WAITERS TALKING STRIKE.

Hotels to Be Asked for an Answer to the Agreement To-Day.

More Men Will Probably Go Out Unless it is Favorable.

General Organizer John Moe, of the National Waiters' Alliance, to-day called upon the managers of the Savoy, the Fifth Avenue and the St. Denis hotels for their final answer to the written agreement submitted to them by the waiters some time ago. In the event of an unfavorable answer a strike is probable before night.

The agreement calls for higher and uniform wages, better food, abolition of fines for accidental breakages and one day's vacation every two weeks.

"It is very likely," said Secretary Desjardines of the Alliance, "that so many strikes, if they occur, will effectually cripple the hotels, inasmuch as almost all waiters belong either to the Alliance or the International Waiters' Association, and both organizations will work in harmony.

"When I say that there will be a strike I do not wish it to be understood that the leaders of the Alliance will order one. They have no power to do so. Their duty is confined to trying to effect settlements. Strikes invariably occur on the responsibility of the waiters themselves."

General Organizer Moe has been conferring with Mr. Bolt, of the Waldorf, in reference to the grievances of waiters employed in Philadelphia hotels belonging to the Waldorf management.

The result of the conference, it is believed, will be satisfactory to both parties.

Everything was quiet this morning at the headquarters of the International Waiters Association. Secretary Lickel, however, said that this was by no means indicative of a movement for peace.

"We are steadily organizing," he said, "and when the proper time arrives we will explode a bomb that shall make hotel proprietors gasp. We have been in existence as a body only for four weeks, and already number 425 members.

"The hotels on our black list are Delmonico's, the Holland, the Grand, St. Denis and the Fifth Avenue. I think that our parade yesterday may have shown the proprietors of these places that it will be wiser for them to accede to our terms now than to wait until we can compel them to do so by sheer dint of numerical strength, for we expect to have almost all first-class waiters in all the city in our organization within a very short time."

The International Association last night sent five waiters to the Hotel Brunswick, with which peace was concluded last Saturday. Two waiters were assigned to the Lenox, Cambridge, at Thirty-third street and Fifth avenue, and one to the Logerot, at Eighteenth street and Fifth avenue.

Waiters' strikes are now on in Philadelphia and Chicago, as well as here. It is said to be only a question of a day or so before Boston and St. Louis waiters will also strike.

THREE PERSONS MISSING.

New Arrival from Ireland and Two Boys Disappear.

The friends and relatives of Michael Donohue, a young Irishman who arrived at Ellis Island from County Clare on Wednesday night, are worried over the new arrival's sudden disappearance. Donohue left Ellis Island Wednesday night with only $2 in his pocket. He was to have gone to his brother at Stamford, Conn., but has not yet been seen there.

Charles Stasso, aged fifteen years, of 530 Tenth avenue, left home on April 27 to see the parade, and has not been seen or heard from since.

Edw. Linden, fifteen years old, of 48 Greenwich avenue, Jersey City, left his home on the morning of April 29, saying that he was going to New York to get a job. He has not been heard from since.

CAN ERECT AWNINGS.

But Judge Osborne Did Not Pass Upon the Legal Point Involved.

In the suit brought by Dr. David M. Wooley again Henry Wellbrock, to restrain the latter from erecting an awning in front of his store, Judge Osborne of the City Court, Brooklyn, decided in favor of Wellbrock.

The Judge held that as the defendant had secured the proper permits from the Board of Aldermen and the City Works Department, the plaintiff could not prevent him from raising his awning.

Dr. Wooley contended that the city authorities had no legal right to issue such permits.

OPIUM LAYOUTS SEIZED.

Successful Raid Upon a West Thirty-eighth Street Apartment.

Detectives Hay and Curry, of the West Thirty-seventh street station, raided the top floor of 258 West Thirty-eighth street last night and arrested three inmates and secured two opium layouts.

The prisoners were Jessie Ryan, aged twenty-five, who is charged with keeping the place, Julia Hayes and James Carr, charged with being frequenters of the place. All three were held for examination in the Jefferson Market Court to-day.

Sorry the Whip Couldn't Be Used.

