Sir George II., at 10 to 1, Made the Third Race the Liveliest of the Day.

ONYX AT ODDS OF 60 TO 1.

Other Winners Were Jersey Lass Filly, Florimor and Oxford.

GUTTENBURG RACE TRACK, March 7.—Under favorable conditions the programme at Guttenburg would have attracted a large crowd to the hilltop track to-day.

The weather, however, was so raw and disagreeable that only the regulars could be tempted from their comfortable firesides.

They were out in full force, and helped the bookies to earn their expenses and a little more.

The track was in very good condition, notwithstanding that snow fell steadily all the afternoon. The snow was not of the staying kind, and it only served to moisten the track enough to make the going good.

A great lot of maidens started in the opening event, a dash of five furlongs. Given Prince, there came any quantity of good thing. Charlie R. was played from 12 to 1 down to 4 to 1, and his backers said it was like stealing money. Julia was the choice of the talent, and was favorite throughout. Eph was well played, and many took a chance on Given Prince, because he was a good thing a few days ago.

None of the good things went through, however.

Charlie R. flattered his backers for a half-mile, and then gave way to Onyx, a 40-to-1 chance, who had to the end his way easy. Mr. Gideon, who did not have a penny on the horse, allowing him to run loose, Charlie R. managed to beat the favorite for the place.

Starter Caldwell was unable to get to the track to-day, and Mr. Carr filled his place very satisfactorily.

Jimmy McCormack generously presented Jockey Lawyer with his discharge papers. The lad absconded from McCormack and treated him badly in other ways. Lawyer will now be reinstated by the Association, and be seen in the saddle in a few days.

Jersey Lass filly, favorite in the second race, won from end to end in very easy fashion. Hymn, who should have been 2 to 1, but who was 10 to 1, because Clay had the mount, was second, while Miss Marie was third. Tartarian, second choice for the race, was fourth.

The third race furnished the best finish of the day. Ben Voyage, 8 to 1 chance, made the running to the last five jumps, where Sir George II. and Laura S. both got up and beat him out in the last jump. The three finished about in a heap.

A hog killing was attempted with Ben Voyage, he being pounded down from 40 to 1 to 10 to 1. The winner was at 10 to 1.

FLOCKING TO NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, March 7.—The trains arriving this morning brought additions to the crowds in attendance on the fights, and there will be more people present than were expected last week.

Most of the fighters here pin their faith to Hall, because they believe he will be able to hit Fitzsimmons, and most experts are agreed that Fitzsimmons does not relish punishment.

Hall is doing little work to-day, and it is expected that he will enter the ring at ringside about 175. Fitzsimmons will be seven or eight pounds lighter.

Daly and Gibbons are in town to-day. There have been rumors that Daly is not strong, but the Daly men are still confident that the Maine man will win.

Very little betting is transacted on the fight which takes place this evening. John Duffy will be the referee of the two fights.

When the delegation from the East arrived, expecting to find Fitzsimmons a hot favorite and that they would get their money on to advantage, they found matters just reversed and that Hall was the favorite by 100 to 70.

Another decided change in the betting has taken place to-day, as Fitzsimmons quotations have gone up, while the Hall stock has decreased. Hall's is now quoted at 85 to 100 and it will at 85 to 100. Hall claims to be in good condition and in no way affected by the long journey and numerous delays.

Charley Mitchell joined the party last night and at an early hour this morning he left the hotel with Hall and John Kline to put Hall through a course of sprouts.

AFTER CORBETT AND MITCHELL.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 7.—A big project is on foot here to secure the Corbett-Mitchell fight, and a purse for above $50,000 will be guaranteed by responsible parties.

The scheme is to lease the Buffalo Driving Park and have the contest take place in the mammoth exposition building, which will accommodate perhaps double the number of persons that would see the contest.

Prominent citizens are interested in the matter.

Charter Election at Peekskill.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., March 7.—The annual charter election for city officers is being held to-day. The rival candidates for Mayor are Stephen T. Horton, incumbent, and Gen. George Sanford, of Cox, Flower's staff.

SAVED BY LADDERS.

Women and Children Brought Out of a Burning Flat

The Blaze Was in Daylight and No Lives Were Lost.

Colonial Flats, on Columbus Avenue, Damaged Fully $50,000.

Fire, which broke out in the boiler-room of the swell five-story Colonial Flats at the southeast corner of Ninety-fourth street and Columbus avenue at 1 o'clock this afternoon, caused a wild scramble among the tenants of the building. While there was no loss of life, there were several perilous rescues by means of the fire-escapes, and many people were brought down ladders furnished by the firemen.

