Allen county alone resolved th at Mr. Penfield was improperly elected, and designated Mr. McDonald as the delegate. McDonald comes up here on that kind of a claim. He has no standing whatever."

The "Senatorial Car," as it is called, arrived this morning and brought Senators Stockbridge, of Michigan; Sawyer, of Wisconsin; Felton, of California; Gallinger, of New Hampshire, and Quay, of Pennsylvania, and Congressman Burrows, of Michigan.

MR. HARRISON'S CHANCE.

A Veteran Observer Says He Must Win at the Start if at All.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

MINNEAPOLIS, June 3.—Still they come for the big convention. Republicans of national repute, of State repute, and of no repute at all outside their own localities. But all big with the importance of the assembling of next Tuesday and all sure that the particular somebody whose nomination they favor will be the chosen one.

It is useless to daily with individual propheses just now. Nobody can tell, and perhaps nobody would tell if he could, how things are going. But it is worth while to take account of what some shrewd observers think.

"Gath," the famous Washington correspondent and political interviewer, has set it down in his note-book that if Harrison cannot get in on the first ballot he is lost. But the Administration managers say that on that precise ballot Harrison will get in.

Another impression of "Gath" is that the issue is distinctly between Harrison and Blaine and that only by one or the other of those men withdrawing can any other candidate get in.

Gossip about the Chairmanship of the Convention continues to hold Tom Reed's name up as the choice of the anti-Harrison men. The burly ex-Speaker, though he has been Blaine's enemy, is counted as just the man whom the Blaine managers could best depend upon to push their plans for them.

A report from Washington says Reed has notified the Committee that he wouldn't take the place, but that doesn't stop either the rumor or the anti-Harrison schemers. Pshaw! Did not even Blaine himself write a letter of declination long weeks ago? These are days when declinations are apparently not allowed to count.

A good story circulated here attributes the recent giving out of Alger's war record to Secretary Elkins. It is declared that the matter was made public in the interests of the President, as it was feared that Alger had worked up a popularity greater than Harrison's own among the soldiers and was decidedly in the Administration's way.

Naturally the Anti-Harrison men do not aid in the suppression of this story.

The Jerry Rusk boom is still here to an extent, but is being gradually swallowed, as the Blaine movement becomes more pronounced, in the idea that Rusk will do well for second place on a ticket with the Plumed Knight.

Taking the position now that the nomination must go either to Blaine or Harrison, it needs only the most casual circulation among the politicians here to show anyone that there will be an abundance of injured feelings to look to after the Convention has done its work.

HARRISON HIS OWN GENERAL.

Did Mr. Blaine Reassure the President as to His New York Trip?

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

WASHINGTON, June 3.—President Harrison will personally direct his campaign at Minneapolis. Under his instructions Private Secretary Halford has arranged for a private wire from the White House to the Hoosier headquarters in the convention city, so that he may be in constant and close communication with his lieutenants.

The President has also accepted the offer of the press associations to furnish him with their latest bulletins from the Convention.

Despatches from the Harrison headquarters at Minneapolis to the Chief Executive state that all his rivals have been forestalled at the outset and his campaign has secured a splendid send-off.

An undoubted authority in White House circles is reported to have said that just before his recent visit to New York, Secretary Blaine called upon President Harrison and held a conversation with him which was substantially as follows:

Mr. Blaine—In connection with my visit to New York you will probably hear that it has a political meaning. A construction may be put on it that will please neither you nor me. I wish to say to you that I am not a candidate for the nomination and I hope you will not credit any of these stories that are flying about.

Mr. Harrison—I am much gratified at your open dealing with me. I had supposed you felt this way towards a nomination, although some persons have tried to persuade me differently.

Depew Sanguine for Harrison.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

CHICAGO, June 3.—Dr. Chauncey M. Depew says: "Harrison will be nominated and the Convention will be over in two days. We will all be back here Friday telling of what great people the Republican party is composed, and in particular, dwelling on the collapse of the Blaine boom!"

