DERANGO!

Adds Another Purse to His Credit at the Hilltop Track.

NO CONSTABLES OUT TO-DAY.

Azrael, Boyle Rhodes and Rushlight Among the Winners.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

GUTTENBURG RACE TRACK, Jan. 27.—Racing was continued at North Bergen to-day with a card that showed a slight improvement over that of yesterday.

It was genuine Winter racing in earnest, for icy blasts swept over the course with a keenness that was very penetrating and the seats in the inclosure near the stoves were in great demand.

During the interval between the races the course looked deserted. Not a person was to be seen on the grand stand or lawn.

The track was still hard as iron, yet the scratches were not numerous and a good day's sport was looked forward to.

All the horses entered in the first race came to the post, with Quibbler a favorite, on account of his good performance yesterday. Boyle Rhodes was the second choice, for what reason it was hard to say, as he had not been seen in public for some time. Prince Edward and Bob Arthur were well backed also.

Boyle Rhodes won from Bob Arthur, who pressed him closely at the end. Quibbler finished third.

The second event was a good betting affair. Maggie Beck and Xenephon were heavily backed with the former a slight favorite throughout. Yazoo was also well supported and so was Derango. Montreal was neglected.

The race was a pretty one, the field running in a close bunch and finished very close together. Derango won by a head from Maggie Beck. Yazoo finished close up.

Azrael, a red-hot favorite, saved the talent from disaster by winning the third race easily from Gladiator. Mart was a poor third.

CRUSHED IN DEATH AVENUE.

Seven Freight Cars Mangle a Man Beyond Recognition.

Seven cars of a Hudson River railway freight train passed over and crushed to death at Eleventh avenue and Thirty-second street, a little after midnight this morning, a man whose body was so terribly mangled and cut up that identification will be very difficult, thus adding another to the long list of tragedies which have given to that thoroughfare through which the railroad passes the name of Death avenue.

The train was composed of fifteen cars, drawn by locomotive No. 85, in charge of Engineer Frank Meisler, who lives at 434 Eleventh avenue. The train was in charge of Conductor Thomas McMullen, of 205 Freeman street, Brooklyn.

Persons who saw the tragedy say that the man who was killed, attempted to cross the track by climbing between two cars. In some way he slipped and fell across the rails, directly in front of the wheels.

A shout was raised to the engineer to stop the train, but before it was brought to a standstill the wheels of seven cars had ground out the man's life.

The left leg and left side were torn and mangled horribly, and innumerable other cuts and bruises were found upon the body when it was finally gotten out from under the train and taken on a stretcher to the West Thirty-seventh street police station.

The body is that of a man apparently twenty-five years old, five feet nine inches in height, with short, dark hair. He wore striped trousers, a cutaway coat, dark ulster and a velvet cap. There was nothing found in his pockets that sheds any light on his identity. A nail-punch and a bunch of keys had no name attached.

Engineer Meisler and Conductor McMullen will be arrested. The Coroner will make an investigation.

THINK GARZA IS CORNERED.

Fight to a Finish Expected on the Border To-Day.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 27.—The military authorities are confident of capturing or annihilating Garza to-day.

Moving in concert with the State troops, they believe they have Garza surrounded and think he will fight when they close in.

If so it will be a fight to a finish.

It is reported that Garza has been legally advised not to surrender to the United States, as he would be delivered to Mexico under the treaty, and that would be certain death.

CHAPMAN NOT INSANE.

Medical Experts Recommend That He Be Sent to an Inebriate Asylum.

Mrs. Cora Chapman, who was shot by her husband's nurse Herbert Searvant, called at the Adams Street Police Court, Brooklyn this morning and asked Justice Walsh to have the mental condition of her husband, who is in custody for threatening her life, examined into.

Justice Walsh referred her to the Charity Commissioners, who appointed Drs. Metcalf and O'Connell to examine Chapman.

The physicians examined Chapman in the Raymond Street Jail this afternoon, and concluded that he was not insane.

It is reported that they found that he was a victim of chloral and other similar drugs, and will recommend that he be placed in an inebriate asylum.

Myers, three miles west of Kendallville, was burned to the ground, and Marion, the eighteen-year old son of Mr. Myers, and Dr. Owens, a brother of Mrs. Myers, were sleeping in an upper room, were roasted to death. Mr. Myers, his wife and five children, barely escaped with their lives. Others who were sleeping in the upper rooms escaped by jumping from a window.

