I BLAME THEE NOT.

I blame thee not, I knew it all,
Before a glance from thee,
Could stir my heart as doth the wind
The slumber of the sea.
I know, before thy presence made,
Of this fair life a part,
Another, many a year, had been
The idol of thy heart.

I never strove to check my love,
So hopeless, but so bright,
Like some sweet star the school-boy sees,
In the far heavens at night.
I never wished to steal a look,
Or thought of thine from him,
I would not, for the world, have made,
His manly eye grow dim.

I never meant to let thee know,
God grant I never did!
How, day by day, for years, my love,
Grew stronger, yet unchid.
And though, at times, there came a thought,
That I was wronging thee,
I could not quench that star, myself,
For it was life to me.

Still hoping without hope, I loved,
Too blest, to think how fast,
The hour was stealing on me, which,
Would cloud its light. 'Tis past!
The fault was mine, I knew it all,
And yet, despite this pain,
I dare not say, but I should love,
As I have loved, again.

No matter. Southern skies will bathe
Thy cheek with glowing health,
While he, God bless him! proudly shares
Thy heart's long treasured wealth.
The bark that bears thee from the North,
With sails set for the sea,
Is fading on the misty main,
Good bye to that and thee!

OH! TELL ME NOT THAT HE FORGETS,

Oh! tell me not that he forgets,
His first and fondest vow,
That I, who was his star in youth,
Can be forgotten now.
I see he smiles—but oh! I see,
That very smile betrays,
A heart that lingers sadly o'er
The thoughts of other days.

No! tell me not that he forgets!
I know him when a boy!
'Tis false: he never can forget,
His noble heart's first joy.
I see! I see he smiles—but there!
His stern and restless eye,
Turns with a softened gaze to me—
His love can never die!

ANECDOTE OF SHERIDAN.—The following anecdote of Sheridan's vinious eloquence we had from the lips of one of the eldest surviving friends and followers of Fox, and himself a highly influential Whig of the old school. This gentleman and Sheridan had dined together at Bellamy's; and Sheridan having taken his allowance, gave his accustomed signal for a move. This signal consisted of the words "Now I shall go down and see what's doing in the House;" which in reality meant, and was always so interpreted by whoever dined in his company, 'I have drank enough; my share of the business is done, now do yours; call for the bill and pay it.' On this occasion the usual course was pursued; and the bill having been settled by Sheridan's friend, the latter, hearing that Sheridan was 'up,' felt curious to know what he could possible be at, knowing the glorious state in which he had just departed. Accordingly, he entered the house, and, to his no small astonishment, found Sheridan in a fit of most fervent oratory, thundering forth the following well-known passage,—'Give them a corrupt House of Lords; give them a venal House of Commons; give them a tyrannical prince; give them a trackling Court; and let me have but an unfettered press, and I will defy them to encroach a hair's breadth upon the liberties of England!"

VERY AGREEABLE.—'Cousin William,' said a merry mischievous young girl the other day, in our hearing; 'what do you think I heard a pretty young lady say of you?'

William blushed and looked as grave as the circumstance that a 'pretty young lady had said something of him would allow.

'I don't know—something good I hope. Who was it, Coz?'

'Shan't tell you! but it's the truth; a very pretty girl did say something about you.'

'Well, tell me what it was.'

'I shan't unless you will give me that Annual that I wanted.'

'Well, agreed—you shall have it—now tell me!'

'Well now, don't blush so—she said you were the ugliest looking man she ever laid her eyes on'—and off ran the little wretch with a merry laugh that made the house ring again.

CHANCE DEFINITIONS.—Looks—The first billetdoux of love. Happiness—A fugitive and chimerical being, which every body runs after, but no one catches. Sensibility—A gift of heaven to multiply the measurers and pains of life. Wisdom A shield that preserves its possessor from the perils with which his desires surround him. Society—A state of consent slavery in which no one lives for himself. Absence—The sister of death. Love—An egotism divided by two. Military glory—Smoke on ruins. Indifference—Absence of all sentiment, or the feeling of the worthless. Music—An universal language, which harmoniously relates the reminiscences of the heart. Honor—The soul's patrimony. Beauty—A flower smell, when no quality of the heart accompanies it.

Cream may be frozen by simply putting it into a glass vessel, and then placing the whole in an old bachelor's bosom.

