Notes on Live Stock.

The horses of the farm should be called upon for hard work this month. Plowing and other field work is a steady pull upon horse-flesh throughout the month, and to get good work we must feed well. Many horses can not work on new grain (corn, oats or barley) unless it is thoroughly dried. It will get dry in time by ordinary exposure, but enough may be dried for daily use by artificial means, and often with the best results. Young stock and pigs may have nubbins and soft corn, but do not feed the work or road horse with such stuff. Take good care of old horses; a horse sound at fifteen years is worth two colts, give him good feed and pasturage, and steady work on the farm. The younger horses may do on the road, but take care of the old servants for steady work. They will repay the care. Farm horses are not half groomed as a rule. There are no surer safe-guards against disease than regular feeding and watering, and thorough grooming.

Cows.—There is an abundance o feed for milch cows this month on farms where roots form a prominent crop. The tops of beets, mangels, rutabagas and carrots, to say nothing of cabbages, are exceedingly well relished and are excellent milk feed. This is one of the best months for cows to calve, because provision may be made for having so much good feed at little cost. Every where within a hundred miles of a large city, or within the proper "milk radius" of any town, milk is worth much more in winter than in summer, and should be produced.

VEALS.—Fall calves rarely get the size that spring calves do, because they cannot have so much milk, but by using little milk, and that skimmed, after the second week, they will do very well on hay tea and boiled linseed cake gruel, to which some milk is added. They must be gradually accustomed to this diet, but will thrive upon it and make excellent veal at six or eight weeks old.

SHEEP.—Ewes bred in October, "wean" in March—rather early, except upon farms which can make early lambs a specialty. Sheep make as good manure as any farm stock, and whoever has much wheat straw should consider what better use he can make of it than to buy up some cheap sheep if he can find them, and winter them chiefly on straw, with a very little hay, and corn enough to coat their ribs well before spring, when they can be turned off at "cost and expense," with a fine lot of manure for clear profit on the investment.

Pigs for slaughter should be confined and not allowed to forage for a living. They will fatten rapidly on little food. Small potatoes boiled, with a little meal added, will push them forward that advantage may be taken of the market in case prices advance, or so that they will be well protected by fat against cold snaps should they come suddenly. It is truly said that nubbins will go further in October than sound corn in November.

Brood sows should have the range of the orchards, where the wind falls and grubs will furnish a good part of their food, and warm snug shelters where they can lie together during storms and keep one another warm.

POULTRY.—There is always a time early in November, or before, when well fattened poultry will sell for much more than fowls of the same quality will at Christmas. In fact, if the weather during next month be raw and cold, pigs and poultry may be fed well and not only not gain at all in weight, but not sell for as much as they would bring now. After the holidays, prices begin to advance again. When poultry are once fat, to keep them so at little cost they must be kept warm, fed at least three times a day, and always have fresh water.

Laying fowls should have warm quarters, well lighted—supplied with dust boxes, by which the whole establishment may be made intolerably dusty in every corner—fed twice a day—soft feed with a little meat at 10 o'clock, and hard grain at dusk, with a good range, and plenty of good water.—American Agriculturist.

Feeding-Floors for Fattening Hogs.

At the prevailing prices of both hogs and corn, hog feeders cannot afford the old style of feeding in the mud, nor under full exposure to the winter's cold, and many are no doubt trying to contrive economical ways of feeding, who yet do not feel able to bear the expense of a complete hog-house, such as that suggested on page 238 of the last volume of Farm and Fireside.

To such I would suggest the construction of an out-door floor, of plank, brick or stone, to be used simply for feeding purposes, reliance being placed upon the straw pile, or upon straw-covered hovels, for shelter.

When lumber cost nothing but the sawing, it may pay to make a temporary feeding-floor by simply laying two-inch planks upon the ground, these to be taken up and stored away as soon as the hogs are fattened. With care such planks will last several years, and, in many cases, will save their cost in a single season. This floor, however, affords a rat harbor, and is very wasteful of material at the best.

