HOME FROM CHICAGO.

Tammany's Contingent Arriving in Big Trainloads.

Unanimous Professions of Loyalty to Cleveland and Stevenson.

Syracuse Convention Delegates to Arrive This Afternoon.

The first of the returning delegates coming over the New York Central road arrived on the St. Louis express at 7.45 this morning, which was forty-five minutes late. They were a happy dozen of Nutmeg Democrats, every man wearing a long cern "Summer ulster" and every man carrying a dapper square hand-bag of russet leather. The Connecticut men expressed themselves enthusiastically for the ticket and promised a victory for Cleveland and Stevenson in the State of steady Habits.

The first section of the Tammany train, due to arrive at 6 o'clock, pulled into the station at 7.55. It consisted of eleven sleepers, and 205 braves alighted. They had been under the temporary leadership of Senator Plunkitt, and included representatives of the Thirteenth Assembly District, led by Louis Munzinger; Seventeenth, Alderman W. P. Hinckhoff; Eighteenth, Alderman Wund; Twentieth, Thomas Leemy, and Twenty-first, led by School Commissioner C. F. Allen.

Among those who came on this train were Judge Fitzsimons, John F. Carroll, Alderman Roche, Henry Stewart, A. L. Sanger, Commissioner Storm, Commissioner Daly, Warden Fallon, Michael Martin, ex-Assemblymen Martin, O'Hare, Murphy and Hill, Commissioner Feltner, James P. Keating and ex-Senator Cullen.

Ex-Assemblyman Horridge was master of ceremonies, and Chris Kane, Gabe O'Connor, P. H. McGirr and Alderman Wund had charge of the refreshments in the several cars.

The train left Chicago at 9.30 Thursday evening, with Travelling Passenger Agents G. A. Carscadin, of the Michigan Central and W. S. Randolph, of the New York Central on board. The train was in charge of Conductor J. Clarke and the travellers, who reached New York fresh and cheerful, were enthusiastic in their praises of the officials.

The train stopped at Niagara Falls three hours yesterday afternoon to give the travellers an opportunity to visit the cataract and the Canadian side. They left Buffalo at 7 last evening.

"We had a 'lovely time' in Chicago," said a delegate with a weary expression. "We held an indignation meeting on the train and passed a resolution never to go to that town again.

"Why, George Winters had to pay $21.75 for his Thursday dinner at one of the hotels, though he had been in Chicago all during the week. His room had never been assigned to him and that dinner was all he had at the house.

"In the barber shops a man had to take a shampoo whether he wanted it or not, and had to pay $1.50 for a shave and shampoo.

"Whiskey was 40 cents a drink, and every one in Chicago seemed to think this was the chance of his life. It was worth 50 per cent. of the price of anything to a Tammany man if he covered up his badge! Then it rained the whole blessed week, and the Wigwam was no better than a tree as a shelter. New York's the only place!"

All the returning braves spoke hopefully for the ticket, agreeing that, as organization men, they would do their best for its success. And this was not spoken perfunctorily, either. The men spoke with apparent good feeling.

The second section of the Tammany train, eleven sleepers and 261 men, arrived at 8.45. The men were from the Nineteenth Assembly District, under George E. Best's leadership; the Twenty-second, Harry Hart; Twenty-third, William H. Burke, and Twenty-fourth, Joseph I. Berry.

The whole contingent was in charge of Police Justice McMahon.

Many of these passengers left the train at Mott Haven. Among the downtown men who alighted at Forty-second street were Robert E. Nooney, Under Sheriff Sexton, Warden Tom Dunlap, Secretary Bishop, of the Excise Board, and Judge McKeon.

They reported that when their train passed through Syracuse that city was ablaze with fireworks, bonfires and Cleveland banners, and William A. Beach, Editor Northrop, Col. Jenny, ex-Mayor Ryan, ex-Mayor Kirk and the other Democrats of Syracuse were demonstrating their approval of the Chicago nomination in the old-fashioned way.