THE EVENING WORLD'S crusade in the public service has resulted in the indictment by the Grand Jury of two other dive-keepers, Tom Stevenson, proprietor of the one-time infamous "Slide" at 157 Bleecker street, and Al Davis, of the Excise Exchange.

The indictment against Stevenson was returned late yesterday afternoon, but the arrest was not made until this morning.

When the bill was handed up to him by the foreman of the Grand Jury in Part I. of the Court of General Sessions, Judge Martine at once issued a bench warrant for Stevenson's arrest. This was turned over to Police Captain Ryan, in whose precinct the "Slide" was located.

After an all-night's search Capt. Ryan located his man this morning, and succeeded in making him a prisoner.

Stevenson was taken into custody just before noon, and Capt. Ryan immediately conducted him to the District-Attorney's office.

It was decided to arraign the prisoner to plead to the indictment without delay. Stevenson sent for Gustave Hellbrung, a furniture dealer, of 145 Bleecker street, to go on his bond. When the latter arrived the dive-keeper was arraigned before Judge Martine.

The prisoner pleaded not guilty and bail was fixed in his case at $2,000, which is $1,000 more than the bail demanded for the other indicted dive-keepers.

Judge Martine accepted Hellbrung as Stevenson's surety. Deputy Assistant District-Attorney Unger drew up the bond and then the prisoner was released. Hellbrung swore that he owned the house at 73 Thompson street, valued at $15,000 and mortgaged for $5,000.

Stevenson is the thirteenth of the dive-keepers exposed by the EVENING WORLD who have been indicted.

Davis had not been arrested up to the hour of going to press.

DIVE-KEEPERS GOING.

They Are Leaving the City by the Penitentiary Route.

THE EVENING WORLD to-day adds still another to the number of dives that have been closed for good. It is that of Mr. Charles Smith, of 197 Bowery, whose license, issued in the name of Josephine Smith, was yesterday revoked by the Board of Excise. Last night Mr. Smith's entire establishment was closed tighter than a drum, a solitary light being left to show how deserted was the place.

Mr. Tom Stevenson's "Slide" at 157 Bleecker street, which has been practically dead since THE EVENING WORLD'S search-light first disclosed the awful depravity of the place, has now been officially declared defunct by the action of the Excise Board in revoking the license held by Mr. John McGrew, Mr. Stevenson's dummy.

Mr. August Guidon's "French Hotel" at 235 Sullivan street was darker and gloomier than ever last night, because of an event chronicled in THE EVENING WORLD'S Sporting Extra yesterday.

Mr. Guidon saw that it would be useless for him to stand trial on the charge of keeping a disorderly house, so yesterday he pleaded guilty and threw himself upon the mercy of the Justices of Special Sessions, who promptly sentenced him to four months' imprisonment in the penitentiary, where Mr. Billy McGlory is now serving a year's sentence for a similar offense.

THE EVENING WORLD'S table now shows that two of New York's notorious dive-keepers are in the Penitentiary. Ten others with their dives tightly closed, are anxiously awaiting their fate. And all this is the direct result of this newspaper's crusade, begun and carried on in the public service.

In addition to Messrs. Stahlin, Guidon and Stevenson, these persons still kept their dens tightly closed last night:

Mr. Alfred Davis, "Excise Exchange," 356 Bowery; Mr. Louis Walthers, 285 Bowery; Mr. John H. McGurk, 255 Bowery; Mr. John J. McAleer, 299 Bowery; Mr. Paul McCarthy, 327 Bowery; Mr. Jim Sullivan, "Farley's Hotel," 78 Third avenue; Mr. Carey Welch, "Hole in the Wall," 117 Fourth avenue; Mr. Tom Gould, Sixth avenue and Twenty-third street, and Mr. Dan Scribner, "Pickwick," 1347 Broadway.

To emphasize the fact that his dive is shut up Paul McCarthy last night followed Mr. Carey Welch's example and put a placard in his window which bore in large letters the single word "Closed."

Mr. Tom Gould's former basement den was last night lit up more brilliantly than usual, but 'twas for business. Inside one or two watchmen were guarding articles sold at Tom's auction yesterday and which the purchasers had been allowed to leave in the place until noon to-day for their own convenience.

Other places, whose dive annexes were tightly closed last night, were Mr. Tom McCormick's, 520 Sixth avenue; Mr. "Horsey" John Kelly's, 520 Sixth avenue; Mr. Joan Wolfers's "Universe," 52 University place; John Mahon's (Frank Stevenson's), 78 West Third street; Mr. John J. Murphy's "Metropolitan," 34 Bond street, and Simon Buttner's, 304 Bowery.

