Loyal Democrats Should Boom the Campaign Fund.

The Necessity for Educational Work in the West Explained.

[From This Morning's World.]

NOW THE FUND STANDS NOW.

Every Democrat expects that New York in November will give its electoral vote to the Democratic candidate. Past experience, however, has taught political leaders that it is not altogether safe to pin one's hopes on a single State. The next President must be a Democrat! For with one of that faith in the White House the country can only look for a fair and economical administration.

The result of the coming election is of vital interest to every one in the United States. The issue has been clearly drawn. It is a fight between Democracy and plutocracy. What the Republican party has accomplished while in power has been solely in the interest of classes. The community at large has been sacrificed in the interest of a few, who have grown rich and powerful under the benefits of partisan legislation.

The Republican party is responsible for the McKinley bill, a measure which taxes all and benefits a few. Under the specious reasoning that a protective tariff increases wages they have endeavored to control the laboring vote. In New York and the East generally the falseness of this reasoning has been thoroughly exposed, and only the most lavish use of money can prevent the triumph of tariff reform in these parts. The manufacturers, however, who have grown rich under the so-called protective system, will do all in their power to return the present Administration. To accomplish this they will gladly contribute thousands and thousands of dollars to the Republican campaign treasury. Realizing the necessity of carrying this State, a great portion of it is likely to be used here.

The Congressional elections of 1890 showed that many of the Western States, which had hitherto gone Republican, were ready to change their allegiance. And it is now purposed, through the Western Democratic Campaign Fund, to win over some of the electoral votes of those States to the Democratic column. Conservative Democrats who have visited that section of the country believe that this is possible and agree that if a vigorous, concerted and aggressive campaign of education is waged there Mr. Cleveland will get a number of electoral votes not hitherto counted upon. In thus pushing the war into Africa the Republicans will be forced to make an effort to hold what they now regard as their own. Such a move will thus retire from New York thousands of dollars which otherwise would have been employed in trying to win this State.

A great deal of money is needed to make a successful canvass of the Western States. The money already subscribed for this object will do a great deal of good. But more is needed. Speakers capable of explaining the benefits of tariff reform should be sent into every section of that country, while tons of literature bearing on the same subject should be scattered broadcast, that every wavering farmer may be brought to realize that his interests depend upon the success of Democratic principles.

This fund, which is to accomplish so much good, is a popular one, and the subscription of every Democrat, no matter whether it be a dollar or a dime, is earnestly solicited. The opportunity is a hand for you to render valuable help to the Democratic party. Will you embrace it? If so, do not let another day go by, but send in your subscription at once.

MADDEN'S MARITAL TANGLE.

Argument for Alimony Will Be Heard Next Week.

Lawyer Abe Hummel will try to convince the Court of Common Pleas next week that Billy Madden, ex-pugilist and all-round sport, ought to pay alimony to Blanche Madden, serio comic, pending her most novel divorce suit from a common law marriage.

Blanche, whose real name is Anneta L. Siegrist-Madden, according to her complaint, is living with her family at 22 Charlton street, and she says that Billy fixed up a fake marriage certificate at the store of his friend George Block in Harlem, to fool her mother, who couldn't read English. They lived together a long time, and acknowledged each other as man and wife.

But in spite of all this, she avers, Billy got mad July 15 last because her mother refused to lend him a "fiver," and next day there appeared a notice of his marriage to Eileen Swoulibess, of Hoboken, at Mechanicville, N. Y., by Rev. Father Reagan.

The complaint goes on to say that no such marriage was ever registered with the Village Clerk, as the law directs, and that it never occurred, that her husband, William J. Madden, has lived with Eileen Swoulibess, of Hoboken, as his wife, and that he asks for a divorce.

UP GOES THE PRICE AGAIN.

Coal Will Be 25 Cents a Ton Higher After Oct. 1.

The price of coal is to be again increased Oct. 1. An advance of 25 cents a ton on that date was decided upon by the Retail Coal Dealers' Association at a meeting held in the Coal Exchange last night.

It was also provided that in case the wholesale dealers made another advance before that date, the retail dealers would again raise prices.

The present prices are $5.75 per ton for white ash stove coal and $6.25 for red ash. After Oct. 1 they will be $6 and $6.50 respectively.

This will make an advance of 75 cents per ton to the price of coal that the retail dealers have doled out since Jan. 15. Within that time the wholesale dealers have raised their quotations $1.40 per ton.
