LONGSTREET IN A WALK.

Banquet and Allan Bane Run a Dead Heat in the Second Race.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

GRAVESEND RACE TRACK, May 26.—The Great American Stakes for two-year-olds, at five furlongs, was the feature of the programme at Gravesend to-day, and 10,000 people came down to see the big stakes divided.

The weather was perfect, and though it was warm in the city, a southerly sea breeze made the air cool and fresh at the track, and wraps felt a bit comfortable.

The track was in perfect condition and as fast as lightning. Another attraction offered was the prospect of a meeting between Judge Morrow and Longstreet in the Brooklyn Cup. Not a little disappointment was felt when Judge Morrow's withdrawal was announced.

The opening event was a six-furlong dash with a high class of sprinters entered. On paper it looked as though every horse in the race had a chance to win. The talent finally singled out Busteed, who had the "Snapper" up. All of Garrison's great riding qualities could not land Busteed, however. He was fourth, but close up.

The winner proved to be Bellevue, who came through in the straight and in a glorious finish beat Trinity a head. Both were at 5 to 1 and equal choices. Onward was a good third.

Clay & Woodford essayed to kill the ring by winning with Allan Bane in the second race. The odds against the Western colt went by until 30 to 1 was chalked up. Then the commissioners went down the line and Bane's price rapidly dropped to 10 to 1. Hutsell took him off in front and he was never headed. Banquet, under Taral's beautiful riding, got up almost on even terms, but when they passed the winning post Bane looked to have won. The writer and the experienced cashiers in the pavilion all announced Allan Bane the winner. Of course the decision of the judges cannot be disputed, for they are on an exact line with the winners. The opinion of all was that Allan Bane had won.

The third race was a farce. Longstreet was at 40 to 1 five odds and Longford was plainly not in condition to race. So plain was this that the spectators hissed the horses as they finished.

Bender rode Longstreet injudiciously in the second race and was called before the judges. They are deliberating over his case.

The Board of Control, at a meeting to-day, decided that, as rule 25 of racing, relating to the registration of partnerships, had not been complied with in the sale of Merriment to Gibbons and O'Leary by J. A. Morris, the owner of Frank Van Ness, owner of Morello, who ran second to Merriment on May 24, must be sustained and Merriment be disqualified. Whether Gibbons and O'Leary get the purse Merriment won is not stated.

The unlucky number of thirteen horses came to the post in the Great American stakes.

While at the post Minnehaha stumbled, threw Littlefield, and injured him so severely that he could not ride.

Mike Bergen was substituted after considerable delay. They were at the post nearly an hour.

Sir Walter won the race handily from Don Alonzo. Ajax was third.

FIRST RACE.

Heavy-weight handicap sweepstakes of $20 each, with $1,000 added; six furlongs.

Post Betting—Busteed, 11 to 5 and 4 to 5; Doncaster, 5 to 1 and 2 to 1; Trinity, 5 to 1 and 8 to 5; Onward, 7 to 1 and 5 to 2; Joe Cox, 7 to 1 and 5 to 2; Dalgrian, 15 to 1 and 6 to 1; India Rubber, 20 to 1 and 8 to 1; Doncaster, 20 to 1 and 8 to 1; Gertie H., 30 to 1 and 10 to 1; O'Kelly, 40 to 1 and 15 to 1; The Sheriff, 100 to 1 and 30 to 1.

Onward was the first to show, but was outrun by Dalgrian, who led the way to the head of the stretch, with Onward, Bellevue, Busteed and Trinity closely bunched behind. The leaders swung into the stretch almost on a line; then Bellevue and Trinity singled themselves out from the others, and in a beautiful finish Bellevue won by a head from Trinity, who was a length in front of Onward. Time—1.14½.

Mutuels paid: Straight, $22.55; place, $16.70. Trinity paid $20.05.

SECOND RACE.

Handicap sweepstakes of $20 each, with $1,000 added; one mile and a furlong.

