ART OF POKER-PLAYING.

A Few Rules Laid Down by the Late Actor Florence.

Pull your luck when winning; stay out when losing until a little better hand than the average comes to you, says the late W. J. Florence in his "Hand-Book of Poker."

The only hand to stand pat on, other than a pretty one, is a hand without a pair and nothing to draw to.

It is often proper to discard four cards and draw to an ace. The draw to an ace and king is risky.

When holding the ace a good player always draws one to a bobtail. The value of bobtail straights and flushes increase directly with the number of players at the table.

Before a bet is made, should a player ask the dealer how many cards any other player drew, the latest decision is that the dealer is bound to answer.

If most of the other players are in, the chances of drawing an ace or a king are not quite so good as those of drawing a small card, because the other players are more likely to be staying in on high than on low cards.

Where there are only a few playing and a full hand with aces or kings pat is dealt, it is better to mask the strength of the hand by throwing away the small pair or one of them at least.

Bluffing is a necessary part of the game as best played.

In opening a jackpot, if the player has openers only, it is the best play to open for the limit. It is considered an excellent rule to open a jackpot whenever you can.

In poker the number of players should be limited to six. Five is the best number, but seven can play.

A Frugal Meal.

It's house-cleaning time. Every one tired and cross; every thing out of place and wrong end foremost. No time to fool away in cooking; no fire, probably; no appetite, perhaps; no comfort, certainly.

No Pearline—that's the cause of it. A little Pearline, when you're cleaning house, makes the whole thing smooth and easy. With anything about the house that isn't hurt by water, you can save time and hard-work by using Pearline. You won't have to use that rub, rub, rub, in getting the dirt off. And that saves other things, besides your labor. Your paint, for instance.

Beware Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled; if your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back. 419 JAMES PYLE, N. Y.
