The Long End of the Combination Beats Willie L.

FOAM CAPTURES THE SECOND.

Excellenza Filly, at 10 to 1, Defeats Verbena Easily.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

BRIGHTON BEACH RACE TRACK, L. I., July 8.—The Brighton Beach management ran off a splendid programme of six races to-day. The card was one of the best of the meeting, and race-goers appreciated it by turning out in large numbers. Though a cool, fresh breeze blew from the south, the atmosphere was very close and muggy in the stand, for very little of the cool air filtered in through the small windows at the back of the stand. The racing was good, however, and thoroughly enjoyable.

The opening event was at a mile and a furlong. The talent figured that John Cavanagh, Long Dance and Sandstone were the best of the lot, and they made them choices in the order named. Their judgment was excellent, the horses finishing just as picked, the favorite winning very easily.

The presence of Morello in the second race scared many of the owners of two-year-olds, and their entries were withdrawn. Betting went on for some minutes in this event before the owner of Morello discovered that Fitzpatrick had not put in an appearance to ride the colt, and not caring to trust him to any other jockey, he asked permission to withdraw him. The judges consented and ordered all bets off. In the new betting Sandowne was a hot favorite. His people thought they could beat Morello, but have evidently too high an opinion of their colt. He had to play second fiddle to Foam, who ran some fast races at Saratoga, and was brought down and played for a good thing. Foam won very easily. Ingot was a poor third. Sandowne and Foam were played to the exclusion of the others, as can easily be seen from the fact that Imperatrice filly, third choice, was at 50 to 1.

John Winkle was a red-hot favorite in the third race. He opened at 3 to 1 and closed at even money. He got away poorly and though Flynn worked hard, he was never able to get up. The Excellenza filly, at 10 to 1 choice won rather easily from Verbena who was second choice, Airtight was third.

Col. S. D. Bruce sold at auction in the paddock at Brighton Beach a number of racehorses, the property of M. F. Dwyer, Orlando Jones and Jack Joyner. The star of the sale was the great sprinter Chesapeake, by St. Blaise, out of Susquenanna, and a full brother to the Futurity winner, Potomac. After some spirited bidding Jack McDonald secured Chesapeake for $5,000. The other horses which sold for over $500 were as follows:

Airtight, chestnut colt, 3, by Ventilator—Fontan; F. E. Smith, $1,150.

Airshaft, chestnut colt, 3 by Ventilator—Fonso; R. Travis, $5,100.

Castaway II., chestnut colt, 6, by Outcast—Lucy Dale; F. E. Smith, $1,550.

Mullet, bay colt, 2, by Onondaga—Maria D.; H. W. Hawkhurst, $1,050.

Mentor, bay colt, by Charaxus—Thomasia; Mr. Gallagher, $550.

Joe, chestnut horse, 7, by Bertram—Addie Hall; Jerrick stable, $700.

Charcoal, black filly, 2, by Charaxus—Miss Grace; Jerrick stable, $1,000.

Dr. Wilson, bay gelding, 3, by Sir Modred—Rosa B.; John Daly, $775.

Natalie S., bay filly, 3, by Kyrle Daly—Naps; Abe Garson, $1,050.

Rear Guard, bay colt, 2, by Post Guard—Alberie Carter; Jerrick stable, $2,100.

Chesapeake, chestnut gelding, 5, by St. Blaise—Susquehanna; J. E. McDonald, $5,000.

Muscovite, bay colt, 2, by Muscovy—Bracken; J. A. Brennan, $1,000.

Chicago Poolsellers Ahead.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—The Garfield Park Club came out victorious this morning when Judge Kettelle decided the Bates corpus case brought in behalf of E. A. Fisher and F. A. McAvoy, both bookmakers, who were arrested at the race-track for selling pools. In substance the Court holds that section 121, of the Criminal Code was not intended to prohibit betting upon horse races by the buying and selling of pools.

Jockey Garrison Improving.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Aug. 8.—Edward Garrison, the crack jockey, who was reported dangerously ill at the Hotel Scarboro, is improving rapidly, and will, no doubt, be able to ride in the Champion Stakes at Monmouth Park to-morrow.

