MONTANA.

Wins the Comparative Stakes from the Added Yorkville Belle.

KINGSTON WALKS OVER.

Moyne Gelding Defeats a Good Field in the Fourth Race.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

MONMOUTH PARK RACE TRACK, Aug. 11.—The opening event was a dash of five furlongs with Correction and Nomad the public choices. Correction was a slight favorite and Littlefield holding under a gentle pull throughout won by a head. Nomad was second and Entre, the outsider, third.

The race was run in a shower and a heavy peal of thunder at the finish made things quite theatrical.

Yorkville Belle was added in the Comparative Stakes, and allotted 105 pounds. The belle thought she ought to win. The bookies offered the bettors their choice at even money between the mare and Montana. The belle was quickly backed down, and as she kept on continued to fall heavily her supporters believed they had an air-tight. Montana received steady support. Julia and Reckon were also played.

An oil stove on which chowder is heated exploded just before the fourth race, and for a time caused no little excitement. The flames from the burning oil mounted high in the air. The fire was extinguished before any harm was done.

Snapper Garrison was at the track to-day. He did not look any too well, and he admitted that it was a pretty close finish for him and that he only escaped death by a very short margin. It will be some weeks before he rides again.

FIRST RACE.

Free Handicap Sweepstakes of $20 each, with $1,000 added; three-quarters of a mile, straight course.

Starters.	Weights.	Jockeys.	Str.	Hlf.	Fin.
Correction	111	Littlefield	4	1½	1½
Nomad	105	Lamley	2	2½	2½
Entre	98	Evans, jr.	3	3	3
Sir Matthew	103	W. Midgley	1	4	4

Pool Betting—Correction, 6 to 5 and 2 to 5; Nomad, 8 to 5 and 1 to 2; Sir Matthew, 6 to 1 and 7 to 5; Entre, 10 to 1 and 2 to 1.

Correction went to the front at the end of a furlong and was never after headed, winning with a little shaking up by a head from Nomad, who was a length in front of Entre. Time—1.12.

SECOND RACE.

The Orange Stakes for three-year-olds and upward, of $50 each, with $1,000 added, the second to receive $250 out of the stakes; seven furlongs; straight course.

Starters.	Weights.	Jockeys.	Str.	Hlf.	Fin.
Kingston	122	Lamley	walk-over.

A fortunate owner is Mr. M. F. Dwyer in the possession of a horse like the mighty Kingston. How nice it is when one happens to be in need of $1,000 or so to simply enter a horse and walk over for the money. All the work there is attached to this proceeding is the writing of Kingston's name on a piece of paper and dropping into the Secretary's box. A day or so afterward the $1,000 is forthcoming. There is probably no horse in training that can beat Kingston a mile or less, and when his name is posted as a starter owners give up all hope of getting a purse and the public do not look beyond the brown wonder for the winner. Kingston dropped into one of the soft spots to-day, and Johnny Lambley, who had the mount, deliberately pulled him from start to finish, however, as it was a walkover for the brown horse, no one kicked, and the Orange Stakes, which was the second on the card, was presented to him.

THIRD RACE.

The Comparative Stakes, for then three year-olds and four years old, of $100 each with $1,000 added; one mile and a quarter; outer circle.

Starters.	Weights.	Jockeys.	Str.	Hlf.	Fin.
Montana	122	Fitzpatrick	2	1½	1½
Yorkville Belle	105	Sloane	4	3½	2½
Reckon	111	Littlefield	1	1½	3½
Julien	110	Hamilton	3	2½	4

Pool Betting—Yorkville Belle, 3 to 5 and out; Montana, 8 to 5 and 1 to 5; Reckon, 20 to 1 and 3 to 1; Julien, 20 to 1 and 4 to 1.

Reckon, Julien, Yorkville Belle and Montana were the order for a mile. When they swung into the stretch both Montana and Yorkville Belle passed the leaders and both jockeys were driving to the last sixteenth pole, where the Belle faltered, and, Montana drawing away, won easily by two lengths. Yorkville Belle was three lengths in front of Reckon. Time—2.08.

FOURTH RACE.

Sweepstakes of $20 each for two-year-olds, with $1,000 added; five furlongs; straight course.

Moyne gelding led from start to finish and won easily by three lengths from Chicago, who was two lengths in front of Herndon. Time—1.01½.

FIFTH RACE.

Free handicap sweepstakes of $20 each, with $1,000 added; one mile; straight course.

Starters.	Weights.	Jockeys.	Str.	Hlf.	Fin.

Pool Betting—Loantaka, even and out; Kildeer, 3 to 1 and 8 to 5; Airbolt, 10 to 1 and 3 to 1.

