AMONG THE PLAYER FOLK.

Comic Opera Colored Children Have Their Little Tiffs, Too.

Miss Clementine De Vere Arranging for a London Appearance.

Colored children, for whom comic opera seems to hanker considerably—following the example set by Francis Wilson—are by no means popular among the ladies and gentlemen of the comic opera organization. The noted youth employed in "Jupiter" was severely disliked. His escapades were of a most astonishing nature and not calculated to serve in the interests of peace and order. One of the little darkies used in "Sinbad" in a night Tuesday night, George Washington Taylor punched Winfield Scott Roberts in the eye, because on the distribution of properties Winfield Scott Roberts got one particularly lurid headpiece of feathers, which George Washington Taylor had chosen for his own attire. The fight was bloodless, and was interrupted by Mme. Balwell, the wardrobe mistress. A discreet informant asserts that Mme. Balwell settled the difficulty with the sole of a worn-out ballet slipper.

Miss Clementine de Vere is in London endeavoring to arrange for an appearance there. This charming young singer is said to be very much impressed with the English metropolis. Miss Belle Cole, another American singer, who has been in London for several years, is to return to this country in the Autumn.

Miss Hattie Delaro-Barnes, of the "Sinbad" company, says that, at last, she is getting very weary of tights. After a long experience she has decided that they are exceedingly uncomfortable. Such a statement, coming from so graceful a wearer of those articles of Miss Delaro-Barnes, who has led Amazon charges and impersonated gallant princes for several years, is worth noting. The young lady says that she prefers a comedy part in long skirts. Miss Lillian Russell's rebellion against the extremities of tights is of recent occurrence. There are several other young women who would only be too pleased to eschew them forever. Oh, poor baldheads!

Clement Scott, the well-known London critic, has been hauled over the coals by his sisters Bertha for his wedding of Mme. Bernhardt's Sarah. A dreadful thing of him to do, was it not? Not nearly so bad, though, as his horribly humorous censor, who dubbed Mr. Scott either made a slip or a humorist sadly. Sally is the joke, see?

La Granadina, the Spanish dancer of the Casino roof, has a grievance at last. She has been at the Casino several weeks without a single. The fair pirouetter noticed a day or two ago that Lizzie Bertolus Daly, another of the roof's attractions, has a lithograph in the lobby of the theatre. This irritated her. She went for one of the management and demanded that her own picture be substituted for that of Miss Daly. This has not been done. La Granadina is furious, and there is a chance for the Casino to do something sensational.

Joseph Holland's part in "Settled Out of Court" is said to be such a long one that it would frighten many an actor. It consists of 178 pages of manuscript.

The cruel ones of the Rialto—and there are many of them—persist in believing that Charles Frohman himself is at the bottom of the report that Lotta Collins was dead. "My opinion is," said a Rialtoite, "that Charley, before he left London, gave orders to Miss Collins's manager to kill her by rumor a few weeks before she sailed for America. He knows the value of ads, and a death notice would introduce Miss Collins to the people who had never heard of her before."

Charles H. Hoyt celebrated the fifth anniversary of his wedding yesterday. It is said that Hoyt presented his wife with a $5,000 bracelet—$1,000 or each year of wedded life. This sounds very pretty, and there is no reason to doubt it. Hoyt can well afford such a present.

Louis James as Uncle Tom in the perennial, irrepressible play dealing with the cabin, must have been an awe-inspiring spectacle. The ex-tragedian and ex-star has been playing that part at Jacob Litt's Grand Operaise in St. Paul. Entertaining stories are of the manner in which he guyed the and a graphic description is given of when he was pathetically expiring, he discussing the races and kindred topics. Arthur was the Eliza; Marion Elmore, Frank Losee, Simon Legree; Geo. R. Edeson, Marks; Will Harkins, George Harris; Robert McNair, Phineas Fletcher, and Mrs. Owen-Irwin, Aunt Ophelia.

SPORTING NEWS AND NOTES.

Prospects of a Close Contest for A. A. U. Championships.

Nancy Hanks and Allerton to Trot for a Rich Purse.

