CAPRIVI FOR PEACE.

Said to Be Trying to Patch Up the Troubles in Germany.

Bismarck Says "The Emperor Still His Own Chancellor."

Prussian Diet Refuses to Summon Count von Zedlitz.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LONDON, March 21.—The Times Berlin correspondent says: "Far from resigning, Chancellor von Caprivi is seeking to prevent the disruption of the cabinet. He will seek to effect a compromise. The first thing to be done is to get rid, either in whole or in part, of the Education bill. Another portfolio, probably that of the Interior, can then be offered to Count Zedlitz.

"Rumors have long been current that Herr Herrfurth (Minister of the Interior) is in bad health, and only retained office at the express desire of the Emperor.

"The Education bill could be postponed till the next session of the Landtag, but it cannot be completely dropped if Count Zedlitz remains in the cabinet. The Chancellor desires to dispose of the crisis as specedily as possible. It will, therefore, be best to postpone the Education bill until the country has pronounced an opinion.

"Before the conclusion of the general elections the Chancellor could reconstruct his policy and recover from the blow his prestige has received. If the country should approve his action, the crisis should be treated simply as a null. If the verdict were adverse, a new course could be steered.

"The Empress has gone to Hubertustock to-day. It is therefore likely that the Emperor will remain there until April. The Emperor gave ill health as the reason for his not receiving Grand Duke Sergius of Russia while the latter passes through Berlin to-morrow on his way home from the Darmstadt funeral."

The Standard's Berlin correspondent says: "Count Zedlitz insists that he will resign, and is already preparing to quit his official residence. The report that Emperor William addressed him personally at Thursday's Council compelling him to resign is false."

HAMBURG, March 21.—Prince Bismarck, in the course of a speech at the Burgomaster's, where he was a guest yesterday, remarked: "You see, the Emperor is still my own Chancellor."

BERLIN, March 21.—Chancellor von Caprivi, who was yesterday summoned by Emperor William to a conference at Hubertustock, returned to Berlin at 6 o'clock last night.

The Chancellor called upon Dr. von Boetticher. Vice-President of the Prussian Council of Ministers, and conferred with him on the Ministerial crisis.

The Prussian Diet Refuses to Summon Count von Zedlitz.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

BERLIN, March 21.—The vote on the bill removing the sequestration placed by the Prussian Government upon the property of the late King George of Hanover, commonly known as the Guelph Fund bill, was opened in the Lower House of the Prussian Diet to-day. The only Minister present was Dr. Miquel, Prussian Minister of Finance.

Before the debate on the Fund bill began the House passed in its first reading the bill dealing with pensions for ecclesiastics.

Herr Richter moved to adjourn the debate on the bill, on the ground of the Cabinet crisis and the absence of Count von Zedlitz-Trutzschler, Minister of Ecclesiastical Affairs.

Dr. Miquel opposed the motion, declaring that the Ministers continued in their duties so long as they were not dismissed. He also pointed out the fact that he, a member of the Government, was present.

Herr Richter then moved that the House require the attendance of Count von Zedlitz-Trutzschler.

Both motions by Herr Richter were defeated.

DIED FROM CHLOROFORM.

An Autopsy Discloses the Cause of Janitor Lally's End.

An autopsy was made to-day on the body of Michael Lally, the porter on the Vanderbilt flats, who died yesterday while under the influence of an anæsthetic taken for the amputation of his finger.

The post-mortem examination showed that Lally's death was caused by the administering of the chloroform. The physicians who were performing the operation were Dr. Eden V. Delphey, of 330 West Fifty-ninth street, and Dr. Augustin H. Goelet, of 551 West Fifty-seventh street.

Lally got a splinter into the index finger of his right hand a couple weeks ago. It became infected, and finally gangrene set in, and it was found necessary to amputate it.

When the chloroform was first administered Lally struggled hard. In effect, he he ceased breathing. His relatives were all put out of the room by the two doctors, who then worked over the body for half an hour without being able to resuscitate it.

Dr. Delphey is a graduate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the Class of '85, and Dr. Goelet graduated from Bellevue in 1874. They say that Lally's death is one of those unaccountable things that can never be foreseen.

They examined his heart before the chloroform was administered and found that its action was as strong as could be expected in a man of his age. The inhaler used consisted of a wire netting covered with flannel, wrapped around with a towel.

POINTERS ON THE RACES.

The Opening Event May Be More or Less of a Lottery.

A Hard Track, Sloppy on Top. Ready for the Running.

Some very fine racing should be seen on the Bilitop track to-day. The card is not very brilliant, but the various events have filled well and the horses look to be well matched.

There are two races which may be called the features of to-day's sport. One is a half-mile dash for two-year-old maidens, and a number of unknowns will start for the first time.

