"A field hath three needs—good weather, good seed, good husbandry."
—Italian Proverb.

To the field of Merchandise, Husbandry is as essential as Assortments and Values.....Twice each year, when we take account of stock, we have a closing sale, but two and fifty times a year it is just as necessary to revise prices and close out special lines.——How could we, otherwise avail ourselves of those opportunities which advancing season bring to those who are prepared.....Therefore, while we are daily buying far lower than prices of a month ago, we are daily offering early season purchases at prices that never fail to sell.

To buy, to sell is necessary——to sell enables us to buy.

THEREFORE WE SELL.