Kildeer rushed away in front and with a lead opened up a gap of six lengths on the field. There Sloane went to work on Loantaka, and gaining inch by inch only won on the post by a head. Kildeer was eight lengths in front of Horka, third. Time—1.43.

SIXTH RACE.

WHITNEY SPEAKS.

He Deprecates the Prominence Given to Himself.

Declares That He Has Not Been a Party to It.

And Says that Soon No One in the Syracuse Movement Will Be Dissatisfied.

In an interview published this morning ex-Mayor W. R. Grace was quoted as saying that the Anti-snappers were dissatisfied because too much prominence was given to ex-Secretary W. C. Whitney and Tammany Hall in this campaign to the exclusion of the leaders who helped to make the Cleveland movement a success.

"I quite agree with Mr. Grace," said Mr. Whitney to an EVENING WORLD reporter this afternoon. "I have no doubt it is quite true, as he says, that there is some dissatisfaction owing to the prominence given to me and Tammany Hall.

"My part has been greatly magnified—it has been made too much of. I have not been a party to it myself and have refused all honors in connection with the campaign.

"These things will wear off. Mr. Grace himself will be very influential in smoothing out differences. It will take a little time. After such a contest over a nomination as there has been we must expect individual jealousies. In the main, our people are united.

"There is a grand public spirit actuating the party at this moment—a determination to win. I have never seen a campaign open with the same spirit of loyalty and devotion.

"Mr. Cleveland has publicly stated his determination to forget that there have been any differences. In a short time no one in the Syracuse movement will be looking around to see who he is looking arms with, whether a Tammany man or one of his own people. I see this coming very rapidly, and I am very sorry at any time to be myself the cause of bad feeling."

ANNUAL MILK INSPECTION.

Looking Into the 20,000 Cans That Daily Come to This City.

Assistant State Dairy Commissioner Valkenburg began this morning the annual inspection of milk in transit.

The inspection was to be made at Christopher and Barclay street ferries, but the storm prevented, as it did Tuesday. An inspection was made, however, at Forty-eighth street, of milk aboard the New York and Harlem trains.

Six hundred cans examined disclosed only six or seven in which there was adulterated milk.

Inspections will be made to-night at a number of other places.

The entire amount of milk shipped to New York averages 20,000 cans daily.

THE TROTTING RECORD.

Sunol May Try and Lower It Some Time This Fall.

There is an impression among horsemen that Sunol will some time this summer attempt to break the trotting record. Mr. Robert Bonner says there is plenty of time before trying to do anything in that line, but that perhaps late in September or October he may do something towards lowering the record.

Sunol made the present record of 2.08¾ on the kite-shaped track, and Maud S. holds the other, 2.08¼, on the circular track.

Another Autopsy on Mrs. Borden.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

FALL RIVER, Aug. 11.—A second autopsy was begun in the ladies' waiting-room at the Oak Grove Cemetery to-day. Mrs. Borden's body was exhumed first.

The new fact discovered was a bruise on the back, near the left shoulder, about the width of an axe and shaped like the head of an axe. It gives another clue to the exact position held by Mrs. Borden when the deed was committed.

At 2.10 P. M. the physicians began work on Mrs. Borden's body. The physicians engaged are Dr. Draper, of Boston, and Medical Examiner Dolan. Drs. Leary and Cone, of this city.

Misses Emma and Lizzie Borden, Mrs. Brigham and Miss Sullivan were brought to the police station this afternoon. They were not under arrest. A locksmith is at work trying to open Mr. Borden's safe at the house to determine whether or not a will was made.

STILL WE SWELTER.

Yet Official Forecaster Dunn Says It Is Cooler.

The Day Opens with Lower Temperature and Higher Humidity.

Thermometers Register 90 This Afternoon—Relief Promised.

The multiplicity of umbrellas in the streets of New York to-day was not due to Local Forecast Official Dunn's prediction yesterday of possible showers last night or to-day. True, a shower materialized and Dunn stock continued firm.

But the reason for to-day's parachute parade was the ever-growing and sensible belief that an umbrella is a mighty fine thing on a hot day and as useful in warding off Old Sol's rays as in shielding its owner from the beneficent but bessaking drops of Jupiter Pluvius.

On the strength of Mr. Dunn's predictions New Yorkers expected a continuance of the hot wave to-day, which Mr. Dunn had scientifically explained would be caused by the blowing of the south winds out of the high into the low pressure, and probably resulting in muggy weather all the week.