The other is a handicap at six furlongs, with Woodcutter, Lester, Leveller, Mohican and Fanway named to go. The track will be hard, but sloppy on top. The full list of entries, with selections, are as follows:

First Race.—Purse $400, for maiden two-year-olds; selling allowances; half a mile.

Wheeler	119	Pea colt	98
Wildcoat	108	Vocal	95
Harlequin	105	Carolina	95
Berta B.	105

The opening event is more or less of a lottery. No one knows the capabilities of the youngsters, who have never started, save the owners themselves. From reports of work, however, the writer will select Harlequin to win, with Wheeler second and Vocal third.

Second Race.—Purse $400; selling allowances; five eighths.

Marty B.	123	Silver Mint	110
Elmo	123	Illinois	112
Firefly	120	Arthur Davis	107
Cedarstream	120	Turk H.	107
Abe Gates	120	Irene	105
Rosalind	120	Major B.	104
Lamar	118

If the boy on Arthur Davis will try and get off with his mount to-day the colt may win. He certainly has an excellent chance at the weights. Turk H. may be the runner up and Elmo time may be third.

Third Race.—Purse $400; selling allowances; six and a half furlongs.

Character	105	Alarm Bell	99
Dave John	103	Will of Allonwold	102
Freedom	103	Portland	102
Kalamazoo	103

This race may be won by Khaitan, whose last race was not his true form by any means. The runner-up may be Firefly, and Will of Allonwold may beat the others.

Fourth Race.—Purse $500; selling allowances; one mile.

Epidemic	108	Frescan	97
Sir Rae	105	Merry Duke	90
Lady Pulsifer	103	Innovation	90

Innovation looks the most likely of the lot in this race, and she may endure the pace. Lady Pulsifer and Sir Rae will probably fight it out for the place, and the writer fancies them as named.

Fifth Race.—Purse $500; handicap; six furlongs.

Woodcutter	108	Mohican	95
Leveller	103	Fanway	93
Lester	98

The handicap should be won by Lester, providing a good strong boy rides the colt. Leveller will be up with the pack, and Mohican ought to beat the others.

Sixth Race.—Purse $400; weight twenty pounds above the scale; selling allowances; seven furlongs.

Horgdon	142	Prince Charming	125
Forest King	140	Court Lady	125
Chicamilion	137	Wonderful	125
Gonfalon	130	Beverly	124
Filibert	128	St. Patrick	122
Dundee	128	Fassett	114
Congress	125	Compass	114

The closing event may be won by Fassett, with Fabian second and Forest King third.

Probable Winners at Gloucester.

Judging by the usual conditions of weight, form and distance the races at Gloucester to-day may result as follows:

First Race—Flemington, King Solomon, Twilight colt.

Second Race—Boanella colt, Happy Maid, Lost Mary.

Third Race—Bravo, Florimer, Kanesville.

Fourth Race—Lita, Eddie Jo, Hemet.

Fifth Race—Spectator, Jennie Jones, Gilmer.

Sixth Race—Question, Burnside, Village King.

Morning Papers Selections.

First Race—Harlequin, Vocal.

Second Race—Turk H., Marty B.

Third Race—Firefly, Khaitan.

Fourth Race—Innovation, Sir Rae.

Fifth Race—Woodcutter, Mohican.

Sixth Race—Forest King, Congress.

First Race—Belle colt, Carousal.

Second Race—Turk H., Almstone.

Third Race—Firefly, Khaitan.

Fourth Race—Sir Rae, Innovation.

Fifth Race—Woodcutter, Mohican.

Sixth Race—Fassett, Fabian.

First Race—Vocal, Harlequin.

Second Race—Almstone, Turk H.

Third Race—Firefly, Khaitan.

Fourth Race—Innovation, Sir Rae.

Fifth Race—Woodcutter, Mohican.

Sixth Race—Forest King, Fassett.

ELEPHANT "TOM'S" VICTIM.

Zoo Attendant Fisher May Die from the Big Brute's Attack.

Francis Fisher, the attendant at the Central Park Menagerie, who was so frightfully gored by "Tom," the vicious elephant, Saturday, is still in a precarious condition at the Presbyterian Hospital.

He is terribly bruised and mangled, where the elephant landed at him with the stumps of his tusks, and although the doctors think he will recover he is kept under the constant influence of opiates to deaden the pain.

Fisher had been sent into the menagerie by W. W. Cole, who owns the elephant, to get acquainted with the brute so that he could handle it. As it was, he was nearly killed the first time he went into the cage. After his injury on Saturday the elephant is now perfectly docile.

TWO WOMEN IN PERIL.

Nearly Suffocated by Smoke in a Fire on Old Slip.

Fire broke out at 1.30 this morning in the third floor of a four-story building, 10 Old slip, in rooms occupied by Isaac Brassford, dealer in oils.