Off the Coast.

[From Judge.]

Whale—Hullo, sharkey! How have you been?

Shark—Not very well. I've had trouble with my teeth.

Whale—You ought to have been here in season. There were several visitors to the shore with fine sets of false teeth. One pair belonging to a Chicago drummer would have fitted you to perfection.

YACHTS OFF FOR A LONG RUN.

Hundred-Mile Race for the Cups Offered by Mr. Morgan.

Pretty Early Morning Start from Cottage City To-Day.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

COTTAGE CITY, Mass., Aug. 8.—Twenty-five of the yachts of the New York fleet made a splendid start at 5.30 this morning for Marblehead. They are to race over Nantucket shoals, around Cape Cod and across Boston Bay for the cups offered by Mr. Pierpont Morgan. The finish will be off Marblehead light, when the latter bears S. W. The run is called 100 miles.

The first signal given to get under way was fired from the flagship Electra in Vineyard Haven at 4.15 A.M., and by the time the preparation signal was given by the Regatta Committee on board the Ituria at 5.25 All the boats were ready for the start off East Chop light.

Skipper John Barr brought the Gloriana down across the line first under splendid headway. So close under her lee that one could have touched her with a pole was the Black Wasp, with Charlie Barr at the wheel and a brand new topmast aloft that she got in Newport. There was only a second in time between the boats. Both were carrying intermediate jib topsails.

The schooner Azalea came next, then the Quickstep and Mariquita. The Harpoon came next. She was going very fast in the smooth water. She had an intermediate jib topsail set and sheets eased well off to port.

She was 2 minutes 20 seconds behind her rivals, the Gloriana and Wasp, but she held a better breeze than they did.

The schooners Peerless, Iroquois and Merta followed, then the cutter Clara, the sloop Wayward, schooner Phantom and sloop Katrina, with the big schooner Constellation under a cloud of canvas, her balloon maintopmast staysail pulling like a dozen horses.

The schooners Atlantic and Dauntless and Œnone were the next trio. Then the new Gardner schooner Atmea dashed across the line. An enormous silk balloon jib topsail blossomed out from its stops just before she crossed, and she made a pretty picture in the early morning sunlight.

The schooners Remona, Miranda, Mayflower, Marguerite, Speranza, Alert and Fortuna brought up the rear of the fleet. The last three were handicapped two minutes.

The Clara's owner protested the Merlin for crossing her bow just before the start, forcing him to luff out of his course.

The Savonara started, but she was handicapped and she retired.

Boatmen here say that with the present floodtide and breeze the yachts should reach the block ship lightship by 10 o'clock, and that the leaders may be expected at Marblehead by 7 or 8 o'clock tonight.

The Ketch Orion, ex-Commodore T. B. Aster, leaves here this morning for New Bedford. The owner is well.

CHATHAM, Mass., Aug. 8—10.30 A. M.—The New York Yacht squadron is passing north, with increasing southwest wind and clear weather. The boats are having a fine time, many carrying balloon jibs and spinnakers, and if the breeze holds they will reach Marblehead before sunset.

EIGHT ROUNDS, SAYS DAVIES.

Not Time for Choynski to Train for a Finish Fight with Daly.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Parson Davies said last evening that he would match Joe Choynski to fight eight three-minute rounds with James Daly, Corbett's trainer, at the fighting carnival in New Orleans in September.

Davies said further: "If the Olympic Club will offer a reasonable purse Choynski will sail at once for New Orleans, and I will not ask for expenses money for him. The reason that I originate eight rounds is that there is not time for Choynski to train for a finish contest on that date. If he does not make this match we will sail for America on the City of Rome, Aug. 20."

MILL MEN GIVE IN.

Carnegie's Duquesne Works Started Up with Old Hands.

Surrender of the Strikers Causing Excitement in Homestead.

Trouble Likely to Follow the Withdrawal of the Militia.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Aug. 8.—There is considerable excitement here this morning over a report from Duquesne that the mills there were started up this morning, and that nearly all the old employes have returned to work.