Fred Gallagher, a brewery truck driver, who was arrested yesterday afternoon at Cortlandt and West streets for cruelly beating a horse in the face with a heavy whip-handle, was arraigned in the Tombs Court this morning and Justice Ryan held him in $500 for trial, at the same time remarking: "I am very sorry that I cannot order the officer to take you down stairs and give you a dressing down with that same whip."

Flowers for the New Judge.

When the newly appointed Police Justice Bernard F. Martin took his seat on the Tombs Court bench this morning he was confronted with an immense floral horseshoe sent by the Iroquois Club, of the Eighth Assembly District, of which he is the leader. After court adjourned he was accompanied to the Court of Special Sessions by Justice Ryan, where he took a seat beside the presiding judges, Smith, Hogan and Divver.

Driver Terwillinger Held.

Russell Terwillinger, of 820 West Twenty-third street, a driver on the Bleecker street cars, was held by Judge Ryan at the Tombs Court to-day in $500 to wait the result of the injuries of Michael Boley, aged thirty-five, of 126 Park row. Boley was run over by a car last evening at Elm and Grand streets, and received severe injuries. He is now in Chambers Street Hospital.

Sailor Fought in Mid-ocean.

Manuel Monrow, a sailor on a ship sailing between this port and St. Thomas, West Indies, was brought to the Jefferson Market Court this morning as a prisoner. While his vessel was in mid-ocean Monrow got into a fight with another sailor, Soren Jorgensen, and stabbed him repeatedly. Justice Hogan ordered the detective to take his prisoner before United States Commissioner Shields.

New Shoemaking Record, 15.45.

LYNN, Mass., May 2.—In Harney Bros.' shoe shop yesterday a pair of $12 Button shoes were made complete and packed in a carton in 15 minutes 45 seconds. The best previous record was 24 minutes. The shoes will be exhibited at the World's Fair.

Woman Unconscious in the Street.

Mary Ellen McGuire, employed at the Albermarle Hotel, was found unconscious on corner of First avenue and Twenty-sixth street this morning, she was taken into Bellevue Hospital.

Broke a $75 Window.

Michael J. Kelly, a laborer, who, when refused more liquor last night at Herzberg's saloon, 41 Bowery, threw a cobble-stone through a $75 pane of glass, was in Essex Market Court this morning held in $300 for trial.

SMALL-POX IN JERSEY CITY.

124 Cases Reported During the Past Six Months.

Smallpox has been causing the health authorities of Jersey City much worry.

Early in April the disease broke out among the employees of the Auditing Department of the Erie Railroad Company.

Dr. D. A. Benjamin, Health Inspector of the Jersey City Board of Health, made an investigation and ascertained that only one case was directly within his jurisdiction.

It was that of Henry Greenleaf, a young clerk in the Auditing Department, who lived with his parents at 122 Veston street, Jersey City. Greenleaf was very ill at home when his case was reported, and was unable to be removed to the Snake Hill Hospital. He died April 7.

Two other cases of employees in the Auditing Department, who lived, one in Brooklyn and the other in New York, also came under Dr. Benjamin's notice, but were left to the authorities of the localities directly concerned.

It was also reported to Dr. Benjamin that four other employees of the Auditing Department down with the disease had been discovered in the outside districts where they resided.

A thorough fumigation of the Erie's auditing and other departments was made by Dr. Benjamin, and by order of the Company all of the employees at the Jersey city depot were revaccinated.

Since April 1 no other cases from the Erie depot or other Erie points have been reported to the Health office at Jersey city.

The Jersey city statistics show that the number of cases for the past six months were 124, of which 25 were reported in December last, 20 in January, 30 in February, 25 in March and 12 in April. Of these 124 cases about 5 per cent. proved fatal.

TOWN BOARD MAY BE JAILED.

The Pelham Case Not On To-Day—Fine to Be Appealed.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., May 2.—The disobedient Town Board of Pelham, which refused to obey Judge Dykman's mandamus to count the returns for Supervisor and declare William McAllister, Republican, elected, have not yet been arrested.