Allan Bane went out in front and set a merry pace for a mile, and when he went into the stretch he had all the others whipping. Taral worked like a demon on Banquet and gaining inch by inch, the crowd yelling like mad, they passed the wire nose and nose and the judges made it a dead heat. Three lengths away came Leonawell. Time—1.55¾.

Mutuels paid: Banquet, $6.05, and $8.60, place. Allan Bane paid, straight, $25.50; place, $20.20.

Jennie Keene colt	118	McCarthy	8	10	11
Prince Imperial	118	Hayward	11	12	12
Minnehaha	115	M. Bergen	12	13	13

Post Betting—Ajax, 16 to 5 and 6 to 5; Don Alonzo, 7 to 2 and 6 to 5; Sir Walter, 6 to 1 and 2 to 1.

Morello, 8 to 1 and 3 to 1; Restraint, 6 to 1 and 2 to 1. Minnehaha, 12 to 1 and 3 to 1.

Hammie 12 to 1 and 4 to 1. Spartan 20 to 1 and 8 to 1; Prince Imperial 20 to 1 and 8 to 1.

Jerome S., 40 to 1 and 15 to 1. Lawless, 50 to 1 and 20 to 1; Frieze, 40 to 1 and 20 to 1; Jennie Keene colt, 15 to 1 and 6 to 1.

The delay was most exasperating. The flag finally fell with the horses by the timing post. Ajax was in front, with Restraint, Don Alonzo and Hammie necks apart.

Don Alonzo then went out and made the running into the stretch, with Restraint, Jennie Keene colt and Sir Walter next.

The latter came through in the stretch, and pressing Don Alonzo, won handily by three-quarters of a length. Don Alonzo was two lengths in front of Ajax, who was miserably ridden. Time—1.01¼.

Mutuels paid: Straight, $37.40; place, $18.25. Don Alonzo paid $15.30.

FIFTH RACE.

Selling; sweepstakes of $20 each, for three-year-olds and upward; one mile.

ANSON'S PETS ARE IN TOWN.

Their First Game of the Season at the Polo Grounds.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, May 26.—A more suitable day than this for the first game of the first local series between the New Yorks and Chicagos could not have been wished for.

The fact that the New Yorks defeated the Bostons in a ten-inning game at Boston yesterday made the baseball cranks of this city believe that the tide of hard luck had at last changed, and when the Giants appeared on the field for preliminary practice they were loudly cheered.

As usual, Capt. Anson said if the New Yorks won one game in the series they would be doing very well.

The New Yorks had for their battery to-day Rusie and Boyle, while Capt. Anson presented Hutchinson and Kittredge.

The umpire for the series will be Mr. Gaffney.

Fields took Boyle's place behind the bat after the third inning.

UNION MEN'S FINES.

One Is Paid, Another Imposed, So the Strike Goes On.

Paul Chandler, the suspended engineer, because of whom occurred the strike on the new Criminal Court Building in Centre street, Tuesday, paid to the Union his fine of $50 to-day, and was reinstated.

The strike, however, is not ended. The housesmiths who went out through sympathy with the engineers have a grievance against Foreman Michael Swartz, who, they say, refused to go out Tuesday and was therefore fined $50 and suspended until the fine is paid. Until the latter is settled the engineers say they will not resume work.

Princess Dolgorouky Here.

ANNA'S SUIT LOST

Miss Dickinson's Claim Thrown Out on a Technicality.

She Sued the Republican National Committee for an Unpaid Bill.

Should Have Sued Clarkson and Dudley, Who "Pledged Their Honor."

Anna Dickinson's suit against the Republican National committee of 1888 for $1,250, the balance alleged to be due her for speeches made in behalf of Harrison's candidacy, was dismissed by Justice Truax to-day in Part III. of the Supreme Court.

The complaint was dismissed—not on the merits of the case, but on legal technicalities.