The fire was discovered by J. Remson Eckerson, of McMonegal & Eckerson, real estate dealers, under whose office the boiler-room was located.

The flames first appeared shooting up a pipe shaft which leads from the basement to the roof. Before Mr. Eckerson could turn in an alarm, the flames had communicated with the three floors above, and in a few minutes had spread through the house by means of the main hallway, the entrance to which is at 80 West Ninety-fourth street.

The building was occupied by twelve families, and was considered a very select apartment-house. It has a frontage of 72 feet on Columbus avenue and 55 feet on Ninety-fourth street. It was built of Cincinnati brick and cost J. C. Edgar's Sons, the builders, $125,000 to erect.

For an hour after the firemen arrived they dragged muddy hose through the richly furnished apartments and deluged the flats with water as far up as the fourth floor.

There was a wild rush of the tenants to get out and no time was taken to pack up. The fire-escape on the Columbus avenue side of the building was used by many of the women, who finished the perilous descent in a state bordering on hysterics.

The family of A. H. Boughton, the Fourteenth street clothing dealer, who occupied the first flat, were rescued by Fireman Harrington, of Truck 22. Harrington carried Mrs. Boughton and her three children down a ladder on the Columbus avenue side of the building.

The flames were at the time eating through the door of the room in which they were confined, and the rescue was made none too soon.

Mr. Boughton was notified of his family's danger and arrived at the scene of the fire in a state of mind bordering on frenzy. He found his wife and children much frightened but otherwise uninjured.

A woman who refused to give her name rushed out of the house shrieking that she had left $7,000 worth of diamonds in a bureau drawer. She insisted on a fireman going into the burning building and saving her property.

A fireman volunteered to do this after the smoke had cleared away, and the gems were later placed in the distracted woman's hands and she hurried away.

The Colonial Bank occupies the ground floor corner of the building. There was a great hustling to get the money and securities into the vaults. Cashier S. L. Chamberlaine took command and everything was safely stowed away in two minutes flat. Then the clerks made a rush for the street.

Cashier Chamberlaine says the bank will be open for business at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. No damage was done the bank beyond a good smoking and wetting.

The building is owned by Heyland Bross. of 75 Murray street. The loss on the building is variously estimated, but will probably reach $40,000. The building is insured for $72,000.

George Guckman, who runs a delicatessen store at 697 Columbus avenue, sustained a damage of $500 to his stock.

The tenants of the three lower floors will lose at least $10,000 by the fire, and Eckerson & McMonegal say their loss will foot up $2,000 on their office fixtures.

SUICIDE IN A SALOON.

Wholesale Mercuant Stich Sends a Bullet Through His Head.

Julius H. Stich, aged fifty-five, a wholesale dealer in men's hats at No. 17 and 19 East Fourth street, committed suicide by shooting himself in the right temple in the toilet room of the saloon 194 Third avenue, at 10.30 this forenoon. Death was instantaneous.

The bartender says that Mr. Stich walked into the saloon quietly, called for a glass of beer, which he drank leisurely, and then went to the rear of the saloon, where he disappeared in a closet. A moment later the pistol shot was heard.

The police of the East Twenty-second street station were notified, and the body was removed to that place and the Coroner notified.

Mr. Stich was married, and lived with his family at 969 Lexington avenue.

Stich Bros., the firm of which Julius H. Stich was senior member, are rated by the commercial agencies as being worth $40,000, and having good credit in the trade.

At Stich Bros' place of business, corner of Lafayette Place and Fourth street, the other members of the firm refused to give any information about the suicide, except to state that they knew of no reason why Mr. Stich should take his own life.

His act may have been caused by a fit of despondency or temporary insanity, but that, they said, was only conjecture.

Deputy Coroner Weston gave a permit to remove the body of Mr. Stich to his home.

A report gained currency that Stich Bros. were financially embarrassed, but this could not be verified.

Mr. Stich left home at 8 o'clock this morning, ostensibly for his place of business. He was not as cheerful as usual, having suffered considerably from a heart difficulty, and he fairly believe that he despaired of getting well and accordingly killed himself. They know of no business difficulty or financial embarrassment which could have induced him to end his life.

He leaves a widow and four grownup daughters.

JUST SAVED THE CHURCH.

