LONDON LAUGHS AT WILDE.

Would Æsthetic Oscar Like to Be a French Conscript?

Nelly Faerrn's Relapse—Jean de Reszke's Coming Marriage.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, July 2.—All London is laughing at Oscar Wilde's threat to become a Frenchman because the Examiner of Plays refused to allow his play, "Salome," to be presented in London. The Paris Gaulois publishes a gushing interview with Mr. Wilde, in which he said he was too much of an artist to admire the practical qualities of the English. He could not love them. He had long been enamored of France and the French. To him there were only two languages in the world—French and Greek.

It is pointed out by those who comment on Mr. Wilde's threat to expatriate himself that if he becomes a citzen of France he will be compelled to serve in the French army. It is not believed that life as a conscript would fully satisfy the longings of Mr. Wilde's artistic and aesthetic nature.

It is the general opinion that the Examiner of Plays acted wisely in deciding not to allow "Salome" to be put on the boards here.

The experiment of Mr. Horace Sedger, manager of the Lyric Theatre, in giving matinees of "The Mountebanks" at half the prices usually charged for admission was a great success, and is likely to have some effect upon other managers.

An "at home" was given last Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hatton, which was attended by a large gathering of the celebrities of the theatrical world. Among the guests were Mr. Henry Irving, Mr. J. L. Toole, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome K. Jerome, Mr. and Mrs. Willard and Mr. and Mrs. Palmer. Miss Fanny Brough, who was also present, told some of the guests that she thought of going to the United States this Summer for a holiday. Mr. Willard is enthusiastic over his American tour.

The Parisian papers announce the approaching marriage of M. Jean de Reszke with the widow of a French nobleman. The event, it is stated, will take place shortly after the end of the Covent Garden season.

Miss Nelly Farren, who has been ill for some time, has suffered a relapse. It is now stated that she will never be able to go on the stage again.

The Pall Mall Gazette, speaking of the conferring of the degree of LL.D. upon Mr. Henry Irving by Dublin University, says: "The University both gives and receives an honor."

PLAYERS RUN THE BOX OFFICE.

"Fall of Plevna" to Be Presented for the Company's Benefit.

Through the influence of Treasurer Franklin, of the South Beach Amusement Company, the unpaid employees of the Company engaged in presenting "The Fall of Plevna," to whom the Company is indebted for $2,000, have obtained permission from Proprietor N. E. Behrens to run the entertainment for their benefit until Tuesday night next.

The show will be given to-night for the first time in a week, and by the receipts of the holiday performances Monday, the unpaid employees expect to recover their overdue wages. The ballet girls and the Plevna warriors are to-day rejoicing in the outlook.

BLAND TO HASTE TO THE FRAY.

Silver Fight to Be Renewed with Vigor in the House.

Review of Yesterday's Free-Coinage Victory in the Senate.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LEBANON, Mo., July 2.—Congressman Bland has this to say regarding the passage of the Silver bill: "I will leave on the first train to-day and be in Washington in time to renew the fight in the House by next Tuesday. I had intended remaining at home until after the Congressional convention on the 11th, but this news takes me back at once and I will try to have a free coinage bill through the House in spite of the opposition to it."

Mr. Bland says he has never doubted the sincerity of Speaker Crisp as a free coinage man, and thinks the bill can now be speedily brought to a vote in the House.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The Post to-day says: "The Senate was brought face to face with the Free Silver bill by the decision of Senator Manderson, the President pro tempore. The motion to recommit the bill was in order. The motion was defeated by a vote of 28 ayes to 31 nays, and from that time until the bill was finally agreed to the silver men did not lose a trick, although once or twice their escape from defeat was very narrow.

Senator Carey at one time endeavored to play a trump card by offering an amendment which embodied the exact wording of the Democratic platform recently adopted at Chicago.

As the clerk began to read the familiar sentences a smile appeared upon the faces of the Democratic Senators, which broadened presently into a hearty laugh.

Senator Gorman opened his desk, took out a newspaper clipping of the platform and sent to the desk for the slip of paper upon which Senator Carey's amendment was written.

While Senator Vest "held copy," as they say in a printing-office, Senator Gorman read the platform to his colleagues and laughed to find it identical. Senator Carey, too, seemed to enjoy the humor of the incident, but it be expected that his scheme would succeed he failed most signally.

As it became more and more evident that a vote on the bill was inevitable, the floor of the Senate rapidly filled with visitors from the House. Representatives Andrew Tracey, Abner Taylor and others who have fought silver most persistently, came over to watch the progress of the battle, and Mr. Pierce, of Tennessee, whose efforts in the cause of the white metal have been unceasing, was also on the ground to give aid and comfort to Senator Stewart and other free coinage advocates.

Senator Hill early in the afternoon began to vote with the silver men, and was consistent throughout.

There was some applause when victory at last perched upon the banner of Senators Stewart and Morgan, which the presiding officer checked with difficulty.

Representative Pierce and Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms Hill stood at the door of the Senate waiting to convey the news to the House, and they ran from one end of the building to the other in excited haste. Their announcement was received in the House with a plause.

A Fortune-Teller's Guess Is Not Proof.

On the basis of information gained from a fortune-teller Miss Mary Pendergast, of 15 Washington street, had her neighbor on the same floor, Mrs. Maria Doyle, arrested on the charge of stealing a pair of shoes and an alarm clock from her apartments. Justice Divver, at the Tombs Court, heard the tale, and, finding no other evidence than the fortune-teller's conjectures, discharged the woman and lectured the complainant severely.

"As is well known to a large number of our friends, we have been under the treatment of Dr. O. W. F. Snyder, the celebrated specialist of Chicago, since the 18th of January, 1892, for obesity, with very gratifying results, as the following statement of weight and measurements before and after 60 days' treatment will show:

	BEFORE.	AFTER.	LOSS.
Weight	345 pounds	279 pounds	66 pounds
Chest	55½ inches	44 inches	11½ inches
Waist	60½ inches	43 inches	15½ inches
Hips	66 inches	46 inches	20 inches

"All the time we have attended to our regular business, suffered no inconvenience whatever and have been improving every day. We would advise all afflicted with obesity to write to Dr. Snyder. We will be pleased to answer all letters of inquiry where stamp is inclosed."—Rice Lake (Wis.) Times, April 1, 1892.