"You may say that we had a royal time on the railroad, and an awful experience at Chicago," said Judge McMahon smilingly. "Chicago is a highway robber, and a good town to avoid. As for the ticket, I say heartily that we shall do our best for Cleveland and Stevenson."

The excursionists got their Friday breakfast in Detroit, lunched at St. Thomas, Ont., and dined at Niagara Falls. They had plenty of lighter refreshments on the trains. They all scattered on their arrival, hurrying home to prepare for the resumption of their accustomed employments.

ANTI-WAPPERS' HOME-COMING.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

BUFFALO, June 25.—Syracuse Convention delegates and their friends in two sections of a special train over the New York Central system left Chicago at 1.30 P. M. yesterday. There was a wild and hilarious scene in the Lake Shore depot before their departure.

In the first section of the train there were eight Wagner coaches, all of which had been gayly decorated.

Franz Mayer, who seemed to be Commissary-General for the delegation, so far as the implements of warfare went, brought out big bundles of flags just before the train started, and distributed them among the passengers, and when the train pulled out of the depot one of these banners was floating from every window, while hundreds of tin horns were making a terrific din and the crowds who looked on cheered uproariously. Two enthusiasts, not satisfied with toy roosters, had purchased a couple of live gamecocks which they exhibited with pride among the crowd in the first section.

In the coaches were Congressman De Witt C. Warner, Robert Greer Monroe, Riqual D. Woodward and E. B. Whitney; ex-Congressman John Quinn, whose admirers in Chicago, headed by ex-Congressman Frank Lawler, gave him a reception and presented him with a handsome gold-headed cane Thursday evening; Robert L. Minturn, Wallace MacFarlane, Arthur Clark, Prof. Adolph Cohen, of Columbia College; Walter S. Bunn, Hamilton H. Tompkins, ex-Senator William Caldwell, W. W. Niles, Col. James J. Mooney, Alderman Daniel Dowling, Frederick Boehme, Daniel McCoy, ex-Mayor Fitzgerald, County Clerk Cerroy and the Staunton workers, from Troy; Patrick H. Murphy and William Mullen, of Little Falls; ex-Senator Van Schaick, of Schoharie; Charles J. Chipp, of the Comptroller's office, New York; James D. Wasson; Judge John Jerolamon, of New York and New Mexico Joseph C. Schoenberger, William F. Hull, R. J. Cook, Michael Lennon, Charles B. Hoke, Patrick Cunningham, of the sixth Assembly District; Mr. Poindexter, W. B. Hazeltine and Col. John Tracy, whose literary bureau has been one of the most notable features of the fight at Chicago.

One of Col. Mooney's retainers in the Twenty-fourth District, Daniel F. McCoot, distinguished himself by composing a song, which proved to be the most popular rallying cry of the trip. It was set to the tune of "Marching Through Georgia," and the chorus ran like this:

Hurrah! hurrah! success is in the air!
Hurrah! hurrah! let Harrison beware!
For Grover is our candidate;
He's certain to get there,
As he goes canvassing along.

A quartet was organized as soon as the train got under way composed of Mr. McComo as first tenor, E. B. Whitney second tenor, with E. Ellery Anderson and Requal Woodward on the bass ends.

The first stop was at Laporte, Ind., and the shouters got out and performed a war dance on the platform to the wonderment of the inhabitants. Round after round of cheers was given for Cleveland and Stevenson, and several enthusiastic speechmakers in the delegation began campaign work at once among the rural population.

At all the little towns along the route through Indiana crowds turned out to witness the spectacle.

Two or three stops were made at small towns along the way, including South Bend, Elkhart and Wanseon, and the racket of tinhorns and cannon firecrackers roused the natives and made things lively for a few minutes at each.

Toledo was reached at 9 o'clock and the crowd, which had been plentifully supplied with red lights and roman candles, poured out upon the platform and during the ten minutes' wait gave a pyrotechnic exhibition which attracted an enthusiastic crowd of spectators.

At Sandusky the programme was varied by an impromptu jig act on the platform by Willie McManus and Tommy Devine, of the Seventeenth District, two experts in the terpsichorean art.