Mr. Dunn's prediction, so far as to-day was concerned, was verified, but the clever prophet, with a ten-mile breeze blowing through the south windows of his look-out on top of the Equitable building this morning, modified his views and predictions in a way that will freeze Gothamites with delight instead of horror, and cause a long-suffering humanity to rise up and call him blessed.

"It is still warm here as I predicted," said Mr. Dunn, "but it will not be so warm to-day as yesterday, and by to-night it will be still cooler. To-morrow it will be decidedly cooler, and the southwest winds will swing around to the northwest. To-night there is a possibility of light showers.

"While to-morrow, and probably Saturday will be cool, comfortable days I hardly think the cool spell will remain over Sunday. By that time it is likely to become warm again, unless another cool wave, not now visible comes in sight.

"The cause of to-night's and to-morrow's prospective cool weather is due to the higher pressure coming down from the lake regions, where they are having light showers to-day. The wind changing around to the northwest will intensify the cool wave."

Although Mr. Dunn's intensely sensitive thermometer showed a slight fall in the temperature this morning, which at 8 o'clock registered 77 degrees against 79 yesterday, New Yorkers were loath to believe that it was any cooler.

And, to all ordinary appearances, it wasn't. Numerous cases of prostration were reported, and even the lively breeze that blew over the island gave little relief to sweltering pedestrians, laborers in the sun and the poor jaded horses on street-cars, drays and heavy draught wagons.

The discomfort of to-day was due in a measure to the increase this morning in the humidity, which at 8 o'clock was 78 per cent. or three points higher than at the same hour yesterday. By 10 o'clock it had dropped to 75, or four points higher than the same hour yesterday, and in conjunction with the fairly plentiful abundance of caloric in the atmosphere, was causing great inconvenience, not to say suffering.

Although the humidity was retrograding slowly, it was unquestionably on the decline, and Observer Dunn declared that it would continue so to do and not exceed its record of yesterday.

Mr. Dunn was also of the opinion that the temperature would not exceed 86, which would make a lower limit than 88 3-10, the highest record reached yesterday, at 1 P. M.

To-day's hot wave was for the most part confined to points south of Philadelphia. Above that point in Pennsylvania, over the lake regions and also on the Western Gulf coast there were light showers, but elsewhere it was generally fair. It was becoming cooler in the Central States, but the heat still prevailed all along the Atlantic coast.

From Philadelphia south there was no change in the temperature, and only one or two degrees fall north of that point.

At Boston at 8 o'clock thermometers registered 78; at Philadelphia and New Orleans, 80; at Albany, Buffalo and St. Louis, 74; Cincinnati, 72; Chicago, 76, and Washington, 82, which was the highest point reached anywhere.

The coolest spots were Havre, Mont., and Cheyenne, Wyo., where it was 54.

As usual, the thermometers at Hudnut's on Broadway, and Perry's, in Park Row, excessed the records made by Mr. Dunn's weather gauge.

At Perry's the record was: 3 A. M. and 6 A. M., 75; 9 A. M., 81; 10 A. M., 81, and 10.30 A. M., 82½.

For the same hours at Hudnut's the record was 75, 74, 79, 82, and 83½.

At Hudnut's to-day's record at 10.30 was one-half a degree behind yesterday at the same hour, and at Perry's one degree behind.

At 12 o'clock noon Perry's thermometer scored 86 degrees, and Hudnut's 88.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon the thermometer at Hudnut's has reached 90½ degrees, or 1½ more than it registered a half-hour later yesterday. Even Perry's thermometer, which was still enjoying the shade of tall buildings in Printing House Square had reached 87, with an immediate prospect of rushing up into the nineties.

On lower Broadway the sun beat down on pedestrians with terrific intensity, and was reflected with 100-fold power by the bare, furnace-like paving-stones.

To crown the discomfort even the ten-mile breeze seemed dying out, although its tall buildings its effect was still a relief.

William Walters, a pastry cook on board the Hamburg steamship Normannia, lying at her dock in Hoboken, was prostrated by heat early this morning and died soon after.

At 10.10 o'clock this morning John McAdams, fifty years old, of 225 West Tenth street, was overcome by heat in front of 663 Hudson street. He was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital.

At 11.15, Peter Moran, thirty-two years old, of Seventh avenue and Second street, was overcome in front of 353 East Twenty-third street; Bellevue Hospital.

At 12.15 Thomas Carpenter, twenty-four years old, of 5 Mangin street, was overcome at Pier A, North River. Taken home.

At 12.40 M. Lyons, fifty-two years old, of 1957 Second avenue, was overcome. Harlem Hospital.