The members of the Homestead Advisory Committee had received assurances, it is said, that the Duquesne sympathy strikers would stand by them to the last, and if the report that they have now given in proves true it may cause a break in the ranks here.

Battery B will probably leave here to-day, and the Fifth Regiment may be ordered home to-morrow. This will thin out the militia in camp here, and it is not improbable that the disgust and excitement over the Duquesne surrender may then be followed by assaults on the non-union workers. The situation seems to be growing critical once more.

THERE WAS A STAMPEDE.

The Men Made a Rush to Get in When the Whistle Sounded.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Aug. 8.—The strikers at Duquesne went back to work this morning, and the Carnegie Steel Company has scored one victory. On Saturday night Supt. Morrison posted a notice that all men who wanted their old places must report at the mill at 7 o'clock this morning, as work would be resumed at that hour. Long before the time set, however, workers with dinner-pails quietly stole up unfrequented streets and along the railroad tracks and entered the mill.

A crowd of men who were leaders in the sympathy strike movement gathered on the road near the mill gate, and watched in moody silence the men going into work. Finally the mill whistle blew for 7 o'clock. Then one of the strikers exclaimed in a loud voice:

"Well, boys, the jig is up. We had better hustle for our old places."

This was a signal for a stampede and the entire crowd ran towards the gate. A freight train had been backed in front of the gate, but the men did not wait for it to be moved. They scrambled over and under it in their frantic haste to get inside the mill before the whistle stopped blowing.

These men were organized into the Amalgamated Association, at no little expense and they went out on the sympathy strike about two weeks ago. By their surrender they have given up membership in the Amalgamated Association, and the Carnegie Company now has two non-union mills.

The effect of the break at Duquesne cannot but prove harmful to the men at Homestead, although the leaders will not admit it. At Duquesne steel ingots can be manufactured and sent to Homestead to be rolled into plates by the non-union men, so that the firm will be in far better condition to fill its contracts and prosecute its fight here than it was.

There were about ten non-union men at Amalgamated Headquarters in this borough this morning. They had left the Homestead mill, as it was too much like a prison. One mechanic said that thirteen men in his crew quit this morning and would be out when they get their money. He further asserted that 150 men went to Pittsburg on Saturday night and only seventy-five returned. A German roll-turner from Essen is among the deserters. He claimed that he had to sleep in his trousers to prevent their being stolen. One man from Bermuda said he came out to get a glass of beer, and if he could get back and tell the people how they would be treated 150 men would quit at once. The locked-out men are greatly encouraged by this turn in their favor.

O'DONNELL NOT IN HIDING.

He Is in Boston On a Secret Mission for the Homestead Men.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BOSTON, Aug. 8.—Hugh O'Donnell, of Homestead, Pa., is in this city. While he admits that his mission here is connected with the Homestead trouble, he declines to disclose its nature.

"I have not sought," said he, "to keep my movements secret, and the statement that I became alarmed and left Homestead to avoid trial on the charges preferred by the Carnegies is all bosh. I shall return when my mission is completed.

"What that mission is, of course, it would not be judicious to disclose just now. Regarding the lockout, the end is not yet in sight, nor are the Carnegies likely to be victors.

"The firm has some men at work at Homestead, but they are not the experienced hands it must have to properly operate its works. In these works, where machinery plays such an important part, every man has his place and his absence has the same effect as the breaking of a cog or a wheel.

"I am in daily communication with the Advisory Committee, and receive reports from it daily as to the progress of the contest. My mission will keep me in Boston for a week, and after that I shall make a tour of the New England States."

MORE ARRESTS TO BE MADE.

Lovejoy Says There Are from 50 to 150 Homesteaders on the List.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PITTSBURG, Aug. 8.—Secretary Lovejoy, of the Carnegie Steel Company, is authority for the statement that there will be anywhere from fifty to a hundred and fifty more informations for murder and for aggravated riot made against Homestead strikers before the strike is over.

