Sharp Advances in Cordage and Other Industrials.

Important Move by Richmond Terminal Security-Holders.

Speculation Affected by News from Washington—Quotations.

WALL STREET, THURSDAY, May 26.—The feature of speculation at the start to-day was a sharp jump in National Cordage, in which a large short interest is said to have been entrapped. The common sold up to 114½ and preferred to 115. All the other industrials were strong, but the bears made a drive at the railroad list, and a decline of ¼ to 1 per cent. followed. A sudden break in New England from 39¾ to 37¾ rendered valuable assistance to those working for lower prices.

After midday a fresh batch of buying orders appeared, and some shares sold higher than before. There was quite a stir in Richmond Terminal, on the announcement that the security-holders had sent the following request to Drexel, Morgan & Co., under date of May 25, 1892:

"In view of the fact that the affairs of the Richmond & West Point Railway and Warehouse Company have become seriously embarrassed and its vast interests threatened with a danger of receivership and disintegration, and believing that a plan can be devised which would save the property from disruption and loss, consequent upon needless litigation, we hereby join in requesting you to take up the matter and appoint a committee to suggest a plan of reorganization which, in your judgment, would be fair and equitable to all interests involved.

The loan crowd shows a good inquiry for Atchison stock and incomes, Erie and Louisville & Nashville. The demand for stocks in the Clearing-House is fair, with Burlington flat to a small premium.

The Governing Committee of the Stock Exchange, has added $34,710,000 new securities to the list.

Bets have been made that Lackawanna and New Jersey Central will cross 170 this year.

Stockholders of the New York, New Haven & Hartford meet at New Haven to-day, to approve the lease of the New York, Providence & Boston for sixty years from April 1, 1892.

Stocks moved up this afternoon, the advance in coal ordered by the agents having induced covering of short contracts. Lackawanna sold up to 150½, Reading to 61⅞ and Jersey Central to 141¼. American Sugar was a leading card and sold up to 97⅞ on active trading.

Just before the close the bears made a dash at the list, on despatches from Washington that the Senate had taken up Stewart's bill for the free coinage of gold and silver. Prices yielded fractionally all around on this news.

The Lehigh Valley dividend will be increased next month from 1¼ to 1½ per cent., in accordance with the Reading lease. The stock, it is said, will be listed at the New York Stock Exchange shortly.

An Albany special says: "The Land Commissioners to-day granted the application of the New York & New Jersey Terminal Railroad for a right of way under the Hudson River from West Fourteenth street, New York, to the Jersey boundary line, on condition that the river commerce shall not be impeded."

The sterling exchange market was dull and featureless. Bankers' 60-day bills sold at 4.86½ a 4.86¾; demand at 4.87½ a 4.87¾, and cables at 4.87¾ a 4.88.

The total sales of the New York Stock Exchange to-day were 282,500 shares of listed stocks and 5,000 barrels of Pennsylvania oil.

STRIKERS HEAR GOOD NEWS.

They Believe the Granite Manufacturers Will Capitulate.

Relaying of Old Paving Blocks by Non-Union Workmen.

News was received at the headquarters of the striking pavers and granite-cutters, 226 East Thirty-ninth street, this morning which is claimed to be further evidence that victory for the strikers is certain. The information is in the form of a letter from Clark's Island, Me., to the effect that Contractor Snow, of that place, a member of the New England Manufacturers' Association, has told the locked-out men there not to go away, as there would probably be plenty of work for them in a few days.

"This," said Secretary Grant, "looks as if secret arrangements have been made by the manufacturers for a settlement."

Other encouraging news was received at headquarters this morning. Word comes from Rockland, Me., that the merchants and business men throughout that State are forming what they call "Lend a Hand Clubs," the object of which is to collect money weekly for the benefit of the locked-out workmen. Several hundred dollars have already been realized in Rockland from this source.

The work of repaving Third avenue, from Forty-third to Forty-seventh streets, with the old blocks is progressing. About half of the east side of the avenue, between Forty-third and Forty-fourth streets, was paved yesterday. The ground is very soft, and the work necessarily slow. Non-union men are doing the work.

Foreman Myers said this morning that no union men would be given employment, and that by to-morrow fifty non-union men would be at work.

Contractor Kelly left for Buffalo last night, it is said, for the purpose of hiring some idle non-union pavers in that city for his work here. Foreman Myers said that it was the intention to lay new stones on the blocks between Forty-fourth and Forty-seventh streets. He declared that the non-union men were skilled workmen.

"I understand," said Mr. Myers, "that Booth Bros. have sent a gang of Italian pavings-cutters up to their New England quarries to take the place of the locked-out men. They were drilling them for several weeks over in New Jersey."