The $5,000 overdue interest in the $100,000 mortgage of the New York Presbyterian Church, One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street and Seventh avenue, was paid at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and this saved the church from foreclosure proceedings. Rev. Charles S. Robinson will now be installed as pastor. He is to serve two years without salary.

Traitteur Has Resigned.

Special Treasury Agent Charles H. Traitteur to-day forwarded his resignation to Secretary Carlisle, to take effect upon his successor's appointment.

Found with Small-Pox.

Edward Taylor, of 128 West Twenty-seventh street, was found suffering from small-pox to-day, and was sent to North Brother Island.

RACE TRACK FIGHT.

Speaker Flynn Overruled on a Test Vote at Trenton.

Members Change Their Votes on an Appeal from the Chair.

Law and Order People Not Sanguine of a Repeal.

TRENTON, N. J., March 7.—The crowd in the Capitol to-day filled both legislative chambers to their utmost capacity. The spectators were attracted by the expected action on the race track repealers, and as long as there was any hope of the bills being brought up the crowd remained.

The three Assembly bills are still in the hands of the committee, and it is hardly probable that they will be reported.

The Law and Order people are becoming disheartened, as the members whom they expected to change their votes have not done so. Mr. Lane, of Union, has been canvassing and finds that it is impossible to secure enough votes to take the bills from the Committee's hands. The League's only hope is in the Senate passing the bills and some of the Assemblymen changing their votes in sympathy with the members of the upper body.

There were two bills introduced in the Senate which relate to race-tracks to a large extent. One of them, introduced by Senator Terhune, of Monmouth, provides that all race tracks licensed under the Parker act shall pay to the Counties in which such tracks are located five per cent. of the net receipts from all sources before Dec. 20 of each year. The bill also provides that all pool selling shall be confined to the track where, and the day when, the races are run.

Senator Drake, of Morris, introduced the other bill, which provides that no track shall be licensed for a term longer than that of the body which grants the license, and no track shall be licensed in a city of 100,000 inhabitants or over. This bill also imposes a tax of 5 per cent. of all receipts upon the tracks licensed.

The Committee of Fifty appointed last Wednesday to present resolutions urging the passage of the race-track repealers to the Legislature came here to-day, accompanied by upward of eight hundred anti-pacetrack people, all wearing yari-colored badges.

There was much talk concerning the passage of the repealers, but it is doubtful if they can get through the Assembly.

The Parochial School bill has had no consideration yet. Its passage is extremely doubtful. The Catholic clergy are themselves divided upon the expediency of attempting to put it through. The bill is in the hands of the House Committee on Municipal Corporations, which has had no sitting since its introduction.

In the Senate there is more hope. Senators Terhune and Miller, it is said, will vote for the repeal of the bills if they come up.

The bills are now on second reading, and it is thought that they would come up in the Senate some time during the afternoon session.

The Committee of Fifty met in the chancery chamber at 11 o'clock, and after reporting rules for the permanent organization of the Citizens League in the various counties appointed three ex-members of the Legislature, Messrs. W. H. Corbin, James J. Bergen and George H. Large to present a resolution to the House and Senate informing them that the Committee was ready and asking that it be heard as soon as possible.

At 12.15 Mr. Hutchinson, of Mercer, moved a call of the House, and it was known that the resolution would be taken on a resolution setting a time for the hearing of the Committee of Fifty. Mr. Hutchinson's resolution set the time for the hearing at 12.30 to-day, but no sooner had it been read than Speaker Flynn declared the resolution out of order because it was unprecedented.

Immediately there was a sound of hisses, and Mr. Lane attempted to correct the resolution by moving that the House go into a committee of the whole.

This was also declared out of order, and Mr. Hutchinson appealed from the decision of the Chair. He referred to the frequent denials of a hearing, and said that he would be the Speaker's held responsible if, by force of his position as speaker, he was to deny the people of New Jersey a hearing.

Cheers and applause followed this remark, and Speaker Flynn said the galleries would be cleared if it occurred again.

On the appeal the ayes and noes were called, and before the roll was finished it was plain that Flynn's decision had been overruled.

The vote stood 35 to 25, with two members, Messrs. Utter and Swartwout absent.

The scene on the floor of the House was decidedly lively. Lobbyists were active everywhere, and they succeeded in getting Messrs. Byrne and Peat to change their votes, making the result 31 to 26 against the decision.

Mr. Utter hurried to the speaker's desk, and the latter refused to announce the result until Mr. Swartwout was produced.

In the mean time the lobbying continued, notwithstanding the appeals of various members to enforce the rules of the House.