On the other hand, W. J. Brennan, attorney for the Amalgamated Association, says the strikers do not propose to be bulled the Company in the matter of prosecutions, and that more charges will be made early this week against the members of the firm and the Pinkertons.

THE WRONG WAY TO WIN THE HEATHEN.

MATRON COLE RESIGNS.

Black Charges Were Preferred Against Her by Capt. Cross.

Acting under orders from Inspector Conlin, Capt. Cross, of the Eldridge street station, preferred charges to-day against Police Matron Kate M. Cole, of his command, for being intoxicated and absent from duty without leave.

Matron Cole was appointed in February last. On Friday night she was found intoxicated in her room in the station-house. The following morning she left the station-house before being relieved, and was subsequently arrested in the Bowery by an officer of the Fifth street station who picked her up helplessly drunk.

She was arraigned at Essex Market Court and let go. She has since been absent from duty.

The charge against Mrs. Cole is aggravated by the fact that when arrested she gave her name as Mary Ann Doyle. Mrs. Doyle is her fellow-matron at the Eldridge street station.

Mrs. Cole tendered her resignation this afternoon at Police Headquarters.

WOMAN ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

A Gunsmith's Wife Gets a Bullet Through Both Her Arms.

Shortly after 1 o'clock to-day an unknown man entered the gunsmith store of William [illegible] mine at 157 Grand street and purchased a revolver, which at his direction the gunsmith loaded. The man was in the act of placing the revolver in his pocket when in some way it accidentally exploded.

The ball passed through the fleshy part of both arms of Mrs. Kate Geshine, the wife of the gunsmith. The wounded woman fainted and the woman refused medical attendance. In the excitement the unknown man made his escape.

Dropped Dead in the Ferry House.

An unknown man dropped dead this afternoon in the Chambers street ferry-house, while waiting for a boat. From papers found on him he is supposed to be T. J. Davis, of Arlington, N. J.

Accidentally Shot by a Stranger.

A young man went into B. Freiman's gun store at 157 Grand street this afternoon to purchase a revolver. While putting the weapon into his pocket it went off accidentally, and the bullet struck Mr. Freiman's left arm, causing a slight wound.

The Fatal Trolley Wire.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PORT HURON, Mich., Aug. 8.—Newton Talbot, a lineman employed by the City Electric Company, was almost instantly killed at 9 o'clock this morning. He was working on the trolley wire at the time, and in some way came in contact with a guy wire.

School-House Bonds Awarded.

Bids for $182,777.09 in school-house bonds were opened in the Comptroller's office this afternoon. The bonds were awarded as follows: $100,000 to the Exchange Fire Insurance Company at $101.10; $50,000 to Blake Brothers at $100.75, and $32,000 to Blake Brothers at $100.5[illegible]. The balance was awarded to the sinking fund Commissioners at par.

WAS BLOOD ON THE HATCHET?

Fall River Police Stick to Old Clues on the Borden Murder.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 8.—It is reported that the suspicions of blood spots on the hatchet found in the Borden cellar and now in possession of the police, are well founded, and that there is very reason to believe that members of the family are directly accountable for the death of the two victims of the Borden double murder.

The poison theory is still being followed.

Providence and Boston detectives have arrived and are working on the case.

District-Attorney Knowlton has been called here, and the autopsy is expected to take place either Tuesday or Wednesday.

Officers researched the Borden house to-day but without finding any new evidence.

TRIP OF THE TREASURE TRAIN.

It Has the Right of Way and Is Running "Wild" to Make Time.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 8.—Just before 6 o'clock last night the train containing thirty millions of Uncle Sam's money pulled into the Union depot from the west, and immediately pulled out again over the bridge.

The train was a Union Pacific special, which had come straight from the Sub-Treasury at San Francisco as fast as it could turn its wheels. It was run "wild" over the road and everything else had to get out of the way to facilitate the progress of the cargo of golden metal. The gold was in coin, and $60,000,000 worth of it was in cases, piled on the floors of the cars.