After Miss Dickinson had told in her most dramatic manner how James S. Clarkson, W. W. Dudley, M. S. Quay and Samuel Fessenden had engaged her to deliver thirty campaign speeches at $125 each, and agreed "on their honor as gentlemen" that if Harrison, who had specially asked for her as a pleader of his cause, was elected, she should receive $1,250 more, and Col. Dudley had denied impressively that there was any such conditional contract, Col. Bliss received the dismissal of the complaint on the ground that Miss Dickinson had sued the Committee, while her testimony clearly showed that if she had any ground of action at all it was against the members of the Committee, and because the alleged contract was illegal, null and void under the law, which forbids the expenditure of money for any election purposes save printing, carriage hire and the like.

Lawyer Abe Hummel, for Miss Dickinson, called this "pleading the baby act" on the part of the illustrious statesmen who managed the Harrison campaign, and declared that if the Republican leaders wished to go on record as escaping the payment of their just obligations on any such plea as that he was willing to begin all over again for his fair client.

Mr. Hummel asked the privilege of withdrawing a juror, causing a mistrial, so that he might amend the complaint and save costs, but Justice Truax declined and dismissed the complaint.

The court room was packed with curious people. Miss Dickinson, her figure enveloped in one of those indefinite black lace gowns, trimmed with bright red silk, was the cynosure of all eyes.

Some morning newspaper had said that her dark hair was streaked with gray. It would be difficult to find a lock that had lost its color or gloss, and the blue-gray eyes were as eloquent as ever. On her head was a prodigious great black and red hat, and about the famous agitator were grouped a dozen female friends, lecturers, editors and others.

Among Miss Dickinson's friends were Mrs. Allen, of 44 West Twelfth street, where she is making her temporary home; Miss Allen, Miss S. L. Williams, of New Haven; Rev. Phœbe A. Hanaford, Ellen E. Miles, Miss Clara E. Sunsman and Mrs. Anna Randall Diehl, the elocutionist.

Miss Dickinson said to an EVENING WORLD reporter:

"I shall at once begin a new action for the money that I have earned. The Republican National Committee succeeded in cheating me out of $12,000 and my travelling expenses once before, after a long campaign in the Molly Maguire districts of Pennsylvania, where no man dared speak. But they shall not cheat me this time."

IN LARRUBIO'S DEFENSE.

Evidence that the Man He Killed Had Threatened Him.

The trial of Leonardo Larrubio for the murder of Vincenzo Riverito in a Baxter street tenement Nov. 10 last was resumed to-day before Justice Ingraham and a jury in the Court of Oyer and Terminer.

Lawyer Stephen S. Blake opened the case for the defense. He acknowledged the killing of Riverito by Larrubio, but claimed that it was justifiable in view of the fact that Larrubio was lying upon the ground at the time he fired the fatal shots and, was being kicked and stamped upon by Riverito.

Police Sergt. Welch testified to the appearance of Larrubio at the time of his arrest.

Detective Price corroborated the testimony of Sergt. Welch. Larrubio's appearance, he said, was that of one who had been engaged in a struggle.

A half dozen Italians testified that Riverito had declared that he would drink the blood out of the skull of Larrubio, hinting that he meant to kill him.

The case is still on.

BELLE HAMLIN AND GLOBE.

The Double Team Lower Their Own Record at Belmont Park.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

PHILADELPHIA, May 26.—In their trot against time yesterday at the Belmont Park track, which is circular and has never been considered fast, Belle Hamlin and Globe covered a mile in 2.13¼, lowering their own record 1¼ seconds and coming within a quarter of a second of the record made two years ago on the kite-shaped track at Independence, Ia., by Belle Hamlin and Justina. Ed Geers drove. First quarter, :35; half mile, 1.04¾; three-quarters, 1.40; mile, 2.13¼.

ACQUITTED OF FORGERY.

Young Bryant Was Charged with Forgery on Postal Orders.

The trial of Harry E. Bryant, an office boy employed by Weeks Bros., lawyers, at 56 Wall street, on the charge of forging his employers' names to money orders, was begun to-day in Judge Benedict's United States court. The examination of postal clerks and other witnesses as to Bryant's handwriting was begun.

