THE DOBBS GANG IN CUSTODY.

Dougherty and the Dee Woman Make Full Confessions.

The Men Held in $1,500 and the Woman in $1,000 Bail.

LONG ISLAND CITY, L. I., March 20.—The whole gang of post-office robbers, who for several months have been looting post-offices on Long Island and in Westchester County, are now in custody.

Three of the gang, Joseph Dobbs, aged twenty-nine; Barney Dougherty, aged twenty-two, and Ella Dee, aged twenty-four, were arraigned this morning before Justice Kavanagh in this city.

The gang's headquarters was in the house at 125 High street. Ella Dee, the woman, is the alleged mistress of Dobbs, who is said to be the leader of the gang. She is alleged to have had two children by Dobbs and knew of all the plans made for the thieving expeditions by the gang.

John Hogan and Dolly Lyons, also members of the gang, who were arrested some days ago, are now in jail awaiting trial before the United States Commissioner.

Dougherty and the Dee woman made confessions to Detective Sarvis. They said that Dobbs was the leader of the gang and always planned the robberies.

Dougherty says that Dobbs engineered the robberies of the post-office at Central Park, at Sea Cliff and other stations on the Long Island Railroad. At Sea Cliff they stole a gold watch, a diamond pin and some money.

They also robbed the general store of the Messrs. Ludlam at Oyster Bay, where they stole a quantity of goods, including three dozen silver knives.

At the Central Park robbery Lyons was shot through the head by the postmaster. When Lyons got to New York his wound was dressed at a hospital.

According to the statement of Dougherty, Hogan and Lyons committed the robbery in the post-office at Larchmont.

The Dee woman said she had been employed as a domestic in a Brooklyn family, and that for a time she kept house for Dobbs and his companions in the High street house.

Justice Kavanagh held each of the men in $1,500, and the Dee woman in $1,000 bail for examination next Monday.

Journalist James Kennedy Dead.

James Kennedy, an old-time telegraph operator and newspaper man, died this morning in Bellevue Hospital of heart failure. He had been suffering from general debility for several months. Mr. Kennedy was born in Ireland about sixty years ago, and came to New York when a child. In early war times he was cashier of the American Telegraph Company in Philadelphia, and later of the Bankers and Brokers' Telegraph company in the same city. He was afterwards on the staff of the New York Standard. When it suspended he connected himself with the Associated Press.

KANSAS HAS A WHISKEY WAR.

Thousands of Gallons Licked Up by Flames at Osage City.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 20.—A great whiskey war is on in Osage County. Rev. D. C. Milner, President of the State Temperance Union, was called to Osage County two weeks ago, and has lectured at several towns.

The people are divided and bad blood is shown on all sides. At Osage City a carload of liquors was seized and destroyed in the presence of a great throng.

The liquors were hauled out of town to an abandoned coal shaft, where the bottles and demijohns were broken by the hundred and the contents poured into the hole to the ground.

Beer kegs and whiskey barrels were piled on a bonfire and thousands of gallons of red liquor were lapped up by the flames. Mr. Milner stood by and glorified over the proceedings, assisting in smashing the bottles containing the "liquid damnation."

The State Temperance Union will wage a vigorous war on saloons in every port of the State. Feeling is running high and a genuine whiskey war is imminent.

SCHNEIDER WAS INSANE.

Autopsy Shows the Washington Murderer's Mind Was Unsound.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The autopsy shows that Howard J. Schneider, the murderer, was insane, and contradicts the statement of the Government experts, who testified to the contrary, as well as to the fact that there were no physical lesions.

The autopsy was performed by Dr. Irving C. Reese, Professor of Nervous Diseases at the Georgetown University, who held that Schneider was insane, and by Dr. Blackburn, Pathologist at the Government Hospital for the Insane, at the London Park, Baltimore.

In their opinion sufficient evidence of degeneration and disease was discovered to show that the murderer was insane at the time of his execution.

GILROY AND RAPID TRANSIT.

The Mayor Opposed to All Pending Bills in the Legislature.

Mayor Gilroy said to-day that he would not go to Albany to-morrow to attend the hearing on the Ellison, Farquhar and Brown Rapid Transit bills. He will be represented by Assistant Corporation Counsel Blandy.

The Mayor said he was opposed to all the pending bills, but he would not say what kind of a rapid transit plan he would favor. It would be manifestly improper, he thought, to express his opinion at this time, because he would have to pass finally and officially upon the plans submitted to him by the Rapid Transit Commission.

LEAPED 100 FEET TO DEATH.