Henry C. Henderson, the attorney for Supervisor Pell, one of the Board, is here to-day ready to make an appeal from Judge Dykman's order for the arrest of the Town Board.

It was made known to-day that the order was not yet issued, and would probably not be issued Saturday. The court sentenced the members of the board who had disobeyed the mandamus to pay a fine of $250 and also to be imprisoned in the county jail for thirty days.

Lawyer Henderson says he will appeal from the sentence as to the fine as well as the imprisonment. He said, furthermore, to-day that if there was no alternative the members of the Town Board would have to go to jail.

The case did not come up to-day, because Lawyer Tierney, who represents Mr. McAllister, was too ill to appear.

BLINCH'S FRIENDS ANGRY.

They Don't Like the Insinuation that His Accounts Are Short.

LONG ISLAND CITY, May 2.—J. J. Blinch, Superintendent for F. B. Morris, of this city, left his office at 2 o'clock yesterday and has not since been seen.

Morris owns all the news-stands along the lines of the Long Island Railroad. Blinch had charge of the agents. When he left he locked the doors of his office and this morning Mr. Morris had the door boxed. He has made no examination of the accounts, but says he thinks there is a shortage.

Blinch is about thirty-five years of age. His father and all his relatives are connected with the London and North Western Railroad, of England. It is said that he is the only one of his family who has worked for anyone except that corporation. His father is one of the head officials of the English road.

His friends say that for some time he has been dissatisfied with some of the actions of his employer and that he has gone away simply to avoid a scene when he left. They are angry at Morris's statement that there is a probable shortage.

Native Africans Off for Chicago.

Of all the peculiar scenes witnessed on Ellis Island during the hegira of World's Fair visitors, the most odd was that of the wild Africans who arrived on the steamship La Bretagne and left last night for Chicago. There were about seventy men, women and children from the Congo Free State, from Dahomey, and from some of the uncivilized tribes of Central Africa. The rigors of a New York Spring were too much for some of these people. Yesterday Kulali, one of the Motombie tribe, died at Ellis Island after a few hours' illness. Kulali leaves six dusky wives to mourn his untimely departure. They went with the rest of the crowd to Chicago, leaving the Immigration authorities to bury their spouse.

GOING FROM BAD TO WORSE.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cured a Complication of Diseases and Gave Good Health.

"I gladly testify to the following facts: I have been a very great sufferer for 5 years with my lungs and kidneys and the worst stage of DYSPEPSIA.

I could scarcely eat anything because of the intense pain in my stomach. I was also at one time troubled with salt rheum, and my health weakened me so that I could scarcely walk. I tried several kinds of medicine at the times. My breath became so short that I was unable to work at times, obliged to give up my business, which is that of a mason. I could not even walk about much but kept sinking from bad to worse. I then had an attack of the shingles, which, with all my other complaints, confined me to my room for three months and

NEARLY TOOK AWAY MY LIFE.

I had heard of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a good medicine, so I bought a bottle. When I had taken it, I found it had some new blood, so I continued till I had taken three bottles. I improved so rapidly that I could walk out of doors and have strength enough to do a little work. I am at work again and use my hammer and trowel once more. The physicians told me five years ago that I would not live three years, and all the neighbors think it a very strange thing to see me at work again. It is the sixth year since my Hood's Sarsaparilla which enables me to do it."

WEEKS FORCED TO ASSIGN.

Mr. Welling Says He Was Interested in Too Many Things.

Denials that There Is Any Dishonesty in the Affair.

The failure of Francis Henry Weeks, the well-known lawyer, and his retirement from the official positions which he held in the West Superior Land and Improvement and Iron and Steel companies for several years past, as announced exclusively in "The Evening World" last night, has aroused an unusual amount of interest in Wall street.

The Land and Improvement Company, of which Mr. Weeks was President, Secretary and Treasurer, owns property at West Superior that is worth between fifteen and seventeen millions of dollars, and it was reported at first that Mr. Weeks had been compelled to resign, and was, in fact, deposed from office by indignant stockholders, who, it was alleged, had discovered evidence of gross mismanagement on the part of Mr. Weeks, who had practically absolute control of the Company for six years past.

