bankers, of Frankfort.

182 GIRLS WERE IN PERIL.

Through Fire That Destroyed a Business Block in Columbus.

[illegible]

HOPE WEDDING IS A HAPPY ONE.

NEURAL PREVENTION HAD FRIGHTENED HER BABY.

DOCTORS McCOY and WILDMAN,

[illegible]

SPORTING NEWS AND NOTES.

Amateur Boxers Not in It with the M. A. C. and N. Y. A. C.

[illegible]

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

[illegible]

REORGANIZATION SALE.

[illegible]

OVERCOATS.

[illegible]

SUITS.

[illegible]

Spring Overcoats.

[illegible] $14.99

English Haberdashery Co.,
189 BROADWAY.

FROM THE WORLD OF LABOR.

[illegible]

The Latest Invention.

Patron—What's that rigging you've put on my foot?

Bootblack—That's der patent corn-indicator. Whenever I hits one wid der brush, der bell rings, and yer don't have to feel it.

A Layman's Logic.

[From the Jewelers' Weekly.]

Mrs. Lockman—I do so wonder why imitation diamonds are sold in paste.

Mr. Lockman—Don't you see over it. It is because those who buy them are generally stuck.

Might Be Saved.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

Excited Passenger (on Northern railroad)—Conductor, my wife has lost her bonnet out of the window.

Conductor—How long ago was it?

Passenger—About half an hour.

Conductor—I wish you'd look up, look out of the window and see if you can see it.

Natural History.

[From Harper's Bazar.]

Teacher—Bana, name three beasts of prey.

Bana—Two lions and a tiger.

It's All Up with dirt, when Pearline starts for it. It goes quickly, quietly and quickly, but there's no harm to anything else. Pearline washes clothes easily and cleans house thoroughly. It saves wear to the fine things, saves work with all things. Get Pearline, to get rid of dirt; you get rid of hard work, too, when you get Pearline.

Beware of imitations which are being [illegible]

JAMES PYLE, N.Y.

REAL ESTATE.

OWN A HOME NEAR THE CITY.

Holliswood and Hollis

[illegible]

HENRY C. RATH,
ELEVEN JOHN ST., N.Y.