The roll call was continued until Messrs. Ware and Wright changed their votes, when Swarwout voted aye and the vote stood 30 and 30.

Flynn not voting and Utter being absent, the decision of the Speaker was declared by the Chair to be sustained.

Mr. Byrne, of Essex, presented a resolution providing for a hearing on the repealers at 2 o'clock.

Speaker Flynn announced that the chairman of the Committee on Municipal Corporations had decided to hold a hearing at 2.30, and thus the law and order people triumphed.

A petition for a hearing was presented in the Senate by the Committee of Fifty, and Senator Marsh moved that such hearing be granted. President Abram declared the motion out of order. The subject was dropped.

The Senate adjourned till 2.30 o'clock and the Assembly until 3.30.

The Citizens' League is considering the matter of impeaching Speaker Flynn.

NO LICENSE FOR CLIFTON.

Freeholders Refuse Its Application by a Vote of 10 to 7.

PATERSON, N. J., March 7.—The application from the Clifton Jockey Club for a license to open the Clifton race track was refused to-day by the Board of Chosen Freeholders.

A large number of protest against the granting of the license was held at the Court-house. The gathering was composed principally of clergymen and business men. At the close of this meeting the crowd filed into the Grand Jury room, where the Freeholders were in session. Resolutions from the Board of Trade and the Evangelical Alliance were present, and a remonstrance with 2,000 names signed to it was presented.

A motion that the application of the Clifton Jockey Club be refused was introduced by Freeholder Totten, and it was carried by a vote of 10 to 7. It is thought the Clifton people will not apply to the Township Committee for a license.

POLICE BOARD IN SESSION.

Sergt. McDonald Said to Have Misstated His Age 20 Years.

Resolutions were adopted at the meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners this afternoon expressing condolence with the widow and family of Capt. McCullagh, whose funeral takes place to-morrow noon at Irvington, a special train leaving for Woodlawn at 1 o'clock.

The Board received a petition from residents of West Eighty-first street, asking for better police protection. One of the signers of the petition was Mr. Goodhart, at whose house, 22 West Eighty-first street, a $2,000 burglary was committed last week.

The Board also resolved to cause the strict enforcement of ordinances with reference to keeping the streets clean, and to prod policemen who failed to report cases of delinquency on the part of property-holders. The Board considers the present condition of the streets dangerous to health and limb.

The case of Sergt. McDonald, of the Twelfth Precinct, who is charged with refusing to pay his lawyer for defending him in the Mamie Hannon case, was laid over.

McDonald will be required to furnish evidence of his age.

"I think the man must be sixty or sixty-five years old," said Commissioner McClave, "although his age is on the records as forty-five."

The following transfers were decided upon: Sergt. John J. Joyce, from the Twenty-third Substation to the Twenty-first Precinct; Patrolman George R. Jacob, from the Twenty-fourth to the Thirty-sixth Precinct, as Ward Detective, and Frederick B. Miller, from the Eighth to the Thirty-fifth Precinct. The latter was also fined ten days pay for being off post.

SUING DEACON WHITE.

Parker's False Imprisonment Case Up in Supreme Court.

The suit of Money Broker Alfred M. Parker, prominent in Wall street, against "Deacon" Stephen V. White was brought to trial to-day before Justice Andrews in the supreme court. The suit is to recover damages for alleged malicious prosecution and false imprisonment.

In 1890 Parker was arrested for the alleged circulation of false business statements about White.

The jury was impanelled this afternoon.

Rose was bitten in four places on her leg and John was bitten once.

An ambulance surgeon was summoned from Bellevue Hospital and he cauterized the children's wounds. The cat escaped.

SHOOTING IN WALL STREET.

Pistol Fired in Front of No. 11, but No One Was Hurt.

Wall street was startled at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon by the report of a pistol.

The report quickly spread that Broker Zimmerman, of Zimmerman & Forshay, the bullion dealers, had been shot.

Mr. Forshay, in the Exchange, hurried to his office at 11 Wall street and found his partner uninjured.

The pistol shot had been fired in the street directly in front of No. 11, but the man who fired it escaped, and his identity and motive are unknown.

A big crowd gathered and all sorts of rumors were afloat.

JUSTICE FULLER BEREAVED.

Mrs. A. L. Brown, His Eldest Daughter, Dies in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 6.—Mrs. A. L. Brown, wife of Archibald L. Brown and the eldest daughter of Chief Justice and Mrs. Melville W. Fuller, died this morning after an illness of two weeks. The immediate cause of her death was blood poisoning, resulting from an operation performed at the birth of her child.