It was a remark of Anacharsis, that the tongue was the same time the best part of man and his worst—that with good government none is more useful, and without it, none more mischievous.

TRUTH.—Though all the winds of doctrine were let loose upon the earth, so truth be among them we need not fear. Let her and falsehood grapple, who ever knew her to be put to the worst, in a free and open encounter?—Milton.

When Milton was blind he married a shrew.—The Duke of Buckingham called her a rose. "I am no judge of colors, (replied Milton) and it may be so, for I feel the thorns daily."

Boerhaave, says Dr. Johnson, was never soured by calumny and detraction, nor ever thought it necessary to confute them. 'For,' said he, 'they are sparks, which, if you do not blow them, will go out of themselves.'

No man sees the wallet on his own back, says the old proverb, alluding to the fable of the traveller with two packs, the one before stuffed with the faults of his neighbors—the one behind with his own.

Pythagoras used to say that a wound from the tongue is worse than a wound from the sword, for the latter affects only the body, the former the spirit—the soul.

It is an excellent rule, when a man has nothing to say, to say nothing.

THANKSGIVING.—The governor of Maine has appointed Thursday, the 26th inst. as a day of annual thanksgiving.

'I'll sing you a fine old song,' as the hot water said to the tea-kettle.

TO THE PEOPLE OF VERMONT.

SINCE the publication of the Vermont Gazetter in 1824, the undersigned has constantly had in contemplation, the preperation of a new work embracing not only the Gazetteer but the natural and civil history of the State, together with such statistical tables as he should think would be generally useful for reference. He would now inform the public that he has such a work in progress and that it will probably be published in the course of the next year, unless provision is made at the next session of the Legislature for a Geological Survey of the State, in which case he may think it best to defer the publication long enough to embrace the result of that survey and thus place it immediately, within the reach of all. The work will be arranged under three general heads each of which will constitute about one third of the whole.

1. The Natural History. In this part, on addition to the geographical descriptions, climate, mineralogy, botany &c. will be given a scientific and popular account of our native quadrupeds, birds, reptiles, and fishes, and of our forest trees, accompanied in most cases by drawings. To the preperation of this part of the work he has already devoted a share of his time for several years.

2. The Civil history. This part, in addition to the History published by the undersigned in 1833, corrected and brought down to the present time, will contain a history of our College, Universities and Medical Institutions accompanied, in tabular form by the names of the members of the respective Corporations, Faculties &c. with the times of coming in and going out of office; and also a Catalogue of all who received degrees at each Institution from their going into operation down to the present time. It will also contain a complete history of all the Steam Boats, which has been on lake Champlain, and other interesting items too numerous to be mentioned here.

3. The Gazetteer. This part will be similar to the Gazetteer by the undersigned in 1824, with corrections and additions and brought down to the time of publication. It will also embrace the result of the census now taking, all the statistics required in connexion with it.

The New map to be embraced in the work, will be nearly three times the size of that in the old Gazetteer—will be engraved in the best manner upon steel, and much pains are being taken to render it more minute and accurate than any map of the State at present extent. The other engravings, consisting of plans, of villages, views of buildings, representations of animals &c. are expected to exceed two hundred. The whole work will constitute a volume of more than 500 large octavo pages, printed in double columns, on small type and paper of the best quality.

The undersigned is fully aware of the repugnance which generally exists to subscriptions for books of any kind, and of the numerous impositions upon the public by which could be prepared and published with no more than ordinary labor and expense, as would not presume to ask his fellow citizens to subscribe. But considering the great labor and expense of preparing this in addition to the cost of engravings and publishing and also that it is a State work in which every citizen has an interest; and considering, moreover, his inability to meet the expense of publishing without some previous assurance of patronage he has concluded to appeal to the confidence and partiotism of his fellow citizens by sending out papers into the several towns for the purpose of procuring subscribers for the work. Twenty five hundred subscribers is the least number which will justify him in commencing in commencing the publication but he trusts that some assurance that that number may be obtained in the fact that nearly one tenth part of that number, or about 200, have already been secured in Burlington, the only place where any effort has been made to procure subscribers, and in this town not more than half the persons who might be expected to subscribe have yet had an invitation. If published the undersigned can only promise that he will spare no pains to make it creditable to himself, to the State and to make it useful and satisfactory to his fellow citizens.

COUGH! COUGH!