For the first time in seven years the annual A. A. U. all-round championships, which will be decided at Travers Island Saturday, will not go to Malcolm Ford or Alex. Jordan. The reason is that neither of them will compete. So the athletes and followers of athletics are racking their brains to figure out which of the seven entries—the largest number that ever competed—will succeed Jordan as the all-round "champ." The probable competitors are J. J. Mooney and M. O'Sullivan, Xavier A. A.; M. W. Goff, M. A. C.; Harry Morrell and George Scawegeler, N. Y. A. C.; Pulvermiller, Fastime A. C.; Dan Long and possibly J. Irwin, Boston A. A.

Of the lot the Boston man, Long, is considered to have the best chance, principally because he won the New England all-rounds, capturing seven of the ten events. The New York standard, however, is slightly higher than the New England. The standards for the ten events which constitute the all-rounds are as follows: 100 yards—same for both, 11½s. Putting shot—New England, 31 feet; New York, 32 feet. High jump—same for both, 5 feet. Half mile walk—same, 4m. 30s. Pole vault—same, 8 ft., 6 in. Hurdle—New England, 21s.; New York, 20½s. 56-pound weight—New England, 18 feet; New York, 24 feet. 16-pound hammer—New England, 80-feet; New York, 95 feet. Broad jump—same, 18 feet. Mile run—New England, 6m.; New York, 5m., 40s.

Some of the knowing ones have figured it out that Long will be disqualified in three events, which is the required number to debar from competition—the hurdle, mile and pole vault. The advance in the weight standard should help Long if he qualifies, as weight-throwing is his long suit. O'Sullivan, of the Xaviers, is another handy man with the weights, as is Pulvermiller, of the Pastimes. As Long qualified at Boston in everything but the pole vault, which he let go by default, and exceeded the New York standard in all but that and the mile run, his chances look rosy.

Morrell, of the New Yorks, is liked for first place by a good many. He is a good jumper and runner, but a trifle weak with the weights. One authority has figured him out an easy winner, with first in the 100-yard, mile run and hurdle; second in the walk and putting shot, and third in throwing the hammer. If Goff, the cherry Diamond representative, qualifies, he may give them all a run for it. Being a fair hurdler and runner, good walker and exceptional jumper, Scawegeler is good at these points also. A man who should not be overlooked is Mooney, who was second last year and who is a very good all-round athlete. But this thing of figuring out winners is uncertain at the best, and there is no telling who will win.

• • • •

It is all over—the first baseball series—and Boston is the winner, having held the lead from flag to wire. The stout Beaneaters won 52 games and lost 22. Our own New Yorks are tenth, and some people are cruel enough to ask where they would have been if there had been but eight clubs in the League. It is consoling to know that they couldn't have been worse than eighth. The leading feature of the first series has been the steady, consistent play of the Bostons. Other features are the poor showing of the New Yorks and Chicagos, the great spurt of the Philadelphias, the at all times hard and aggressive play of the Clevelands under the guidance of the best captain in the business, and the Brooklyn's good wind-up. As to the double-season scheme, its success is doubtful. There is too much chance for a "Well, we may do better next series," or "We did well last series" feeling.

The Brooklyns somewhat marred their fine showing on their last Western trip by losing to Cincinnati yesterday by a score of 3 to 1. Chicago beat Philadelphia, and Washington won from Louisville. There were no games scheduled for to-day.

Lovers of boxing who will attend the benefit given to Fred Johnson at the Academy of Music to-morrow night, will see a good wind-up, even though George Dixon will not spar with the beneficiary. Arthur Limiles, manager of the affair, has secured the services of Jack Skelly and George Siddons, both lively feather-weights, to box with Johnson. There will be a number of other interesting bouts.

Hanlan and Hosmer, the well-known professional oarsmen, are rowing daily on the Passaic River. Hosmer will coach the Passaics for their match race with the Triton Club 30. Both of these crews are working hard for the race. The Institute Rowing Club, of Newark, has an intermediate 6-oared shell out getting ready for the Middle States regatta next month.

Arrangements have been completed for a match race between two of the fleetest trotters in the country, Nancy Hanks and Allerton, to take place on the kite-shaped track at Independence, Ia., the second week in August. C. W. Williams, Allerton's owner, offered a $10,000 purse for a race between the mare and the stallion, the winner to receive 60 per cent. Budd Doble wanted all or nothing, and those terms were agreed upon. The rivalry between these two horses is great. They met at Independence last year, Nancy winning in three consecutive heats. Allerton's record is 2.00¾ and Nancy Hanks's 2.00.