Chief Justice and Mrs. Fuller did not arrive here from Washington in time to see their daughter alive, their train being delayed.

Her wedding, which took place at the capital two years ago, was perhaps the greatest social event of the season.

NO WORD OF THE NARONIC.

Shipping and Insurance Men About Give Her Up as Lost.

No word of the missing White Star freight steamship Naronic had been received up to noon to-day.

The Pomeranian, which arrived from Glasgow and Londonderry at 4 A. M., reports no sight of her. The last report of her has been received at any port along the coast.

The steamship Eglantine, which reached Philadelphia late last night, had a shipwrecked crew on board and the report was surrounded that an ice-laden Norwegian was seen. The report proved to be false, as the crew, it has since been ascertained, was that of the British schooner.

Shipping and marine insurance men have about come to the conclusion that the Naronic has gone down and, as in the case of the Boston, her fate will long remain a mystery.

At the office of the board of Marine Underwriters Secretary Spencer told an "Evening World" reporter that, so far as the Naronic was concerned, he had been suspended.

Capt. B. S. Vining, who is the surveyor of the board, has an idea that the Naronic is afloat and will yet be heard from.

The steamship Bremerhaven, from Rotterdam, which arrived this morning, saw nothing of the Naronic.

ANNUAL BASEBALL MEETING.

Kelly Must Play in New York or Stay with the Boston.

Ordinary mortals might have thought that a political convention was in progress at the Fifth Avenue Hotel to-day, but they would have been greatly mistaken. There was bustle enough and plenty of quiet little confabs, but that was where the political flavor of the throng monopolizing the hotel to-day ended.

It was simply the annual meeting of the National League of Baseball clubs, and to a whole lot of people in this country this meeting means a great deal.

For a day or two both managers and players have been being New York and the Fifth Avenue Hotel has been their objective point. Some of the twinkling stars in the baseball world who watched "the beautiful" descend from within the comfortable corridor of the Hotel were Messrs. Soden, Conant and Billings, Boston; James A. Hart, Chicago; John T. Brush, Cincinnati; C. H. Byrne, Brooklyn; J. G. Rickstrill, Louisville; President Nick Young, Washington; Mike Kelly, Arthur Latham, Harry Stovey, James Mahoney (Troy), Pat Powers, Eddie Talcott and Mike Abbine (Lernan, Al. J. Reach (Philadelphia), John I. Rogers, Harry Wright, brothers Wagner, Washington; Frank de H. Robinson (Cleveland), President Buckenberger (Pittsburg), J. Von der Horst (Baltimore).

It seems to be the generally expressed opinion that New York should have a superfine team this year, and the other club owners appear to be making an effort to help to bring that result. The Boston ball players say they will willingly release Kelly to New York, but not to any other club.

The magnates do not hesitate to say that New York must be loomed for all its worth to make baseball any sort of a go this year.

It is also evident that the League will be boiled down to eight clubs, thus lopping off Louisville and either St. Louis or Cincinnati and Washington and Baltimore.

After the deal in players is consummated the next important business will be the changing of the playing rules.

The hour set for the meeting was noon, but as is usual in baseball meetings noon meant an hour or so later.

At 1 o'clock President Nick Young was making a tour of the corridors, reading-room and bar-room, collecting his men and directing them to room 1, where the meeting is to be held.

To-day's session, it is said, will be devoted to a discussion of the changes proposed in the playing rules, and it is hardly expected that the schedule will be adopted before to-morrow.

The League went into session at 1.15 P. M., and after transacting routine business the following National Board of Arbitrating was appointed: Presidents, Nicholas Young, A. H. Soden, of Boston, and H. Von der Horst, of Baltimore.

James A. Hart, of Chicago, who was appointed a committee of one to secure accommodations there for baseball players during the World's Fair, reported that he had made arrangements for their accommodation at the Tremont House.

The convention adjourned at 4 o'clock until evening.

GRANT FOR COLLECTOR.

A rumor became current this afternoon that ex-Mayor Hugh J. Grant had been tendered the collectorship of the Port by President Cleveland.

At Mr. Grant's office, 201 Broadway, it was said that he was out of town. His secretary, W. J. Schieffelin, had heard nothing of the rumor. No intimate man could be found who had heard anything about it.

Mr. Hendrix Has Resigned.

Congressman Joseph C. Hendrix has resigned from the Brooklyn Board of Education. No mention of his successor has yet been made.