Prof. Farrell, who had brought his fiddle along, furnished the music, and a circle of blazing red lights was formed about the dancers.

The act was a great success.

There was an abundance of liquid refreshments aboard the train. As the night wore on a few of the berths were prepared, but there was no rest for the weary, for the shouting, singing and tooting of the bohemians was kept up with no intermission till long after midnight.

The second section of the train, which followed ten minutes behind the first, has on board ex-Secretary Charles S. Fairchild, Frederic R. Coudert, ex-Mayor Grace, Everett P. Wheeler and Francis B. Scott.

The train will reach New York about 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The train passed through Rochester at 8.30 this morning, about an hour and a half behind time. The two sections met in Cleveland at midnight and combined in a wild celebration, in which horns, cannon crackers and red fire played a conspicuous part, the racket lasting for nearly an hour. Alderman Fiegenschuh made a red-hot campaign speech in German to the assembled delegates and to whosoever.

A REPUBLICAN TO STUMP FOR GROVER.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

GREENCASTLE, Ind., June 25.—Delano F. Williamson, a life-long Republican and once Attorney-General of Indiana, has declared for Cleveland. He says war taxation should be done away with. He will take the stump for the Chicago nominees.

FIRE BUGS ON THE WEST SIDE.

Timely Discovery of Flames Saves an Apartment House.

Fire Marshal Searching for the Incendiary.

Capt. Devey, of the West Forty-seventh street station, has asked the Fire Marshal to make an investigation of a supposed incendiary fire at 621 West Fifty-fourth street, a two story brick rear house near Twelfth avenue. On the first floor lives Mrs. Helm and her six children. James McCormick and wife and their daughter-in-law lived upstairs. The latter has three small children.

Mrs. Ellen McCormick about 2.40 this morning discovered a fire in the hall. She awakened her husband and daughter-in-law and then knocked on the wall and aroused Mr. Fleck who lives across the hall.

The McCormicks were shut in, the door of their apartments being ablaze. Fleck put out the fire with a few pails of water.

An investigation showed that some one had built a fire against McCormick's door. The motive is a mystery. Mrs. McCormick said this morning that they had no enemies that they knew of.

Half an hour after midnight this morning a slight fire occurred in the rooms of Joseph Bestender in the third floor of 94 Attorney street. While trying to put out the flames Bestender was slightly burned on the hand.

GERMAN SINGERS GO ABROAD.

Arion Society to Give Concerts in Germany and Austria.

Two hundred and fifty members of the Arion Society sailed for Germany to-day on the Hamburg-American steamer Wieland.

They will give a series of concerts in Germany and Austria. Sixty-five of the members are singers, and with them as soloists were Miss Maud Powell, violinist, and Franz Rummel, pianist. Frank Van der Stucken will be musical director.

In Vienna the Society will be the guest of Princess Metternich. The feline will be "done" in a chartered steamer, and a "humorous" banquet will be an attraction at Cologne.

Reid Will Go on the Stump.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

WHITE PLAINS, June 25.—Candidate Whitelaw Reid is very busy at Ophir Farm with mail and telegraphic correspondence. He says he shall take an active and aggressive part in the canvass when the campaign is fairly opened.

WILL WIN BY 30,000.

Campaign Prophecies Given Out by Gilroy and Grant.

Democratic Leaders Home from the Democratic Convention.

Republican State Committee to Reorganize Next Week in This City.

Mayor Grant, District-Attorney Nicoll and Commissioner of Public Works Gilroy are back in the city, ready to start the wheels of government moving at full speed again. They arrived on the Pennsylvania limited at 7.30 last night, travelling in John D. Crimmins's private car as his guests. With them were Thomas F. Ryan, Senator William L. Brown, Senator Charles Walker, of Elmira; Police Justice Andrew J. White and Commissioner Phelan.

Mayor Grant expresses himself as exceedingly hopeful regarding the result of the campaign, and says he is pleased with the manner in which the ticket has been received in this city. He himself is enthusiastically for the ticket and predicts its election. He believes the party will loyally and unitedly support it.