Colds, Pulmonary Complaints, all diseases of the lungs; Phthisic, Whooping Cough, Bleeding at the Lungs sour stomach pain in the side, Liver Complaints, &c. Price 50 cents a bottle. The true, original and genuine Balsam of Liverwort, that has now been in use in Boston, New York and Philadelphia for the last thirteen years, with unrivalled success in curing the above diseases. It is decidedly the most popular remedy now in general use. For genuine, call for Mrs. Gardner's Balsam of Liverwort, and observe the signature of the proprietor, William Brown Chemist, 481 Washington street, Boston. As a further security against counterfits, a copy wright has been secured for the outside wrapper, entered according to Act of Congress in the Clerk's office of the District Court of Massachusetts, 1839. It is truly a vegetable preparation, and is now recommended by many of our first Physicians. For evidence of its support over all other preparations, see inside directions; Certificates from the following individuals well known in Boston. Wm. P. Harnden, conductor of the express from Boston to New York; C. Ellis, M. D. Tuns. Hawkins, Jos. Eliot, Horton; B. Brown; D. P. Woodbury, Horace Gray, Miss L. Howard; E. Williams, M. D. This article is for sale by all the Druggists in Boston; dealers supplied by the proprietor; dealers in New York or Philadelphia.

BOSTON, Aug 11, 1840.

I hereby certify that within a few years past, I have lost several friends who have been subject to coughs, colds &c. pulmonary complaints, and have also been very much troubled with a cough myself. A young man who is agent for me at New York, fell from the cars on the Boston and Worcester Railroad about four years since, while they were running at the rate of fifteen miles per hour, and received a serious injury, which caused him to bleed inwardly, daily, for a year. After much persuasion, I induced him to try Mrs. Gardner's Indian Balsam of Liverwort. He used 8 or 10 bottles, which entirely cured him; he is now as well as ever. He thinks nothing but this Balsam could have saved his life. I therefore, from experience, cheerfully recommend it to my friends and the public, for coughs, colds and all pulmonary complaints, raising of blood, &c. It is prepared and for sale by Wm. Brown, Chemist, 481 Washington street Boston.

THE HAIR! THE HAIR!! THE HAIR!!!

NO better evidence is wanting to allow the superiority of the Genuine Buffalo Oil, over other preparations, than that a number of Druggists are endeavoring to imitate it, and foisting their miserable imitations on the public, for genuine. Read advertisement Beware of Peddlars.

Genuine Buffalo Oil is fast taking the place of all other articles to promote the growth, soften and beautify the Hair; its use gives it a softness that no other article does, and causes it to curl beautifully—by free use it will darken and give the hair a satin gloss, it is highly perfumed and gives perfect satisfaction to all who have given it a trial. You will observe the signature of the proprietor, 'William Brown,' also 'Buffalo Oil,' imprinted on the bottle. In consequence of a counterfeit which has recently appeared and is now for sale, I have been persuaded to obtain a new label engraved on copper, for which I have secured a copy right, entered according to an act of Congress in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of Massachusetts. Any infringement will be dealt with according to law.

TOOTHACHE! TOOTHACHE!!

THE genuine Gall and Kreosote is a sovereign remedy for removing this troublesome pain. It has been in extensive use for the past four years, and in no case has there been the least injurious effect from its use. It is the clear Kreosote that has been so much cried out against.—Thousands can be referred to who have pronounced the Gall and Kreosote the best remedy ever invented. This article removes all smell from the breath when occasioned by defective teeth. Reference can be made in Boston, proving its efficacy, to John Putnam, M. L. Weems, J. A. Dill, N. Tolman, George Melville, F. H. Stevens, master Transportation Cars, Worcester. Prepared by Wm. Brown, Chemist, 481 Washington street, Boston. None genuine unless signed by Wm. Brown. For sale by all the Druggists in Boston. Price 25 cents—large size 50 cents.

TO THE BALD HEADED

AND OTHERS.

Does any know a neighbor or a friend who has been Bald, and whose head is now covered with fine hair?—One whose coat collar was covered with dandruff, though brushed every hour—which has now vanished entirely? Or one whose hair at early age were turning grey, who now has not a grey hair? Children whose heads were covered with scurf,—whose hair would not grow, that are now growing the fullest crops of hair? Some cases must be known to most persons. Ask them the cause, and you will be told these things have been by the use of the BALM OF COLUMBIA. Of 20 years growth is this article, its demand increasing annually some hundred per cent.—though when discovered not opposed by any thing for the same purpose, now assailed by almost numberless mushroom trash preparations that will ruin the hair if used to any extent. Can more than these facts be wanted—refer to the recommendations by a list of names of respectability, unequaled by any other article. Look to these things—by this article Stay and preserve your hair by its use, or if bald restore it. Ladies, attend to this—hundreds in fashionable life are using it as the only article really fit for the toilet. Long hair is very apt to fall out. Ladies, use the Balm of Columbia in time to save yourselves the disgrace of baldness by neglect of your persons.