A. B. Schooley Jumps from a Bridge Into the River at Wilkesbarre.

WILKESBARRE, March 20.—A. B. Schooley, a prominent resident of Edwardsville, while with his brother yesterday jumped from the North Street Bridge into the Susquehanna River, a distance of nearly 100 feet.

The leap was made without a moment's hesitation, and was witnessed by nearly one thousand people, who were enjoying a Sunday outing. The body floated down the river a quarter of a mile before it was recovered. Schooley was thirty-two years of age and leaves a widow.

Twenty years ago an uncle of his hanged himself in a barn. It is believed that Schooley lost heavily in the defunct bank of Isaac Jellow & Co.

BANDIT LEANDRO SOTO TAKEN

Two of His Followers Killed and Three Wounded in a Battle.

ACAPULCO, Mex., March 20.—A courier has arrived here bringing the news of the capture of Leandro Soto, one of the most desperate and famous bandit chiefs, in the State of Guerrero.

Soto and his band have been committing depredations in the district of Alcalde for several years. A few days ago a strong force of troops made a raid upon their rendezvous, and in the fight that ensued two of the brigands were killed and three wounded.

A detachment of soldiers is on its way to this city, having Chief Soto in charge. He will be summarily shot upon his arrival here.

Church in Newark Robbed.

NEWARK, N. J., March 20.—A private detective has been hired by Sexton Nolan, of St. Antonia's R. C. Church, to try and find some sneak thief, who has been robbing the church for several days. Among the articles stolen was the large holy water font, the big crucifix, and the poor box with its contents.

ELECTRICITY FOR LUNATICS.

Bids Asked for Lighting the Insane Asylums of the City.

The insane asylums and other buildings on Ward's Island and at Central Islip are to be lighted by electricity hereafter. The Commissioners of Charities and Corrections to-day advertised in the City Record for bids for plants for both places.

Bidders are required to furnish statistics for the performance of the contract in the sum of $10,000 for the Ward's Island Hospital and $5,000 for the plant at Central Islip.

Estimates for the improvement in question are placed at $[illegible].

LAWYER STERN'S $14,000.

The Courts Decide that the City Will Have to Pay It.

The city will have to pay Lawyer Simon Stern $14,000 for attorney fees. Mr. Stern was retained as special counsel by Corporation Counsel Recorder to prosecute the suits of the city against the Tradesmen's National and other banks to recover interest on city deposits.

Mr. Stern succeeded in recovering several hundred thousand dollars for the city. There was no appropriation out of which he could be paid and he began suit.

The courts have decided in his favor, and he will be paid out of the judgment fund.

A Jack Tar Refused His Change.

Early this morning John Walsh, a sailor on the cruiser Philadelphia, while on shore liberty, entered the saloon of Theodore Winters, 93 Oliver street. He gave a $10 bill in payment for drinks, and when he asked for the change he says he was beaten. His head was bandaged when he appeared at the Tombs Court this morning. Winters claimed that the sailor was guilty of a disturbance and he had to use force to put him out. Justice White held the saloon-keeper in $500.

Alleged Poisoner Remanded.

Anthony Tosti, an Italian, was arraigned in the Tombs Court this morning by Detective Carter, on a charge of attempting to poison Rocco Metro at 45 Oliver street on March 3. It is charged that he put rat poison in boiling oil, and that Metro and his son drank it. Tosti was remanded until to-morrow when Dr. Shannon, of 31 Oliver street, will testify to his having treated Metro for poisoning. A package of the poison was found in Tosti's room the day he ran away.

A VICTIM OF RIVER PIRATES.

Second Mate Trenkert Claims to Have Been Twice Robbed.

The Greenpoint police are to-day investigating the story of Second Mate Andrew Trenkert, of the schooner Cornet, who claims to have been robbed by two different gangs of thieves, who boarded the vessel from boats.

The Cornet lies at the foot of Freeman street, and about 11 o'clock Saturday night Trenkert, who was shipkeeper and alone on the vessel, heard the companionway, leading to the little cabin in which he slept, broken in, and the next moment two men with dark lanterns and revolvers appeared.

Trenkert had only a few nickels, and the thieves took those and an overcoat. After warning him to keep quiet, they went away, while Trenkert, with a sigh of relief, repaired the hatch and went to sleep again.

The unfortunate sailor had hardly got well into the land of dreams when the hatchway was again broken open, and four thieves entered. As Trenkert's money and overcoat were already gone, the later thieves took his other clothing and, after warning him to keep quiet, went away.