Now that the Union Granite Company, of Friendship, Me., has capitulated, work on the Grant Monument and the Brooklyn Memorial Arch will probably be resumed as soon as possible.

The granite-cutters have a small army of pickets out watching boats laden with blacklisted stone, to see that the stone is not handled. A fleet of schooners are reported to be anchored near City Island, waiting an opportunity to unload. Pickets are watching the cargo from the schooner Catharine, which unloaded in Brooklyn yesterday, to see that it is not hauled away. Paving Foreman Myers said that, notwithstanding this, the contractors could get all the stone handled that they needed.

An appeal to all organized workingmen was to-day issued by the officers of the unions in the granite-working industry asking that financial aid be sent to maintain the present strike.

Committeemen Brown, McNair and Grant will wait on District-Attorney Nicoll this afternoon to consider further the matter of bringing an indictment against the contractors for conspiring against the public welfare. One of the Committee said that documentary evidence would be produced to show that a conspiracy existed.

John Booth, of Booth Bros., said to-day to an EVENING WORLD reporter:

"William H. White is the business manager of our quarries, and he has received instructions to employ any competent man who applies for work. I have not been advised whether or not he has employed anybody, but I am inclined to think that he has."

"We have sent some Italians to work in our Maine quarries, I think, or will in a very short time.

"It makes no difference to us about a man's nationality. We will employ any competent man and be glad to get him."

Mr. Ferguson, secretary of the Booth Company, said he had sent some men to the quarries and intends to send any man who applies.

"I didn't ask the men's nationality," he added. "Some of our best workmen are Italians. I propose to send every competent man I can find to our quarries. If he is not skilled he can learn, that's enough."

Secretary Ferguson was interrupted by the bookkeeper:

"The Italians learn more aptly than the Irish and make better workmen. Of course, we'd give 'em work, all they want of it," he said.

Secretary Ferguson resumed:

"The result of this will be just the same as in the mason trade. A few years ago none but Irishmen could lay a stone wall for a building. They struck work frequently, with the result that Italians were put to learn the trade. Now there are lots of Italian masons and there are few strikes, because such labor is easy to be had."

Foreman Crowley was at work all alone this morning, paving between the rails of the Eighth avenue street car line, at Abingdon Square. He said that Contractor Pollock proposed to put non-union men at work in a day or two.

The Committee met the District-Attorney at 2:30 o'clock, and was closeted with him about twenty minutes. Additional facts were presented by the Committee. One of the Committee reported Mr. Nicoll as saying that he thought there was enough evidence to warrant further investigation of the charge. The names of witnesses were furnished to the District-Attorney.

It was learned to-day that blacklisted New England stone was being used on a new bank building in Buffalo and was being supplied by Contractor Peirce, of this city. About thirty granite-cutters employed there were ordered to quit work.

THE DELEGATE CROP.

Cleveland Made Gains in Yesterday's Democratic Conventions.

Returns received this morning from State Conventions held yesterday show that Mr. Cleveland gained the Democratic delegation from New Jersey, numbering twenty, which was instructed for him.

In Kentucky Mr. Cleveland's adherents, who fought for unqualified instructions for the ex-President, were beaten. Henry Watterson's counsel prevailed. The Democratic convention, which adjourned at 2.30 o'clock this morning, selected Mr. Watterson and John B. Castleman as Delegates at Large, without instructions.

The Democratic Convention of the State of Washington indorsed Mr. Cleveland, but refrained from instructing for him.

Three of the Rhode Republican delegates elected in the Eighth and Sixteenth Congressional districts of Ohio are for Blaine. The fourth is a Harrison man.

President Harrison secured the Republican delegation, mostly office-holders, from South Carolina, and sixteen out of twenty-six, nearly all Federal employees, from Georgia.

Idaho Democrats, in convention yesterday, elected delegates to Chicago, but did not instruct them. The Convention demanded that a free-coinage plank be inserted in the Chicago platform.

TENNESSEE FOR CLEVELAND.

It Is Conceded that Her Delegates Will Be So Instructed.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 26.—The Democratic State Convention to elect delegates to Chicago, meets in this city this noon.

James B. Porter, Assistant Secretary of State, under President Cleveland, is conceded to be the central figure of the Convention. J. C. Atkins, Congressman Cox and other notables are here.

As the new arrivals came in last night and delegates instructed by their counties began to circulate, it was conceded that the delegates to Chicago will be instructed for Mr. Cleveland.

The Convention is a Cleveland Convention, and the only difference existing was as to the wisdom of instructing.

RATS! SAID BIDDY MALONE.

Matilda Hyland's Son Interpreted This as a Deed of Gift.