Mrs. Ann Quidley, janitress of the building, and her servant, Margaret Linsky, slept in a room on the top floor. They were awakened by the smoke, and, though nearly suffocated, their screams guided the firemen to them, and they were brought safely to the street. They were taken in an ambulance to Chambers Street Hospital.

Mrs. Quidley's furniture, valued at $600, was nearly all destroyed. Brassford's loss is about $1,000. It is not known how the fire started.

EAST AFRICAN TOWN IN PERIL.

Quilimane Surrounded by an Army of 6,000 Natives.

Bismarck Taken Suddenly Ill—General Cable News.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

MOZAMBIQUE, March 21.—A despatch from Quilimane, which town is besieged by a force of 6,000 natives, states that the blacks have assumed a most menacing attitude and momentarily threaten an attack upon the place. The most intense excitement prevails.

Every man and boy in Quilimane capable of handling a gun has been armed, and the inhabitants are prepared to hold the place to the last extremity. The outskirts are closely guarded, to prevent, if possible, the natives making one of the rushes en masse that distinguish their method of warfare.

The British torpedo cruiser Mohawk, mounting six guns, has been ordered to Quilimane from Mozambique. A Portuguese gunboat, with 100 soldiers on board, has already been despatched to Quilimane, and if the natives postpone their attacks until the warships reach here it is believed they can be easily routed.

BISMARCK IS ILL.

Suddenly Prostrated and Prevented from Attending a Meeting.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

BERLIN, March 21.—Prince Bismarck is suffering from a sudden attack of illness.

It was his intention to proceed to Ratzeburg to-morrow to attend a meeting of the District Assembly there, but his illness has compelled the abandonment of that intention.

Trouble Predicted for Mr. Daly on "The Foresters" Copyright.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LONDON, March 21.—The Globe to-day predicts trouble in regard to the question of copyright for Augustin Daly, the American theatrical manager, who produced in New York on Thursday night last Lord Tennyson's play, "The Foresters."

The Globe bases its prediction on a letter signed "A Lawyer," in which it is emphatically declared that the performance given here on Thursday morning at the Lyceum Theatre, for copyright purposes only—the performance having been secretly prepared and the play secretly performed—was not "public," as was intended by the Copyright law.

Murderer Deeming Identified as a Robber at Adelaide.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

ADELAIDE, South Australia, March 21.—Since the arrest of Frederick Deeming, alias Williams, and perhaps a dozen other names, on the charge of murder at Melbourne, the police of this city have identified him as the author of a robbery that was committed here in 1888.

At that time he was living in Adelaide under the alias of Ward. The day after the robbery was committed, Deeming, accompanied by his wife and two children, sailed for St. Helena, en route to Cape Town.

EX-SENATOR DALY DEAD.

His Funeral to Take Place To-Morrow at St. Ann's Church.

The funeral of ex-State Senator James Daly, who died at his residence, 174 second avenue, yesterday, after an illness of several weeks, will take place to-morrow from St. Ann's Church, East Twelfth street, at 10 o'clock A. M.

At the time of his death Mr. Daly was Superintendent of Markets and Collector of City Revenue in the Finance department, having been appointed to that position by Comptroller Myers in 1890.

Mr. Daly was born in Ireland in 1832 and came to New York when twenty years of age. He had studied for the priesthood, but adopted commercial pursuits, and until 1873, when he was first elected member of Assembly from the Twenty-fourth District, he was connected with the importing houses of A. T. Stewart & Co., H. B. Claflin & Co. and L. S. Jaffray & Co.

He served as Assemblyman in the Legislatures of 1874, 1875 and 1876, and as a Senator from 1884 to 1888, inclusive.

He was a County Democrat from the organization of that faction, and was the county Democratic leader from 1880 until a year ago in the Fourteenth Assembly District.

About a few years ago the ex-Senator surprised his friends by marrying. His widow survives him.

Edward Hourigan, chief clerk in the Market Department, is spoken of as Mr. Daly's probable successor as Superintendent of Markets.

THREATENED TO PUNCH A PRIEST

Tailor Freedman Was Sorry for It Later in Police Court.

Rev. Father William F. Dougherty, assistant rector of the Church of the Transfiguration, in Mott street, appeared as complainant in the Tombs Court this morning against Barney Freedman, a tailor who lives at 73 Lafayette street.

On Saturday afternoon one of a gang of small boys hit the clergyman on the face with a snowball. He pursued the Freedman, which he denies. Father Dougherty declared that Freedman struck him with his fist, but the latter's father and sister declared, and witnesses corroborated them, that he did not touch the priest in any way.

The priest reported the matter and got a warrant for the arrest of Freedman. The latter was very sorry for his action and apologized to the Rev. Father Dougherty.