A brick or stone floor may be made rat-proof, so far as harboring the vermin is concerned, by digging a trench around the edges two and a half feet deep by six inches wide, and filling it with a grout set with cement, into which the curb stones are bedded. Such a floor, properly constructed, will last for more than a lifetime, and its first cost will frequently be little if any more than that of a plank floor, which would rot out in a few years. Thus a permanent plank floor for a space of twenty by forty feet would consume 2,900 feet of lumber, the floor being two inches thick, laid on 2x8 joists sixteen inches apart, these resting on 6x8 sills, and these on posts or stone pillars. A floor made of bricks set on edge would require about seven thousand bricks.

The labor of constructing the two floors would be about the same. In some sections the original cost of the brick would be greater than that of the lumber, in others less; but it is evident that the brick floor, properly laid, would outwear several plank floors.

Many farmers have at hand a supply of thin limestone. This material makes an excellent floor, when set on edge as directed for brick. If the stone be heavy enough it may be laid flatwise.

Upon such a floor, even though not sheltered, hogs may be fed during the fall without burying their corn in the mud; and, when it is not convenient to put up a complete building at once, the floor may be first laid, and the superstructure added at any time, the latter being built upon posts instead of sills, the ends of the posts resting upon stone pillars, which should project a few inches above the floor.

Consumption.

It is said that 50,000 people die annually in the United States alone from this disease. In some sections of the country one death in every three is from Consumption. This can be, and should be avoided; our people are too careless about an ordinary cough or cold, and other symptoms of throat and lung affections that lead to this disease. You should arrest it while it is in the germ. Two or three doses of Dr. Bosanko's Cough and Lung Syrup will relieve an ordinary cough or cold. It does not dry up a cough like many preparations on the market and leave the disease behind it, but acts directly on the throat and bronchial tubes, removing all the phlegm and morbid matter that accumulates in the throat and lungs. It allays all irritation, and renders the voice clear and distinct. Sold by Oscar Seitz. 36.

Liquid Gold.

Dan'l Plank, of Brooklyn, Tioga, Co., Pa., describes it thus: "I rode thirty miles for a bottle of Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which effected the wonderful cure of a crooked limb in six applications; it proved worth more than gold to me. For sale by Oscar Seitz, Salina, Kansas.

Visitors returning from abroad, as well as recent emigrants, will find Ayer's Sarsaparilla helpful in avoiding the hardships of acclimation, and in removing the boils, pimples and eruptions consequent upon sea diet. Its blood-cleansing qualities remedy such troubles promptly.

A man over eighty years old applied for a marriage license at Kingston, Ontario. When asked the name of the woman he was to wed, he said that he had not made a choice, but was looking around and did not want any delay for formalities after selecting one.

The country is not without its brilliant intellects. A country editor has just produced this jem: "What is the difference between a popular swinging bed and a wooden ham? One is a hammock and the other is a mock ham." Now if you don't call that excruciatingly witty, what on earth do you want?—Boston Post.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so go at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who t tell you will no at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere 25 a bottle. 47

A Newton county, Georgia, widower rode up to the gate of a handsome widow and asked for a match to light his pipe. The lady gave him the desired article, when he asked, "Did you ever think of coming to my house to live?" "No," she said: "If I had it would have done me no good." In ten days they were man and wife.—Covington Enterprise.

The Clergyman's Annoyance.

Nothing can be more annoying or unpleasant to our clergymen than the constant coughing of some of his congregation; yet how easily can this be avoided, by using Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. There can be no cough or cold, however severe, but what this remedy will relieve instantly. It is a positive cure for asthma, bronchitis, phthisic, quinsy, hoarseness, sore throat, dry hacking cough, croup, whooping cough, difficulty of breathing, or any affection of the throat and lungs. To prove this you are requested to call on Oscar Seitz and get a trial bottle free of cost, which will show you what a regular one dollar size bottle will do.