Commissioner Gilroy was one of a party of Tammany leaders in a room at the Auditorium Hotel early Thursday morning, just after Cleveland was nominated. Said one:

"Well, boys, Cleveland is the nominee. What's to be done about it?"

"Cleveland has got to be elected," put in Mr. Gilroy. "I believe it is possible for him to carry New York by 30,000."

"If we turn in for him, heart and soul, he will do it," said another.

"Well, I'll bet almost any amount that he'll get 30,000," remarked still another Tammanyite.

GEN. SICKLES UNRECONCILED.

Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, Police Justice Ryan, Congressman Amos J. Cummings, ex-Justice William Kelly, Senator Edward Hawkins, of Suffolk County, Delegate David McClure, John Fox and J. W. Boyle, comprised another party that arrived shortly after midnight this morning.

Gen. Sickles, unlike other Tammany leaders, thinks it impossible for Cleveland to win. Concerning the nomination for Vice-President he said:

"I do not know the man and never heard of him until his name was mentioned at Chicago.

"I do not sympathize with Gov. Gray, however. Indiana was for Hill, and we believed that her vote would be cast with New York's, but Mr. Whitney and other friends of Mr. Cleveland managed it in some way, and when I heard that Indiana had done I knew we were whipped."

Police Justice Ryan said:

"Cleveland will never get the full vote in New York city, even with Tammany's support, and that he will have."

Congressman Cummings thinks Cleveland may pull through, and Delegate McClure says he is sure of the united support of the Democracy and will carry the State.

Said J. W. Boyle:

"The fight is over. Cleveland will surely be elected. Tammany will turn in and so should the rural Democrats. Murphy and Sheehan are both for the ticket. Gilroy says Cleveland will get 30,000 majority in New York, and his judgment is good."

KINGS COUNTY CONTINGENT.

The vast train house of the Pennsylvania Railroad in Jersey City echoed and re-echoed the early hours this morning with the tread of the feets returning from Chicago. The first train in was one bearing half the Kings County delegation, which ran into the depot at 12.33 o'clock. That was followed by the remainder of the Kings County delegates in trains at 2, at 3 and at 4 o'clock.

Following at irregular intervals came five long trains laden with Tammany delegates and shouters.

It was 2.11 o'clock when the first of these Tammany specials rolled into Jersey City, the second section coming in at 2.44, the third at 3.14, the fourth at 3.20 and the last at 5.00. Each train was behind the schedule time from two to five hours, but the delay was said to have been caused west of Philadelphia and Pittsburg, due solely to the excessively heavy passenger traffic.

The delegates wasted no time in getting across the river, and made quick steps for home and rest. They were all considerably travel-stained. The Tammanyites, one and all, declared their earnest intentions of voting and working for the nominees.

NO BOLTERS AMONG THEM.

Assemblyman John Connelly said the ticket was a good one and the platform excellent, and he would be earnestly supported by all good Democrats, Tammany ones in particular.

Ex-President of the Board of Aldermen Robert B. Mooney said the New York delegation were instructed to support Hill by their State Convention, which they did to a man. They will now support Cleveland as earnestly and as loyally as they did Hill in Chicago.

Frank V. S. Oliver says: "I have been a loyal Democrat for twenty years and intend to remain one. I will work and vote for Cleveland."

Port Warden Lynch says: "I am out for Cleveland, hook, line and sinker."

Probate Clerk R. J. Tinney says: "The much-abused Niagara Falls hackman is a saint compared to the buncoers of Chicago."

PLATT'S HAND STILL ON THE LEVER.

Politicians attach a great deal of significance to the meeting of the Republican State Committee, which has been called for next Tuesday at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. The point on which interest centres is the probable attitude towards the canvass of ex-Senators Platt and Miller.