Mr. Murphy's case before the Board of Excise was yesterday postponed until next Tuesday. Mr. John Wolfers's case comes before the Board Friday at 3 P. M. His back room was again lit up last night, but no women were admitted, and the few men who entered the saloon remained in the barroom.

Mr. Louis Stajer and Mr. Ignatz Buttner kept their "concert halls" wide open again last night. There were fewer victims than ever, and even the attendance of harpies was rather slim. Indeed, it was a very bad night for the latter. The terrible cold and the cutting wind that seemed to blow from every direction kept most of these unfortunates under cover.

RUMORED SHOOTING OF EGAN.

Unconfirmed Report Probably Started to Influence Stocks.

A rumor reached New York this afternoon, by way of Boston, that Minister Egan had been shot in Chili.

Nothing had been heard of the shooting at Washington and the rumor utterly lacked confirmation elsewhere.

W. R. Grace & Co., in direct communication with Chili, received a cablegram at about 3 o'clock which said nothing of the shooting.

The report was probably started to influence the stock market.

MR. BLAIR AND THE CHINESE.

The Senate Asks the President for Facts About That Case.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—In the Senate to-day Mr. Morgan offered a resolution directing the Secretary of State to send to the Senate copies of the correspondence with the Chinese Government relating to the non-acceptance of Henry W. Blair as United States Minister to China.

Mr. Hoar suggested that the resolution should request the President to furnish the correspondence if in his judgment not inconsistent with the public welfare.

Mr. Morgan did not agree with Mr. Hoar on that point. He merely wanted to know the objections asserted against Mr. Blair by the Chinese Government and the action taken by the Government of the United States.

Mr. Blair had been confirmed instantly by the Senate, and so far as the Senate was concerned there had been the strongest affirmation of Mr. Blair's fitness to represent the United States Government in China or anywhere else.

The matter had lingered along for some time, and Mr. Blair had resigned the position.

In view of the question now presented (alluding to the objection of the Chilian Government to Mr. Egan) it was important to know what was the established line of procedure on the part of the Government of the United States. There was no more important question connected with the diplomatic service.

Mr. Hoar would have no objection to the resolution as offered if the transaction to which it alluded was a completed one, but he did not understand that it was.

The attitude of the Chinese Government might yet be changed and the publication of what had been already said by its representative might interfere with that change.

It seemed to him, therefore, that the Senate should pursue the usual course of requesting the President to furnish the correspondence if he deemed it not incompatible with the public interests.

The resolution was so modified and agreed to.

MINISTER REID COMING HOME.

Rumors that He Will Resign the Mission to France.

The announcement that Whitelaw Reid, United States Minister to France, will return to New York next month, has led to the rumor that he will resign his post and resume editorial work.

In Washington the story of his proposed resignation is generally believed, and it is said that Minister Reid has already advised the State Department of his intention to resign.

Donald Nicholson, who is in editorial control of the Tribune in Mr. Reid's absence, said to-day that he has no information that Mr. Reid has resigned or intends to resign his post at Paris.

Some close friends of Mr. Reid affect to believe that there is no truth in the rumor.

"I know that he is expected home early in February," said one. "I understand that Mr. Reid has been granted a long leave of absence, and he will remain here attending to private business for two or three months."

MORE SMALL-POX CASES.

Three from a Single Tenement-House in Sullivan Street.

Donato Pellegrini, aged twenty-five, an Italian living in the tenement-house at 135 Mott street, was found to be suffering from the small-pox in its worst form, and was removed to North Brother's Island by the Board of Health.

Peter Schmidt, a German, was removed from 141 Sullivan street, being the third small-pox victim in that house.

War Feeling Thoroughly Stamped Out at Washington.

President May Be Asked to Take Congress Into His Confidence.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The Chilian situation has vastly improved since early yesterday afternoon. The situation is now bright, and what prospect there was for war it is understood is now dispelled.

The first cable message received by the President from Minister Egan was not, in all respects, satisfactory.

It was lacking in fullness, and there were many things in it requiring additional elucidation.

Another and later despatch has now been received and its contents are such as to leave nothing for Congress to do with regard to the President's message.

It not only confirms all that has been said in the Associated Press despatches, but goes further and is couched in the most friendly terms.

In effect the despatch received says that the charge that the Chilians entertain a feeling of enmity toward the United States and to its flag and uniform is utterly false.

"We well remember," it says, "the time when that flag and that uniform were in Chilian ports protecting us and aiding in our struggle for independence."

Referring to the time twenty-five years ago or more when the Chilians were engaged in a war for independence.