Lawyer Brown is a Sabbath-school teacher. He was endeavoring to inculcate into his pupils' mind the necessity of a firm belief in things spiritual, when one of the class, with opened astonishment, exclaimed: "Why, Mr. Brown, I heard you tell a witness in court the other day that you didn't care what he believed. All you cared about was what he knew."

Medicine Given Away

The fairest proposition yet brought to our notice, is now made by the proprietors of DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY for consumption, that great remedy which is producing such a stir all over the land by its many marvelous cures; positively curing asthma, hay fever, bronchitis, dry hacking coughs, severe colds, croup, hoarseness, sore throat, difficulty of breathing, phthisic, quinsy, or any chronic or lingering disease of the throat or lungs. They do not ask you to buy, but request you to call on Oscar Seitz and get a trial bottle free of cost, which will convince you what a regular dollar bottle will do. As you value your existence you annot afford to let this chance pass.

It is no Joke

To suffer constant headache, depression of spirits, longing for food and not being able to eat when put before you, gnawing pains in the stomach, lassitude and a general feeling of goneness; but a capital joke to find that Burdock Blood Bitters removes all these symptoms and only costs $1. For sale by Oscar Seitz, Salina, Kansas.

Economy.

A fortune may be spent in using ineffectual medicines, when by applying Thomas' Eclectric Oil a speedy and economical cure can be effected. In cases of rheumatism, lame back, bodily ailments, or pains of every description, it affords instant relief. For sale by Oscar Seitz, Salina, Kansas.

A colored blacksmith of Vienna, Ga., was shoeing a mule not long ago, when the animal disengaged itself, and drove one of its hind feet against the negro's head with the force of a battering ram. A few days afterward some one asked the owner if the blacksmith sustained severe injuries. "I can't say that he did" responded the man, dejectedly, "but the mule goes on three legs."

Piles.

Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times symptoms of indigestion are present, as flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture of perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, particularly at night, after getting warm in bed, is a very common attendant. Internal, external and itching piles, yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the Tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure where all other remedies have failed. Do not delay until the drain on the system produces permanent disability, but try it and be cured. Price fifty cents. Ask your druggist for it, and when you can not obtain it of him, we will send it, prepaid, on receipt of price, Address The Dr. Bosanko Medicine Co., Piqua, Ohio. Sold by Oscar Seitz. 36.

When Mr. Billony went home and saw a handsome bouquet reposing on one of the parlor chairs, he mentally observed that it was a shame to let such beautiful flowers lie there to wither; so he took them up tenderly, procured a basin of water, and placed them carefully therein—and the same instant his wife gave a piercing shriek, and fainted dead away. But it was too late. Mrs. Billony's new spring bonnet was utterly ruined.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE

It Cures Spavins, Splints, Curb Ring-bone and all similar blemishes, and removes the bunch without blistering.

It can (it is now acknowledged) not of the best, if not the best liniment ever discovered.

We feel positive that every man can have perfect success in every case if he will only use good common sense in applying KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE; and persevering in bad cases of long standing. Read below the experience of others.

From COL. L. T. FOSTER.

Youngstown, Ohio, May 10th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO.—I had a very valuable Hambletonian colt which I prized very highly, he had a large bone spavin on one joint, and a smaller one on the other, which made him very lame. I had him under the charge of two Veterinary Surgeons, who failed to cure him. I was one day reading the advertisement of KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE in the Chicago Express, I determined at once to try it, and got our druggists here to send for it—they ordered three bottles. I took them all and thought I would give it a thorough trial. I used it according to directions and by the fourth day the colt ceased to be lame, and the lumps had entirely disappeared. I used but one bottle and the colt's limbs are as free from lumps and as smooth as any horse in the State. He is entirely cured. The cure was so remarkable that I let two of my neighbors have the remaining two bottles, who are now using it. Very Respectfully,

L. T. FOSTER.

PERSEVERANCE WILL TELL.

Stoughton, Mass., March 13th, 1881.