It is said in quarters usually well informed that the resentment felt by these leaders because of their defeat at Minneapolis will not interfere with their habit of managing the Republican campaign forces in this State. There have been no public utterances by either gentleman regarding the Minneapolis ticket or platform, but it is now reported that William Brookfield will be re-elected Chairman and Charles W. Hackett, of Utica, will succeed Gen. Husted as head of the Executive Committee. Mr. Brookfield is classed as a Platt man, and Mr. Hackett, who ran the Republican Executive Committee in the Davenport campaign, is said to be an adherent of Mr. Miller. As a consequence, it is believed that the canvass will be conducted by the same men and on the same lines as in the last two or three years.

TO NOTIFY MR. CLEVELAND HERE.

It is announced to-day that Mr. Cleveland will meet the committee appointed by Chairman Wilson at Chicago to notify him of his nomination to the Presidency by the National Democratic Convention in this city July 11.

This is in accordance with custom, which has always been to notify the candidate at his home. Gray Gables, on Buzzard's Bay, is only his summer home, his permanent residence being in this city. The details of the meeting will be announced as soon as arranged.

Gen. Stevenson will be notified of his nomination at his home in Bloomington, Ill., at some date after the meeting with Mr. Cleveland in New York.

WHITNEY MAY BE CHAIRMAN.

The Democratic National Committee will meet for organization in this city some time between July 10 and July 20. The rumor has gained wide currency that ex-Secretary of the Navy William C. Whitney, of New York, will be chosen Chairman, and in that capacity will manage the campaign for Mr. Cleveland.

Mr. Whitney is not a member of the National Committee, but the Committee has power to go outside its membership, and will undoubtedly be guided to a great extent by the wishes of the candidate. It is believed that if he is chosen by the Committee Mr. Whitney will accept the position.

Other candidates for the chairmanship are William F. Harrity, of Pennsylvania, and Josiah Quincy, of Massachusetts.

CLEVELAND BETS WAITING TAKERS.

"Billy" Edwards, of the Hoffman House, has announced that he is commissioned to bet $5,000 even on the election of Cleveland; also $250 to $1,000 that Cleveland will carry New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Indiana.

POINTERS ON THE RACES.

Montana-Domo Match Race the Feature at Sheepshead To-Day.

Kingston, Longstreet, Madstone and Tournament to Meet.

The programme at Sheepshead Bay, without the match race between Major Domo and Montana would be rather uninteresting. The fields are slim and the quality represented in many of the events poor. The match will probably be the best race of the day. The Coney Island Stakes look a certainty for Mr. M. F. Dwyer with Kingston or Longstreet, though Tournament and Madstone may make things interesting. Yorkville Belle has a practical walkover in the Mermaid Stakes and Raceland has a picnic in the third event. The track will probably be a trifle heavy. The selections are as follows:

First Race.—Purse $1,000, for three-year olds; selling allowances; seven furlongs.

	Lbs.
Brown & Rogers's Pickpocket	112
Walcott & Campbell's Futre	112
W. H. McCarthy's Emperor of Ohio	112
J. A. & A. H. Morris's Barefoot	112
F. Gebhard's Blizzard	107
W. Lakeland's Hoey	101
P. J. Dwyer & Son's Zorling	102
S. W. Street's Knapsack	107
G. B. Morris's Doncaster	102
Sheffield Stable's Wyandotte colt	102
W. C. Daly's Alcalde	97
C. W. Chapin's Joe Kelly	97

The heavy track will help Entre's chances in this event, and as he has already beaten Zorling he may do it again to-day. The latter should be second and Pickpocket third.

Second Race.—The Mermaid Stakes, a sweepstakes of $100 each, with $1,000 added; for mares three years old; one mile and an eighth.

W. Donohue's My Click	117
P. J. Dwyer & Son's Madrid	117
H. Stull's Brown Beauty	117
F. A. Ehret's Yorkville Belle	117
J. A. & A. H. Morris's Anna B	117

Yorkville Belle looks a certainty in this event. Madrid and Anna B. may fight it out for the place.

Third Race.—A handicap sweepstakes of $25 each, with $1,500 added; one mile and three sixteenths.

M. F. Dwyer's Raceland	120
Rosemeade Stable's Fairy	112

Raceland should win this race easily.