Trenkert, who had nothing left but the bedclothes, sat up the rest of the night.

Last night Trenkert appeared in the Greenpoint avenue station-house, attired in some old clothes he had found, and reported the case. The police are investigating, but think that Trenkert is romancing.

YOUNG KILLEEN REMANDED.

Turbudy Dared Him to Shoot and Is in the Hospital.

Charles J. Killeen, of 47 Renwick street, the fifteen-year-old boy who last night shot fourteen-year-old Patrick Turbudy, the alleged leader of the "Soap Gang" was remanded this morning by Justice Voorhis in the Jefferson Market Court until to-morrow morning to await the result of Turbudy's injuries.

Turbudy is at St. Vincent's Hospital. The physicians there say that he is in no immediate danger.

The shooting was the result of an attack made by the Soap Gang upon Killeen and three companions who were gathered in a front basement room at 48 Renwick street.

Young Turbudy, with two score of kindred spirits, hooted Killeen's party, and began throwing stones and other missiles into the room, breaking windows, the glass of which fell all over the boys in the room.

Young Killeen ran out and chased the hoodlums away. An hour later, however, they returned to the assault, when Killeen again ran after them.

This time Turbudy stood his ground. Killeen placed his hand upon his hip pocket.

"Shoot, if you've got the grit to!" said Turbudy.

The next moment there was a report, and Turbudy fell to the sidewalk, wounded in the groin, the bullet having passed through the abdomen.

ANNIE MAKES A SCENE IN COURT.

Frederick Ward, jr., Charges Her with Having Rifled His Pockets.

Annie Brady, twenty-one years old, of 12 Varick street, was arraigned before Justice Voorhis at Jefferson Market Court this morning, charged by Frederick Ward, jr., of 220 West street, with having stolen his gold watch and chain, a pair of suspenders and 75 cents in cash.

Annie was somewhat under the influence of liquor and made things hum for awhile in the court-room.

"I'll do it, Yer Honor," she screeched. "He's a liar and I can prove it."

"Do you wish to testify?" suggested his Honor.

"Am I?" "That's all right in Tam. It's none of your business in Tam. I wish I had him on the street or about two minutes," she added, glaring at Ward and shaking her fist.

The plaintiff gave his testimony in a quiet way, and was listened to with attention, while Annie sat by, muttering and threatening against the Justice and Ward.

WONDERFUL MOSAIC KIOSK.

A Work of Eastern Ingenuity on the Way to the World's Fair.

Bretros Effendi Helweh, the famous Oriental decorator, who has just arrived from Paris on his way to Chicago, called this morning on N. J. Arnesly, proprietor of Kawkab Amerika, New York's Arabic paper.

Effendi Helweh brought over forty large boxes, containing the parts of a wonderful work which is to be displayed at the World's Fair. It is to represent the luxurious splendor of a room of an Eastern Sultan. It is made of 2,000,000 pieces of Mosaic and took ten years of Effendi Helweh's life to make. It is in the form of a kiosk and the interior is made up of rich Eastern designs and legends, inlaid with mother of pearl and rich woods.

A peculiar feature of the interior is that the colors are ever shifting with the changing position of the spectator. All the colors of the rainbow are displayed in succession as a person moves about the room.

When reconstructed, the kiosk will be placed in the Tunisian part of the French section. Effendi Helweh brings letters from Mme. Carnot, M. Eiffel, the late Jules Ferry and other distinguished Frenchmen. He is about forty-eight years old, and is considered the greatest living Oriental designer and decorator. He met Mr. Arbeely in Damascus some years ago.

DUG DOWN TO A RAGING RIVER.

Illinois Farmer Discovers a Swift Stream Beneath His Land.

AUGUSTA, Ill., March 20.—An underground river has been discovered four and one-half miles northwest of this place, between Augusta and Carthage. A few days ago William Allen dug a well on his farm, going to a depth of 44 feet. Not finding as much water as he wished for he dug 44 feet further, when suddenly the auger dropped through the bottom of the well.

The hole was plugged up with clay and debris and the well again filled with water, but the entire bottom fell out, carrying all but about five feet of the walls with it. Nothing was then left but a deep hole in the ground, at the bottom of which could be seen a swift, rushing stream.

All efforts to fill up this mysterious hole have proved futile. Rubbish, stones, logs and other debris have been cast into it, but the rushing current carries them away against [illegible].

Efforts have been made to sound the depth of the subterranean stream, but they, too, have been unsuccessful.

Herders Perish in Forest Fires.