At 3.45 this afternoon the jury returned a verdict of acquittal.

Miss Fisk Takes Her Case to Court.

Miss Henrietta Fisk, who was recently removed from the position of Principal of Primary School No. 71, to-day secured from Justice Lawrence, in Supreme Court Chambers, a writ of certiorari for the purpose of reviewing the action of the Board of Education.

BLAINE TO AMES.

Massachusetts's Ex-Governor Says the Maine Man Will Take the Nomination.

The Secretary Reconsiders His Letter to Clarkson.

Announcement Made After an Early Morning Interview.

Mr. Blaine Declared to Have Attained Confidence in His Physical and Political Health.

Ex-Gov. Oliver Ames, of Massachusetts, had an interview with Secretary Blaine at the Fifth Avenue Hotel this morning, and shortly afterwards told the reporters that he believed Mr. Blaine would not decline the Republican nomination for the Presidency.

"Mr. Blaine will accept the nomination," he said. "There is no longer any question about it. He has reconsidered his letter to Mr. Clarkson stating that under no circumstances would he be a candidate, and while he will not write any letter formally making such an announcement, he will not write one declining to accept the nomination, as has been reported he would do.

"Massachusetts is all for Blaine. There appears to be a Blaine cyclone. The Republicans of the whole country apparently demand his nomination.

"If Cleveland is nominated by the Democrats he will be buried under an avalanche of votes in Massachusetts."

Ex-Gov. Ames said that while Mr. Blaine was not looking quite as well as he expected to find him, he considered that Mr. Blaine was fully equal to the fatigue of a campaign.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine took breakfast in the public dining-room of the hotel shortly after 8 o'clock. They were spoken to there by ex-Gov. Ames and Senator Hiscock.

After breakfast, the Secretary and his wife returned to their room, and although many cards were sent up, the uniform answer came back that "Mr. Blaine is out."

Ex-Gov. Ames was the only person to whom the Secretary accorded an interview.

B. W. Farquhar, Secretary of the Massachusetts delegation to the Minneapolis Convention, is one of the most enthusiastic Blaine men about the hotel. He says the Bay State is solid for the Secretary of State and that President Harrison is not considered by Massachusetts Republicans at all.

The impression prevails about the hotel that a conference of anti-Harrison Republicans will be held in Mr. Blaine's room today. None of the gentlemen mentioned as coming to the conference had arrived up to noon.

At 11.30 Mr. and Mrs. Blaine drove out. It was said they would drive through Central Park and call on Mrs. Damrosch.

The carriage stopped at several stores, Mr. Blaine usually waiting in the carriage while Mrs. Blaine did her shopping.

Mr. Blaine was dressed entirely in black, which heightened the pallor of his face, which is of a waxy whiteness. His step was sprightly, however, and he appeared to be in a very cheerful mood.

While Mr. Platt and Senator Hiscock stood talking about Mr. Blaine's health last night, about 10 o'clock, in the lobby of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, Henry George rode up on his bicycle, dismounted and entered the lobby in his riding clothes.

The politicians lifted their eyes as they saw the philosopher so unceremoniously attired. Mr. George was on his way home from a 50-mile spin through Central Park. He looked the picture of health.

A little over a year ago he was more hopelessly prostrated than the accounts of his bitterest enemies make Mr. Blaine appear. Mr. George says the wheel did it.

DAILEY BACK ON DUTY

A New Charge to Be Made Against the Roundsman.

Was Off Post When He Arrested Miss Hannan's Mother.

The Girl Makes a Formal Complaint to the Police Board.

Mamie Hannan, the pretty sixteen-year-old girl who accuses Roundsman Mathew F. Dailey, of the Delancey street station, of having assaulted her in Joseph Geller's saloon, at Broome and Pitt streets, on the night of March 26, appeared at Police Headquarters shortly before noon to-day and made a formal complaint against the roundsman, which will be presented to the Board of Police Commissioners.

SERGT. M'DONALD.

