BELLEVUE'S EASY VICTORY.

Roller Defeats Stalactite and Upsets the Talent.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

MORRIS PARK RACE TRACK, June 1.—The card at Morris Park to-day was not a very attractive one. Not more than 5,000 thought it worth while to journey in the hot cars to the track, but those who did were amply rewarded with breezes which swept through the great grand stand with refreshing coolness. Only one stake event was on the card, and that did not promise to be much of a race, for the withdrawal of Raceland detracted much from the interest which was taken in it.

The selling races promised to be the best of the day.

The track was in good condition and very fast. The opening race was a dash of five furlongs, for two-year-olds. Raindrop was the favorite, and Coral safely landed him, much to the delight of the talent, who, after yesterday's experience, had lost much of their nerve. Astoria, an imported filly, landed second money, and Courtship, second choice, was third.

Little Nell bolted at the end of a furlong and went far with the fence with such force that it was at first thought that McCarthy, her rider, was badly hurt. Two of his ribs were fractured, but he was not otherwise injured.

Belvedere was a hot favorite in the second race, and he had an easy victory. Bergen kept him under a pull throughout. Kingsbridge and Gottsburg made a pretty finish for the place, the former getting the verdict by a head.

In the three-year-old maiden race the talent plunged on Stalactite as the winner, notwithstanding he had not yet been out this year. They were minus of Mr. Lorillard's plunger—that gentleman, however, did not bet much on his horse, and it was well he didn't, for holder's speed thing, win in very easy fashion, at odds of 8 to 1. Stalactite landed second, and Garrison placed the high-priced but unworthy favorite third.

HALF THE MONEY UP.

Second Depo it Made in the Sullivan-Corbett Match.

Phil Dwyer Agreed Upon as the Final Stakeholder.

Coney Island Club Willing to Take the Olympic Burden.

The second deposit of $2,500 in the $10,000 stake for the Sullivan-Corbett match was made at the office of the sporting editor of THE WORLD this afternoon. Charley Johnston and Jimmy Wakely appeared for Sullivan, Mike Donovan, of the New York Athletic Club, represented Corbett. The money was posted without any ceremony. The question of final stakeholder was then taken up.

"I suggest Phil Dwyer," said Johnston.

"He is just the man for us," returned Donovan. And Dwyer was accepted.

Arthur Lumley, agent for the Coney Island Athletic Club, then made a proposition to the representatives of the pugilists. He said:

"In case anything occurs whereby the present match cannot be carried out by the Olympic Club the Coney Island Club has authorized me to offer to make good the forfeit already posted and to offer the same purse as the Olympic Club now offers."

Johnston replied: "We have no authority to make any change. That is a matter for the men to decide themselves. The next purse must be larger than the present $25,000, though.

"I have given the Olympic Club a deposit that Sullivan will be in the ring. I will now demand that the Olympic Club place a deposit in the hands of Mr. Dwyer to guarantee the men protection."

Authority was given to the sporting editor of THE WORLD to turn over to Stakeholder Dwyer, on demand, the deposit now in his hands.

Among those who were present this afternoon were Ed Moran, who is Sullivan's handlinger; Billy Delaney, who is Corbett's trainer; Arthur Lumley, Mike Donovan, Charley Johnston, Jimmy Wakely, Denny Butler and James Dreyfus.

The next two deposits are to be made on July 10 and Aug. 25.

Sullivan and Corbett are to meet at the Olympic Club, New Orleans, on Sept. 7, to fight to a finish for a purse of $25,000 and a stake of $10,000 a side.

COULDN'T FINISH IN 40 ROUNDS.

Johnny and Billy Murphy to Renew Their Battle.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 1.—Billy Murphy, of New Zealand, and Johnny Murphy, of Boston, met last night for a fight to a finish at the Pacific Athletic Club for a $1,250 purse. The men were carefully trained to the 110-pound limit.

Johnny Murphy, who is the boxing instructor of Harvard College, was something of an unknown quantity here, it being his first battle on the coast, and the betting favored the other man at odds of 20 to 12. Billy's victories over Johnnie Griffin and Ike Weir and the memorable draw with Frank Murphy, of England, in which the Australian broke an arm, being still fresh in the minds of the sports.

Up to the twenty-seventh round there was a good deal of hot fighting, and in the tenth it looked as if Billy would be knocked out.

From the twenty-seventh to the fortieth there was no fighting, and the battle was postponed until to-morrow night. Subsequently it was found that Billy's right hand was broken and Johnny's wrist sprained, and the postponement was extended a week.

Boyer Offers No Evidence.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

CAMDEN, N. J., June 1.—At the Boyer murder trial this morning Louisa Boden testified that she had heard Boyer threaten to kill Gibbs several hours before the quarrel which ended in Gibbs's death. After considerable argument of minor evidence the State rested its case.

Lawyer Garrison, on behalf of the murderer, stated that he desired to rest his client's case on the evidence given by the State and would at once go on with his argument.

Put His Face in Evidence.