A peculiar suit brought by Bridget Malone, of 1845 Broadway, Brooklyn, against her neighbor, Mrs. Matilda Hyland, for the theft of a black cat, has been set down for examination on June 1 in the Gates Avenue court.

The cat, over which two families have engaged in a bitter feud, was turned out into the street this morning by Mrs. Hyland, just as an EVENING WORLD reporter called to interview that lady on the present status of this unusual warfare.

When the property in dispute, which answers to the name of Minnie, had been energetically boosted over the fence, Mrs. Hyland said, with a sigh of relief:

"That cat's a nuisance. I wish my son had never brought her here. I hate all cats, and particularly this one. She has made my respected name notorious."

Minnie's history from the Hyland point of view is this: Mrs. Bridget Malone originally owned the redoubtable feline, but relinquished her ownership when Minnie broke her leg more than a year ago, for on that memorable occasion, it is reported, Mrs. Malone called in Charley Hyland, and in cold blood bade him shoot the cat.

Young Hyland suggested that such treatment of an erstwhile pet might be con-sidered cruel. Whereupon Mrs. Malone incontinently adjudged:

"Rats."

Young Hyland construed this monosyllable into a conveyance of the cat to him in fee simple, free and clear of all encumbrances, and so he took her home into the bosom of his until then happy family.

Miss Minnie soon recovered the use of her damaged leg and patrolled the back yard fence with all her old-time agility to the great admiration of the multitudinous tom cats of the neighborhood.

Mrs. Malone, according to the Hyland family chronicles, watched the expanding charms of Miss Minnie with sorrow, and began to reproach herself for having given her away.

"Then," says Mrs. Hyland, "she hired a boy to steal it. And it was only after a long wait that my son Charley got the cat away from her again.

"That's my story. It's true, every word of it. And now can you tell me what that woman, Malone, wants to pester me for with a warrant charging me with theft?"

Mrs. Malone was also seen by the reporter, but barring the admission that she had brought a suit against Mrs. Hyland, she refused to have anything to say on the subject of the cat. She did remark, incidentally, however, that the weather was warm, leaving the reporter to draw the inference that it would be a cold day when she got left.

WILL CONTEST AT CHICAGO.

Anti-Snap Committee's Plan to Be Enforced at Syracuse.

Secretary Monroe, of the Syracuse Convention Movement, said this afternoon that there was no truth in a despatch published this morning stating that the Provisional State Committee would advise the Syracuse Convention not to send a contesting delegation to Chicago.

"The Committee has no intention of doing anything of the kind. A contesting delegation will surely be chosen."

A general alarm was sent out to-day for Charles Merion, fifteen years old, of 327 East Forty-third street, who was sent yesterday by the Ceylon Tea Planters' Company, by whom he was employed, to get a check for $120 cashed. He has not been seen since. The boy's father thinks he has met with foul play.

ROYAL GOLDEN WEDDING DAY.

Denmark's King and Queen Have a Joyful Celebration.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

COPENHAGEN, May 26.—Though for several days past this city has been en fête in honor of the golden wedding of King Christian and Queen Louise, to-day is the actual anniversary of the marriage.

At an early hour all the chorus societies proceeded to the Amalienborg Palace, and, taking their positions in front of the building, serenaded the King and Queen and their imperial and royal guests.

King Christian, who was seen standing by the window with his guests, stooped, and, lifting in his arms his great-grandchild, Prince George, infant son of the Crown Prince of Greece, stepped out upon the balcony and thanked the singers for the great pleasure they had given him.

At 10 o'clock there was a grand procession of imperial and royal personages from the palace to Christianborg Church, where divine services were held.

The procession included the King and Queen of Denmark, the Czar and Czarina, the King and Queen of Greece, the Prince and Princess of Wales and their two daughters, Princess Victoria and Princess Maud, the Duke and Duchess of Cumberland and a number of lesser note.

The route to the church was literally packed with humanity and cheer followed cheer until the last member of the party disappeared within the church.

The service, which was entirely musical, lasted an hour. Upon its conclusion the procession was reformed and the Kings and Queens, Emperor and Empress, Princes and Princesses drove back to the Palace. There were in the line forty carriages.

The procession was halted to receive addresses that were presented by various deputations and by the municipal authorities. King Christian, who was deeply moved by the warm words of love and appreciation contained in the addresses, made a short speech of thanks in reply.

THE DOG MADE A MEAL OFFHIM.

Walter Sheehan Badly Bitten in a Bowery Cellar.

A bulldog has been chained in the cellar of the restaurant, 249 Bowery, for some time.

John Sheehan, a waiter, went into the cellar for something to-day and the dog broke its chain and attacked him.