The despatch then says that in order to show the friendly feeling entertained by the Chilians for the United States and as an evidence of their desire to do all that is possible, they are willing to leave the affair to the United States Supreme Court.

A gentleman who saw the despatch said today that the United States could not afford to proceed to lengths with a people who made such a respone as that contained in the message received.

Secretary Tracy was confined to his home to-day with a slight attack of rheumatism.

Capt. Schley, the commander of the Baltimore, who had a conference with the Secretary yesterday afternoon and later with the President, said this morning that it would be improper for him to make any statements.

Lieut. Mecrea, of the Baltimore, the officer who accompanied the men of the Baltimore to court in Valparaiso and acted as their interpreter, is also in the city. No movements of naval vessels were announced to-day.

Secretary Blaine spent some time at the State Department this afternoon, receiving diplomatic callers.

Representative Hitt, chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, called at the Department and had a chat with Assistant Secretary Wharton and later with the Secretary.

The topic of discussion was the question of submitting to Congress the reply of the Chilian government to the so-called ultimatum of the United States.

The additional correspondence will probably be sent to Congress in a few days.

Chili Said to Have Been Misled by Minister Montt.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The correspondent of the Times at Santiago de Chili to-day telegraphs that the text of Chili's reply to the ultimatum of the United States has not yet been disclosed.

The correspondent further says that until Saturday Chili, relying upon the advices received from Minister Montt as late as Friday, that pacific assurances were given him constantly by Mr. Blaine, the American secretary of State, considered that a settlement had been practically arranged, especially as Chili, through President Montt, had given counter-assurance of a friendly feeling and a desire to satisfy all reasonable demands.

Minister Montt's position, the correspondent adds, is now seriously compromised.

Fortunately for the tranquility of Chili, the entire nation places confidence in the patriotism and prudence of President Montt.

Everything in Chili remains quiet so far.

To-Day's Feeling in Washington—Debate in the Chilian Council.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Confirmation of the news of Chili's concessions to the United States was received here with expressions little different from those called out by the first intimations that such concessions had been made.

The feeling of relief is, of course, more general and positive, and outside the ranks of a few extremists there is now absolutely no war feeling.

Among those who still ache for war there is talk of "Chili's bluff," of "delay until she is ready to fight," of unsatisfactory apologies," and other imaginary points upon which belligerent argument may hang.

That the concessions are not made as a bluff is proved by the intelligence, unofficially received, of the spirited debate over them which occurred in the Chilian Chamber of Deputies and Council of State.

In the latter body, the reply to the American ultimatum was presented by Foreign Minister Periera, with the ultimatum itself, and for three hours there was a wrangle over the proposed note. The reply was finally approved by a vote of the Liberal majority, which stood with Minister Periera against the Conservatives.

In the Chamber of Deputies, it is learned, a most friendly spirit was manifested by a large majority of members towards the United States.

The movement there to make a proposal towards the restitution of harmony between the two governments was led by Deputy Jordan, who spoke feelingly of the United States as the natural protector of the smaller South American republics in the matter of expounding and enforcing the Monroe doctrine.

Senor Jordan expressed his confidence in the honor and justness of the United States and repudiated any idea that the great nation up North sought in any way to dominate the Chilians.

As to the claim that Chili's apology is insufficient, it can be stated on the best of authority that the full text of Minister Pereira's note will, when given out, show that the South American republic has given up more than the first brief tidings of her retraction could possibly indicate.

Even a Congress not so disposed as is the present body to weigh facts carefully and act with dignity and deliberation could now find nothing, it is confidentially declared, upon which to base a determination towards hostilities.

In the light of new events the movement begun in the House yesterday toward pressing President Harrison for further information may be carried further.

The delivery of the special message on Monday is openly criticised as having been premature; but since the President went so far and placed himself, practically, in an aggressive attitude, it is felt that he should now keep Congress fully in his confidence. This is judged by many members to be his safest way to avoid the serious consequences really possible through what they now consider as his too hasty utterances.

The President's doubtful position and the fact that Egan, with his ability to blunder or make mischief, is still at Santiago are the worst points in the case as it stands at this writing. However, there is little fear but that all is to come out peacefully and right, since the good sense of the country is as pronounced as its patriotism, and will make its demands as strongly felt.

