HEART DISEASE 30 YEARS.

GRAND ISLAND, NEB., April 3th, 1892.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

GENTLEMEN: I had been troubled with HEART DISEASE FOR THE LAST 30 YEARS, and although I was treated by able physicians and tried many remedies, I grew steadily worse until I WAS COMPLETELY PROSTRATED AND CONFINED TO MY BED WITHOUT ANY HOPE OF RECOVERY. I would have very bad sinking spells, when my pulse would stop beating altogether, and it was with the greatest difficulty that my circulation could be started, which would bring me back to consciousness again. While in this condition I tried your NEW HEART CURE, and began to improve from the first, and now I am able to do a good day's work for a man 68 years of age. I give DR. MILES' NEW HEART CURE all the credit for my recovery. It is over six months since I have taken any, although I keep a bottle in the house in case I should need it. I have also used your NERVE AND LIVER PILLS, and think a great deal of them. Z. AVERY.

FINANCIAL REVIEW.

Henry Clews's Weekly Letter on the Business Situation.

A MARKED IMPROVEMENT NOTED

In Both Conditions and Prospects. Effect of the Meeting of Congress and of the President's Message. Hopes That the Sherman Act Will be Repealed Without Delay—Decided Improvement Among the Banks.

Special Correspondence of the Intelligencer.

NEW YORK, August 12.—So far as respects the investment markets, the past week has shown an improvement in both conditions and prospects. The working of the stock market has afforded clear evidence that the point of lowest depression has been reached. Under the worst conditions of demoralization there is always a level of prices at which investors—either domestic or foreign, or both—will become buyers, and it is a matter of ocular demonstration that that force has now come in to sustain the market. The orders to buy from this class form a background of support upon which the "bear" attacks make little or no impression. Their sales are so far taken up by investment buying that, when they want to borrow shares or cover their sales, they find themselves more or less "cornered." Their operations are therefore confined to a few of the least supported stocks, out of which they seem satisfied to earn their daily salt. It is no small gain to legitimate business that the filibustering of the raiders has been thus brought under check; for it is the first step toward a rise to be assured that decline has touched its "lowest deep."

The stock market has to a considerable extent broken loose from influences that are still depressing general business. The extreme scarcity and continued hoarding of money has little direct effect upon stock exchange operations. That kind of business is done without the direct intervention of cash; and as the banks can lend on stock loans without parting with currency they give a certain preference to stock brokers, especially as their collateral, at the present low prices, form good security. Members of the exchange therefore find no difficulty in borrowing at bank at 5@6 per cent on call, while other important borrowers have to pay 10@12 per cent for the insufficient accommodation that can be afforded them. This returning ability to get loans enables holders to protect themselves and makes Wall street less sensitive than other interests to the adverse course in which events are still running.

The week has on the whole contributed some important reliefs to the general situation. It is true that there is no abatement of the common dearth of money, and none in the large demands of the interior banks for help from the metropolis; the banks, indeed, are as much pressed as they have ever been, so much so that they are compelled to refuse currency to outside applications, and have advanced rates to almost prohibitory figures; which simply means that a point has been reached at which they can no longer afford to be generous but must stand for their own protection. But, at the same time, the fact that, by the end of next week, nearly twenty millions of gold will have been received from Europe, while some twelve millions of new bank circulation will be in the course of issue cannot but have an important effect in relieving the scarcity of money and thereby restoring confidence.

Some relief is also felt from the fact that Congress is at last brought face to face with the great silver danger. The message of President Cleveland was such a strong yet simple presentation of the case as to carry to all classes a deep conviction of the danger in which the Sherman act has placed the country, and the consequent necessity for immediately repealing the obnoxious clauses of that law. The President having thus broadened and intensified the public hostility to silver purchases, it seems reasonable to assume the impossibility of Congress failing to satisfy this universal demand. From such symptoms at the capital as can be traced amid the confusion of party maneuvering, it appears quite safe to assume that Congress will ultimately adopt an unconditional withdrawal of the authorization to purchase silver. That is the sole sine qua non to the restoration of confidence and prosperity; and the country would like to know it—and the sooner the better—if it is possible that a Congress of the United States could be capable of refusing a measure so fundamentally vital and demanded by such an overwhelming majority of the people.

It is much to be hoped that this conclusion may be reached with the least possible delay, and that the discussion of the question may not be hindered by mixing with non-essential issues. After the main question has been decided, there are other financial problems, that would naturally arise out of the suspension of silver purchases, which congress might well consider. Lest the sudden cessation of a large supply of silver money should result in the evils of contraction, it is necessary that some provision be made for new issues of currency from some other source. In order to provide against that inconvenience, means should be devised for an increase in the national bank circulation; and, to meet the emergency, it might suffice, for at least the present, that the national banks be authorized to issue notes up to the full face value of the bonds deposited as guaranty. This would allow of a large increase in the circulation; and if further expansion should be found necessary it could be provided later by other means.