B. J. KENDALL & CO.,—Gents—In justice to you and myself I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two bone spavins with KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE, one very large one. Don't know how long the spavins had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took me four months to take the large one off, and two for the small one. I have used ten bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me, its sale will be very great.

Respectfully yours,

CHAS. E. PARKER.

KENDALLS' SPAVIN CURE!

From REV. P. N. GRANGER.

Presiding elder of St. Albans District

St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 20th, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO.—Gents—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it cured a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned him out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered a ringbone was forming. I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure, and with less than a bottle cured him so that he is not lame—neither can the bunch be found.

Respectfully yours, P. N. GRANGER.

Acme, Mich., December 28th, 1879.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO.—Gents—I sent you a dollar for your Kendall's Spavin Cure last summer which cured a bone spavin with half a bottle. The best liniment I ever used.

Yours respectfully, HOMER HOXIE.

Kelley's Island, Erie Co., Ohio, March 2, 1880.

DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO.—Gents—I have used your Kendall's Spavin Cure on a bone spavin and am pleased to report that it has taken the enlargement completely off. It took one bottle to perform the cure. I am confident that if it is properly used it will do all you claim for it.

Yours truly, C. M. LINCOLN.

STATEMENT MADE UNDER OATH

To whom it may Concern.—In the year 1875 I treated with Kendall's Spavin Cure, a bone spavin of several months' growth, nearly half as large as a hens egg, and completely stopped the lameness and removed the enlargement. I have worked the horse ever since very hard, and never has been lame, nor could I see any difference in the size of the hock joint since I treated him with Kendall's Spavin Cure. E. A. GAINES, Enosburgh Falls, Vt., Feb. 25th, 1879.

Sworn and subscribed to before me, this 25th day of February, A. D., 1879. JOHN G. JENNE, Justice of the Peace.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE!

ON HUMAN FLESH it has been ascertained by repeated trials to be the very best liniment ever used for any deep seated pain of long standing, or of short duration. Also for CORNS, BUNIONS, FROST-BITES, or any bruise, cut or lameness. Some are afraid to use it on human flesh simple because it is a horse medicine, but you should remember that what is good for BEAST is good for MAN, and we know from Experience that "KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE" can be used on a child 1 year old with perfect safety. Its Effects are wonderful on human flesh and it does not blister or make a sore. Try it and be convinced.

Patten's Mills, Washington Co., N.Y., Feb. 21, 1878

B. J. KENDALL, M. D.—Dear Sir—The particular case on which I used your Kendall's Spavin Cure was a malignant ankle sprain of sixteen months standing. I had tried many things but in vain. Your Kendall's Spavin Cure put the foot to the ground again, and, for the first time since hurt, in a natural position. For a family liniment it excels anything we ever used.

Yours truly, REV. M. P. BELL, Pastor M. E. Church, Patten's Mills, N. Y.

Bakersfield, Vt., Dec. 22, 1879.

B. J. KENDALL & CO.—Gents—I wish to add my testimony in favor of your valuable linfment, Kendall's Spavin Cure. In the spring of 1872 I slipped on the ice and sprained my right limb at the knee joint. I was very lame and at times suffered the most excruciating pain. I wore a bandage on it for over a year, and tried most everything in my reach, but could find nothing that would give me permanent relief. When I overworked it would pain me very much. In April, 1878, I began to think I should be a cripple for life; but having some of Kendall's Spavin Cure though I would try it. I used one-third of a bottle and experienced relief at once. The pain left me and has not troubled me since. I feel very grateful to you and would recommend Kendall's Spavin Cure to all who suffer with sprains and rheumatism.

Yours truly, MRS. J. BOUTELL.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE!

Kendall's Spavin Cure is sure in its effects, mild in its action as it does no blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach any deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or any other enlargement if used for several days, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callous, sprains, swellings and lameness, and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or rheumatism in man, and for any purpose which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man ever used, acting mild but yet certain in its effects. It is used full strength with perfect safety at all seasons of the year.

Send address for Illustrated Catalogue which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success to our knowledge, for beast as well as man.