Walter Dohm, of the New York A. C., the half-mile champion has not definitely decided to retire from the path, as has been stated. Even if he had, however, the New Yorks have in Billings a young runner who may be able to take Dohm's place some day. Billings has done the distance in 1:59 2-5. He is a game runner and a strong finisher, having both speed and staying power and is also very handy at 220 yards.

Among the coming walkers is Louis Liebgold, of the Columbia A. C. He has been walking only seven months and has won five events.

Information has been received from London to the effect that Jim Hall, who is to fight Pritchard shortly, and Peter Maher became tangled up in a barroom brawl, both being in their cups, and that Hall came out second best with a dislocated shoulder and a badly punched jaw. Hall, who is in the hospital now, had better have stuck to "Parson" Davies. It isn't his first row while drinking, however. He got ugly out at Mount Clemens, Mich., once, and started at Davies. The latter checked Hall with a case-knife, from the effects of which Hall will carry a scar on his neck for some time to come.

The Mercury Athletic Club was formally organized in Harlem last night. The Club will endeavor to exercise the full-fledged influences of a perfect and healthy athletic organization. A majority of the projectors are ex-members of the disbanded Stuyvesant. Judging from the spirit with which they have started, the Club bids fair to equal if not to outrival any of the older associations. The officers chosen are as follows: President, D. H. Melville; Vice-President, O. Auhall; Secretary, H. Herzog; Treasurer, S. Burgelson; Captain, S. L. Leicher.

FROM THE WORLD OF LABOR.

John Coffey is the successor of R. P. Davis as Walking Delegate of the Operative Painters' Society.

Henry Westenberger has been elected Corresponding Secretary of Machinists' Progressive Union No. 1.

Carpenters' Union No. 513 has rejoined the District Council. The delegates are Messrs. Gobres and Degner.

Progressive Painters' Union No. 1 has decided to reinstate all seceders upon a payment of a fine of $15.

The strike of the wood carvers at the carpenter factory on Kent avenue, near North First street, Brooklyn, has been settled.

Financial and statistical authorities state that the values of farm properties and products have fallen 7 per cent. within twelve months.

The annual picnic of Amalgamated Brass Workers' Union No. 1 will take place at the Rock Spring Brewery Park, Guttenburg, N. J., on July 24.

The carpenters who left the Brooklyn Board of Walking Delegates have lost their strike on Hyde & Behman's Theatre.

Circulars have been received by many labor unions in this city from the ironworkers at Homestead, who appeal for moral and financial aid.

Joseph Fierling is the new Secretary of the United Machinists' Union. Charles Roche was elected Manager of the Labor Bureau.

The horseshoers of Cincinnati and Pittsburg have been successful in their strike for nine hours, and now their fellow craftsmen of Chicago will make the same demand.

Sam H. Jacobson, J. H. Mihn, jr., and Eugene Rovell are the delegates to the Central Labor Union elected by Local Assembly 2,853, K. of L., representing cutters. Delegate Robert Bissert has been withdrawn.

In the place of Eugene Roberg, who went into business for himself, the members of Horseshoers' Union No. 1 are to elect a Vice-President at their next regular meeting. This week the Union gained sixteen new members.

The Building Trades Section of the C. L. U. accepted tickets yesterday for the twelfth annual picnic and games of the Painters' Benevolent Association to be held July 30 at Linn Park, One hundred and Seventh street and Ninth avenue.

The officers elected by the K. of L. Blank Book Workers' Assembly are: P. A. Kehoe, Master Workman; F. McNally, Worthy Foreman; E. McRoberts, Treasurer; J. F. McGrath, Recording Secretary; C. O'Donnell, Financial Secretary; A. Blum, P. Boesig, J. Dougherty, Trustees.

The United Order of American Stairbuilders has elected C. Lenn, President; J. T. Fagan, Vice-President; J. E. Monahan, Recording Secretary; D. L. Langrall, Financial Secretary; P. J. Fagan, Treasurer; R. Roberts, Inside Sentinel; F. Daly, Outside Sentinel; John Wonder, Guide; H. Horan, Walking Delegate.