It is your duty, as a moralist, to preserve the beauties of nature, with which a bountiful Creator has endowed you—use the Balm, for it will do it.

CAUTION

TO BE REMEMBERED.

Several most flagrant attempts have been made to counterfeit the true Balm of Columbia. Some of the impostors have gone so far as to counterfeit the splendid wrappers, and the Falls of Niagara, and every external mark except the name of Comstock, which they dare not forge.

To avoid impositions therefore, always look for the name of Comstock & Co. or L. S. Comstock, and never buy the article unless it has that name upon it.

Sold Wholesale and Retail, only at No. 2 Fletcher street N. Y.

From the Boston Chronicle, Jan-10.

☞ We see by an advertisement in another column that Messrs. Comstock & Co., the American Agents for Oldridge's Balm of Columbia, have deputies to sell that article in Boston and elsewhere—We know a lady of this city whose hair was so nearly gone as to expose entirely her phrenological developements, which, considering that they betokened a most amiable disposition, was not in reality very unfortunate. Nevertheless she mourned the loss of locks that she had worn, and, after a year's fruitless resort to miscalled restoratives, purchased, some months ago, a bottle or two of Oldridge's Balm, and she has now ringlets in rich profusion, glossy, and of raven blackness. We are not puffing—none of the commodity has been sent to us, and, indeed, we do not want any, for though we were obliged to wear a wig a year ago, we have now, through its virtue, hair enough, and of a passable quality, of our own.

DARING FRAUD.

The Balm of Columbia has been imitated by a notorious counterfeiter. Let it never be purchased or taken if it have the name of L. S. COMSTOCK, or the signature of COMSTOCK & Co. on a splendid wrapper. This is the only external test that will secure the public from deception.

CAUTION CIRCULAR.

☞ TO DRUGGISTS AND COUNTRY MERCHANTS Those valuable articles, OLDRIDGE'S BALM OF COLUMBIA for the Hair, and HAY'S LINIMENT for the Piles, &c., have been extensively counterfeited. Those wanting these preparations will please always write, when ordering from any other house for Comstock's articles.—The true articles have that name or signature always on the wrapper, and venders will remember that, when ordering, as the imitations are so exposed in nearly all the newspapers throughout this country, that they could not be sold, should they be so unfortunate as to get them.

Our friends throughout the Union are requested to give immediate notice, by letter should any of the counterfeits appear in their respective places. Respectfully,

ASK, INQUIRE—ASK THOSE WHO KNOW.

Those only who know by trial or immediate observation can form any idea of the effects of the perfect relief of the almost charm-like cures effected in cases of the PILES RHEUMATISM ALL SWELLINGS, AND ALL EXTERNAL PAINS, no matter how severe, by the use of Hay's Liniment Find one who has used it that will not laud it above all things ever used, and you will find—what cannot be found.

For the relief of suffering human beings who may be afflicted, I beg you to ask—ask of those who know—ask the Hon. ALFRED CONKLIN, U. S. Judge for that district, residing near Auburn; ask MATTHEW J. MYRER, Esq., Athens, N. Y.; ask Gen. DUFF GREEN, late of Washington city each of those gentlemen know of cases unconquerable by all other remedies or physicians, though tried for many years, that have been cured by use of the genuine HAYS' LINIMENT. Thousands of other persons known similar cures. We appeal to their sense of justice—their human feelings.

It is but a duty you owe to your suffering fellow beings to let this great remedy be known. Speak it then to all your friends. This will save much pain where the newspapers are not read, or where readers are incredulous, because so many worthless articles are advertised for the same purpose. To buyers we say, if all who have used it do not say it is beyond all praise, then do not take it.—The proprietor will not allow this article to be paid for unless it cures, when all the directions are fully followed. Will any one suffering refuse now to try it? If he does, he ought to be pitied more for his obstinacy than his suffering.