This story, however, is denied very emphatically this morning by Lawyer Richard W. G. Welling, of 2 Wall street, who is Mr. Week's assignee. When questioned on this point Mr. Welling said:

"The statement is so absurd and preposterous that it hardly calls for a denial. Mr. Weeks's failure was perfectly legitimate, and is only due to the fact that he was carrying more property than he could take care of.

"In fact, he was land poor and in his embarrassment he was forced to make an assignment. I see it stated that he has left town and insinuations are thrown out that he has run away. This is utterly untrue.

"I cannot tell at present what Mr. Weeks's liabilities are, or what his assets will amount to, and do not care to make any statement until I have had an opportunity to inform myself of the real state of affairs.

"I shall see Mr. Weeks this afternoon or evening, and may be able to make a more definite statement in a few days.

"The statement that Mr. Weeks was deposed from the Land Company and Iron and Steel Company is also untrue. He resigned voluntarily from both, because in his embarrassed condition he could not fulfil his duties.

"He owns a handsome property in the West, and I believe his value far exceeds the amount of his liabilities. He had simply gone in beyond his depth, out as for any dishonesty or fraud in connection with his management of the affairs of the Company, the idea is preposterous."

At the meeting of the stockholders of the Land Company in the office of Lawyer William Nelson Cromwell yesterday Warner Van Norden, President of the Bank of North America, was elected President in place of Mr. Weeks. He said to an "Evening World" reporter this morning:

"I was very much in hear of Mr. Weeks's misfortune, and think that his assignment could have been avoided if he had not become frightened and panic-stricken. He owns a very large amount of property in West Superior, and I think with careful management it could have been so worked that Mr. Weeks would have come out of his tight place without any difficulty.

"I have not heard a word breathed against Mr. Weeks personally, and although he became very heavily involved in various transactions in connection with the West Superior property, I have not the slightest suspicion that he was not perfectly honorable in all his dealings."

"I can say this, that the Company is a very wealthy one, and its interests will in no way be affected injuriously by Mr. Weeks's assignment."

It is said that Mr. Weeks's liabilities amount to about $400,000, while his assets are valued at $600,000. Lawyer Cromwell, as counsel for the stockholders, is now investigating the affairs of the Company. He was seen at his office this morning, but had nothing to say in regard to the failure of Mr. Weeks.

According to the statements of some of the stockholders, the shares in the Land and Improvement Company were worth $100 two years ago, and 30 per cent. dividends were paid. No dividends have been paid and no annual report made for two years, and it is said that Mr. Weeks, when asked for statements as to the condition of the Company put his questioners off with one excuse or another, and told them that the money was being put to better uses.

Mr. Weeks was formerly a member of the law firm of De Forest & Weeks, and still occupies an office in the suit of that firm at 62 William street, although Mr. De Forest says that the partnership ceased four years ago, when Mr. Weeks became interested in his West Superior schemes.

He is a member of the Union, University, Century, Metropolitan, Players, Down Town, New York Yacht and Seawanhaka Yacht clubs, and has always been prominent in New York society.

FREE HUGGER ARRESTED.

Bloomingson's Promiscuous Embraces Landed Him in Court.

Louis Bloomingson, twenty-one years old, of 251 Broome street, a peddler, is in the habit of embracing girls and young women promiscuously.

Yesterday afternoon he seized Mrs. Ella Simons, a pretty young milliner of 305 Grand street, around the waist, and she chased him away with a poker.

This morning he was at Mrs. Simons's store again, and she had him arrested. At the Essex Market Police Court this morning he was held for examination as to his sanity.

DEFALCATION MAY BE HEAVY.

A Newark Collector Arrested on a Charge of Embezzlement.

NEWARK, N. J., May 2.—John Cunningham, aged thirty-five, of 35 Freeman street, for a long time collector for a brewery, and highly respected, was arrested here this morning on a charge of embezzling $150 from his employer.

It is thought that his defalcations will amount to a large sum. Playing the races caused his downfall.

Run Over by a "Trailer."

