TRYING MODERN BATTLE.

The "School" Battalion Boys Put Through Their Paces.

Over a Hundred Officers Watch the Drills at Peekskill.

STATE CAMP, PEEKSKILL, N. Y., Aug. 4.—The "School" battalion which has been studying the new tactics for the past three or four days, showed this morning how thoroughly they have been learned.

The audience which witnessed the drill was perhaps the most critical that ever watched volunteer soldiers.

Every member in the State staff was there besides Col. Appleton, of the Seventh; Col. Clough, of the Twenty-second; Col. Bowd, of the Twenty-fourth; Col. Scott, of the Eighth, and Col. Cheney, of the Seventy-first. In addition there were lieutenant-colonels, majors, captains and lieutenants by the score. Indeed more than a hundred officers of the National Guard witnessed the exercises, beside a thousand veterans who came up from the city to the Peekskill morning trains.

The exercises began at 9:30 A. M., and consisted of the battalion formations, for those days the boys have been instructed in the various steps of the new tactics, squad, section, platoon and battalion, and the battle formation to-day was a sort of graduation exercise.

For blank and blank cartridges were used, and a defeat from the Second Battery took part in the mimic fight.

The drill was a success in every particular, and the officers and men, who have worked so hard, feel that they are rewarded by the congratulations they received.
