THE TURF.

Merriment, Owned by Guttenburg Outlaws, Wins at Gravesend.

LONGSTREET'S GOOD FORM.

Kingston's Defeat by Leonawell Causes Unpleasant Remarks.

Notwithstanding the law passed by the Board of Control prohibiting the running of horses owned by Guttenburg horsemen at the tracks under their jurisdiction, a colt owned by two outlaws got raced and won an overnight event at the Gravesend track yesterday. This simple happening would not cause much comment were it not for the fact that the colt raced in the colors of Mr. John A. Morris, who is supposed to be the high kingpin of that most august and self-appointed body. The colt was also ridden by Mr. Morris's jockey, Fred Littlefield. The colt in question was the two-year-old Merriment. He was purchased by Messrs. Gibbons and O'Leary from Windham Walden, trainer for the Morris stable, on Saturday night for $3,000. Mr. Morris was present, witnessed the transaction, and saw the deposit ($500) made. The understanding was there and then made that the colt was to be entered in the overnight sweepstakes and, in the event of his winning, the purse was to go to Messrs. Gibbons and O'Leary. The colt ran and won. The Board of Control did not wake from its trance and the officers of the Association shut their eyes and ears before and during the progress of the race. After the race every one professed ignorance as to the real facts of the case. Mr. Morris admitted seeing money passed, and knew that the colt was sold, but did not know who the purchasers were. None of the association's officers were aware that the colt had been sold, notwithstanding the story was told about the track during the morning. It remains to be seen what the Board of Control will do. Of course it would not dare to censure Mr. Morris or the officials of the Brooklyn Jockey Club, because both Mr. Morris and Mr. P. J. Dwyer are members of the Board. The blame, therefore, must fall upon the trainer, Walden, and he will probably be disciplined. Money was probably the salve that smoothed everything over. Mr. Morris got an excellent price for his colt and Mr. M. F. Dwyer backed Merriment in the race. Why should anyone protest and spoil the little picnic?

The 7,000 people who visited Gravesend yesterday saw Judge Morrow, the winner of the Brooklyn handicap, defeated by Longstreet. There are no excuses this time for Morrow's defeat; save that he was giving weight to the acknowledged best horse in the country, and was further handicapped by carrying a lead pad weighing about thirty pounds. Add to this a small boy who never could ride, notwithstanding his lucky win in the Handicap, and you can figure on why Morrow was beaten. Longstreet is almost himself again, as the writer predicted several days ago when others were complaining of his two previous defeats. He was not fit and is not yet quite himself, else he would have defeated Morrow which he handily yesterday. Every one who faced the Longstreet ability knew in the head. There is no question about it now. In doing, they going he may be at a disadvantage, but on a hard track like the Gravesend course and is not much of a handicap to any horse. Covington's action in coming wide at the head of the stretch was, to say the least, idiotic. He took his competitor out where the going was the best, and this was more of an advantage to Longstreet than to Judge Morrow. There were many ugly stories floating about after the race, but it is hardly worth while to give credence to them.

The opening event at Gravesend yesterday saw the defeat of the brown wildfire, Kingston. Rumor said that he was not fit for a race, and so bets at jingle were made on Leonawell, people were foolish enough to say that the Spendthrift horse was simply started to make a price against Orlando Jones's colt. Kingston came lightly near upsetting the calculations, however, for he halted Leonawell in the stretch, and for a time looked a winner. Taral would have won on him beyond a doubt. Bonner, however, did several flapjack and cross jacks on Leonawell, which so surprised the colt that he shot ahead and won by a length. It will be some time before 2¼ to 1 is again quoted against Kingston. Judith Bomber, strongly backed, proved a very elastic lip, springing from first place to last.

Proprietor William J. Thompson, of the Gloucester track, has been indicted again so has Starter J. Flynn.

Phil Dwyer played Tom Tough yesterday. His own horse Temple won easily.

Jockey Thompson, it is said, can ride Eric better than any other boy. It must be confessed that his riding yesterday was a most artistic piece of work.

Orme has been declared out of the Derby. He must be a sick colt to have made the Duke of Westminster declare him, after the latter's statement that he would start it he only had three legs.

Young Charles Fair, son of the bonanza millionaire, has purchased a stable and will go in for racing. Yesterday he paid $80,000 for four horses, paying $20,000 for Yo El Rey, which is next to the highest price ever paid for a two-year-old. His other purchases were Stanford's Princess and Floodgate and H. I. Thornton's Darbin-Carrie Cecil. Yo El Rey is by Joe Hooker, and is a full brother to Yo Tamiden and half brother to the Earl of Norfolk, Rey Del Rey and other cracks. He was bred by Theodore Winters.