ORANGE, N. J., May 2.—Harry Bravan, aged twenty, who lives on Steuben street, while riding on an electric car at 8 o'clock this morning slipped off just as the car passed the corner of Main and Pulaski streets, and the wheels of the "trailer" passed over his left foot, mangling it so badly that it had to be amputated. The young man is in a critical condition and may die.

It is not often that a mere preparation meets with such universal approval as Cottolene has received since its introduction. Entire satisfaction has been the result every time it has been tried. Fame has been awarded, and all the inconvenience of making the use of lard and suet no longer stand in the way of those housekeepers who desire to have their food prepared for cooking. It is clean, delicate, healthful and economical, fulfilling a want that has been so long felt. Test it for yourself, and there is no fear of lard being used any more in your cooking.

TALK OF THE TURF.

The racing at Elizabeth yesterday was tame to every one save the favorite-laying talent. This portion of the race-going community were in great fettle, for they succeeded in picking every one of the six winners, thus creating a new record for the meeting. They even beat Blitzen with that game son of Charaxus and Ada Belle, Charade. Blitzen's defeat was the most noteworthy event of the day. The iron horse has defeated in quick succession Raceland, Yorkville Belle, Terrifier and other good ones, and the public has come to regard him as being well-nigh invincible in heavy going. There were many excuses given for Blitzen's defeat, but it was like locking the stable door after the horse had been stolen. Blitzen has simply been getting too much racing of late. On Saturday last he carried 121 pounds and raced Stonecell to a head, after being flogged all through the stretch. He received a severe gruelling, and he should have been let up, instead of being raced again yesterday. He was leading by a clear two lengths when he struck the stretch yesterday, and directly his jockey struck him with the whip, Blitzen made a wild bolt to the outside rail, a performance one never saw him attempt before. This gave Charade the race, and he won easily by four lengths. Many blamed young Jones for striking Blitzen when he had such a clear lead, and was running free and strong. The colt would have been beaten just the same, however, for Charade was clearly the best horse when the stretch was reached. Bradley ought to let Blitzen up for a while. He can pick up many a race with Blitzen during the Summer if the colt is only given a chance.

It is a rare thing that a race-track can secure the services of so distinguished a personage as the Governor of a State as a starter. Yet such is the condition of affairs at the Gloucester race-track. Speaker of the Assembly Flynn is the starter, and as both Gov. Werts and the President of the Senate are out of the State, Flynn is acting Governor.

The nest of pool-rooms recently established at Weehawken were closed yesterday. Quite a crowd went over to bet on the races, only to find the doors closed. Probably orders have been received to close. No raids are ever made in New Jersey, or rather in that portion in and around Guttenburg. Offenders are politely requested to leave, and there is no use disobeying the order.

Chattanooga scored his third straight victory yesterday. He gives promise of developing into a good race-horse. He has not as yet met anything in his races that has been able to make him run. Tom Skidmore is a fair colt, but Chattanooga beat him in a gallop yesterday.

Harlem was brought up from Gloucester for a hog-killing, but it didn't quite take place. As much as 15 to 1 was quoted against him for a place, and Frank Weir distributed a great many tendollar bills on him at that price.

"Virginia" Bradley bet $50 on Blitzen to beat Charade. It is reported that he offered to bet Father Bill Daly $10,000 that Blitzen would beat Terrifier if the latter started. This was a bluff pure and simple. Bradley knew that Daly wouldn't bet any such amount for if he did do such a rash thing and lost, there would be a Hartford turfman who would wear crape for the rest of his days.

A plunge was made on Tormentor just as the horses went to the post in the fifth race, which drove the Empire Stable's entry down to 6 to 1, making him really the favorite. Money which is played while horses are at the post is called "crazy money" by the bookies, and it was certainly such in this case. Tormentor is very big and fat, and he will have to get off many pounds before he will be able to give weight to such sprinters as Gold Dollar, Sirocco and White Rose.

White Rose was also the medium of a big plunge in the Tormentor race. She was played down from 8 to 1 to 3 to 1. She showed considerable improvement, but she did not have speed enough to beat Sirocco.

Hurdle races will be a favorite of mine.

Hurdle races will be a feature of the seven-day meeting, which begins at Gattenburg on Saturday.