Experience has shown the necessity of providing some resource by which the treasury could protect itself and the public from such emergencies as have recently occurred and still exist. For that purpose it seems advisable that Congress should authorize the issue of three per cent. bonds, by the secretary of the treasury and with the consent of the President, payable at pleasure after ten years, and to be used to provide for and obligations of the government in periods of financial difficulty. These measures seem a necessary supplement to the suspension of silver purchases; but other financial legislation may well be left for later and maturer consideration. This being done, the situation will be cured.

At the close of the week, there is a decided improvement in the situation among the banks. They have made a considerable gain in currency during the week, and the arrivals of gold from England have relieved the tension in every direction. The general opinion among managers is that the danger point is now passed and that, with the further supplies of coin to come from Europe, affairs will gradually work into an easier position.

HENRY CLEWS.

TUCKER COUNTY SEAT.

Status of the Case—The Records Are Still in Parsons.

Tucker County Pioneer.

The county records are still in Parsons, and will stay here in all probability, but the county is in a—well, we may as well speak it out plain—it is in a devil of a shape. The circuit clerk's office is now open for business at this place, Mr. Minear having taken charge, but the county clerk's office remains unopened, Mr. Cayton, so far, having refused to come to this place and take charge of his office. This places things in a bad plight so far as the county clerk's office is concerned and virtually blocks the business in the circuit clerk's office. It is impossible under the existing circumstances for a lawyer to bring a suit or for any one to make a deal or trade with any degree of certainty. A stranger or a citizen has no way of finding out whose property is mortgaged and whose is not, or any other record matter that they may be interested in, and this virtually locks the wheels of litigation in this county.

On last Monday two members of the county court assembled at the old court house at St. George and annulled the order passed by that body ordering the records removed to Parsons and further cancelling the order accepting the building at this place offered to the county for a period of four years free of charge. Where this body found any authority for such proceeding is hard to tell. But if the court had assembled at this place—the place that this body had designated as the county seat of Tucker county, then there might have been a color of authority for these proceedings, otherwise they must be null and void.

A Physician's Advice.

To those who travel, or those who remain at home during the summer, "never be without a stimulant." Its timely use saves the system from many a shock, and as a preventative of disease pure whisky has always been recommended. Max Klein, of Allegheney, is a reliable dealer, who only keeps the purest liquors in stock. His Silver Age, at $1 50; Duquesne, at $1 25, and Bear Creek, at $1 00 per full quart each, cannot be equaled. Send for catalogue and price list (mailed free) to Max Klein, 82 Federal street, Allegheny, Pa.

A new crematory at Leominster, Mass., is to be "dedicated" with a clam bake, the clams to be baked in the crematory oven.

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million people have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. If you have never used this great cough medicine, one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of throat, chest and lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free at the Logan Drug Company's drug store. Large bottles 50c and $1. 1

This remedy seems to have a peculiar power in effecting rapid cures not only in cases of La Grippe, but in all Diseases of Throat, Chest and Lungs, and has cured cases of Asthma and Hay Fever of long standing. Try it and be convinced. It won't disappoint. Free trial bottles at Logan Drug Co.'s Drug Store. 6

FINANCE AND TRADE.

The Features of the Money and Stock Markets.

NEW YORK, August 12.—Money on call at 7@10 per cent. Sterling exchange $1 81@1 83½. Silver certificates were neglected; closed at 75c asked. The total sales of stocks to-day were 51,000 shares.

At the opening the stock market was very irregular, a few stocks showing declines and others advances, but the changes either way, outside of Sugar and Lackawanna, were slight. About 11 o'clock a fair demand set in for Chicago Gas, St. Paul, Rock Island, Burlington and Lake Shore. The market held firm until the publication of the bank statement. The exhibit was not favorable. This created a bearish feeling, and again a decline followed. Northern Pacifics were particularly weak. Just previous to the close there was a rally of small proportions, but the tone of the market was rather weak.

Railway bonds were dull and irregular. Sales $482,000.

Government and state bonds steady.

Breadstuffs and Provisions.

CHICAGO, August 12.—Wheat started off weak and lower, but soon made a sharp dash upward, there were a good many selling orders early and as the shorts had been pretty well gathered in yesterday there was not much demand. Later in the day the confidence was restored by the fact that the exchange was easier, being quoted from par to 5 per $1,000 discount, and the buying was resumed but with very little for sale. The visible supply will show a decrease compared with an increase of 2,714,000 bushels last year.

There was a better demand for corn.

Oats fairly active.

Provisions market almost stagnant.

CATARRH IN CHILDREN

For over two years my little girl's life was made miserable by a case of Catarrh. The discharge from the nose was large, constant and very offensive. Her eyes became inflamed, the lids swollen and very painful. After trying various remedies, I gave her S.S.S. The first bottle seemed to aggravate the disease, but the symptoms soon abated, and in a short time she was cured.