The Building Trades Section of the C. L. U. resolved yesterday that all affiliated unions be instructed to send three delegates to the body as soon as possible, as ordered by the new constitution. Two of the three are also delegates to the C. L. U.

The Building Material Dealers' Association has threatened a lockout because the members of the K. of L. carmen's assemblies refuse to teach material to jobs where the housesmiths are on strike against the Iron League. About 1,000 men will be out of work if the threat be carried out.

The Housesmiths' Union reported to the Building Trades Section of the C. L. U. yesterday that the management of the strike against the Iron League will be placed in the hands of the Board of Walking Delegates upon condition that Building contractors D. A. 225, K. of L., gives its consent.

Joseph Kalisch has been elected Secretary of Bartenders' Union No. 10 in place of William Schimmel, who resigned. William Koenig, the manager of the Labor Bureau, reported as Financial Secretary. Delegates will be sent to the Brooklyn Labor Lyceum Association.

The committee appointed by the Building Trades Section of the C. L. U. to investigate the differences between the Ornamental Plasterers' and Operative Plasterers' Unions reported yesterday that the former union had forced the bosses in this city to form an organization and to ratify an agreement compelling the latter union to allow members of the Ornamental Plasterers' Union to work with them on the same buildings.

Cigar-makers' Union No. 90 has adopted resolutions of sympathy with the workers at Homestead. Last week the Union gained eight new members. The receipts during the last three months were $15,190.95, and $12,412.07 were expended, among which $2,315.92 for sick benefit, $3,798.04 for strike benefit, $740 for death benefit, $260 for assistance to other unions. There are $25,261.97 in the General Fund.

The Harmony Committees appointed by the Board of Walking Delegates, Building Constructors' district 253 and the Building Trades Section of the C. L. U. will hold a meeting at Clarendon Hall next Sunday at 10 A. M.

A motion to join the Central Labor Union has been voted down by Branch 4 of the Brotherhood of Tailors. The reason given is that the Independent Coat-Makers' Assembly was admitted, whom the Brotherhood of Tailors considers to be "scabs" and bosses.

The Union Hill Framers' Union has elected Oscar Schneider, President; John Wolf, Vice-President; John Heimberg, Recording Secretary; Conrad Stoecker, Financial Secretary; C. Freyman, Treasurer; F. Scherrer, Walking Delegate; A. Jordan, Doorkeeper; J. Wessel, H. Velke, Trustees.

Delegate Johnson, of the Machinery Constructors' Union, reported to the Building Trades Section of the C. L. U. that the Otis Bros. Elevator Company has agreed to the terms of the Union for eight hours per day instead of nine hours, with the same pay, and double pay for overtime.

A Walking Delegate is to be elected by Cabinet-Makers' Union, No. 7. The Executive Committee is hard at work settling the matters at all shops where the members are striking for eight hours, but were beaten. Resolutions sympathizing with the men on strike at Homestead were adopted.

The Building Trades Section of the C. L. U. yesterday appointed Delegates John Russell, George K. Lloyd, George Brutschin, F. W. Raimes and Alex. Martin a committee to arrange an entertainment for the purpose of increasing the defense fund. The Section will also issue a journal on the occasion.

The Whitestone Association of Marble-Polishers resolved yesterday to fine one day's wages upon all members failing to attend the mass-meeting of the Central Labor Union to express sympathy with the Homestead Pa. strikers, to be held next Saturday evening at Union Square, where T. V. Powderly, Alexander Wright, or the K. of L., and Samuel Gompers and others will speak.

Strikes were ordered by the Board of Walking Delegates yesterday on jobs of members of the Iron League at the buildings of Brokaw Bros., Astor place; 712 Broadway; Washington place, between Greene and Mercer streets; Stern Bros., Twenty-third street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues; United Charities, Fourth avenue, near Twenty-third street; Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, William and Beaver streets. Mr. Cornell says that he will soon be able to replace the strikers.

Upon request of Delegate Roger Harrison, of the Eccentric Engineers' Union, No. 1, the Building Trades Section of the C. L. U. yesterday resolved to request the Board of Health to abate the nuisance caused by bosses who own horses compelling their engineers to burn the manure, thus avoiding the expense of carting it away. The delegate stated that the stench of the burning manure was not so objectionable as the large quantities of ammonia produced, which polluted the air of the neighborhood.