Mr Hays would never consent to offer this article were he not compelled by his sense of moral—of religious duty—so do all in his power for victims of distress and misery. For this purpose he would sooner devote a fortune, than secure a dollar for any worthless article.

LOOK OUT.—Some swindlers have counterfeited this article, and put it up with various devices. Do not be imposed upon. One thing only will protect you—it is the name of COMSTOCK & Co.; that name must be always on the wrapper, or you are cheated. Do not forget it.—Take this direction with you, and test by that, or never buy; for it is impossible for any other to be true or genuine. SOLOMON HAYS.

REFORMED AMERICAN PRACTICE OF MEDICINE.

TO those who are unacquainted with the system, the subscriber would inform them that the Reformed practice was instituted, and a Medical school established in the city of New York, in 1829, by W. Beach, M. D. and now President of the Reformed Medical Society of the U. States—Dr. B. established a board of professors in this school on the branches of medicine, viz. Anatomy, Physiology, Surgery, Chemistry, Materia Medica, Botany, Obstetrics, Theory and Practice of Physic, and Medical Jurisprudence, which were as scientifically taught and demonstrated as at any Medical college in the country. In this practice, no Calomel or other poisonous mineral is administered; but the Vegetable Kingdom is wholly relied on to cure or relieve the sufferings of mankind. About 1829, a grant for a College was obtained from the Legislature of Ohio, which soon went into successful operation, at Worthington in that state, and still flourishes almost without a parallel in the history of any institution. This practice has nearly in that state, supplanted the Mineral practice, as well as N. York and other States. This practice is different from all others, from the fact that it is continually improving and as diseases and climates change to a certain degree, this practice varies accordingly. Why not reform or improve the practice of medicine as well as any other art or science? The Mineral Practice has had no important improvement for half a century; and almost all vegetable practitioners of the day are very much in want of scientific knowledge in Anatomy, Surgery, etc. But the Reformed Practice embraces the good of all systems now in vogue, in this country. The subscriber is a graduate of the Reformed Practice as well as the Old School, and knows from an experience of more than eight years, that the vegetable practice is more safe and scientific than the mineral, and fully believes were the present adherents of that practice, acquainted practically with this extensive Vegetable practice, they would willingly 'as aside their minerals and common charity prompts me to say it. Dr. B. was an older student of Dr. Beach, and for more than three years in New York city had his able counsels and consultations on patients, on most every disease incident to a dense population. Unfortunately it was not so that Dr. Beach has not a rival as an author, and practitioner in America. He has had five gold medals awarded him as a medical author, from different societies, (what no other physician ever received in the country.) The improvements and discoveries that are yearly made in this reformed Medical Society by its graduates, are sent to the President and published for the benefit of themselves and community. The subscriber left New York city four years ago and located in East Bethel, and has visited patients in more than thirty towns in New Hampshire and Vermont. The undersigned has observed that families who have kept his medicines for use, seldom need a physician for advice. Dr. Hibbard has thought best to have some of his medicines kept for sale in the principal towns in this state, that the inhabitants generally might have a fair opportunity to test the superiority of these medicines for family use. Fifty cents, or one dollar, judiciously expended, may prevent a long, lingering, and perhaps fatal disorder; let it become once seated in the system, and hundreds expended may not even procure one moment of rest. The present era is an age of transition. The practice of physic, is experiment; physicians are beginning to acknowledge it, and to act upon it. They have discovered that in the treatment of disease (and there is no disease for the cure of which an all-wise Providence has not provided ample remedies in the storehouse of nature,) they must avail themselves, to be successful, of those remedies which operate in unison with the animal economy—with the arrangements of the constitution of the human system—visiting every gland, organ, and vessel, with its salutary and healthy influence. This the mineral practice cannot performs for, while one poison, mercury, for instance, may act efficaciously on a particular disease, it invariably lays the foundation for a distressing complaint, abitual weakness, nervous debility, unhealthy action of the animal organs, or a constitutional tendency to ill health continued through life, rendering the subject a burden to himself and his friends. The most respectable and intelligent physicians of the times, are adopting this mode of practice; for proof of which, we publish the following extract of a letter addressed to Dr. Hibbard, by a physician of high standing in the state of Maine.

Extract of a letter from DR. J. P. ALDEN, Belfast, Me.