Calando is a great disappointment. He showed up well in his first race, but since then his career has been one of retrogression instead of improvement.

Jack Sheehan, the tipster, has telegraphed that he will take Starter Caldwell's place at St. Louis, and makes the stipulation that if he is not successful he will take no pay. This is a fair offer, and Sheehan, who is energetic, shrewd and experienced in racing matters, may be given a chance.

Isaac Murphy rode La Joya in the Melbourne Stud Stakes at Lexington yesterday and scored a win. It was his first mount of the year.

The New Jersey Law and Order League have applied to the courts to have the Gloucester, Cresskill and the race track authorities of Elizabeth and Gloucester punished for contempt of court, for disregarding the writ of certorari granted some weeks ago to test the constitutionality of the laws under which the race tracks were licensed.

Ohio Miners May Return to Work.

COLUMBUS, O., May 2.—President John Nugent, of the Ohio Miners' Association, says he has reports from all over the State to the effect that the miners everywhere went out as ordered yesterday morning. He says that conditions have changed since those instructions were given, and it is believed that the National Board will order the strike off.

Passaics Will Not Row Tritons.

NEWARK, N. J., May 2.—A. B. Hopper, of the Passaic Boat club, has written to secretary Dodd, of the Tritons, that the former club will not row at the annual race on July 15, because the Passaics resent the dictation of the Tritons in fixing the date. The original agreement being that the date should be fixed by mutual consent.

They Like "Run-ins" Over There.

LONG ISLAND CITY, May 2.—The city authorities will take no action in the fight between Police Commissioner Rathjen and Saloon-Keeper Schwarenfugel. Rathjen is one of Mayor Sanford's appointees, while the saloon-keeper is an enthusiastic follower of ex-Mayor Gleason. Neither will make a complaint against the other.

Gleason Wouldn't Bail Him.

LONG ISLAND CITY, May 2.—Edgar Bell, who is in the Queens County jail, charged with having killed a fellow-editor's wife, tips off the news that he tried to get ex-Mayor Gleason requested that he go on his bond. The request was refused.

New Fire Insurance Company.

NEWARK, N. J., May 2.—At the county clerk's office to-day the German Mutual Fire Insurance Company was incorporated by Carl F. Seitz, Julius Seitz, John Eber, Christian Saenger, John Heuriet, William Bill, all well-known Germans, and others.

Forger Hornsby Retaken.

ST. PAUL, May 2.—Augustus H. Hornsby, the alleged forger, who jumped from the train yesterday while on his way from Chicago to this city accompanied by a detective, was arrested last night at a farm-house near Pine Bend, Minn., and will be brought here to-day.

ROBBED ON A STREET CAR.

Goldstein's Diamond Pin Snatched by One of a Quartet of Thieves.

Two of Them Arrested and Recognized as Old Offenders.

Two crooks, well known to the police as Davis and Skinner, were arraigned before Inspector McLaughlin at Police Headquarters this morning for identification. Their pictures are in the Rogues' Gallery. They were arrested last night by the police of the Mulberry street station, charged with grand larceny.

Two other thieves with whom the couple were operating on a Grand street car escaped.

The complainant is Julius Goldstein, of 200 Rivington street, who alleges that Davis snatched from his scarf, a $200 diamond pin.

The four men boarded an east-bound Grand street car at Mercer street last night about 6 o'clock. They made themselves conspicuous by blockading the car door and interfering with passengers.

At Broadway, Julius Goldstein, wearing a big diamond in his scarf, climbed in the car, and the four men jostled against him.

When in the vicinity of Mulberry street the fellow known as Davis suddenly dropped a silk handkerchief over Goldstein's pin. The latter screamed and caught Davis's hand, but his pals crowded in between them and took the pin from Davis, who then leaped from the car.

A young man named Rosenthal, residing on One Hundred and Tenth street, tripped Davis and fell on him, meanwhile yelling "Police."

Policeman Neal Connor, of the Mulberry street station, hastened up just as Davis struck Rosenthal in the face, and sprang down Grand street.

Connor gave chase and captured his man after running a block. The other crooks on board the car, which had been halted, pushed their way through a mass of screaming women and scattered.