Platt Slaps at Depew.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

CHICAGO, June 3.—Ex-Senator Thomas C. Platt says that Dr. Chauncey M. Depew's declaration for Harrison is not disinterested, as he is anxious to retain his job as a United States World's Fair Commissioner. "Mr. Harrison cannot be nominated," says Mr. Platt. "I will stake my reputation that fifty New York delegates will vote for Blaine on the first ballot."

Harrison an Iceberg.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

ROCHESTER, June 3.—H. H. Warner, delegate to Minneapolis, says he is opposed to second terms on principle and to Harrison because he is an official iceberg. He hints at a dark horse.

Voice for Southern Republicans.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

NASHVILLE, June 3.—Congressman L. C. Houk, delegate-at-large to the Minneapolis Convention, declares he will not vote for Blaine, Harrison or any other man who will not recognize the 1,000,000 Southern Republicans in the Cabinet appointments.

Accusing McKinley of Trifling.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

ZANESVILLE, O., June 3.—W. H. Johnson, delegate to Minneapolis; Congressman Adams and Jonathan Ross, of Cambridge, intimate that Gov. McKinley is trifling with the truth in his denial that he told them he was for Blaine and would rather see him nominated than any man in the world.

Hatton Wants a Dark Horse.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

CHICAGO, June 3.—Ex-Assistant Postmaster-General Frank Hatton thinks that both Blaine and Harrison should be dropped because knives and razors will be carried in factional sleeves and boots at election time for either candidate.

Maybe Reed Wouldn't Be Chairman.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Congressman Thomas B. Reed, of Maine, has notified the National Committee that he will not be a candidate for the temporary chairmanship of the Minneapolis Convention. He will attend merely as a spectator and advisory counsel. Ex-Congressman John M. Langston, of Virginia, is being considered for chairman.

STARTED FOR MINNEAPOLIS.

New York Delegates Depart in a Special Train.

Blaine Partisans and Harrison Men Travel Happily Together.

A special train of eight cars, including six sleepers, a dining-room and a buffet car, stood in the Grand Central depot this morning ready to start for the Convention at Minneapolis with the delegates from New York City and their friends.

The train was scheduled to leave at 10.00 A. M., but it was 10.45 before it was under way.

During the early hours of the morning there was a great gathering of the Republican clans in the New York Central waiting-room. Most of the big local lights have already reached Minneapolis or are journeying thither in private cars; but the smaller fry were all on hand, including most of the local leaders who, if they cannot go out as delegates, will attend the convention as shouters and "rooters."

Among the first to arrive at the depot this morning was Collector Hendricks, who drove up with John S. Kenyon, the Secretary of the Republican State Committee and master of ceremonies for the present excursion.

The Collector said he was too busy to talk politics this morning, and refused to break silence on the Presidential question. He stands in with Mr. Platt's crowd, however, and is generally put down as a Blaine shouter, as is also Secretary Kenyon.

There was a decided Blaine atmosphere among the politicians who soon filled up the waiting-room, and predictions were made on every side that the Man from Maine had from fifty to sixty of the New York delegation.

Cornelius N. Bliss was on hand early, wearing a white hat and a new pair of russet shoes. He is going to hustle for Harrison. Big Frank Raymond is a stanch Blaine supporter, and expects to see him nominated on the first ballot.

Ex-Justice Jacob Patterson is of the same opinion, and with his colleagues, George Hilliard, Henry L. Dotty and John R. Nugent, from the Ninth Congressional District, they form a solid Blaine phalanx.

Among the other delegates who drifted in during the early part of the morning were Wm. H. Godsey, Dennis Shea, J. D. Lawson, C. H. Murray, G. A. Schurmann, P. J. O'Brien, William Henkel, Frederick S. Gibbs, Nath. A. Prentis, Charles T. Polhemus, Robert A. Greaves, John Little, Michael Gossie, David F. Porter, John Reisenweber, David Friedsam and Charles F. Bruder.

Most of them wore cutting shirts, straw hats and russet shoes, and a few of the heavy men were provided with big palmleaf fans. Blaine hats, which area cross the high white style, were plentiful. Several members of the Republican Club appointed by President Blanchard to attend the Convention were also passengers on the delegates' train. Among them were E. A. McAlpin, Joseph Peck, F. F. Wentworth, William H. Bellamy, Henry Gleason, W. C. Roberts, William Leary, Clarence W. Meade, Byron W. Greene, H. E. Tremain, William T. Martin, M. Shaughnessy and Alex. T. Mason.