No stop was made on this side of the river, but at Council Bluffs the train remained forty minutes for lunch. As soon as the train stopped guards with loaded rifles appeared on the platform of each car and no one was allowed to approach them. Even the conductor and trainmen were compelled to keep their distance until the train was ready to start.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—The "gold train" from San Francisco, which is carrying $20,000,000 of yellow bars to the National capital, passed through the city this morning.

The train was guarded with muskets, and no one was allowed within shooting distance of the precious freight. The train stopped just a few moments to procure ice water for the guards and then the journey was resumed.

The train came in over the Illinois Central, arriving at 8.45 this morning, and consisting of one private car on mail car and three express cars. The bars of coin were piled up in these three latter cars.

The train was in charge of General Supt. James G. White, of the Railway Mail service, and his assistants were Lewis Troy, Superintendent of the Western Division of the Railway Mail service, and Capt. Pepper, of Cleveland, in charge of the Eastern Railway Mail Service division.

There were altogether fifteen persons on the train, forty-five being armed guards.

TUG SUNK BY A SCOW.

The Captain and Crew of Twelve Men Saved.

Shortly before 1 o'clock this afternoon the tugboat Samuel Sloan of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad company, while towing a float or scow up the East River to the foot of Navy Yard street, was run down and sunk by a sand scow, the name and owner of which are not known.

The captain of the tug and crew of twelve men were saved.

The Campaign in Illinois.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—The Democratic State Central committee met in this city to-day and decided not to open the campaign in Illinois until September, although the Republicans will open the campaign in Illinois in a State rally at Springfield, late addresses by Whitelaw Reid, Congressman Burrows and others.

THE NEW APPORTIONMENT.

There Are Now 1,137 Election Districts Instead of 887.

The Police Commissioners held a special meeting this afternoon to take action on the list of election districts prepared by Gen. Rodenbough, Chief of the Bureau of Elections.

The General's list showed that there are now 1,137 Election districts in the thirty Assembly districts, as against 887 last year.

The reapportionment of the Assembly districts, as adopted by the Board at the meeting to-day, is as follows:

Assembly Districts.	Election Districts.	Assembly Districts.	Election Districts.
First	24	Sixteenth	40
Second	48	Seventeenth	34
Third	26	Eighteenth	49
Fourth	34	Nineteenth	31
Fifth	40	Twentieth	25
Sixth	40	Twenty-first	36
Seventh	37	Twenty-second	34
Eighth	35	Twenty-third	34
Ninth	46	Twenty-fourth	37
Tenth	48	Twenty-fifth	37
Eleventh	36	Twenty-sixth	40
Twelfth	35	Twenty-seventh	43
Thirteenth	35	Twenty-eighth	34
Fourteenth	41	Twenty-ninth	32
Fifteenth	39	Thirtieth	26

The redistribution was made under the provisions of section 1, chapter 27, laws of 1889. It was made in such manner that there shall not be more than 250 voters in any one election district.

MAY ORDER THE STRIKE OFF.

Say Incidental Questions Must Be First Settled.

Work on the New Netherlands Hotel, at Fifty-ninth street and Fifth avenue, and also on the Waldorf, at Thirty-third street and Fifth avenue, has been re-opened, the boycott having been declared off by the Board of Walking Delegates.

The men return to work on the understanding that the lime and cement should be purchased of firms not antagonistic to the delegates and that Contractor Downey refuse to handle any material from the yards of members of the Material Dealers Association until the Association declares off the lockout against the union drivers and public carters.

At the New Netherlands all the trades were not put to work, although the men were on hand with their tools at sunrise. Lack of material was stated as the cause.

The German speaking Framers Union have bolted the ranks of the strikers and returned to work. This is the first desertion of any union as a body from the Board of Delegates.

The delegates are holding a meeting this afternoon at 243 Bleecker street, and considering of the advisability of declaring the strike off.

President John Tasker, of the Board of Walking Delegates, said late this afternoon that the question of ordering off the strike, so far as the Board is concerned, would be considered, but if the Board should decide to raise the boycott from yards in the Material Dealers' Association it would not follow that the strike in its entirety would stop.