Sheehan was bitten four or five times, and was lifting himself through a hole to the pavement, with the dog's teeth still fastened in one leg, when a policeman climbed in the animal off. Later it was chained up again.

Sheehan was sent to Gouverneur Hospital.

And Webster says that to Lead is

To precede; to introduce by going first.

It had been the custom for years for real estate dealers to cut up their property into lots 18 or 20x75 or 100 feet. I revolutionized the business by giving one-eighth acre plots for a less figure. Then I thoroughly improved my properties, doing away with the former obnoxious assessment system. The present daily announcements of the various suburban "home towns" will show whether my "lead" has been a successful one. Webster also says of Lead:

To guide, to conduct to a place.

With the free-inspection tickets, good any day, which I furnish upon application, you are conducted to HOLLISWOOD, on near-by Long Island, where my agent will meet and guide you through that beautiful natural park, showing you the wide, graded streets, well lighted and bordered with old shade trees; the advantages of the abundant water supply; the charming views, and handsome dwellings now being erected there. Webster further defines Lead as

To show the method of attaining an object.

Having satisfied yourself that you have found a site, the most beautiful, easiest of access to New York, (12 miles, frequent, quick trains,) cheap railroad fare, (commutation, eight cents,) and in a healthy, already settled district, I will convince you that a plot there, at from $50 upwards, payable in easy monthly instalments without interest, and with a guaranteed title, "is a method of attaining an object." In conclusion, I think I can safely repeat my claim, that

HENRY C. RATH, ELEVEN JOHN ST., N. Y. RATH LEADS.

CHOSE SYRACUSE DELEGATES.

Eleven Thousand Anti-Snappers Voted at the Primaries.

The following statement was given out at the Anti-Snap Convention headquarters this morning in regard to the primaries held yesterday for the election of delegates to the Syracuse Convention:

"We are more than satisfied with the result. The total number of votes cast in all the districts was nearly 11,000, more than twice as many as in the Tammany primaries, with no factional contests to bring out the voters.

"Our enrollment was over 76,000 when the polls opened. It is nonsense to talk of desertion because 65,000 did not vote. Primaries never bring out the full party strength.

"Among the delegates elected are ex-Corporation Counsel Henry H. Beekman, ex-Secretary of the Treasury Charles R. Fairchild, Aqueduct Commissioner and ex-candidate for Mayor Francis M. Scott, ex-Minister to Turkey Oscar S. Straus, ex-Police Justice Henry Murray, ex-Congressman John Quinn, Everett P. Wheeler, E. Ellery Anderson, Peter B. Olney, ex-Alderman Daniel E. Dowling, Prof. Hjalmar Boyesen, Charles A. Jackson, Col. Robert G. Monroe and ex-Senator George F. Langbein.

SUNDAY AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

The House Votes to Close the Government Exhibits on That Day.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

WASHINGTON, May 26.—When the House went into Committee of the Whole to-day on the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill, the pending question was on the question of the Sunday closing of the World's Fair.

The substitute offered by Mr. Stone (Pa.) requiring the filing of an agreement to close the fair on Sundays and prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquor on the grounds was lost—43 to 134.

Mr. Dockery, of Missouri, then offered as a substitute the following: "Provided that the Government exhibit at the World's Columbian Exposition shall not be open to the public on Sunday." Adopted.

The question then recurred on the original amendment as amended by the substitute and it was adopted.

BROOKLYN GOSSIP.

Charles J. Joyce, stenographer in Justice Walsh's City Hall District Police Court, is a good-natured and active city employee. An expert in his line, few testimony-takers at the local bar would care to contest with him in phonetic symbols or type-writer tickling. Before his appointment to his present position Mr. Joyce profited by a long experience in Supreme Court cases.

Just now there is a lively race among those who want to be chief clerks and stenographers in the two new police courts recently created. Ex-Assemblyman Mortimer C. Earl is said to be a preferred candidate for the clerkship in Justice Haggerty's court. If Senator Birkett still retains any local influence and is allowed, as W. S. promised, to name Judge Watson's clerk, the man will be Addison W. Bullock, of the Fourth Ward. Samuel B. Moore and John Hettrick are the two most likely winners for the stenographerships.

Johnny Regan, the once foremost amateur rowing champion, has joined the Varuna Boat Club and is ready to train or meet all comers. There are few better trainers than Regan, who can hide his breast under a weight of medals, &c. He has taken up his residence at Coney Island for the Summer.

Andrew Lyons, the smiling and rotund Constable attached to Justice Neu's court, dislikes nothing more than a dispossess ejectment, and likes nothing so well as a parade. Mr. Lyons is a war veteran and an active member of the Grand Army. Gen Catlin has named him one of his Memorial Day staff as Provost Marshal-General.