Even should the girl fail to prove her charge, Roundsman Dailey is in danger of losing the polished stripes on his sleeves because of an additional complaint that Inspector Williams will lodge against him.

This, as well as the round-man's more serious trouble, grows out of his "bad break," as his fellow officers call it, in arresting Mrs. Hannan, Mamie's mother. After the night roll call the Twelfth Precinct is divided into two districts. Dailey was assigned to one of these Monday night. Mrs. Hannan's house was not in his district, and when he arrested her there he was obliged to leave his post to do it.

This charge will be pressed against him, and, although in itself it is of a trivial nature, the circumstances attending it may reduce him to the ranks.

Roundsman Dailey returned to duty this morning and occasioned considerable surprise by doing so, as he had been suspended by Supt. Byrnes pending examination on the serious charge made by the Hannan girl.

This fact and the mysterious disappearance of Lizzie Lawlor, the woman who Mamie Hannan says was present, together with Sergt. Albert W. McDonald, during the alleged assault and yet made no effort to prevent it, have given rise to a suspicion that a gigantic "pull" is being worked for the roundsman.

Capt. Eakins, who escorted Mrs. Hannan and Mamie to Police Headquarters this morning, said to an EVENING WORLD reporter, in contradiction of the insinuation that he and the police generally were working to help Dailey rather than to secure the presence of the Lawlor woman, the important corroborative witness against him:

"I have worked hard to find this woman, but have so far been unsuccessful, although the Hannan girl has done her best to help me, and so has Joe Lawlor, the woman's brother. If her own brother can't find her I don't see how I can."

In explanation of Roundsman Dailey's return to duty Inspector Williams's clerk, Sergt. Price, said:

"Dailey was returned to duty because his admission to bail relieved the Department of further responsibility, and until he is proven guilty he is to be regarded as any other citizen. While suspended he drew full pay. Now that he is released on bail the Department proposes to make him earn his salary."

Inspector Williams, who was seen later, said:

"Dailey was suspended until a formal charge was made against him and until he was either committed or admitted to bail. Now that he has secured bail, there is no reason why he shouldn't return to duty until his case is disposed of.

"I was surprised at this girl's charge, for I always have found him sober and attentive to his duties. He has a very good record."

Although Roundsman Dailey's transgressions of police rules have been for the most part of a trivial nature, he was found guilty of and punished for one offence that has a parallel in the arrest of Mrs. Hannan. He was fined for using abusive language to women," and on the same day he was adjudged guilty of another but smaller infraction of the rules. His complete record is as follows:

March 7, 1886, appointed on probation.
April 3, 1886, appointed to the regular force.
July, 1886, fined two days for sitting down.
August 6, 1886, commended for absence from post.
Sept. 10, 1886, fined one day for improperly patrolling post.
April 3, 1887, advanced to second grade.
May 18, 1887, fined one day for sitting in a saloon.
Oct. 13, 1887, reprimanded for absent from post dismissed.
Dec. 4, 1887, admonished for improperly patrolling post.
March 29, 1888, advanced to first grade.
April 14, 1888, reprimanded for "loitering" or talking on post.
July 1, 1888, fined two days for not properly patrolling post.
March 27, 1889, fined one day for being absent from post.
Feb. 17, 1890, fined one day for not properly patrolling post.
April 9, 1890, fined two days for using abusive language to women.
April 9, 1890, fined one-half day for failing to answer to roll call.
Nov. 28, 1890, fined one day for not properly patrolling post.
Dec. 26, 1890, promoted to be roundsman.

Since he became a roundsman, Dailey's record has been clear up to the present.

Sergt. Albert W. McDonald, who was positively identified by the Hannan girl yesterday as Dailey's companion on the night of the alleged assault was off duty to-day, but has not been suspended. Supt. Byrnes could not be seen, but Inspector Williams when asked if Sergt. McDonald had been or was to be suspended replied:

"No; why should he be? There are no charges against him."

The Sergeant himself was found at his cozy flat on the top floor of the house at 104 East Seventy-ninth street. He was enjoying a nap and the young woman who came to the door said:

"No, he's not in. He's up at Fordham, where he has property, you know."