Fourth Race.—The Coney Island Stakes, a sweepstakes for three-year-olds and upward; beaten allowances; $1,500 added; one mile and a furlong.

M. F. Dwyer's Kingston	126
M. F. Dwyer's Longstreet	126
Foxhall Keene's Tournament	126
Empire Stable's Madstone	119
Rancocas Stable's Fairy	119
W. H. McCarthy's St. Antony	95

M. F. Dwyer's best (Longstreet or Kingston) looks a sure winner in this race, and Tournament may be the runner up. Madstone ought not to be worse than third.

Fifth Race.—Match race of $2,500 a side, with $5,000 added; one mile and a quarter.

Marcus Daly's Montana	115
W. J. Spohr's Major Domo	115

Montana should win the match for the reasons which the writer has stated before. He was pounds the best horse in the Suburban and to-day will have a ten-pound advantage in jockeys. Garrison will ride Montana and Hayward Major Domo. The former looks as sure a thing as any match ever did on paper.

Sixth Race.—The Zephyr Stakes; a sweepstakes for two year olds, of $50 each, with $1,500 added. Futurity course.

J. Ruppert, Jr.'s Ajax	120
J. B. Coddington's Lawless	110
M. F. Dwyer's Bliss colt	110
John Hunter's Lovelace	110
Rosemeade Stable's Sir Roy	110
Kantaka Stable's Control	110
E. Thomas & Co.'s Electrical colt	110
Marcus Daly's Birthaway	107
Empire Stable's Comanchi	107
S. W. Street's Mendicant	107
C. Fleischman's Woodlawn	107
J. Gebhard's Emmonell	107
J. A. Bennett's Tara Blackburn filly	104
J. B. Collins's Millie filly	104

The finish in this race should be between Ajax, Sir Roy and Mendicant, and the writer prefers them in the order named.

Seventh Race.—A high weight handicap sweepstakes of $15 each, with $1,000 added; one mile and a quarter on turf.

W. B. Jennings's Prather	127
Keystone Stable's Masterlode	125
J. Miller's Larchmont	122
Preakness Stable's Livonia	117
Keystone Stable's Gettysburg	116
M. F. Dwyer's Nomad	115
Walcott & Campbell's Futre	112
P. J. Dwyer & Son's Madrid	110

The closing event should go to Larchmont, with Prather second and Livonia third.

MUSIC AT NIGHT.

Park Board and East River Park Evening Concerts.

Action on "The Evening World's" Petition Expected Wednesday.

River Front Railings Once Made Safe, Objections Will Disappear.

President Paul Dana, of the Board of Park Commissioners, returned home from the Chicago Convention early this morning, and by 10 o'clock was at his desk in the office of the Department, busily engaged in looking over the correspondence that had accumulated during his absence.

An EVENING WORLD reporter, who called on him to ascertain whether he had made any inquiries concerning the feasibility of evening concerts at East River Park before leaving for the Windy City, was told by the Commissioner that he had directed the police to investigate the matter and notify him of the result of such investigations.

"I have as yet received no reply from the police," said President Dana this morning, "but I expect to hear from them by the time of the next meeting of the Board, which will be held by Wednesday at the latest."

In conversation with various officers of the Park police force an EVENING WORLD reporter has found none of them opposed to evening concerts, if the railing along the river front and the fence at the south end of East River Park are rendered sufficiently safe to prevent children from tumbling into the river.

The police admit that it is unsafe for children to play along the river front, even in the daytime, at present, and this in itself should call for speedy action on the part of the Board. Commissioner Gallup has admitted that the dangers along the river front can be avoided by a temporary fence, and it would seem that no further objection can be raised consistently against the request of the 2,000 citizens, who, by their signatures to THE EVENING WORLD's petition, will formally ask the Board at its next meeting to change the hours of the weekly Thursday concerts from 4 o'clock in the afternoon to 8 o'clock in the evening.

The Board is now considering the plans for the permanent extension and improvement of East River Park, and the first definite move in the execution of these proposed plans will be made next Wednesday.