FIRE ALARM FROM SCHOOL 11

It Was Out of Gear and Summoned Engines Unnecessarily.

An old fire signal in Grammar School No. 11, in Seventeenth street near Eighth avenue, which had not been used in years, caused quite a scare in that neighborhood shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon.

An unknown woman was found sick by a policeman in the hallway of 337 West Seventeenth street, and he went to the school to summon an ambulance.

The janitor pulled the signal in the alarm box and a half dozen engines, besides an ambulance, responded.

The firemen found that they had been called out on a false alarm, and an examination of the signal disclosed the fact that it had been operated for a fire call.

There was excitement among the pupils in the school, who were ignorant of what had occurred.

Mr. Cleveland's Report Sustained.

ALBANY, May 24.—Judgment of lower courts was affirmed with costs by the Court of Appeals to-day in the case of Walter Langdon against the Mayor of the City of New York and the Board of Docks, appellants, and Marion Langdon Carroll, et al., against the same appellants. This was on appeal from judgments of the General Term, confirming the report of ex-President Grover Cleveland, referee.

WALL ST.

STOCK REPORTS.

Lively Trading at Advances in the Early Hours.

Ease in Money Induces Large Domestic and Foreign Purchases.

Prices Depressed by Unfavorable Rumors from the Flood Region.

WALL STREET, Tuesday, May 24.—Speculation was largely in the specialties to-day. American Sugar, National Carriage, Lake Shore, Manhattan and other dividend-payers were in sharp demand and rose 5 to 10 per cent., selling at the highest prices for a long time.

In some of these stocks a large short interest existed, and the bears made repeated assaults on Northern Pacific preferred and Missouri Pacific, in order to check the rise in other parts of the list. The former sold down from 55¾ to 54¾, and the latter from 56¼ to 55.

The break had little or no effect on the general market, which continued to hold up well.

Foreign exchange was steady at yesterday's rates. There is less pressure to sell bills by arbitrage houses.

The ease in money is having a decided influence. Some of the trust companies refuse to allow interest on deposits, and accordingly capitalists are forced to purchase interest and dividend paying securities. Money is so great a drug at the financial centres of Europe that the foreigners are also taking American securities freely. The London market was depressed this morning on a misapprehension that Cornelius Vanderbilt was dead, but it quickly rallied on the denial of the report.

The Lean crowd shows a good inquiry for stocks. Burlington at a quiney lent at 1-64 a 1-32 for use, and Union Pacific and Northern Pacific preferred flat to 1 per cent. for carrying.

The stockholders of the Central New Jersey Land Improvement Company claim that the report dated Jan. 1, 1892, shows land valued at $1,071,504 and $241,351 cash, and cash assets of $241,351. They demand a cash dividend of at least 5 per cent.

It is stated that the following are the principal points of the proposed new Terminal plan: The Richmond Terminal Company is to be wound up and be succeeded by a new company with $45,000,000 preferred stock, an $80,000,000 common stock. The present 6 per cent. bonds to be given 110 per cent. in the new preferred stock. The present 5 per cent. bonds and preferred stock to be given par in new preferred stock. The common stock to receive par in new common stock and to subscribe for $8,000,000 collateral trust in two-year 6 per cent. notes at 92½.

The Northern Pacific Steamship Company has been formed, with a fleet of three steamships to run from Tacoma to China and Japan. Sir William Pearce, of London, is President. The vessels will fly the British flag.

Oil reports that Jay Gould was seriously ill, that the Rock Island had sustained enormous damage by the recent floods and other unfavorable rumors, the bears were able to depress prices materially this afternoon. Rock Island was hammered down to 57¼ and broke under large sales to a decline of 2¾ per cent. from the highest of the morning. The losses otherwise were about ¼ a 1 per cent.

At public auction to-day $5,000 Equitable Gaslight 6 per cents sold at 106, 300 shares National Bank of Ontario, Oklahoma, at 66, 10 Hanover Bank at 346, 12 Chatham National at 276, 25 Mercantile National at 228, 100 National Broadway Bank at 283½, 20 Northern National at 160, 20 Twenty-third Ward Bank at 160 and 40 Continental National Bank of Chicago at 100.

Stock Exchange closed firmer, there being less pressure to sell bills in the final dealings.

The total sales at the New York Stock Exchange to-day were 202,065 shares of listed stocks and 20,000 ounces of silver.

FOUR HUNDRED MEN STRUCK.

Housesmiths, Engineers and Other Jackson Iron Works Employees.