The Board of Walking Delegates adopted resolutions yesterday in condolence of the death of ex-Delegate Charles H. Beadles, of the Operative Painters, who was buried yesterday afternoon from his late residence, 206 East Twenty-sixth street. Mr. Beadles was one of the Thirteen Boycotters, but he was not tried upon the indictment found against him, as the case was dismissed when the convicted waiters and musicians had been pardoned by Gov. Hill.

The boss granite cutters who locked out their workmen for refusing to handle New England granite are: John Sulzer, Rudolph Goede, James Baronelli, Joseph Brown, R. Powells, F. Van Size, Fletcher Bros., J. Schneider, Ross & Lang, R. Nash, George Koehl, A. Markthaler, John Rodman, Conrad Noll, John Murphy, A. Corcoran, Hall & Sons, Moss & Co., Gruker & Waldorf, John Bennett, Henry Wallauer, James Walsh, George Noll, Lawson & Richardson. About five hundred men were locked out.

The Building Trades Section of the Central Labor Union received credentials yesterday from: The Housesmiths' Union, Peter Warner, George Hayes; Tin and Sheet-iron Workers' Union, Merwyn Pratt, George K. Lloyd, Charles W. Lobdsort; Marble Cutters and Setters, Wm. T. Keating, Edward Sheehan, James A. Fitzgerald, Charles Smith; Progressive Painters' Union No. 3, M. H. Davis, Howard Balkan, Robert Robertson. Credentials from the German Painters' Union were tabled for one week to await the protests of the other painters' unions.

Mrs. Meadow—I hate to tell you, Mrs. Suburb, but, really, you ought to know it. Every time I've run into the city lately I've met your husband on the return train; and every time he was paying marked attentions to some woman by his side, and every time it was a different woman. I've seen him with a dozen of 'em.

Mrs. Suburb (quietly)—We have been trying to get a servant girl who would stay.

CHIEF STARTER FARR'S STORY.

HIS REMINISCENCES OF OLD-TIME NEW YORK.

He Is the Oldest Employee of the Third Avenue Road, and Has Been with That Company for Thirty-nine Years—Before That He Drove a Stage on Third Avenue Way Back in 1838—Read What Happened to Him.

If you want to hear entertaining stories about old-time New York just go up to 125th street and the East River and ask for Chief Starter George W. Farr, at the ahle line. On 10th July, 1853, just 39 years ago last Sunday, he began to work for the Third Avenue Railroad Company, and he's working for them yet. He is the oldest employee of the company.

"Before I went to work for the company," said Mr. Farr to a reporter, "I drove stage on Third avenue in 1838; that's 54 years ago. What a difference now. Why, people would have been put in a lunatic asylum if they had talked about elevated roads and cable lines."

As he stroked his gray beard Mr. Farr added, "For two years I had catarrh very badly, and I tried different patent medicines that were alleged catarrh cures, but they didn't do me any good. For two whole years I didn't breathe through my right nostril. I had bad headaches and I was troubled with dizzy spells. There was a roaring in my ears like the roaring of the ocean. I lost my appetite, and I couldn't sleep. I was continually hawking up phlegm, and my throat was sore. My whole general system was affected. Well, five months ago I went to Doctors McCoy and Wildman, and now I feel a different man. I can sleep well. I can breathe freely through my nose. The roaring in my ears is gone. The headaches and the dizziness have disappeared. There is no more phlegm in my throat, and I feel younger, stronger, and better than I have for years. And my appetite has come back, and you know that's a great thing. If anybody wants to see me at any time, in regard to my wonderful recovery under the skillful care of Doctors McCoy and Wildman, they can see me here. I am here from 6 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock in the evening."

Doctors McCoy and Wildman make a specialty of the treatment of all chronic diseases, including catarrh. They furnish all medicines free, and their charges for treatment are so moderate that they are within the reach of all.

ADELAIDE.

The Romantic Story of a Great Actress's Life.

It is now a long while since the manager of a theatrical company, then rehearsing "The New Year's Present" in the town of Cividale, near Udine, declared that no stuff doll should be used to represent the infant introduced into the piece, but that a real baby must be found at once.

"Hasn't somebody a baby?" he cried.

A good-looking actor who was
