AFTER A DAKOTA DIVORCE.

Playwright Winslow Charges His Wife with Technical Desertion.

Herbert Hall Winslow, the farce-comedy writer, of 70 West Ninety-third street, is suing his wife, Daisy E. Winslow, nee Rowell, for divorce in Yankton, S. Dak., where he has gained the legal residence of ninety days.

Mr. Winslow claims that his wife deserted him in refusing to live away from her parents. She will fight the suit and alleges desertion on his part. Mrs. Winslow demands alimony and the custody of their two-year-old boy, Herbert Rowell Winslow.

Sister Against Brother.

Justice Bartlett and a jury in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, to-day heard testimony in the suit brought by Mary A. Bevans against her brother, Michael Flood, and others, by which she is seeking to recover a share of real estate in St. Mark's Avenue.

Beecher Wants to Retire.

Patrolman Clarence Beecher, of the Central Office Squad, to-day applied to Police Commissioner Hayden, of Brooklyn, to be retired on half pay, beginning Feb. 1, 1893. Beecher has served twenty years and eleven months.

ROBBED MRS. LYNCH.

A Bold Thief Got Away with Two $500 Diamond Rings.

Central Office detectives are on the lookout to-day for the perpetrator of one of the coolest and most daring diamond robberies that has ever been brought to their notice.

Yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock a swell-looking young man with a blonde mustache and complexion to match entered Mrs. Lynch's store, at 1 and 3 Union square, and was shown two $500 diamond rings. Remarking that he wished to get a better light on the gems, he moved towards the door, fifteen feet away, holding the rings up close to his eyes.

He did not stop when he got to the door, and when the clerk got outside the counter the thief was lost in the crowd on the sidewalk.

Mr. Miller Makes a Correction.

Charles F. Miller has written a letter to THE EVENING WORLD denying that Charles A. Brown, who secured a divorce from his wife, owns the restaurant at 452 Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn. Mr. Miller says he owns the restaurant and that Mr. Brown has not been connected with it for a year.

THIEVES RAID LAKEWOOD.

Daring Robbery of a New York Woman's Trunk in a Hotel.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Dec. 15.—This popular Winter resort has been invaded by a gang of thieves. A long series of petty robberies was rounded up Sunday by a big haul at the Palmer House, where Mrs. Sarles, of New York, had her trunks rifled of between $2,500 and $4,000 worth of diamonds, jewelry and money.

Manager Palmer has detectives looking for George Davis, of Philadelphia, who had a room on the same floor with Mrs. Sarles, which he had engaged up to Tuesday last, but he left suddenly Sunday, taking a train to New York in company with a tall man who had been hanging around the hotel for several days.

MRS. BALDY WILL REFUND.

Office-Seekers Who Have Paid Her $10 May Have Their Money.

The 200 persons who have paid $10 each to Mrs. L. F. Baldy, manager, or to the International Exchange, Fourth floor, 814 Broadway, for a position under the Government at Washington, may have their money back again if they are dissatisfied.

This is what Mrs. Baldy announces from her home at 32 West Fifteenth street. She does not want to be charged with violation of the law in keeping an employment agency without a license.

Mrs. Baldy also denies that Mr. Pottinger is connected with the Exchange. She says she has "met" ex-Secretary Whitney, but only looks knowingly and holds her tongue when asked if Mr. Whitney is the power behind the throne, through whom the Exchange gets offices for the hungry at $10 apiece.

She says she has to fight against Tammany Hall and will keep her hands off the New York patronage during the Cleveland Administration.

Brooklyn Theatrical Note.

At the Park Theatre, Brooklyn, Mme. Modjeska last night appeared as Rosalind in "As You Like It." In this part Modjeska is seen to excellent advantage. Otis Skinner as Orlando, John A. Lane as Jacques, Beaumont Smith as Touchstone and Benjamin G. Rogers as Adam contributed to the success of the production. The play was given a fine setting. Tonight "Much Ado About Nothing" will be presented.