Roundsmen John Selms gave Skinner chase and captured him.

At the station-house Davis said his name was John Morrison, forty-eight years old, a painter, living at 52 Stanton street, and Skinner said he was Clark King, 55 years old, an engineer, of 42 Stanton street.

King or Skinner is a tall, slender man with a gray mustache. Morrison or Davis is smaller, and has a small, dark mustache.

In the excitement the tin was dropped on the car platform, where it was picked up by a passenger and given to the conductor. It was turned over to the property clerk.

In the Tombs Court both men were held for trial.

WORLD'S FAIR WORK RESUMED.

Opening Day Only a Breathing Spell to the Army of Laborers.

CHICAGO, May 2.—So far as the work of building at the World's Fair is concerned, yesterday was simply a brief breathing spell. Early this morning an army of workmen took up the tangled ends where they were left Saturday, and department chiefs resumed their occupation of hastening that delectable day when the Exposition will be complete.

The employees who swarmed through the pass gates this morning would have made a very respectable attendance, indeed, for most shows.

To the south of Machinery Hall the Fair grounds have undergone a remarkable change. The former seas of mud and mountains of refuse are now supplanted by plank walks leading to the less important buildings, which dot that portion of the grounds, and which are now nearly filled with interesting exhibits.

AFFAIRS IN WALL STREET.

Buying for London Account Brings About a Rally Towards Noon.

WALL STREET, Tuesday, May 2.—There is still an unsettled feeling in stock circles, as is clearly shown by the erratic movements in stocks.

Sterling exchange rates have stiffened again and gold exports are on the tapis once more.

Should any of the yellow metal go forward it will probably be destined for London instead of the Continent.

The most unsettling factor, however, is the money problem here, to which is attributed the commercial embarrassments in various parts of the country.

One bright feature of the situation is the tenders of gold to the Treasury which have enabled Secretary Carlisle to keep his reserve well under control. Another important feature this morning was the demand for stocks for London account.

The foreigners bought St. Paul, Atchison, Erie, Union Pacific, Ontario & Western, Louisville & Nashville and others, and the supply of security bills in the market increased materially.

At the start prices jumped ½ to 1 per cent., but a decline of 1 to 7½ points followed, and was most marged in stocks other than the leaders.

American Tobacco declined 7¾, to 60¼; National Cordage 3¾, to 49¾; Manhattan Elevated 3¾, to 140; Sugar 2¾, to 90¾; Western Union 2, to 85¾, and General Electric 3, to 41.

After 11 o'clock London buying started a rally, which was assisted by purchases to cover short contracts. The recovery was equal to ¾ a 2 per cent.

The sales up to noon were 207,000 shares.

Ten Days for His Freak.

Valentine Keller, who yesterday afternoon frightened a lot of children by chasing them through Chrystie street with an open razor in his hand, was in Essex Market Court this morning sent to the city prison for ten days.

DR. COPELAND'S NEW DEPARTURE.

DISPLACING DOUBT BY POSITIVE CERTAINTY AND ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

The Final Touch to a System That Has Placed the Practice of Medicine on a Business Basis—A Positive Guarantee to Cure Every Curable Case.

Truth and candor are the basis of all the dealings Drs. Copeland and Gardner have had or ever shall have with the public.

For four months past these physicians, under a special offer, treated all patients and all diseases for the extremely low fee of $3 a month.

During that time thousands of patients were treated and cured by Drs. Copeland and Gardner, and hundreds are still under treatment. Not one of them has ever been asked to pay one cent more than the $3 a month stipulated, even where the most expensive medicines were demanded. In other words, the promise of these gentlemen has been kept to the letter.

The result has been the natural one. The people have learned that what these physicians declare in the papers is faithfully carried out in their offices, and that the utmost reliance can be placed upon Drs. Copeland and Gardner's word.

This is the age of progress, new ideas and bold enterprises. Fifty years ago such immense stores as those of Macy, Stern Bros., Ehrich and O'Neill would have seemed impossible. Yet, to-day they exist, immensely to the benefit of the public, saving money, time and patience to every purchaser.