At 1 o'clock on the afternoon of that day the Commissioners will sell at auction the three-story brick house between Eighty-seventh and Eighty-eighth streets, on the hill in the extension; the one-story brick house on the northeast corner of Avenue B and Eighty-sixth street, and the one-story frame building next to it on Avenue B.

When these structures have been removed, the work of extending and improving the park will follow, and the esplanade along the river front and the south end of the park will be rendered perfectly and permanently safe and secure.

The perfection of these improvements will, however, require months. Let the Commissioners render the river front safe pending the permanent improvements, and afford the pleasure of evening concerts to the thousands of people whose work now prevents them from attending the afternoon concerts.

The change will not affect the comparatively few who can attend the concerts now; it will affect the great majority who are deprived of the entertainment through no fault of their own.

HALF-PRICE FOR MATINEES.

A London Manager's Experiment—American Singers for a Wagner Season.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LONDON, June 25.—The St. James's Gazette announces that Miss Geraldine Ulmer will no longer figure in the Lyric Theatre Company, and that she will be succeeded by another American actress, Miss Sedohr Rhodes.

Mr. Horace Sedger, manager of the Lyric Theatre, announces that he will try the experiment of giving matinees of "The Mountebanks," charging half the usual prices for seats. This will be done to test the assertion so frequently made that the prices charged at the theatres are too high.

Among the novelties at the Empire Music Hall is the new plan adopted of cooling the atmosphere. Huge blocks of ice are scattered about on pedestals in various parts of the place, and these effect a very material reduction in the temperature.

Sir Augustus Harris has engaged the American tenor, Bispham, to play Kurvenal in Tristan and Isolde, and Beckmesser in the Meistersinger. American vocalists are likely to be largely engaged for Sir Augustus's projected season of Wagner operas in English at the Covent Garden Theatre next Autumn, Herr Alvary being the only member of his present German troupe who is willing or able to engage himself.

JOHNNY BRODSKY RESIGNS.

Sam Engel May Succeed Him as Leader in the Eighth.

John E. Brodsky, the Republican leader of "de Ate," has formally withdrawn from the district in which he has been a conspicuous figure for several years. The announcement of his retirement was made yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the District Committee at the John A. Logan Club rooms, Ludlow and Grand streets, when Sam Engel read Brodsky's resignation. Brodsky wrote:

"DEAR SIR: I hereby tender my resignation as a member of the County Committee, and also ask that my name be stricken off the enrolment. I do so with regret. Thanking you for past services, I remain, respectfully yours, JOHN E. BRODSKY."

The resignation was accepted.

It has been believed for some time that Brodsky would retire. Recently he moved out of the district, and it is rumored that he will get the Republican leadership of one of the new districts under this year's apportionment.

He is still President of the John A. Logan Club, and it is believed that his successor as leader of the district will be Sam Engel.

LALLY'S SLACKENED "PULL."

His Trial for Shooting Delatti May Now Be Expedited.

A Participant's Graphic Story of Thursday Night's Row in Durkin's.

Now that District-Attorney Nicoll has returned from Chicago, it is believed that the trial of ex-Bridge Policeman Michael Lally, the man "with a pull," who was indicted by the Grand Jury for shooting Bartender John Delatti in a Water street saloon in January, 1891, will be expedited.

The Delatti indictment is over a year old, and the trial has been repeatedly adjourned, owing to the absence of the complainant in Europe. The District-Attorney's office, however, no longer finds this obstacle in its way. Delatti, after spending several months in Italy, whither he was sent, it is said, by Lally's friends, returned to this city and can be found at any time he is wanted.

Jeremiah Foley, one of the participants in the row in Durkin's saloon at 1 o'clock Thursday morning, in which Lally is said to have assaulted Timothy Mahoney, is aggrieved at the manner in which his name has been connected with the affair. He said to an EVENING WORLD reporter:

"I've been told that if I spoke the truth about that row that Lally or his friends would 'do' me, but I'm going to tell the truth.

"I live at 95 Roosevelt street and work for Gomes & Pearsall, fruit dealers, at 144 Front street. I can always be found at one or the other place.