At 12.40 Albert Campbell, aged thirty-five, of 304 Madison street, was overcome by the heat while at work at 273 South street. Gouverneur Hospital.

The Heat Kills a Priest.

Rev. Thomas Mulvany, a Catholic clergyman and professor, died from the effects of the heat last night while visiting his brother at 240 East Twenty-fourth street. He was forty-three years old and lived at 41 Butler street, Brooklyn.

One Man Killed and Six Injured in a Southern Pacific Wreck.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

UVALDE, TEX., Aug. 11.—As the Southern Pacific fast freight was going through a deep cut near the bridge which spans the Sabine River last night the caboose left the track, having been thrown off by a floating tie. Recent rains had swollen the river until it overflowed and filled the cut with water. Several cars were pulled from the track by the caboose, one of them knocked down a span of the bridge.

Frank Leonard, brakeman, of Plains, Pa., was killed and the following were wounded.

W. Raymond, concussion of brain.
E. Wade, internal injuries.
J. F. Crawford, sprained ankle and internal injuries.
John Morgan, body bruised.

The dead and wounded are all railroad men. The caboose containing them fell forty feet to the bed of the river. It is thought three of the wounded will die.

FIFTY ROUNDS AND A DRAW.

Light-Weights Fight a Long Battle at the Pacific Athletic Club.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—The finish fight for a $1,500 purse, at the Pacific Athletic Club, between light-weights Jimmy Burge, of Australia, and Billy Lavigne, of Saginaw, ended in a draw, early this morning, after fifty rounds.

Pancake Needham and Tim McGrath seconded Lavigne, Billy Murphy and Joe Goddard seconded Burge. Mike Sullivan was referee.

Lavigne's superior height and reach gave him an advantage over Burge.

Although there was some hot work, the fighting was slow in the majority of the rounds. Burge had a tooth and Lavigne injured his right hand.

REPUBLICANS AT ODDS.

Warring Factions Threaten Them in Indiana and Ohio.

Gen. Louis Michener, of Indiana, who was one of President Harrison's managers at Minneapolis, is in the city. He called at the Republican National headquarters to-day, and made a report of the political situation in Indiana to Chairman Carter.

There is a similar division in the Republican ranks of that state as in New York. Unless the Greshamites, like the Platties, are placated by the President, the Republicans fear that they will lose the state.

A similar lack of harmony in Republican ranks is reported from Ohio, where, it is said, that excellent Foraker is going to knife the ticket. Foraker is used because his arch-enemy, Hahn, the National Committeeman from Ohio, has been appointed to take charge of the oratorical bureau in this city.

He said he would start to-night on a month's vacation at his home in Minnesota, and return to his Department duties in September, and that consequently the report of his injured resignation in the immediate future was erroneous.

TWO SHARP YOUNGSTERS.

One Got Away with $850, the Other with $100.

Notwithstanding the mystery which has surrounded the actions of the two messenger boys who succeeded in absconding, one with $100 from the United Electric Light Company, and the other with $850 from a Broad street broker whose name is concealed, an EVENING WORLD reporter was successful in bringing to light this morning the name of one of the runaways.

His name is Johnny Walsh, aged about thirteen years, and lived on Amsterdam avenue.

For about two years he has been in the employ of the Electric Light Company, and was thought by the officials to be an exemplary boy.

The officials of the Electric Light Company decline to say anything about the case this morning.

Johnny was of very diminutive stature, and his face was always overspread with a look of childish innocence, which helped keep his employers in ignorance of his designs.

At the Detective Bureau at Police Headquarters, where Johnny's father reported the departure of his son a few days ago, nothing would be disclosed.

Several of the employers who work around the Times Building, where the offices of the United Electric Light Company are, say that Johnny had recently been paid numerous visits by a boy about his own age, but who was somewhat taller.

This boy, they think, is Johnny's unknown companion, who got off with $850, and who, it is thought, went to England and wrote Johnny the letter, which he received on Wednesday, and which, it is said, influenced him to steal the money and also go to England.

YACHTS IN A SPECIAL RACE.

Sailing from Marblehead Neck for Commodore Forbes's Prize.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

MARBLEHEAD NECK, MASS., Aug. 11.—The sea was smooth and the wind came softly from the southwest when the fleets of the Eastern and New York Yacht Clubs started out into the bay this morning.

The race to-day is a special one for 40-footers, for a purse of $250, offered by Commodore Forbes, of the Eastern Yacht Club, and four of the schooners also arranged a sweepstake race, $100 an entry, to be sailed over the same course as that sailed by the sloops, starting five minutes later.