John Burns, of 207 West Fifty-ninth street, driver of a dirt cart, in the Harlem Court today charged three Italian laborers, Giacomo Macaly, Antonio Franchesco and Frank Bianchi, with having assaulted him for protesting at the length of time it took them to load his carts. Without heart kicked one head off, said John, and he offered his face in evidence. It corroborated his story, and the three men were held.

Sighted Several Icebergs.

J. COLEMAN DRAYTON HERE.

With His Children, Arrived on the Teutonic.

The Eldest Girl Alone Wore Mourning for William Astor.

J. Coleman Drayton and his four children, two boys and two girls, arrived on the Teutonic, which reached her pier at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The children were in charge of an English nurse. Their names are Harry, about ten years old; Willie, four years old; Ann, about seven, and the eldest child, whom the nurse called Miss Drayton.

An EVENING WORLD reporter boarded the Teutonic at Quarantine and sought an interview with Mr. Drayton. He smiled when asked if he wished to say anything of his and the children's future movements.

"I really don't believe the public cares to know anything of our intentions," he said; "besides, it is entirely a matter which concerns only myself."

He was asked if there was anything else he cared to say, and he shook his head negatively and passed out of the saloon.

The children, with the exception of the eldest girl, wore no symbols of mourning for their grandfather, William Astor. The eldest girl wore a deep black band around a gray felt hat.

Mr. Drayton himself was dressed quietly in a black cheviot sack suit and wore a black derby hat. He wore no mourning band.

It was learned authoritatively that Mr. Drayton and the children would remain at a hotel in New York to-night, but that they would go to Bernardsville, N. J., to-morrow.

Several passengers said that the children appeared happy on board, despite their mother's absence, and that Mr. Drayton seemed to be in excellent spirits and not at all downcast. He devoted himself throughout the voyage almost entirely to his children, and did not frequent the "smoking-room."

A carriage was taken at the pier by the Draytons for an uptown hotel.

Among Mr. Drayton's fellow-passengers were Fred W. Vanderbilt, J. Pierpont Morgan, Bishop Henry C. Potter, F. W. Sharon, son of ex-Senator Sharon, of Nevada, and Anson Phelps Stokes.

GEN. HUMIDITY IS 92 TO-DAY.

By Night He'll Reach the Century Mark and Slop Over.

Excessive humidity causes one to think that the heat to-day is breaking a record, but it isn't. According to Weather Forecaster Dunn, the heat is normal, but the humidity this morning was almost at the top notch, and it wilted collars, gave ear and truck horses a sweltering appearance and inaugurated a Coney Island boom that hardly anything short of a snowstorm can check.

The Weather Bureau's official thermometer on top of the Equitable Building registered 68 degrees of heat at 8 o'clock this morning, while the humidity was 92 per cent. or only eight short of saturation.

The mercury rose rapidly, and at 10.30 o'clock had reached 78 degrees, the humidity remaining about the same. There is a difference of two or three degrees between the temperature down in the street and that registered up in Mr. Dunn's eyrie.

The hottest June day on Mr. Dunn's records was in 1879, when the mercury registered 89 degrees of heat. The next hottest June days were in 1877 and 1880, when 85 degrees were registered. Mr. Dunn says the mercury may reach 85 to-day.

There is a storm central over Mississippi. It is moving eastward. A thunder-storm is predicted by Mr. Dunn for to-night.

The hottest places in the country this morning was Mobile, Ala., where the temperature was 78 at 8 o'clock. At Fort Assiniboine, Mon., at the same hour the mercury registered 36, while at Chicago it was 46.

The south by southeast wind, bringing the moisture from the ocean, is responsible for the excessive humidity here.

The first case reported of prostration by heat to-day was that of William Gierman, sixty years old, of 311 East Seventy-sixth street, who was working at 410 East Sixty-eighth street. He was removed to the Presbyterian Hospital.

The couple will sail for Rome shortly.

SENATE AND SILVER.

No Final Vote on the Stewart Bill Until After June 14.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Mr. Sherman closed his speech on the silver bill in the Senate at 4 o'clock, and was followed by Mr. Stewart in demand of the bill, but it was found after an agreement had been reached by unanimous consent, that no final vote should be taken on the bill or any amendment until after the 14th of June next.

BOY BURGLAR BRODIE.

Sent to the Catholic Protectory, His Companions Set Free.

Little Johnny Brodie, the leader of the band of boy burglars who plundered a Broadway toy store and hid their booty in the basement of the new criminal Court building, will spend several years in the Catholic Protectory.

His young companions this morning said that he was responsible for their crookedness. Judge Michael Nash therefore sent the six boys of the Bowery lodging-shanty to the Protectory. The other urchins, among whom was the son of Policeman Haggerty, were discharged.

Minister Lincoln's Wife and Daughter Sail for Home.

LONDON, June 1.—Among the passengers who sailed to-day from Liverpool on the Inman line steamer City of New York for New York are Mrs. and Miss Lincoln, wife and daughter of Robert T. Lincoln, the American Minister.