TALK OF THE TURF.

Eatontown Township Committee Would Revoke Monmouth Park's License.

ELEANOR GIVEN AN ELIXIR.

Yesterday's Performers at Guttenburg Discussed—Dowd's Surplus Shot.

Messrs. J. D. Van Note and R. F. Hopper, two of the three members of the Eatontown Township Committee, want to revoke Monmouth Park's license. Their lawyers declare that they have the power to do so, but equally eminent legal lights assert that such a thing is impossible now. Lawyer Stone raises the point that the license was issued on Saturday, and before Speaker Flynn had placed his final signature on them on Monday, when they were filed in the office of the Secretary of State. Hence Stone claims that the bills were inoperative when the Township Committee granted the license. The Committee will meet on Thursday morning.

The decision of Judge Dugro yesterday will no doubt put an end to the litigation between Ed Corrigan and the Coney Island Jockey Club. The latter was victorious. Not long ago the Club offered to smoke the pipe of peace with Corrigan if the latter would withdraw his suit. Corrigan refused, declaring that he would carry the matter as far as possible. It is probable that the matter will now be amicably arranged.

Cadence, the dam of Pactolus and other good racehorses, recently foaled a colt sired by Pactolus. Both are alive and doing well. Their careers will be watched with interest.

Eleanor showed a remarkable improvement in form yesterday. She evinced considerable speed in the first part of the race by getting away in the tail of the bunch and running into first place at the end of a quarter. She did not race out at the turn, and finished a winner in handy style. There were many harsh things said about Eleanor and her owner after the race, but those who criticised did not know the true record for the filly's improved form. She was given the celebrated injection yesterday for the first time. Doc King, the inventor of the injection, asked leave to give it to Eleanor, claiming that it would prevent her from sulking and would increase her speed. Leigh consented reluctantly, and it acted like a charm. Eleanor was pounded from 7 to 1 down to 3 to 1, and many of the books were hard hit.

Thanks was given an injection yesterday. He rushed out in front of his field with a tremendous burst of speed and opened up a gap of eight lengths in a quarter of a mile. In the last hundred yards, however, he died so fast that St. Denis was enabled to get up and beat Thanks on the post.

Surplus, the five-year-old chestnut colt by Chesa, dam Abundance, owned by Jack Dowd, was shot at Gloucester yesterday. His foot dropped off. Surplus was a crack-a-jack at Gloucester, and could take the measure of any horse at the South Jersey track. He went lame in one of his races and was served. The operation was not a success. Dowd recently offered $2,000 to any one who could bring the horse around again, but the veterinaries could not help the colt.

Parsey McDermott, despite the assertions of his friends that he would never ride at the Hilltop track again, was in the saddle at Guttenburg yesterday. He landed Young Lottery a handy winner in the fifth race.

• • •

Jockey H. Hunter was suspended indefinitely at Ivy City yesterday for not trying to get away from the post with Syracuse.

• • •

The last race at Guttenburg yesterday was a queer one. Annapolis and Blitzen went off at a terrific pace, covering the first half in 48¾. When this point was reached the others were badly strung out, Lester being last. Blitzen then shook off Annapolis and cantered in an easy winner. Blitzen has not been out for some time and will be a hard horse to beat after his long rest.

• • •

Detroit showed considerable speed in the fourth race yesterday, and, had he won, Tom Eagan would have cashed in many thousand dollars winner. He had any number of tickets at 50 to 1.

• • •

Jockey Carr rode a horse at East St. Louis one day last week and won with him. He was found to be twelve pounds short of weight, and was ruled off, while the horse was disqualified. The ruling was rather harsh, inasmuch as the shortage in weight was caused by Carr's valet giving him a wrong saddle.

Ed. Corrigan's brood mare Square Dance, by War Dance, has thrown a fine colt to Longfellow.

• • •

Blitzen was the only favorite to win at Guttenburg yesterday.

• • •

Starter Caldwell handled the flag in his old-time style yesterday.

• • •

Mary S. would have won the fifth race yesterday, but for an unfortunate pocket into which Griffin managed to get on the far turn.

The Linden Township Committee has refused to grant the Linden race track a license. Resolutions to this effect were adopted at a meeting last night.

Watching for a London Dynamiter.

The Ellis Island authorities are watching all incoming steamships for Gallagher, the Tower of London dynamiter, who has been released from prison on condition that he leave England forever. It will be determined whether his offense debars him from a residence in America. The name of the vessel he is on is not known.