The reporter had only descended one flight, however, when she called him back and said:

"He's here and will see you. You must pardon me, but I have my orders."

The Sergeant did not appear worried over the Hannan girl's identification, but was averse to talking. He reiterated that he scarcely knew Dailey, and was not with him on the night of the alleged assault, and that he did not know the Lawlor woman nor the Hannan girl.

"I have nothing to fear at headquarters or anywhere else," he said, "and all I regret is the notoriety from the affair. The girl is certainly mistaken. I couldn't be in two places at once, and if it is necessary the police records will show where I was at the time of the alleged assault."

Inspector Williams says the only circumstance corroborative of the girl's statement concerning Sergt. McDonald is that it was his supper hour and he was in citizen's clothes.

25 CENTS MORE FOR COAL.

Price Advanced at To-Day's Meeting of the Agents.

The Western coal agents, at their meeting to-day at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, decided to advance the price of coal 25 cents a ton. The price of egg, stove and chestnut coal will now be $5.75 per net ton.

This advance only applies to coal shipped to the Western lake ports, but it is taken as an indication that the Eastern prices will soon be advanced to a corresponding extent.

There were several representatives of the Eastern agents at the meeting today, and the view was expressed that the advance would come very soon.

The advance in the Western rates takes effect June 1.

The Eastern coal sales agents agreed that the allotment for June should be increased from 2,750,000 tons to 3,000,000 tons. The price of chestnut coal was advanced 15 cents a ton, to take effect June 1.

Vote to Take Up Mr. Stewart's Bill After the Morning Hour.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

WASHINGTON, May 26.—When the morning hour expired in the Senate to-day, Mr. Wolcott's silver resolution again went over without action.

Mr. Stewart immediately arose and moved (in order to afford Senators the opportunity to have a test vote) to take up the bill reported by his and reported adversely from the committee on finance, providing for the free coinage of gold and silver.

Mr. Morgan moved the yeas and nays.

Mr. Stewart's motion was agreed to—yeas 38, nays 28.

Mr. Hill was not in the Chamber when the vote was taken and no pair was announced for him.

ONE ROUND WITH CABBY.

A Process Server Served Out by Baroness Blanc's Coachman.

Charles Burke, the livery coachman of the Baroness Blanc, sat on the box of her stylish hansom at the entrance to her lawyer's office, Broadway and Fulton street, at 2.30 this afternoon, when Ira A. Miller, from Howe & Hummel's office, approached with papers he desired to serve on the Baroness.

Coachman and subpœna server gibed each other, and Burke lost his temper, leaped to the sidewalk and block and Miller's wife, officer Sheehan arrested him and Justice Duffy fined him $10 in the Tombs Court, the paid the fine.

The whole transaction occupied only half an hour, and probably the Baroness will first learn of the little war when she reads it in the EVENING WORLD, for Horse Shoe Bob after her when he was released.

He Sold Watered Milk.

Otto Green, wholesale and retail milk dealer, 174 Montrose avenue, Williamsburg, was convicted today by a jury in the court of Special Sessions before Justice Goetting of selling milk 20 per cent. below the standard set by the New York State Dairy Commission. Sentence was suspended until To-day, pending an appeal.

Irvine surrendered. He claims Montgomery ruined his wife and broke up their home.

POOL-ROOMS OVER THE RIVER.

Six New Ones Will Open Up in the Eastern District.

It is pretty much settled now that Williamsburgers who have sporting blood in their veins will not be obliged to cross the river to play the races after next Tuesday.

Notwithstanding the damper thrown over the "commission" business by the raiding of Charley Johnson's room yesterday, no fewer than six pool-rooms will be ready for business in the Eastern District before another week has passed.

Probably the finest pool-room in operation in this country will be opened on Tuesday at 195 Broadway by Mark E. Ryan, who thinks there is more money in the "commission" business than in running his stable. Ryan will put $15,000 into the business. Rich carpets cover the floors and heavy portieres divide the pool-room from the cafe in front.