Mr. Lincoln accompanied them to Liverpool. He will return to London to-night.

THE TURF.

Contest for the Sea and Sound Stakes Proves to Be a Tame Affair.

THE BOARD WARNS JOCKEYS.

The Pepper and Frieze Upset the Talent—Other Track Talk.

The Sea and Sound Stakes, which on paper promised a brilliant race, proved an exceedingly tame affair yesterday. St. Florian was withdrawn, though why no one knows. He certainly had a great chance, notwithstanding the fact that he was giving away considerable weight. His withdrawal left Lamplighter a practical walk-over. Bergen rode him in better style yesterday, and keeping well up with the bunch, drew out in the final sixteenth and won handily. Actor was second. Quite a plunge was made on the latter for a place, his odds being 12 to 1 straight and 8 to 5 for a place. The Spendthrift-Kaluia colt, now named Kenesbo, has grown into a handsome looking fellow. He landed third money, after Doggett permitted him to wander all over the track. Dagonet finished a poor last, and in such tired shape that many turfmen are inclined to believe with Mr. Hunter that Fremonts will not train him. Dagonet may improve, however.

* * *

Mr. Fred Gebhard and Mr. Pierre Lorillard met in the club-house just before the first race yesterday. "Your gelding is at a long price," said the former, referring to Yemen. Mr. Lorillard's entry in the first race. "Well, I don't think he is of much account," replied Mr. Lorillard. "You can have him for $1,500 and keep the purse if he wins." Mr. Gebhard declined. Both gentlemen took seats on the lawn and saw Yemen win in very handy style. Some books quoted as much as 40 to 1 against the winner. Had Mr. Lorillard been as sure of Yemen's winning as he was of Kilkenny in the fourth race, he would have left the ring in a badly demoralized condition. He is probably one of the heaviest plungers in the country. His commissioners placed a large amount of money on Kilkenny in the fourth race and got all the way from 6 to 1 for it. This gave the ring a blow that it did not recover from all day, notwithstanding the long shots that landed in race after race.

* * *

The second race gave the talent a bad throw-down. The Pepper, at 40 to 1, went out and made all the running, winning, dead tired, by a walk from Banquet. Masterlode and Mars could not run fast enough to keep warm. Father Bill Daly bet on Banquet, and was sad for the rest of the day.

Lochatchee looks none the worse for his hard race in the Metropolitan. He is likely to be a dangerous factor in three-year-old events this year.

Mr. John A. Morris wants to get up a sweepstakes between Lamplighter, St. Florian and Lochatchee. He says the Association will add $2,000, and $2,000 a corner would make a comfortable stake for the winner. Mr. Lorillard consented to start Lochatchee in the event of his receiving seven pounds from St. Florian. The owners of Lamplighter will probably ask a like allowance. The race should be a cracking good one if Mr. Morris succeeds in getting the three together.

William Barrick, owner of Dr. Hasbrouck, yesterday paid Jockey McLaughlin for a winning mount yesterday. This smooths over the misunderstanding whereby Murphy rode Dr. Hasbrouck on opening day instead of McLaughlin, who had been engaged.

St. Florian's blind eye was yesterday examined by an expert oculist, who said that no cure could be made. He expressed great surprise that a horse with such an eye could win great races. He held that only a super of extraordinary courage and speed like Salvator could accomplish such feats as St. Florian had accomplished with so defective vision.

Leonawell won in the last race wasn't much of a question. He has been running well lately with a good up. Yesterday Moore rode him to the finish like a jockey and not like a jockey. Moore is doing exceptionally good work just now.

A man who gave his name as Farley Clark, of 10 West Forty-ninth street, was fined $10 to-day in the Tombs Court, on the charge of evading payment of fare on the "L" road. He was arrested by a policeman stationed at the City Hall terminus.

According to the City Directory, Farley Clark is a merchant at 18 Broadway and lives at Cedarhurst, L. I.

Mrs. John H. Clark lives at 10 West Forty-ninth street.

Mr. Farley Clark, broker and clubman, was not at his office at 18 Broadway when a call was made there this morning. The clerk in charge of the office said he had not heard of Mr. Clark being fined $10 or having been charged with refusing to pay his fare.

"Did Mr. Clark speak of being at the Tombs Court hearing?" the reporter asked.

"No. He was in the office while the hearing must have been in progress."

"Would he have told you if he had been arrested?"

"I don't know."

It was announced to-day that Mr. Farley Clark's hunter client and two other jumpers whose work at the horse show gained prizes, together with Mrs. Clark's favorite driving team, would be sold by Sheriff Norton at Cedarhurst, L. I., to-day to satisfy an $11,000 mortgage held by the George C. Flint Co., furniture dealers.

The judgment was obtained as the amount of a furniture bill a month ago, at which time Sheriff Norton is said to have been locked out of the stable by Mr. Clark. Mrs. Clark finally agreed to pay the judgment, but recently changed her mind. Notices of sale to-morrow are posted on the front gate of Mr. Clark's cottage.