Now It's Congressman Martin Who Wants All the Information.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—In the House to-day Mr. Martin, of Indiana, offered a resolution calling on the President to transmit to the House all correspondence had by him, by the Secretary of State, by the Secretary of War, by the Secretary of the Navy, by the United States Minister to Chili and by all other public officials of the United States, including officers of the United States Navy, with each other and with any public officials of Chili upon matters concerning the Republic of Chili during the Balmaceda regime and since the overthrow of that regime, as to all matters of public affairs of both the United States and Chili growing out of or connected with the existence, beginning and overthrow of the Balmacedan regime and the establishment and continuance of the present Government of Chili.

Referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Administration and Egan Arraigned by the London "Chronicle."

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The Chronicle says: "If Chili's offer of satisfaction was sent under the circumstances as reported President Harrison has been guilty of an act of most disreputable spread-eagleism. He must have known before he published his bellicose message that Chili had done all and more than was required, therefore his message was mere 'blague.'

"We confess we hesitate in coming to a conclusion so utterly disgraceful, not only to Mr. Harrison, but to the great nation that has made him the trustee of its honor and interests. We cannot believe him capable of such a mean dodge, although we are not unmindful of the dirty tricks his wire pullers played on Lord Sackville West.

"Mr. Hatch's appeal to 'rally around Harrison' reads like a bit of Mark Twain.

"The American Government needs no defense against anybody unless it be Blaine and Egan. It is quite a delusion to suppose that England cares whether or not America builds a formidably navy or incurs burdens for the purpose of vindicating Mr. Fenton, agent in Chili. Mr. Egan is not likely to be sent as Minister to England while our police want to consult him about the murder of Lord Frederick Cavendish.

"America has better settle the building of her navy as we do, with a view to the interests of the people and not to the interests of what Artemus Ward calls the 'show business' of the outgoing President and disappointed envoy.

"President Harrison's message asserts the novel doctrine of diplomacy that a band of swaggering sailors are entitled to the same redress as is an Ambassador who has been attacked.

"America is a great country, and there is no doubt but that even this glorious ass would scarcely have been forced if it was seriously prepared to push the ultra Monroe doctrine thus far."

WALL ST.

STOCK REPORTS.

A Slump Followed the Rumor of Egan's Death.

The Market Recovered and Prices Advanced.

Large Dealings in the Coalers and Gould Properties.

WALL STREET, Wednesday, Jan. 27.—As early London prices come lower than our closing figures last night, the local traders showed a disposition to hammer the market at the opening. Some shares yielded as much as ½ to 1 per cent., but the decline was soon checked by the appearance of heavy buying orders in the coalers.

Lackawanna & Reading, on enormous dealings, crossed 148 and 42 respectively.

Later on Western Union jorged to the front, and, on rumors that the dividend is to be increased, the stock moved up from 84¾ to 85.

The only really weak spot was Louisville & Nashville, which is still being sold by London on decreased earnings. The price touched 75, a drop of nearly 2 points from last night's quotation.

Manhattan jumped from 110¾ to 113⅛ on animated trading.

International & Great Northern trust receipts rose to 84¼ and the 1s to 123 on the announcement that the differences existing between the stock and bond holders have been amicably adjusted.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company is paying interest on its funded debt due Feb. 1.

Sterling exchange was dull and steady for shors and cable transfers, and easier for sixty-days' bills, owing to higher rates for money in London.

There was a decided pressure to sell Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, Reading, Louisville & Nashville and Western Union. Lackawanna broke from 148¼ to 147, Reading from 42¼ to 40¾, Louisville & Nashville from 76 to 74¾ and Western Union from 85 to 83⅛.

The reason advanced in the Board for the slump was that the short interest in the coalers had been forced to cover, and the reaction, therefore, was only natural.

The general list reflected somewhat in sympathy, but at the close all were higher again. Louisville, New Albany & Chicago sold up to 20⅝ a 28¾, a 20¼ on the the reported deal whereby the Company is to become the northern outlet of the Richmond Terminal system. Great Northern preferred bounded up from 119⅝ to 124. In the late dealings the whole list was firmer.

One reason given for the break was the unfounded report that Minister Patrick Egan had been shot by a mob of Chilians to-day.

The New York & New England road has engaged offices in the Corbin building.

The New Central Coal Company has declared a dividend of 1 per cent. payable March 1.

The statement of the foreign trade of the United States for December shows exports of $110,032,532, imports of $66,444,655; excess of exports, $50,487,877.

For the year 1891 exports were $970,506,282; imports, $827,312,041; excess of exports, $142,193,669. The exports for the month of December were the largest in the history of the country.

The total sales at the New York Stock Exchange to-day were 445,000 shares of listed stocks, 500,000 ounces of silver and 10,000 bbls. Pennsylvania oil.