Every berth on the train had been taken. Among some of the party workers who found places were Ferdinand Eidman, John H. Guckner, Michael Kerwin, Judge Rooney, of Brooklyn, Deputy Surveyor John Collins, R. M. Lusk, Isaac E. Stoddard, Wilbur F. Taylor, Charles B. Page, W. V. Ruppert, T. W. McGowan and M. R. Bryant.

There were no portraits nor anything else in the way of flags or bunting. Supplies, liquid and solid, were taken on board in sufficient quantity to meet the wants of the travelers until they arrive at their destination, which will be next Sunday morning.

A stop of six hours will be made to-morrow at Chicago.

SCROFULOUS HUMOR

Boy Almost Lost Use of His Limbs—Two Years' Intense Itching—Several Doctors Fail.

Instant Relief, Sweet Sleep, Speedy, Remarkable and Permanent Cure by Cuticura Remedies.

When about seven years old, my son was afflicted with a skin disease which was very distressing. The first appearance was of little pimples accompanied by intense itching, soon spreading into sores covered with scales, except when scratched off. The entire body, except head, was covered. He almost lost the use of his limbs, and was at night I could carry him about like an infant. I tried all remedies I could find recommended in medical works for relief without benefit. Applied to different physicians, receiving temporary relief, but the disease was sure to return. I sent for your pamphlet, read it, purchased a set of CUTICURA REMEDIES, I anointed him with the CUTICURA, bathing with the CUTICURA SOAP, and gave small doses of CUTICURA RESOLVENT. Oh, the soothing effect of that CUTICURA! After two years' search for something to allay that terrible itching, what a relief to see him sleep sweetly without any inclination to scratch. Less than two boxes of CUTICURA, one cake CUTICURA SOAP and one bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT performed a cure with no return. Is now a strong, healthy boy of thirteen. We consider it a remarkable cure, as he had inherited scrofulous humor.

FOR THE NOMINEE.

But Tammany Will Work to Make Senator Hill That Nominee.

Tammany Hall has declared that it will support the nominee of the Chicago Convention, whoever he may be. At the Wigwam meeting last night, however, it is a notable fact that Senator Hill's name was not mentioned.

Richard Croker, in an interview, reiterates that Tammany Hall would be loyal to the senator. "We will vote for him at Chicago," said he. "We have been instructed to do so by the State Convention. Any other action would be dishonorable."

Mr. Croker denied that he said in an interview that Senator Hill was the "coming man." If Grover Cleveland was nominated he would have the support of Tammany. "What else would we do, if we did not support him we would not be Democrats?"

Found Dead in a Jersey Field.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

CHERRY HILL, N. J., June 3.—The body of an unknown man was found at 7 o'clock this morning in a field near the road from the West Englewood station of the West Shore road to New Bridge. The dead man was apparently about thirty-five years old, of light complexion, sandy hair, and he wore a striped shirt, trousers and a soft felt hat. There were no signs of violence. He had apparently not been dead over forty-eight hours. The Coroner will investigate.

SIMMONS COMES TO BROOKLYN.

The Bank Wrecker Transferred to the Kings County "Pen."

Very many people in this city will be surprised by the announcement to-day that Bank-Wrecker James E. Simmons, who was sentenced to serve six years in the Erie County Penitentiary, will instead "do" his time in the Kings County Prison.

This is construed by many to mean that Simmons and his friends have an effective "pull," which it exerted, may possibly result in a material shortening of the bank-wrecker's term of imprisonment. The order of Simmons's transfer was issued by Attorney-General W. H. H. Miller two days after the prisoner's arrival at the Buffalo bastile.

Friends of Gen. Peter J. Claassen, who was Simmons's associate in the Sixth Avenue Bank affair, for which both men were convicted, are not cheered by this order of the Attorney-General, for all efforts to secure Claassen's removal to the Kings County "Pen" have proven thus far unsuccessful.
