A strange story is current in Florence.—It is alleged that a formidable Fenian conspiracy has been discovered, its object being the invasion of Scotland, and the elevation to the Scotch throne of one Robert Stuart, said to be a "Pretender," which he certainly must be, as the royal line of Stuarts terminated many years ago in Cardinal York. Lord Napier's visit to Florence is ascribed to a tender solicitude on the part of the British Government for the welfare of Mr. Stuart—the hero of Magdala having endeavored, it is said, to dissuade the adventurous youth from an undertaking which would probably result in his coming to very signal evil.