"Everything is being brought up for business the first of next week," said a prominent [illegible] The raid on Charley Johnson's place [illegible] for the purpose of frightening a front [illegible] clerks some of the church people in the neighborhood. It shouldn't be surprised to [illegible] business start up again to-morrow, or Monday at the latest.

"What does Capt. French say about Ryan's place?" asked the reporter.

"Well, now, that is a delicate question. It is his precinct, of course, but everything is run according to law. I am pretty positive he won't interfere.

"Jack McAuliff will open up next week at 149 Broadway, back of the saloon kept by Joe Coburn.

"Dick Gaffney, for it is promised that four pool-rooms will be opened in Captain Price's Precinct, the Fifth, within ten days.

"Capt. French professed entire ignorance of the proposed raids.

"I thought that the raid on Johnston's place settled the case for those people," he said. "If there is to be an attempt to open up over here I know nothing about it. But you can be assured that if any such thing happens I will do my duty. I know it will have a hard time to do it, though, with the rooms open for business in Brooklyn, under instructions from headquarters.

"Now, I am told that no matter how many pools of influence the bookmakers can bring to bear, Capt. Campbell will shack them on the jokes the same as Brooklyn police force is doing."

OPENED THE POOL-ROOMS.

Johnson's Doors Open, but Little Business Was Done.

The doors of Johnston's pool-rooms in Brooklyn opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The names of horses were posted on blackboards. Business was done quietly and no odds were bandied against the horses on the Blackpool.

Stevens, and the Fourth Regiment, of Jersey City, Col. E. J. Wanser, with the First, Second and Third Battalions.

The entire force of staff and field officers are to all be retired, although some of them will be required in the three new regiments which will in future constitute the First Brigade.

EXTRA.

THE TURF.

J. C. Carr Withdraws from the Saratoga Racing Association.

MAJOR DOMO'S GOOD RACE.

Snowball, an "Evening World's" Tip, Won at Long Odds Yesterday.

Race-goers will be surprised to learn that there has been a disagreement in the ranks of the Guttenburg "Big Four" and that Mr. J. C. Carr has withdrawn from the Saratoga Racing Association. The rumor is not very clear as to the cause of the split. It is said that President Walbaum and Mr. Carr had some disagreement and that the former said some things that Mr. Carr did not like. At any rate the latter has withdrawn from the Saratoga Association and his stock has been taken up by Messrs. Walbaum, Crustus and McLaughlin. What effect this will have on Guttenburg it is impossible to surmise. Mr. Carr may dispose of his stock in the Hudson County Association also. He is conceded to have been the head and brains of the concern, and it was under his able guidance that Guttenburg was enabled to weather the storms that harassed it last winter. Mr. Carr is at present in Canada, attending the Toronto meeting.

Major Domo won in commanding style yesterday, emphasizing the fact that he is a race horse of the best class. The strangest thing about the race was the fact that Russell was made favorite over the Major. This can only be accounted for in the fact that Russell was eight pounds better off than when he last met the Tom Ochiltree colt. Yet yesterday Major Domo beat Russell more easily than on the occasion of their first meeting.

"The one that beats Major Domo is the Suburban will win the money," murmured Mr. Mike Dwyer, as he saw his dollars float away on Russell. Look up Pessaro, Mr. Dwyer, and you will find the winner.

His Highness and Ludwig worked six furlongs in 1.18¾ a few days ago. The quarter was run in :23¾, the half in :49, and the five furlongs in 1.0¾. Blacklock rode His Highness. He weighs about 127 pounds.

Jack Joyner remarked yesterday that he did not have a horse in his string worth $30. He was immediately offered $61 a head by a brother trainer. Jack refused.

"Snapper" Garrison tried to steal the first race from Kingston yesterday, but McLaughlin had been there before and stalled off Garrison's well-timed rush.

Marshall, at 3 to 1, was THE EVENING WORLD's tip to win the last race yesterday