DR. HIBARD:—Sir; Being somewhat acquainted with the principles of the Reformed practice, as taught in Ohio, and being fully convinced of its superior efficacy in combatting disease, I have availed myself of this, as the only means I could devise to obtain further information on the subject, and to learn on what conditions the agency for the sale of the medicine in this state can be procured. About 20 years since I received a Medical Diploma, since which, I have been established in practice in this town, and, if I am not mistaken, with as much satisfaction to my employers as generally falls to the lot of physicians in this vicinity. But however satisfactory to others, it has failed altogether in being satisfactory to myself; and if there is any system by which disease can be subdued, without, at the same time, destroying or essentially injuring the vital or and healthy action of the system, I would most willingly avail myself of it. I am of the opinion that the medicine and the practice would be favorably received in this quarter. In the treatment of disease, I have long since learned with deep regret the inefficiency of the MINERAL PRACTICE. J. P. ALDEN.

Belfast, Maine, Jan. 15, 1840.

We think it unnecessary to insert certificates relative to the efficacy of these medicines, as every individual, with a little reflection must be convinced that nature must be ASSISTED, not thwarted, counteracted, or forced, in her efforts to eradicate disease. But we insert the following selected from many, as an instance occurring in our own vicinity—others, together with a history of the practice, will be given to any person wishing.

MRS. AVERY'S CERTIFICATE.

This may certify, that Providence in his afflictions saw proper to confine me to a bed of sickness about the last of August, 1836. I was attended by two respectable physicians of the Old School practice about seven months and continually grew worse under their treatment, and not a friend or acquaintance thought it possible I could ever recover. I was even left by my last physician to die, and he informed my husband and my friends that "there was no use to send for any other physician as all had been done that could be done, and I must die in less than a week." I had heard of Dr. Hilliard, who treats on the Reformed or Vegetable Practice of Medicine, and sent for him. He did not give much encouragement but concluded to try Vegetable Medicines. At that time I was reduced so low as to be helpless. I was literally nothing but a living skeleton. I had what is generally termed a fever sore, on the left side near the back bone under the short ribs, which discharged more than a gill of greenish yellow matter daily. I had a swelling near the right hip, which subsequently broke in three places.—My lower limbs were much swelled, and I had a continued fever, which seemed would soon destroy me. My hopes were nearly blasted, till I began Dr. H.'s treatment, and from the day I took his medicines, I date the only time in my whole sickness, that I thought I was better. I am fully satisfied that if I had continued the Mineral Practice, I should have been numbered ere this with the dead! I gained rapidly in restoring my health after taking the medicine a few weeks, and I was cured of the disease about four months after taking his medicines. I sincerely hope all who are similarly afflicted will try this Mode of Practice, and I believe that no one would have cause to regret it. RUTH AVERY.

Sherburne, August 22, 1837.

This certifies that we the subscribers, neighbors and friends of Mrs. Avery, concur in the above certificate, and we recommend the use of these medicines from a knowledge of them, in case of various diseases which occurred in our neighborhood and vicinity.

DR. HIBARD would take this opportunity to inform many of those who are afflicted with Chronic diseases (stomach complaints, chronic inflamation and enlargement of the liver, and what Calomelites call fever sores, and a great many other diseases,) that the first cause was in the use of Mercury in some of its dozen forms. Candid people are fast learning the horrid effects of Mineral poisons, to produce distinct diseases, occasioned by their destructive use. More than half the rheumatisms, caries of bones, ulcers and sores, besides innumerable other diseases, in hundreds of cases that the subscriber has cured or greatly benefitted, were first produced by the use of Mercury. If any science, profession or society demands reform it is the medical.—The use of Mercury and other mineral poisons were the erroneous inventions of misled Physicians and ought to be superceded by the more consistent and older practice of a scientific vegetable practice. The world was more free from disease, before the use of minerals as medical remedies, than it has been since. Minerals have made more disease than they have cured, and the misery which they have produced, in every circle of community, ought to be an indubitable reason to spurn them from the Materia Medica. In the majority of cases, the foregoing medicines will be all that is required for family use; but in case they should not, those who will call on the undersigned, can have advice gratis, and medicines and board on the most reasonable terms—or will visit patients at a distance very reasonably.

Persons wishing to become Agents for the sale of Dr. Hibard's medicine, will apply to Haskell & Palmer, Woodstock; Wm. Howes, Chelsea, and E. H. Prentiss, Montpelier, who are authorised General Agents.