Four hundred workmen were thrown out of employment this afternoon by a strike on the new Criminal Courts building, at Centre and Franklin streets, against the Jackson Iron Works, because of their employment of Paul Chandler as an engineer, who was suspended a month ago by L. A. 3,129, K. of L.

Six other engineers were ordered out by Delegate Carroll, and 40 housesmiths struck in sympathy. The suspension of nodding compelled 100 bricklayers and hodcarriers to quit work.

The strike soon spread to the Metropolitan Insurance Company's building at Madison avenue and Twenty-third street, and Kranich & Bach's new piano factory, on Twenty-third street near Second avenue, where the Jackson Company also had engineers, and quite a few more men struck or were compelled to quit work.

The strikers say Chandler is a non-union man. He came to work on the Criminal Courts Building yesterday, and he says:

"I am still a good union man, although I was suspended because I refused to pay a $50 fine during the Pelham Hod-Hoisting Company strike on the new Astor hotel at Fifth avenue and Thirty-third str. at last month.

"I made a year's contract with the Jackson company ten days before the strike, and had to go to work or lose my job. I did not, however, hoist any hods, simply our own hods.

"My assembly suspended me and refused to do so. D. A. 49 refused to listen to me, and I shall appeal to General Master Workman Powderly because I have been outraged, not by my local assembly but by a clique."

TWO DEAD IN A BABY FARM.

Children's Society Investigating Dora Barrett's Unlicensed Nursery.

Officers of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children are investigating an alleged baby farm kept by a woman named Dora Barrett on the third floor of the tenement-house at 252 West Thirty-fifth street, which neighbors had complained of to the West Thirty-seventh street police.

Agent McManus yesterday broke in the door of Mrs. Barrett's rooms and found an old man, who said he was her uncle, in charge. In a crib and scattered over the floor were six little tots, each crying lustily. In a soap box cover of by a towel were the bodies of two little babies wholled during Friday night and Saturday morning.

When Mrs. Barrett returned she said she did not know who the mothers of the dead babies were and that she was too poor to bury them herself. The mothers of two of the other babies were sent for, and the rest, except one, her own, were sent to Randall's Island.

The woman said that one of the two babies had died from pneumonia and the other from bronchitis. She admitted that she had no license, but pleaded poverty and inability to support herself and three children any other way. She said the babies were sent to her by Dr. Fuller, who keeps a lying-in hospital for poor women at 139 second avenue.

Dr. Fuller says he is sure that there was no foul play about the two babies' deaths, and declares that the Barrett woman took good care of them.

Yale Students to Attend the Funeral of W. H. Vanderbilt.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., May 24.—The annual calcium light parade of Yale Junior Societies, which was to take place this evening, has been postponed a week owing to the death of W. H. Vanderbilt, of New York, who was a member of Psi Upsilon.

The Junior class held a meeting this morning to take action regarding the death of Mr. Vanderbilt.

It was voted that the class wear a badge of mourning for thirty days. A delegation of over a hundred will attend the funeral of young Vanderbilt at New York to-morrow. The class will send a fitting floral tribute. Appropriate resolutions were adopted at to-day's meeting.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24.—Young Charley Fair, son of the Bonanza millionaire, has paid $80,000 for ten horses, giving $20,000 for Yo El Rey, a two-year-old, and six yearlings. He will take the yearlings to secure the two-year-old.

This is next the largest price ever paid for a two-year-old. Yo El Ray is by Joe Hooker, and is a full brother to Yo Tamiden and a half brother to Earl of Norfolk, Duke of Norfolk and Rey del Rey. He was bred at El Arroyo stud of Theodore Winters in Nevada.

EVILS OF MEAT DIET.

It Tends to Make People Gouty and Rheumatic.

The evils of a meat diet are being appreciated by many high livers in cities, and these are being counteracted partly by the wealthy in adding more fruits and vegetables to their tables during the Winter, says the Pittsburg Dispatch.

The cheapness of meat and a peculiar craving which the system seems to have for meat have gradually made it common for city people to live almost entirely off meat in the Winter months. Meat is eaten three times a day in quantities, and the excessive use of such a diet is that rheumatic and gout temperaments are acquired. These temperaments are on the increase, and they are largely due to the excessive use of meat.

Lime-water counteracts the evils of this diet to a large extent. Alkaline waters of all kinds have a tendency to act as diluents, and hence are beneficial to persons who are addicted to a heavy meat diet.

Lime-water has a tendency to make children grow, and in countries where the drinking water is heavily impregnated with it men are apt to be tall.

It is now used very extensively in the milk for children, but it should not be restricted to children, for in this meat-eating generation men need it, too. For a perfect sanitary diet alkaline water is needed for every person who eats heavily of meat, and this means nearly everybody, excepting the vegetarians.