It is the boast of Dr. Cope and and his associates that they have placed the practice of medicine on a business basis. They have succeeded in convincing the public that, in the matter of securing the services of a physician for the treatment of those diseases that do not keep a patient in bed, it is not necessary to visit a general practitioner once or twice a week, paying a fee for each visit and expending large sums of money for the filling of costly prescriptions. A great central office, in which skilled specialists operate, has been established, and here people are received and treated for a nominal sum per month, the fee including medicines.

Now, to add a new feature to the Copeland system, it has been decided to guarantee a cure in every curable case.

This departure will seem startling, but it is no more so than the first proposition made by Dr. Copeland, namely, to treat all patients and all diseases for a nominal fee per month and to furnish medicines also.

Drs. Copeland and Gardner know as well as any one that they cannot cure every case that comes to them. They do not claim to. But their practice is made up largely of "hopeless" cases; of sufferers who have been in the clutch of ill-health for years and who have gone from one physician to another without obtaining any benefit. Among such cases they have achieved startling successes, as their published cures have shown. Figuring upon these successes as well as upon the sterling merit and absolute superiority of the Copeland method of curing catarrh and kindred diseases, these physicians offer to the public their guarantee of a cure, being willing to treat for nothing such cases as they find after earnest endeavor they cannot cure.

Besides the disease, the bane of the sufferer's existence is the non-success of the efforts made to cure him. Many people are absolutely impoverished by doctor and drug bills. Drs. Copeland and Gardner say, now, to all these:

"DO NOT EXPERIMENT. TAKE A SURE THING. WE WILL REFUND EVERY CENT OF MONEY PAID TO US IF WE DO NOT CURE YOU. WE ARE WILLING TO STAKE OUR REPUTATION, OUR CREDIT AND OUR FUTURE UPON THIS OFFER. WE MEAN BUSINESS, AND THE SAME FAITH WHICH HAS BEEN KEPT WITH THE PUBLIC IN THE PAST WILL BE MAINTAINED EARNESTLY AND SINCERELY IN THE PRESENT AND THE FUTURE."

FATHER O'CARROLL.

The Beloved Brooklyn Priest Indorses the Copeland Treatment.

Every one in Brooklyn knows Father P. J. O'Carroll, of St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church, on Manhattan avenue, opposite Milton street. He is venerated by the members of his congregation—one of the three largest in the city—and honored and esteemed by all men. It will be glad news to the thousands who know him when it is learned that he is recovering his health and is improving rapidly under the care of Drs. Copeland and Gardner.

Following upon the statements of Father Kernan, of St. Gabriel's Church, Brother Paul, Vice-President of St. Francis's College, Brooklyn, and of clergymen of other faiths, of doctors, lawyers, merchants, tradesmen and others, the testimony of Father O'Carroll is to the last degree convincing.

Father O'Carroll, when he applied to Drs. Copeland and Gardner for treatment, was suffering from a typical case of bronchial asthma, affecting the voice, the breathing organs and the general health. The case represents the most frequent form of what is known as reflected asthma, and illustrates the fact that asthma is seldom a disease of itself, but usually follows those difficulties of the breathing organs that are a direct result of catarrhal trouble.

The reverend gentleman had this trouble for years. He suffered the usual symptoms of catarrh complicated with asthma. The chief trouble was with the breathing. It required an intense respiratory effort to draw the breath.

His signed statement is as follows:

This is to certify that on April 10, 1893, I called upon Doctors Copeland and Gardner suffering with catarrh of the head, throat and lungs. At my first visit I was able to breathe only with the greatest effort. My nose was entirely closed on both sides with catarrhal inflammation. My throat was a constant source of annoyance from catarrhal congestion of long standing. Notwithstanding the short length of time I have been under the professional care of these skilful specialists I can now breathe through my nose and can fill my lungs without difficulty. My throat is very greatly benefited, and altogether I am very greatly improved.

[Asthma is rarely a disease of itself. It arises from numerous causes—diseases of the kidneys, stomach, liver, lungs, throat and nose. If the several causes were well understood, and treated accordingly, there would be fewer irascible asthmatics. Catarrh of the nose, moist, dry, atrophic