Justice Duffy said to the priest: "Suppose you don't want the boy punished, do you?"

"Yes, I do. I want him punished. He deserves it," replied the Roman Catholic, and so Freedman was bound over to keep the peace.

Death of Rev. Dr. Sproul.

BANKER BENEDICT'S LETTER.

Said to Have Asked Gov. Flower to Declare for Cleveland.

Hot Contest Waging for the Steckler Association's Presidency.

The place-holders and the sentimental politicians of the Ninth Assembly District Republican Club are expected to have a set-to at to-night's meeting of that organization at 1 Arlington square.

A fund of something like $1,200 has been accumulated to the credit of the Club through social entertainments, excursions, balls and the like. This sum the non-office-holding members, who look upon the Club as quite as much a social as a political organization, are said to desire to have expended for club purposes. The office-holding element in the Club, it is said, wishes to have the money expended for campaign purposes.

BENEDICT'S LETTER TO GOV. FLOWER.

E. C. Benedict, banker and member of the Stock Exchange, is a warm admirer of ex-President Cleveland, and his steam yacht, the Oneida, has been frequently placed at the disposal of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland during the season. He has been corresponding with Gov. Flower on the subject of Mr. Cleveland's chances for nomination at Chicago.

It is said that Mr. Benedict asked Gov. Flower to declare himself in favor of Mr. Cleveland's candidacy, and that the Governor has written a reply. Mr. Benedict has not yet decided to give out the correspondence for publication.

REILLY AND ROESCH ARE OUT.

Tammany Leader John Reilly, of the Fourteenth District, and Tammany Leader George F. Roesch, of the adjoining Tenth District, do not speak as they pass by now days, and it is accounted for on the score of political patronage. There was but one place to fill, and both leaders wanted it for their henchmen, Gov. Flower and the Disposal of It, and Reilly got it.

Senator Roesch argued vainly that, because Inspector of Gas Meters Ferdinand Richardt was a resident of the Tenth District, his successor should be named from that district, and urged the appointment of William Pickett, an assistant deputy sheriff.

Anthony Comiskey, recently converted to Wigwam principles, was championed by Reilly, and, despite Roesch's arguments, succeeded in securing the appointment.

STECKLER ASSOCIATION ELECTION.

Some members of the Steckler Association considered it a good joke when Chairman Philip Hirschkind announced his intention of nominating for the Presidency of the organization with dulcet harbinger of the coming election in April. They have since learned that Mr. Hirschkind is in earnest and that President Hartnigger will have no walkover.

Both candidates are making a personal canvass of the club membership, and the battle is waxing warm. Judge Steckler has felt constrained to take a neutral position as between the candidates, and is admirably holding the office of one.

Hirschkind has been the First Vice-President of the Club for many years, and declares it is true that Hartnigger, who has occupied the chair ever since the association was organized, except a few months when Richard Croker presided, should be retired, so that other members may have a chance for preferment.

NOT A TAMMANY TRICK.

Editor Godkin's Opinion of His Arrest Disputed by Justice Mitchell.

Editor E. L. Godkin, of the Evening Post, is under $1,000 bail to answer to a charge of criminal libel preferred by B. W. O'Halloran, secretary for the February Grand Jury. Mr. Godkin was arrested at his residence, 50 West Tenth street, yesterday by Detective Connolly, of the Jefferson Market Court squad. He was arraigned before Justice Grady and, waiving examination, was held for trial in the Court of General Sessions.

Complainant O'Halloran, who lives at 142 West seventieth street, who years ago married a sister of Victoria and Tennie Claflin, alleges that Editor Godkin libelled him in an editorial in the Post in the following language:

"B. W. O'Halloran, Secretary of the Grand Jury, is a man who was at one time the keeper of a low liquor dive at 10 East Broadway, and who, since he quit the liquor business, has, in the language of his successor, done nothing in particular for a living."

There are other quotations from Editor Godkin's pen in the "Gilded Age" vein, the article in which they appear relating to Mr. Dr. Parkhurst's arraignment of District-Attorney Nicoll and the Grand Jurors for alleged connivance in permitting the existence of dives.

Editor Godkin declares that the charge was a Tammany trick to humiliate him by causing his arrest at a time when such humiliation would be most galling and injurious to him, owing to his temporary incapacity to defend himself.

Justice Peter Mitchell, counsel for Mr. O'Halloran, said to-day in answer to the defendant: "The warrant was issued solely on the ground that Justice Grady was the only one to allow Mr. Godkin plenty of time to secure counsel and bail. I propose that the arrest be made Monday, instead of to-morrow, so that the defendant will not be hampered in his newspaper work. I did not desire to embarrass Mr. Godkin by causing have arrested him late Saturday night and forced him to spend that night in jail, or a few hours of it, at least, pending the arrival of his bondsmen."