"We had returned from a chowder party Wednesday night, and were drinking in several saloons in Water, Front and Roosevelt streets. Lally came into Kennedy's and bought the drinks. Then he invited us all over to Durkin's. It was about 12.45 o'clock, and Michael J. McCaffrey, Pat Kenny, Mahoney and I went with him.

"I stood at the bar talking with Durkin when the row started behind me. I turned my head to see what was the trouble and Lally picked up a lamp used for a cigar-lighter and said:

"'You, too! You're no good anyway,' and then he hit me on the head, cutting these places where the court plaster is (showing several wounds).

"Kenny and McCaffrey ran out, leaving Mahoney and me there with Lally.

"I fell on the floor and he kicked me in my right eye. I put up my arm to shield my face, and he kicked my arm. Mahoney had been knocked down, and lay on the floor. I didn't know who hit him.

"When I came to, they had all gone out doors. I went out, and Policeman O'Neill was there. I did not see him in either of the saloons. Somebody wanted him to arrest the whole party for disorderly conduct. He asked who would be the complainant, and, said he had not seen the row, and couldn't arrest anybody without a complaint.

"A woman in a window overhead yelled out at that: 'You are afraid to arrest Mike Lally. He has a pull and will break you.'

"O'Neill wouldn't make an arrest and I was taken home. That's the whole truth."

A very black eye, patches of healing plaster and a badly bruised forearm corroborated Jerry Foley's story of his injuries.

PRESIDENT WILSON DENIES IT.

Drs. Jacobi and Ewing's Story of Health Board Politics.

A sensation has been created in medical circles by the resignations of Dr. Abraham Jacobi as consulting physician at the Health Department's hospital in Sixteenth street, and Dr. T. Mitchell Prudden, consulting pathologist to the Department. Following close upon the dismissal of Sanitary Supt. Dr. Ewing and Counsellor Prentice and the resignation of Dr. E. G. Janeway, another of the Department's consulting pathologists, the impression has rapidly gained ground that politics is back of it all.

Dr. Prudden declined to speak of his resignation to a reporter, but Dr. Jacobi when questioned said:

"The Board of Health is mismanaged. It is not a question of health, but of politics. I am convinced that outside influences and pressure operate upon it. I will not be driven, and hence, like Dr. Janeway, I resigned.

"Dr. Ewing told me that on the day his resignation was asked for President Wilson went to him and said that he must retire in two hours from the Department or he (President Wilson) would have to get out. I concluded that the great trust, the health and safety of the people, was being trafficked in by the Department for selfish reasons."

Dr. Ewing confirmed Dr. Jacobi's statement. He said:

"Mr. Wilson called on me last month and told me that while my record was clear he must ask for my retirement in two hours. I think Dr. Janeway put it right when he said that he wouldn't address such a demand to his butler. I asked Mr. Wilson the reason for his action and he replied:

"'It's a case of outside pressure. I must either get your resignation or tender my own.'

"'Then be a man and resign,' I said.

"Mr. Wilson replied that he had three years to serve and he didn't want to get out."

When President Charles G. Wilson was seen by a reporter he said:

"There isn't a word of truth in it. Dr. Ewing doesn't dare make such a statement. No one gives me orders.

"I demanded Dr. Ewing's resignation in order to better the service by appointing Dr. Cyrus Edson to fill his position, and I told him plainly that I wanted Dr. Edson to take his place.

"Nearly all the changes that were made at that time were promotions, and politics had nothing to do with them. They were made to improve the service, and that has been accomplished."

The resignations of Drs. Jacobi and Prudden leave only two consulting pathologists in the Department, Drs. Herman M. Briggs and H. P. Loomis.

Coming Events.

Rohe & Bros. Employes' Sick Benefit Society will have a picnic this evening at Herding's Cosmopolitan Park, One Hundred and Sixty-ninth street and Amsterdam avenue.

The Tenderloin Club will have an entertainment this evening in Summer Garden, 114 West Thirty-second street.

How True!