The course is to the Shoaling mark first; a beat to windward; then run to Eastern Yacht Club turning buoy, and then to the whistling buoy off Eastern Point, Gloucester, and wind up with another beat back to the finish line.

The Gloriana, Wasp and Harpoon got away at 11 o'clock not ten seconds apart. When the schooners Constellation, Irequois, Mayflower and Marguerite crossed at 11.05 it looked somewhat like off shore, with prospects of being better.

Gold Dollar's Race Merits a Very Searching Investigation.

YOUNG DONOVAN LOCKED UP.

Pokino Upsets the Talent and the "Good Thing."

The amount of "alloy" contained in Gold Dollar yesterday must have been easily out of proportion. What this alloy really was no one can say, but the majority of the talent came to the conclusion that it was largely composed of water and oats. Gold Dollar's recent races at Monmouth Park have had the ring of the true metal, having defeated such sprinters as Correction, Stonecell and Walcott in fast time. Yesterday this same horse was imported to Brighton Beach and pitted against such "crabs" as Key West, Lorimer, Daisyman and Countess at seven furlongs, for the largest purse of the day. On form he was a "cinch," and the pencilliers opened by laying 2 to 5 against him. His price gradually increased until 4 to 5 and even money was reached, and at that figure the right money did not come in. Those of the talent that had anxiously grabbed the opening prices hedged their money and went out to look at the race. The result proved suspicious to be correct, the horse never being able to get into his stride and finishing a very poor fourth to Key West. No fault could be found with the manner in which Sims rode Gold Dollar, as he was at work on him from the time the flag fell until the finish. After the race the owner was asked why the animal had made such a poor showing, and his answer was that the horse was sick and not fit to go to the post, and that permission had been asked of the judge to withdraw from the race. He also said he had bet a lot of money on Gold Dollar in the city. Judge Wheeler stated that neither owner nor trainer had asked permission to scratch the horse. The race certainly had a very suspicious look. If the horse was ill, as stated by his owner, then the latter certainly deserves to be punished for starting his horse in such condition. He must have known that Gold Dollar would be a hot favorite, and it was not fair to the public or to the Association to send him to the post. Gold Dollar's running merits investigation, and it is strange that no action was taken by the Executive Committee on the most suspicious-looking race of the meeting.

Before the Gold Dollar race an incident happened which the crowd commented upon in unmeasured terms. This was the remarkable improvement of Zampoet over his previous form. Several days ago this colt started in company with the Adaigloa colt, Treadaway and Mayor B., and was made a hot favorite. His race showed him to be the dogiest kind of a dog, as he was never prominent at any part of the journey. Yesterday this same Zampoet faced the flag in company with such good ones as Crochet, Arabo, Mackintosh and the Billet Doux colt. After flying to a prominent position all during the race, the colt gave Crochet and Arabo a hard tussle through the stretch, finishing a good third to the same Mackintosh and the Billet Doux colt. This shows that Zampoet at 7 to 10 and Zampoet at 30 to 1 are two different animals. The judges stated that an investigation would be instituted on the horse's previous form, but nothing definite was done in the matter up to noon.

Matthewson and Dugan have filed a statement with the Executive Committee of the Brighton Association claiming the purse won by their colt Foam on Monday. After the race some unknown parties claimed that the horse Dreaming did not foal the colt, and the purse was withheld, but will undoubtedly be given the owners, who have conclusively proved that the pedigree—Ocean Wave-Lisabing—was correct.

What will "Father Bill" Daly do with Donovan? A few days ago the boy ran away from his employer, but yesterday showed up again in the paddock at Brighton Beach. Father Bill Donoghue, grabbed the youngster and had him locked up. By this action both boy and the jockey lay themselves open to severe punishment for holding the boy without cause.

A number of bookmakers thought that Autocrat was "dead" in the first race yesterday, and won up two of the one-hoofbrace they had to 2 to 1 that it came against the McCormick entry. The old horse showed considerable speed, but was not quite fit and finished second. Autocrat has been ailing with a lame shoulder for some months, and has been under the care of a veterinary. His race yesterday was made in a trial to see whether he would stand, and as he did not break down the chances are that he will be a dangerous horse from now on.

There was a wild plunge on the Matagorda filly in the opening race yesterday, but she could do no better than third. Carley & Ikst made a large stake on the filly.

Jockey Slaughter, who has been doing good work in the West, was ruled off at Garfield Park yesterday for persistently jockeying. Bets were settled off on the race.

The betting commission "Good things" were busy at Brighton Beach yesterday, among whom Jim Corbett was the "chief." Jim did not let any last sixteenth, where he thought Corbett was with a rush and, as usual, he came in with a good.
